Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 20, 1858.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH.

The papers come to us full of accounts of the popular enthusiasm in favor of the Atlantic Telegraph. On Tuesday night, from Maine to Texas, in a continuous line, all the cities and towns were illuminated, and the voices of rejoicing could almost be heard from one town to another, all over the land.

The U. S. steamer Niagara arrived at New York, on Wednesday, and immediately proceeded to the navy yard. As she passed the North Carolina, the latter greeted her with a national salute, and also fired a salute of 21 guns under the English flag in honor of the Queen. The Niagara reports she had a supply of poor coal when she left St. Johns, and this also ran short, which was the cause of her delay.

Capt. Hudson was escorted from the Mansion House to the City Hall, in Brooklyn proper, where he received the congratulations of the city authorities and the citizens generally.

As the Niagara passed the fort, she was greeted with the national salute; and when approaching the Battery, a salvo of 100 guns was fired therefrom by the Scott Life Guard. As she was coming up the harbor, she was approached by all the steamboats congregated in the Bay; and the ringing hurrahs which greeted her, fully attested the enthusiasm her grand exploit has elicited from the public. She was decked with flags from stem to stern, and moved up the Bay as light as a pilot boat, though drawing 23 feet of water.

Mr. Cyrus W. Field states that there is not the slightest doubt that the Cable is an entire success, as great or greater than its most sanguine friends anticipated. By the steamer Persia, he wrote to the Directors to prepare another cable at once, as it is evident that the present one will, in a short time, transmit messages as rapidly as an air line, but will not be sufficient for the business. Until the 1st of September the line will be closed to all messages excepting those from the Governments of Great Britain and the United States.

Mr. Field's official report to the Directors of the Company is published.—He says messages passed both ways through the cable with entire success before he left Newfoundland, otherwise he would have remained longer.

☞ The Battalion of Montreal Riflemen, mustering 189 guns, visited Portland on Wednesday. They left home on Tuesday evening at 7, and reached Portland at 8 o'clock on Wednesday morning. A salute of 21 guns was fired upon the arrival of the Battalion in Portland.

The Canadians were received by the Portland Regiment, mustering upwards of 200 guns. The Portland Regiment formed on one side of the street, and the Montreal Battalion marched out of the depot and formed on the opposite side of the street, when the customary military salutations took place. The Portland Band then struck up the Canadian Boat Song, which was responded to by the Montreal Band playing Yankee Doodle. The lines then broke into column and marched to the residence of Gen. Wendell P. Smith. After the salute of the Montreal Battalion to Gen. Smith, their Band struck up Hail Columbia. The Portland Band then played God Save the Queen.

The city was decorated with flags in all the public places, and it was made a general gala day. The Montreal Battalion went through several evolutions in firing, showing great proficiency in that respect. During the firing two persons were injured by the wads fired from the rifles. A grand banquet was given to the Canadians; and the festivities of the day closed with a levee given by Major Jewett to the officers of the Montreal Battalion.

The visitors went on a chowder party to the islands in Portland harbor, on Thursday, and started home in the evening.—There is no finer city to visit than Portland.

☞ The Court of Common Pleas commenced a session in Dover on Tuesday,—Hon. J. E. Sargent on the bench. The whole number of actions on the old Docket is 230. The Court in calling the Docket made some appropriate remarks in relation to the business before it—congratulating all parties interested on the fact that of all the actions upon the Docket, but four were standing there three years ago, and but nine two years since—an indication that under the present system business was despatched with reasonable celerity.

OUR RIVER AND ITS FISH.

A little distance above the Rollins farm, as you glide upward on the rising tide of the Piscataqua, you come to the bare crown of "Bass Rock," an immense boulder of some twenty feet high from the base, —planted a few rods from the shore, with a rounding top of about twelve feet square. The usual tides leave about two feet of the top of the rock unsubmerged; to this you may attach your line, allowing your boat to swing off a few feet into the tide, and catch as many "sea pearch," as old Isaac Walton called them, as you please, and they are now, as he said they were more than two hundred years ago, a sweet and most easily digested fish, and withal should be cooked soon after they are taken from the water. This Rock probably derived its name from the abundance of silver Bass formerly caught in its vicinity, and even now fine specimens are frequently taken from the deep cold channel directly opposite the rock: the best bait for them is a chunk of lobster, or a squid, with a strong hook and good line; lay your bait at the point where the tide runs swiftest over the deep ledges, and look out for a strong bite and a vigorous resistance, for a bass is a very strong and active fellow, and by no means ready to be kidnapped for your dining room service, without effort to regain his freedom.

For a few years past the Blue fish has proved very destructive to the smaller fry in our river, especially to the munhaden or hard-head; the latter have been driven by the voracious blue fish away from their breeding ground in the harbor to the heads of the river for safety; here they lose their flesh, and as an intelligent, practical fisherman upon the river told us, become nothing but a "thin slice of gristle with a back bone;" and in this state they are totally unfit for bait, for which they are chiefly valuable to mackerel catchers and others. But our friend the fisherman complained bitterly that we should have no law to prevent the taking of these fish in their frightened and skeleton state, in nets and weirs at the heads of the river for dressing the land, for said he, the blue fish will soon be gone, and then the munhaden will come down river again and grow fat and far more valuable for bait, than as manure, for which he averred they were of no value. We cannot quote his words, but he was unsparing in his condemnation both of the blue fish for chasing, and the net fishers at the heads of the river for taking the fish, that legitimately belong to the hook and line regiment.

The amateur fisherman look upon the blue fish differently; as a game fish he cannot be surpassed, his attack is sudden and bold; with lightning quickness he darts at the side of his prey, taking a large bite from the middle. The bait trailed for him is set with three hooks, one at each end, and one in the middle; a small mackerel is good bait or indeed an artificial white fish of rags when trailed rapidly through the water will be seized with avidity by the blue fish—their teeth are small, closely set, and being very sharp, unless the line be well protected by a thick covering of cloth, or a wire ganging, it will be cut off as with a knife. It is rare sport to take the blue fish and when properly cooked he makes an excellent dish, much after the consistence and flavor of the Bass.

Our fishermen complain of scarcity of cod and haddock in our harbor, but they manage to lay plenty, fresh, upon our market-tables every morning; and we have no difficulty in treating our southern and western friends to an "Isles of Shoals" dinner of chowder, every day, if they like it. N.

☞ Three soldiers got on board the steamer Eastern City while lying in St. John, N. B., and were not discovered by the captain till some time on her way to Eastport. When the captain arrived at Eastport, he had them handcuffed and placed in charge of Capt. Herring, of the Nequassett, with orders to deliver them up to the authorities of St. Andrews. The citezens of Eastport hearing of it, went on board the Nequassett, broke open the door of the cabin, took them out, took off their hand-cuffs, and set them at liberty, although forbidden to do so by the captain and mate. There was quite an excitement in the good town of Eastport for a short time.

☞ It is stated that Messrs. Tiffany & Co., jewellers, in Broadway, New York, have purchased from the Atlantic Telegraph Company the 80 miles of Cable now on board of the Niagara, and that they propose to cut it up into small parcels for distribution throughout the country. Cut into three inch pieces, and sold for a dollar each, it would produce the sum of $1,689,600. This is more than half the cost of the whole cable.

THE "SALT" OF THE EARTH.

DR. COGGSWELL "STILL LIVES."—In our last number, we stated that the Antiphlogistic Salt, the great remedy for rheumatism, had been on sale at the drug store of Mr. Blanding—but that his supply had become exhausted. In reply to our inquiry whether "Dr. C. still lives," and if so, whether he intends to furnish our citizens with his confessedly valuable medicine, we have received the following. From this interesting article we infer that his popular medical Salt will soon be for sale in every town in this State.—Providence Advertiser.

MEDICAL NEWS.—The following communication from Mr. Raymond, a gentleman well known in this community, we most cheerfully lay before our readers. He has just relinquished a lucrative vocation to become the State Agent for a new and popular medicine. His reasons for changing his business present a strong testimonial in favor of the article. Success attend him. —Manchester (N. H.) Mirror.

Mr. Editor:—Will you allow me a square or two, briefly to state why I relinquish a good business, and enter upon an untried one—viz: the General Agency for the States of New Hampshire and Vermont for the sale of Dr. Coggswell's Medical Salt. Previously, however, let me say that in consequence of the great demand for this extraordinary medicine from all parts of the United States and Provinces, Dr. C. (contrary to his original intention) has found it necessary to appoint responsible agents in the different states throughout the Union.

1st. My own personal recovery from an inflammatory disease of many years' standing, which had defied the power of all other medicines, and baffled the skill of the best physicians, induced me to apply for this agency.

2d. I am confident that its pecuniary advantage to me will not be less than the business which I gave up.

3d. I know that this medicine is worthy the confidence of the public. I have personal knowledge of a severe case of Neuralgia and Scrofula, of several years' standing, which was entirely cured by a chronic package. I know of a case of sudden cold, with every prospect of a raging fever, when, after the usual remedies had been applied without the slightest relief, my personal application of this medicine effected a complete cure in 24 hours. I know of another instance of headache, which had afflicted the individual periodically for the last twenty years, which was cured by this medicine. These truly wonderful cures, together with others of which I have personal knowledge, such as Inflammation of the eyes, Sore Throat, Rheumatism, Erysipelas, Inflammation of the Kidneys, (a very severe case,) and also my own cure as above mentioned, induced me to accept this Agency.

Applications for County and Town Agencies solicited on liberal commission terms.

Truly yours, G. F. RAYMOND.

Manchester, N. H., June, 1858.

DR. COGGSWELL'S ANTIPHLOGISTIC SALT This extraordinary remedy for the speciality it not only professes to cure, but does cure, namely: inflammatory disease of all descriptions, as it becomes known and is tested by application, convinces every one conversant with its effects that it is unsurpassed in curative influence. We have little doubt that, in a very few years hence, Dr. Coggswell the inventor, will be placed in the same category of public benefactors with the discoverers of vaccination, chloroform, ether, &c. Medical men, who are the most jealous of the fame of their professional contemporaries, and opposed to all innovations of the regular routine of practice, yield their genuine approbation to the virtues of the Antiphlogistic Salt.—Boston Ledger.

This novel and highly lauded medicine is for sale by Mr. Thacher in this city.

☞ In the Claremont Police Court, as we learn from the Eaglo, on Thursday last, Josiah S. Brown, formerly of Claremont, but now of Harlank, Vt., was brought up, charged with having been found the night before in the road leading to Windsor, in a beastly state of intoxication.—Rather than spend the next thirty days in jail, he chose to reveal to the court where he procured the liquor. He said he procured it of W. P. Weld in Cornish, near Windsor Bridge, and signed a complaint to that effect, on which Weld was brought before the court, and found guilty, and put under bonds of $400 for his appearance to answer, at the Sept. term of the Court. Brown was then discharged.—Weld was also bound up to court, in the same sum, on a charge of having liquors upon his premises with intent to sell the same, contrary to the statute. A search of his premises revealed the presence of a large quantity of assorted liquors, demijohns, flasks, bottles measures, tunnels, barrels, casks, etc.

Two or three search cases have lately been made in other places in the State.

☞ The Manchester Cornet Band have been to the White Mountains—and the drummer and fifer climbed Eagle Cliff, in front of the Profile House, before sunrise, and greeted old Sol with Yankee Doodle; —to which the full band, at the hotel, responded with Hail Columbia. What could be more inspiring than good martial music with such surroundings.

"What," asked Margarita of Cecil, "what, dearest, do you think is really the food of Cupid?" "Arrow-root."

MRS. PARTINGTON AND THE TELEGRAPH. "The line is down!" shouted Ike as he swung open the front door. Mrs. Partington, thinking he went the clothes line in the back yard, darted to the window, but every thing was right. The night caps swung to and fro by their strings, and the dresses waved their long arms in the winds, and Ike's galligaskins, inflated by the breeze, seemed struggling to be free.—"You should not tell such wrong stories, dear," said she "when there is no occasion for it: the line is not down." "I meant the Atlantic Telegraph line," said he, with a face expressive of the joy of both hemispheres, "and Queen Victoria is going to send it to President Buchanan."—"She is, is she?" said the old lady, "well, that is very kind in her. I wonder if she will prepay the postage beforehand in advance." "It isn't a letter," cried Ike, "'tis a cable under the water from one county to the other, over which messages can be sent." "I don't believe it can be done," said she, "for how can the messages come without being satiated with water?" "I guess they'll be wrapped up in gutta percha," replied Ike. "May be so," said the dame, thoughtfully, "may be so, but it would be a good deal safer to send 'em by the steamer, for what if they should be stuck by the way?" She pondered on it, and did not see that Ike had tied her ball of yarn to the tongue of the bell, and was even then in a remote position, preparing to send messages of mischief, that would send her running to the door to see who was ringing.—Boston Sat. Eve. Gaz.

☞ A passenger for Richmond, Me., having been left by the steamboat at Gardiner, the proprietor of the Gardiner Hotel took him the 11 1-4 miles to Richmond in 38 minutes—in a wagon drawn by "Lady Lawrence"—beating the steamboat 11 minutes.

ADVERTISING.—Mr. Phalon, the perfume manufacturer, of New York, offered $500 to have the following message sent to Victoria, next after the President's message to her—but was refused.

To Her Most Gracious Majesty, Queen Victoria:

Mr. Edward Phalon solicits Her Majesty's acceptance of a case of Extract "Bouquet d'Ogarita," a new and beautiful perfume for the handkerchief, obtained entirely from American flowers—to be sent by the next steamer.

☞ Ex-President Pierce and wife are now in the South of France, and will arrive in a few days at Paris. The distinguished traveller will be the guest of the American Minister, Mr. Mason.

100 Songs of Scotland,

MUSIC AND WORDS.

ALTHOUGH many editions of "Songs of Scotland" have been from time to time published, there is not one that combines the various features of the present work, which, as a comprehensive selection of the choicest melodies, adapted to their appropriate words, in a cheap, correct, and portable form, is perfectly unique

No national melodies have ever attained the lasting and universal popularity which is enjoyed by those of Scotland, which are equally welcome in the palace, in the cottage, and at the "ingleside." Price only 40 Cents.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

LADIES OF PORTSMOUTH.

IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.

Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer.

The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

THE DESTROYER is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the ne plus ultra of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimples also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Parisian ladies have used it for years: consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

PROPRIETORS, C. H. GARDNER & CO.,
au19—1y 457 Broadway, New York.

ALTERATIVE.

The subtle chemical vital affinities are ever at work for the waste or renovation of the tissues. The PERUVIAN SYRUP, with its chemical element iron, presents to the laboratory of life an agent ever active, and can never be absent without derangement of the vital functions. In this slow and alterative process, it is truly a renovating and life-giving medicine.

THE SIEGE OF CORINTH.

It is said that one of the former political divisions of this State took its name from two famous lines in this poem—namely—

"The foes that he singly kept at bay,
Outnumbered his thin hairs of Silver Grey"

We cannot vouch for the truth of this, but we do know that under the effects of applications of RIMMEL'S RESTER'S already famous HAIR COLORING "Silver Greys" rapidly become (in appearance at least) members of "Young America."—[Troy Budget.

THE TOILET.

There are but few preparations designed for the Toilet, that possess any merit—many of them are injurious, some positively poisonous. The new cosmetic, "PERSIAN BALM," is an article particularly adapted to fill a vacancy in toilet preparations that has long been felt. It is designed especially for Cleaning the Teeth, Shaving, Champooing, Bathing, and improving the Complexion. It has been most carefully prepared and thoroughly tested. If our readers require a really fine Toilet article, purchase the Persian Balm.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DR. DUPONCO'S

French Periodical Golden Pills,

FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been in use by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them, to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H THACHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

LOCAL.

☞ A good-looking, well-dressed man, perhaps forty-five years old, came into our office on Thursday morning about 5 o'clock, and desired us to advertise his loss of $25 and notes to the value of $150. He stated (what was evident enough) that he had been drunk the night previous—and been in the company of both male and female "friends," who had fleeced him. He slept in an open shed, and discovered his loss on rising early (doubtless for a drink) on Thursday morning. We recommended to him, that he had better advertise, rather, the 'enemy' which 'stole away his brains;' and he went out—doubtless to fill up with liquor again in an hour. Poor fools! so they go.

☞ As a work of art, the Panorama to be exhibited at the Temple this evening is without doubt superior to anything of the kind ever seen here—and is really an interesting and attractive entertainment for anybody. Everybody who saw it the other night, speaks in the highest terms of praise. There are many single scenes on the canvass, which all spectators regret to have move from their view in less than an hour. Don't fail to see them to-night. We certainly hope, for the merit of the painting, as well as for the pleasure of our citizens, that all will attend who can.

☞ If those for whom the Daily is left at their work-shops, stores or other places of business, and even at residences, before they are open in the morning, would have an aperture cut in the door, shutter, or gate, through which the paper can be put by the carrier, it would save a great many copies which are now stolen. It would also do us a great favor by "cutting off the supplies" of those who, too penurious to pay $4,00 a year, are regularly on hand to secure the free reading of the paper at the doors of paying subscribers.

☞ The Granite Farmer, Manchester, thinks Potatoes cannot be raised for fifty cents per bushel, and advises farmers to "hold them back" for higher prices.—Now our opinion is, that farmers had better get a lower price even, than nothing. If the crop should rot, as last year, they would hardly realize half a dollar per bushel; and if it does not rot, they certainly cannot. Our wholesale price current puts them at 40 cents—the new crop, of course.

☞ Hon. Isaac Toucey, Secretary of the Navy, visited Charlestown Navy Yard on Wednesday, and Portsmouth Navy Yard on Thursday. He was received with a salute of seventeen guns.

☞ There will be a special meeting of the Mercantile Library Association this (Friday) evening at 8 o'clock, to take some action relative to procuring and furnishing new Rooms for the Association.—A general attendance is requested.

☞ To-day is the last chance to save 6 per cent. discount on your taxes for the current year. See the notice of Collector Goodrich.

☞ The Democrats of Kittery will meet at Gunnison's Hall, Kittery Point, this (Friday) evening. Addresses may be expected from Hon. Moses Macdonald and others from Portland.

BRADSTREET'S

Patent Japan Weather Strip.

This Strip for outside doors is the most useful, and the very best improvement ever those now in use, and the latest, (like the Atlantic Cable,) to keep out Snow, Rain, Wind and Cold from your houses.

This Strip is applied to the bottom of the door by screws, with an ELLIPTICAL SPRING—(which cannot get out of order,) that causes the leaf to rise and fall, on opening or shutting the door.

THIS PATENT STRIP is the most simple and durable of anything of the kind ever invented.—It may be regarded as the "ne plus ultra" in this line, obviating all difficulties in management.—It will save the cost of the article in one winter, in keeping the house warm and dry.

The Prices for fitting on Doors: Japan Finish, $1.50 each. Brass Finish, $2.50 each.

Every one put on by the subscriber will be warranted, and if not successful, no pay required.

Those who wish for the same may leave orders at the store of JOSEPH H. CLARK, corner of Market Square and Daniel street, where a sample may be seen, or at the residence of the subscriber, No. 15 Dennett street, North Portsmouth,—which will be promptly attended to.

☞ "CHARITY."—There is a paper called the "World's Crisis" published in Boston "by believers in the immediate coming of Christ,"—under the editorship of Miles Grant. It has been stopped once or twice for the world to come to an end—but as the world kept on as usual, the Crisis commenced again.

The editor says he shall print no paper week after next, as his help have "had no respite for the past year," and all hands want to go to camp-meeting. He also says he "should be glad if he could afford to print upon better paper, as many of his readers lend the Crisis to their neighbors, and it gets worn out too soon!

The Crisis was the only paper we saw, which throughout the whole experimenting, confidently expected and predicted that the Atlantic Telegraph would succeed.

ANNOUNCEMENT.—The Charlestown Mercury indulges the most encouraging views of the prospect of the Republican party.—It closes a long article upon the subject of the Kansas election as follows:—

"For our part we have, for some time past, looked to the mastery of the General Government by the Abolitionists to be just as sure to take place as any other event morally certain in the course of human affairs. The whole history of the country, for the last twenty or thirty years, points to this result as inevitable in the usual course of things. The South, could, ere the battle was fought and won, have broken up the deadly sequence of effect from cause which was rolling over her destinies; but she has failed to interpose for her protection, and now no mortal efforts within the Union, in our judgment, can arrest the triumph of abolitionism in seizing the government. It may be propitiated and postponed, as the man pursued by wolves arrested their attacks by throwing one child after another out of his carriage—but the wolves overtook and devoured him at last."

LATER FROM SALT LAKE.—St. Louis, August 18.—The Salt Lake mail arrived in Leavenworth on the 16th inst., with St. Joseph dates to the 24th of July. All the Mormons who were able had returned from Provo. Brigham Young was reported to have shut himself up in his residence, under a strong guard, fearing assassination.

Gen. Johnston intended to move his encampment, and prepare for going into winter quarters.

Colonel Hoffman still remained at Fort Bridger. The battalion of volunteers were also still there.

Private letters from the army in Utah announce the departure of Col. Loring with three companies of the 3d Infantry and one hundred Riflemen from New Mexico. Capt. Marcy expected to leave shortly for the States.

Great Indian Battle.—A great battle is reported to have taken place between 700 Pawnees, Cheyennes, and Avapahoes, in the Big Blue region, in which four Pawnees were killed and several wounded, and fifteen of the allied tribes killed and many wounded.

Meeting Postponed.—The Board of officers ordered to convene at Fort Leavenworth to-day, for the purpose of examining the mules rejected by the Quartermaster's department, will not assemble until the 25th. Senator Green, who is now here awaiting the Military Board, is understood to represent the contractors, who claim full price for the animals declared unserviceable.

FIREMEN'S MUSTER.—The fire department of Worcester announce a second grand firemen's muster, to be held in that city Sept. 8th, 9th and 10th, and offer prizes to the amount of $1130. The highest single prize is $400. Firemen from all parts of the country are invited to compete for the prizes.

PRIDE OF ANCESTRY.—There was much sound truth in the speech of a country lad to an idler, who boasted his descent from an ancient family. "So much the worse for you," said the peasant; "as we plowmen say—the older the seed, the worse the crop."

THE PATENT
"Old Dominion" Coffee Pot.

THIS New Coffee Pot, for which a Patent has been issued, possesses this advantage over all others: You may boil coffee in it for any length of time, without a particle of the strength or aroma escaping. One-fourth less coffee is required, and the full flavor of the berry retained.

Thousands of this new Coffee Pot have already been sold, and the demand from all parts of the United States is rapidly on the increase. Wherever introduced, it has given the most complete satisfaction.

A large number of testimonials have been received from those who have used it. We have space for but a few:

From the Portsmouth Journal.

"OLD DOMINION."—If you wish to know what good coffee is, when all the aroma is retained in the coffee, be sure to buy one of the Old Dominion Coffee Pots, of Mr. Carleton. Around such a luxury, it is pleasant to be Pot-companions. We supposed the high commendations of the Old Dominion all puffing, until we tried it.

THE OLD DOMINION COFFEE POT.—We have had in use now for over two months, one of these much talked of Coffee Pots, and we find that it does, in all respects, what is claimed for it. You may boil coffee in the Old Dominion for any length of time you choose, and yet lose none of the delicate aroma or strength. This desirable end is attained by a simple but ingenious contrivance, in the shape of a condenser, with double syphons, by means of which the aroma-bearing vapor, which usually goes all over the house, or up the chimney, is condensed and thrown back into the coffee boiler, and you have its delicious flavor in the cup you bring to your lips. In all our experience of coffee drinking, we never found anything equal to what we now have daily at our morning meal. It is the perfection of coffee.—[Philadelphia Evening Journal.

The New Yorker thus endorses the Old Dominion: "It gives the entire strength as well as the grateful aroma of the berry, and by its simple construction is easy of use, always in order, and furnishes good coffee at one-fourth the cost of the old and unsatisfactory method of boiling."

The draught which it makes is nectar, compared with that of old-time coffee pots.—Springfield, (Mass.) Republican.

The Lady's Book says:—"The 'Old Dominion' is beyond question, the best coffee maker ever introduced to the public, and the only one by which all the strength and virtue of the coffee can be extracted by boiling without loss of aroma. We commend it with the full knowledge that it will do all that is claimed for it.

SIZES AND PRICES.—1 qt. $1.50 each; 1½ qt., 1.75; 2 qt., 2.00; 3 qt., 2.50; 4 qt., 3.00; 6 qt., 3.50; 10 qt., 5.00; 16 qt., 7.50. Larger sizes for Hotels and Restaurants.

Ayer's Pills

are particularly adapted to derange of the digestive organs, liver, and diseases arising from impurity of the blood. A leaven part of all the complaints that afflict mankind originate in or from stomach, and consequently these Pills are found to cure many each disease.

The following are the maladies from some of which they effect cures:

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC.

From Dr. R. W. Gardner, of Jos. Orleans.

"Your Pills are the best family physic. Their excellent qualities recommend themselves to everybody who knows them, but particularly to the lovers of their friends on the Mississippi, which makes them invaluable to me in the daily treatment of disease."

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

From Dr. Wm. H. Hawkins, of the Tribune, City of New York, Cha.

"Not only are your Pills admirably adapted in their purpose as my patients feel, and their beneficial effects upon the liver very evidenced, but I find that they do not, as the liver very evidenced, but I find that they do not, as the Pills of Jalap do, produce griping pains, or any other unpleasant effect, they are so gentle I and effective. I shall do my utmost to make the Pills at length a specialty which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the public."

DYSPEPSIA—INDIGESTION.

From Dr. Henry J. Rich, of St. Louis.

"The Pills you have kind enough to send me have been all good in my practice, and have related to that they are truly valuable in the derangement of the human system, that they seem to work up to their best with those who most need a cathartic. I have confidence in them, and I have experimented with them, indeed I have experimentally tested them to be unequaled, and I shall use them in my practice."

DYSPEPSIA—DEBILITY—RELAX.

From Dr. A. G. Gale, of Chicago.

"Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in esteem as one of the best aperients I have ever found. The effects of the effect upon the liver, from the slightest dose to the full dose, is marked, and I find them thoroughly and perfectly safe. Their sugar-coating makes them very convenient and convenient for the use of women and children."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION.

From Mm. E. Stuart, who practices as a Physician and Midwife, in Boston.

"I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, will generally prove preventive of the natural sorrow, from which wholly or partially suppressed, and also very effectual in the cure of worms. The effect upon the liver is also very marked, and I find it the medicine to other to my patients."

CONSTIPATION—COSTIVENESS.

From Dr. C. P. Flint, Troy, Lamoille, County, Vt.

"I have much pleasure in adding my testimony to the value of your Pills. I have found them an excellent cathartic, and have used them in my practice for the benefit of my patients who suffer from that complaint, for which they are well adapted, I believe, on account of their compactness and the ease with which they operate and their freedom from griping pains."

DYSPEPSIA—LOSS OF APPETITE—COSTIVENESS—DEBILITY—LIVER COMPLAINT—DISEASES OF THE SKIN—ERYSIPELAS—SALT RHEUM—TETTER—TUMORS—ERUPTIONS—GOUT—NEURALGIA.

From Dr. Pickel Hall, Philadelphia.

"Your cathartic Pills are in reality, and your Pills purify the blood. Your Pills are a family medicine of the first order. They are the best family medicine I have ever used. They stimulate the liver, regulate the bowels, purify the blood, eradicate the disease, and infuse vitality and vigor into the system."

"Such remedies as your cathartic are a great and benefit, and I have pleasure in adding my testimony to their value."

FOR HEADACHE—SICK HEADACHE—FOUL STOMACH—FLATULENCY—DIZZINESS—FEVERISH—PARALYSIS—FITS—&c.

From Dr. Eldridge Bowe, Lafayette.

"Dear Sir: Among the many cases of complaints in which I have used your Pills, I have found them to be a valuable family medicine, and I have found them to be a valuable family medicine, and I have found them to be a valuable family medicine, and

YES, YOU MAY

USE or recommend HEIMSTREET'S INVITATION HAIR COLORING, and find it to be all its proprietors claim for it. Do you doubt it?

READ! READ!! READ!!!

SCHOON LAKE, Essex Co., N.Y., February 6, 1858.

W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y.—Dear Sir: Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having been much pleased with it, I take pleasure in making the following statement: From the effects of a very severe fit of sickness when about eighteen years of age my hair commenced turning grey, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white, being very harsh and coarse. Last Summer I had reached my fifty third year, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by you, commenced using it according to directions, and in a few days was surprised to find that my hair from the roots outward was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was as truly brown and glossy as it was in my youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color. MYLA SEAMAN.

Essex, Co., N. Y. Myla Seaman came before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true, this 6th day of Feb., 1858.

JOSE. F. PARSON, Justice of the Peace.

PITTSFORD, VT., Aug. 1, 1857.

I hereby certify that my having become quite grey, I used Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y., for four weeks and my hair was in that time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to be all it claims. WM. KINGSLEY,
Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt.

The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietor of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring and Restorative. It has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. This singular effect is not produced as when dyes are used, for it acts upon the natural secretions of coloring matter at the roots, and thus effects the change. Beside, the color produced is not a counterfeit, but the natural shade of youth. It does not color the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & Co., Troy, N.Y.

He begs leave to refer those unacquainted with him to the following testimonials:—

From Hon. Chas. Mason, Commissioner of Patents.

WASHINGTON, D. C., S. Patent Office, Feb 26, 1856.

I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged as Solicitor, and has been in that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with the office; he has evinced a thorough acquaintance with the Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office, a close attention to the interests of his clients, and a marked candor and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him as one of the very best agents for the transaction of business with this office with whom I am acquainted.

CHARLES MASON, Commissioner.

From the Examiners of the Patent Office.

The undersigned, Principal and Assistant Examiners in the United States Patent Office, have for several years been well acquainted with Mr. Samuel Cooper, late a principal Examiner in this office, and take pleasure in stating that he is a gentleman of the highest moral character, of unquestioned knowledge in the business and practice of the office, and that his scientific attainments are such as eminently fit him for the business in which he is about to engage.

From the Portsmouth Journal.

PORTSMOUTH HARBOR.

We have received from Mr. J. H. Foster some sheets of the Cyclopedia of Commerce and Commercial Navigation, now publishing by Harper & Brothers in New York. It appears to be a work of great value for those engaged in commercial pursuits. One page on Tides, gives the report made to the Superintendent, showing the least water in channel entrances to certain harbors, rivers, and anchorages, on the coasts of the United States: prepared by Lieutenant W. D. Whiting, of the Coast Survey. The least water in the channels of the several harbors from Portland, Me. to Beaufort, N. C. is reported as follows.

Portland,	27 feet.	Delaware river,	30 feet.
Portsmouth,	45* "	Norfolk,	23 "
Salem,	19 "	Hatteras,	13 "
Boston,	18 "	Beaufort, N. C.	15 "
New York,	24 "	Cape Fear,	8 "

*This is from the Narrows to the city. The depth off the wharves at low tide is reported 63 ft.—more than double the depth reported at any other harbor on the Atlantic coast.

NAVAL.—Business is flourishing at the Portsmouth Navy Yard at the present time. The pay roll contains 603 names, and as soon as orders come from Washington to push ahead the new steam sloop-of-war, the gang will be largely increased. Extensive repairs are being made on the Portsmouth, which was recently taken upon the railway.

LYCEUM LECTURES.—We do not hear that any arrangements have been made for a course this winter. A correspondent suggests that a very acceptable course might be made by drawing upon some of the sons of Portsmouth abroad, and filling up the intermediate evenings by members of the Mercantile Library Association. There are J. T. Fields, Starr King, John G. Adams, Shillaber, Hanscomb, James P. Walker, and some other of the sons, who could make up half the course, while the Association has ample talent which such an arrangement would develop, to make up the balance. The experiment is worth trying.

HUSKS.—The splitting and combing of Husks, for upholstery purposes, has been one of the occupations of the inmates of our alms house, where most of the work of this kind for our manufacturers has been performed. A few days since, after passing through the extensive furniture ware-rooms of E. M. Brown & Co. we found in the attic story the junior member of this firm arranging a new and simple process for preparing Husks for mattresses, &c. By means of projecting points from a cylinder placed in the shop lathe, the husks were striped as handsomely as they could be by hand, and left the same as in the usual combed state.—By this process the same work is accomplished in more regular manner in twelve minutes that formerly occupied an hour. This invention, no less valuable from being simple,—will take from the poor even what the prodigal son regarded as the mark of his lowest state. —Journal.

ELEGANT HAIR WORK.—Some beautiful specimens of work by Miss M. Frances Hoyt, of Newington, are to be seen in the window of Mr. Barton, on Congress street.

HOW RAW AMERICANS GET ALONG IN PARIS.—An American at Paris went to a restaurant to get his dinner. Unacquainted with the French language, yet unwilling to show his ignorance, he pointed to the first line on the bill of fare, and the polite waiter brought him a plate of fragrant beef soup. This was very well, and when it was dispatched he pointed to the second line. The waiter understood him perfectly, and brought him vegetable soup. "Rather more soup than I want," thought he, "but it is Paris fashion." He duly pointed to the third line, and a plate of tapioca broth was brought him; again to the fourth, and was furnished with a bowl of preparation of arrow-root. He tried the fifth line and was supplied with some gruel kept for invalids. The bystanders now supposed that they saw an unfortunate individual who had lost all his teeth, and our friend, determined to get as far from the soup as possible, pointed in despair to the last line on the bill of fare. The intelligent waiter, who saw at once what he wanted, politely handed him—a bunch of tooth-picks. This was too much; our countryman paid his bill and incontinently left.

AN INTERESTING ANNIVERSARY.—We are indebted to the Boston Daily Advertiser for the following interesting reminiscence, and equally interesting notice of an anniversary celebration:—"On the fourth of August, 1492, Christopher Columbus lost sight of the most western highlands of Europe,—which he was not to see again till he returned to give to Europe his gift of this New World. Three hundred and sixty-six years pass away, and on the same day the noblest vessel in the New World's navy comes in sight of the most eastern of the highlands of North America; and as the sun goes down she connects with the American shores the thread which gives Europe and America to each other. A majestic celebration of the great hero's faithful endeavor, at the end of a year of years after it was made!"

OLD MORTAR.—There is no valuable substance about a farm more often wasted, by throwing into the road, or into some mudhole, or out of the way corner, than the old mortar of chimneys and lathed and plastered walls. It is because the fact is not known that this old mortar—the older the better—is a most valuable fertilizer. It is is good upon any soil and upon every crop, used as a surface dressing. It is particularly valuable in garden soil, which, notwithstanding its richness in nitrogenous manure, sometimes lacks just what it would receive from a dressing of this old mortar. In all places where it is known it is highly esteemed, and only needs to be tried to induce every farmer to carefully save and apply it. It is worth more, bushel for bushel, than the best stable manure, and some persons have ascribed virtues to it not much, if any, behind guano.

The New Bedford Standard says:—"A wedding came off in this city recently, between a colored gentleman and a white lady who is respectably connected. The groom has white blood flowing in his veins and claims no less a personage than the President of the United States, whose name he bears, as his paternal ancestor."

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 21, 1858.

THE KANSAS ELECTION.—Official returns from the late election in Kansas have not yet been received from all the towns in the Territory, but according to the Lawrence correspondent of the St. Louis Democrat, those now in stand some 12,000 against the English proposition, to 1000 for it.—Nearly all the counties to hear from will throw a unanimous vote against it; that is, with but trifling executions. When the returns are all in the vote is expected to stand 14,000 against to 1300 for.

What could be more significant than this vote of more than 10 to 1, against swindles, lies and shame of all sorts? Some papers are predicting that the free State men, who voted now, will not hereafter vote as one party, but will be as the N. H. Patriot says, divided into "two parties, Democratic and black republican; and it is not at all certain that the latter will be found strong enough to control the Territory."

It is really of little consequence whether any party is called white or black, democrat or republican, whig or tory. He that doeth righteousness is righteous—not he who only says he yo warmed and filled, but gives nothing—much less he who takes away the bread and gives a stone, or he who for a fish gives a serpent.

So he who goes for freedom must be anti-slavery, call him by whatever name you will; and he who makes or endorses lies and cheats to aid slavery and extend tyranny and legalize oppression, may be intensely national, may call himself a republican, or others may call him democrat—but he is in reality a crafty tyrant himself, or is the cringing and contemptible minion of tyranny elsewhere. You may call your dog a mastiff it you please, but if he looks and acts and barks like a cur, his name is little worth. He is a cur, and nothing else.

COUNTRY CORRESPONDENCE.—Messrs. Editors:—I was very much pleased to see, in a late paper, a statement made by a correspondent to this purpose, namely, that the Temperance law had been the cause of closing many and some very respectable and much needed hotels.

I am pleased with what has been done, because every rum hole closed saves at least one human victim! I should think, besides, that if one public house in a town could not live without rum, it was not very much needed—but what few people wished to put up in the place could be accommodated in some other way. There is no necessary connection between a hotel for the traveller and a dram-hole for the tippler. I have travelled some, and have been in many houses where my fare was good enough, and cheap enough; and in the stable my horse was well fed—and yet no liquors were round, and no tipplers. It seems the law is not a dead letter. It has done much good, and will do more.

AGRICOLA.

NUMBER OF GERMANS IN PHILADELPHIA.—The German population in Philadelphia at the present time, says the Inquirer, is estimated by those most conversant with it at eighty thousand souls. About one half have arrived in this country since the revolutions in Europe of 1848. About ten thousand of the number are voters, and over one thousand more have taken preliminary steps in order to become naturalized. A large portion of this number will be voters in the Fall. There are twenty-one German religous societies in Philadelphia. Of these, three are Catholics, five are Lutherans, three Reformed German, one Baptist, one Methodist, seven synagogues, and one Free Thinkers' Association.

STATE OF MATRIMONY.—The "State of Matrimony" has, at last, been bounded and described by some out West Student, who says:

It is one of the United States. It is bounded by hugging and kissing on one side, and cradles and babies on the other. Its chief productions are population, broomsticks and staying out late o'nights. It was discovered by Adam and Eve, while trying to find a northwest passage out of Paradise. The climate is sultry till you pass the tropics of housekeeping, when equally weather sets in with such power as to keep all hands as cool as cucumbers.—For the principal roads leading to this interesting State, consult the first pair of blue eyes you run against.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.—Trinity Bay, N. F., Aug. 19.—To the President of the United States, Washington:—Your message in reply to that of the Queen was transmitted to Valentia at 7 o'clock this morning. Its transmission was delayed until then for some cause occurring at Valentia with which I am yet unacquainted.

DE SALTY,
Chief Electrician at Trinity Bay.

Boston, 12 P. M.—The above message has just passed through to Washington.

☞ The Rockingham Association of Universalists held their annual meeting in the pleasant farming town of Kingston, on Wednesday and Thursday, August 18 and 19. The weather was favorable on both days, and the attendance was large. The opening occasional sermon was delivered on Wednesday morning by Rev. S. S. Fletcher, of Exeter.

The noon trains of that day brought large accessions from various quarters—40 or 50 from this city; and in the afternoon the Universalists' place of worship was crowded with hearers. Rev. Sylvanus Cobb of Boston preached from Matt. 4: 4. "Man shall not live by bread alone," &c. Subject, Christian Culture.

At the close of this service the business Council was organized, and held a session of about two hours. Encouraging statements were made, of several congregations joined in one circuit; and in one church, here, without a pastor and with only rare visits from preachers, public worship and a Sabbath school had been kept up a year, with an increase of interest and numbers, using the Gospel Sermons and Liturgy.

In the evening there was a sermon by Rev. Mr. Gordon, of Utica, N. Y., on the Education of Children. At 9 o'clock, on the close of this Sermon, the large audience resolved into a Conference Meeting, embodying about thirty ministers from various parts of the Union and the Province of Nova Scotia. In the progress of this meeting, vivid lightnings gleamed in at the windows, the thunder rolled, the winds blew and the rains descended; but the effect, which at first seemed likely to close the meeting abruptly, was really to prolong it to 11 o'clock, the time being fully occupied in addresses, petitions, and joyful songs of praise.

In the morning, which was clear and cool, a prayer-meeting of an hour began at 6 o'clock, and was well attended. At 8 o'clock the Council reassembled, and finished up their usual business—appointing the next Annual Meeting to be held in Portsmouth,—voting to hold Quarterly Conferences—and listening to various remarks on moral and prudential topics.

At half-past 10, the assemblage having become too large for the chapel, and the Methodist Society having kindly offered their church, Rev. Mr. Chambre of Newark, N. J., preached there to one full congregation,—while Rev. N. Gunnison of Halifax, N. S., preached to another full congregation at the same time in the Universalist Chapel, from Psalm 107: 9. "He satisfieth the longing soul, and filleth the hungry soul with goodness."

In the afternoon, the closing sermons were preached at 2 o'clock; that in the Methodist House by Rev. Mr. Maxham of New Haven, to a full congregation; and that in the Universalist by Rev. Thomas Whittemore of Cambridge, to a densely crowded house.

The people of Kingston, methodists as well as universalists, very hospitably entertained their crowds of visitors, and all seemed to enjoy the occasion, as one of much interest and pleasure.

☞ Our Hampton correspondent furnishes us the following items:—

James Fogg of North Hampton was badly gored by an enraged bull, on Tuesday, destroying one eye and otherwise injuring him.

On Thursday, H. Fellows, Oliver Blake, and a young man by the name of Noyes, were arrested on the charge of breaking and entering the Freight House of the Eastern Railroad and stealing a quantity of liquors. They were taken before David Marston, Esq., who ordered them to be committed in default of bail in the sum of $500 each, with the exception of Noyes, who turned State's evidence and recognized in $100 as a witness. "Rum did it."

FROM EUROPE, 4 DAYS LATER.

The Arabia arrived at New York on Friday, bringing English dates of the 6th. In the collission with the Europa, the Arabia started her cutwater, stove a hole in her port bow, damaged her port wheelhouse, and came the rest of the way with one engine and one wheel.

The Agamemnon arrived at Valentia on the 5th, having encountered a severe gale which continued three days,—during this time no one expected the cable to hold a minute. The successful laying of the Cable sent up the shares in one day from £350 to £850.

On Tuesday, the 3d, the Emperor and Empress left Paris for Cherbourg, and at every station on the route were received with lively enthusiasm.

On Wednesday noon the Queen of England left Osborne for Cherbourg, and on Thursday the meeting of the sovereigns took place on board the Bretagne, and the Queen landed at Cherbourg.

THE PISCATAQUA.

KITTERY SIDE, Aug. 20.

Messrs. Editors,—If agreeable to you, I will send you some further notes on the attractions which our river (the connecting link between us,) affords to the seeker of aquatic amusements. It is a matter of congratulation that the class of persons who find pleasure near and upon the water is annually increasing; there is in it an evidence of the growth of an improved taste in the community.

Water excursions are in every way superior to the driving of fast horses, loafing upon the steps of a tavern or even in a reading-room.—The reading of leading articles in the sky, its advertisements of storms or sunny days to come, or its telegraphic news by lightning, of freighted clouds on their way to water the thirsty earth; indeed, any of the news items of the out-door press, that is hourly setting up a new column upon nature's outside sheet of sky and water, are more interesting at this season than the inside of the newspapers even. There are Fields as wonderful as the one connected with the Ocean Telegraph, if we would but find them, upon the surface of our river that runs placidly by me at this moment. There is more room for reflection than in the dull columns of any sheet (except the Daily Chronicle.)

I wish I could describe to you and succeed in giving you an idea of a most beautiful jelly-fish which undulated itself along side of my boat, as I was fishing near the shore, a sunny afternoon or two since It was about three inches long, oblong-shaped like a perfect watermelon, transparent and of a pink hue. It was divided by lines precisely similar to those seen on the watermelon, and these lines were of a green tint. Changing with the vibration which gave it motion, to all the colors of the rainbow, as it moved along slowly in the sunlight, near the surface of the water, the colors flashed out with the brilliancy of the diamond. Borne past us by the tide, it was soon out of sight; but so beautiful was the vision, that it set us looking at once for more of the same sort.

We did not find another as large as our Kohinoor, but found many smaller ones of equal brilliancy, and succeeded in capturing one of about the size of a nutmeg.—This we carefully preserved in the dipper used for bailing, and transferred it to a glass for the admiration of our lady friends by candle-light. It was still alive and moving round the glass, but with diminished splendor. There was a bue of homesickness about the poor animated jelly, that made us quite long for an aquarium, or ready-made river, to keep up his spirits; but in the absence of this luxury, we applied a vial of pure spirits, under the influence of which he soon fell asleep, and dissolved, leaving not a wreck behind.

If our wealthy friends who do not go to the river to witness God's wonders, but have the river brought to them, with its live lobsters, crabs, eels, &c., could only procure one of these specimens, and exhibit it at their drawing room window on some sunny day, in its full radiance, there would be at once an immense rush for aquariums, and from being the fashion they would become the rage—for a more beautiful sight can hardly be presented to the human eye than this half-vegetable creation of the waters.

We quite envy our friend Mr. Austin, whose beautiful summer residence stands not far from here—so near the water-side, that he has even at his feet, an aquarium furnished with fresh wonders waited into it daily from the ocean. N.

MUSTANGS.—There arrived at Princeton a few days ago, a drove of mustang horses, which the owners had bought in Mexico, on the borders of the Rio Grande, and had driven a distance of 1800 miles through Texas, Arkansas, Missouri, and Illinois, into Gibson county, Ind. They cost on an average in Mexico $2,50. They had been driven the entire journey without one cent of expense for feed. They had maintained themselves in good condition by grazing at night upon the grass they found by the way. The adventurers started with a drove of 150. They lost but three animals by sickness or accident, and one of these was drowned by swimming the Wabash river on Sunday, In one instance the animals were driven over a journada of nearly two hundred miles without finding water, yet they apparently suffered but little. Forty or fifty animals were sold on the route, and the owners are finding purchasers for those they brought in at prices from $25 to $100—which makes the speculation a very remunerating one.—Evansville (Ind.) Journal.

CHECK MATED.—It is stated that the father of a lady in this vicinity recently presented her with a check ("good as wheat") for $30,000, in view of her matrimonial alliance. Truly such a "check" ered life as that wouldn't be hard to lead. We wish somebody would endeavor to "check" our career in that way.—New Bedford Standard.

☞ The Philadelphia North American narrates a couple of amusing incidents of the cable celebration in that city:—

"In coming down Race street in the morning, we saw an enthusiastic English gentleman, standing on his door step, a big brass dinner bell in each hand, which he rang with such effect that the din fairly deafened the entire block. He was perspiring like an ox, and alternately shouting, 'Long live 'er Majesty!' 'Long live Prince Halbert!' We passed this spot half an hour afterwards, and found him still ringing and cheering, his voice dwindled to a gruff whisper, and his bald head glistened in the sun like a newly scoured poringer.

Another incident which we saw amused us hugely. A german lager bier cellar in Sixth street, was decorated with flags, and surrounded by a crowd of people. We elbowed our way to the centre and found a keg of lager mounted on the sidewalk, whose contents the proprietor was distributing among the crowd. 'Youst come here, suentlemens; youst you come up and drinke. You is so welcome as never was!' Saying which, the rubicund Teuton re-applied himself to the squirting faucet until the cask was drained, and the drouthy multitude went away satisfied."

THE LAST EFFORT OF A DESPERATE MAN. A man who was tired of waiting for the Queen's message perpetrated the following:

"What is the difference between a cow and a baby?"

"Because one drinks water and makes milk, and the other"——doesn't.—New York Post.

A Dutchman on being called upon to help pay for a lightning rod for the village church, towards the building of which he had liberally subscribed, exclaimed, "I have helped to build a house for de Lort, and if he chooses to dunder on it and knock it down, he musht do it at his own risk."

LOST.—On Thursday, a Black Lace VEIL.—The finder will confer a favor by leaving it at the Chronicle Office au21

THE subscriber has been appointed Exclusive Agent for this city in furnishing and putting on
BRADSTREET'S
Patent Japan Weather Strip.

This Strip for outside doors is the most useful, and the very best improvement ever those now in use, and the latest, (like the Atlantic Cable,) to keep out Snow, Rain, Wind and Cold from your houses.

This Strip is applied to the bottom of the door by screws, with an ELLIPTICAL SPRING—(which cannot get out of order,) that causes the leaf to rise and fall, on opening or shutting the door.

THIS PATENT STRIP is the most simple and durable of anything of the kind ever invented—It may be regarded as the "ne plus ultra" in this line, obviating all difficulties in management—It will save the cost of the article in one winter, in keeping the house warm and dry.

The Prices for putting on Doors: Japan Finish, $1 50 each. Brass Finish, $2 50 each.

Every one put on by the subscriber will be warranted, and if not satisfactory, no pay required.

Those who wish for the same may leave orders at the store of JOSEPH H. CLARK, corner of Market Square and Daniel street, where a sample may be seen, or at the residence of the subscriber, No. 15 Dennett street, North Portsmouth,—which will be promptly attended to.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

LADIES OF PORTSMOUTH.
IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.
Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer.

The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

THE DESTROYER is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the ne plus ultra of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimple also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the parts in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Parisian ladies have used it for years; consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For sale Every hour.

ALTERATIVE.

The subtle chemical vital affinities are ever at work for the waste or renovation of the tissues. The PERUVIAN SYRUP, with its chemical element iron, presents to the laboratory of life an agent ever active, and can never be absent without derangement of the vital functions. In this slow and alterative process, it is truly a renovating and life-giving medicine.

THE SIEGE OF CORINTH.

It is said that one of the former political divisions of this State took its name from two famous lines in this poem—namely—

"The foes that he singly kept at bay,
Outnumbered his thin hairs of Siver Grey"

We cannot vouch for the truth of this, but we do know that under the effects of applications of HEIMSTREET'S already famous HAIR COLORING "Silver Greys" rapidly become (in appearance at least) members of "Young America."—(Troy Budget.

THE TOILET.

There are but few preparations designed for the Toilet, that possess any merit—many of them are injurious, some positively poisonous. The new cosmetic, "PERSIAN BALM," is an article particularly adapted to fill a vacancy in toilet preparations that has long been felt. It is designed especially for Cleansing the Teeth, Shaving, Champooing, Bathing, and improving the Complexion. It has been most carefully prepared and thoroughly tested. If our readers require a really fine Toilet article, purchase the Persian Balm.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DR. DUPONCO'S
French Periodical Golden Pills,
FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies (confidentially) to make known the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H THACHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

LOCAL.

☞ The two entertainments by Messrs. Packard & Marsh, with their large class of misses, at the Temple, Wednesday and Thursday evenings, were very pleasing and satisfactory. The picture alone—of a hundred girls of all ages, dressed in white and decorated with flowers, and seated in tiers according to sizes—was worth three times the price of admission; especially in the closing chorus of the "star-spangled banner," when all waved their white handkerchiefs. By the way, that was a pretty good hit Mr. Marsh made, in inviting all to join in the chorus:

"Tis the star-spangled banner, oh, long may it wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the slave."

We might particularize several individual performances which especially pleased us—but our interest was for the general success and not for solo singing. Such good chorus and solo singing as this class exhibited, after so short a time for rehearsal, shows how much labor must have been bestowed on them by the managers of these exhibitions; and the finished and skilful dancing of the highland fling in costume by a beautiful little miss, was a compliment to Mr. Lamprey's thorough tuition; as was also the singing of the "Blind Girl," the "Flower Queen," and other pieces, testimony to the efficient instruction given by Mr. Pearson and perhaps others of our resident teachers, to some of those children.

We could but regret, as we were enjoying these concerts, that every citizen of Portsmouth was not also there—at least that these "Festivals of Beauty" did not "draw" as well as a circus; and the great achievements of these little girls in two or three weeks, makes us even more impatient than ever for the time to come when music shall be taught in all our schools. Why don't some one of our rich men, who would like to have all the children "rise up and call him blessed," bestow a fund for this purpose? We would rather have the monument of future thanks which would surely be raised for him, than the most costly pile of granite or marble.

The duets of the two gentlemen were fine—of a character not often heard—and contributed largely to the variety and interest of the entertainment. We hope they will visit our city again.

ALMOST AN ACCIDENT.— On Thursday evening, just after the first afternoon train on the Eastern Railroad arrived, an extra train started for Boston, in advance of the regular one which leaves this city at half-past five. Two men who are employed on the hand-car, were engaged in securing some hay which they had cut at the side of the track, near Hayes's Ledge, and after the extra train had passed, they, thinking it was the regular train, placed a small platform car on the track, and commenced loading their hay preparatory for a start home. After piling on about two hundred pounds, they were suddenly startled by hearing the regular train coming, about a half mile distant! No time was to be lost; off jumped the man from the load; and one lifting at each end of the car, by almost super human effort, they succeeded in throwing it, with its contents, from the track, down an embankment twenty feet high, when just as it landed the train rushed by. If the engine had struck the load, it would probably have thrown the cars from the track, and the result might have been disastrous. C.

☞ We notice that another ship is in course of construction at the yard of E. G. Pierce, Esq., on Pierce's Island—whence the "Charger" was launched a year or two since. The frame is mostly up; and is apparently that of a ship of 800 or 900 tons—which we learn is owned by parties in Boston. This, and the two ships on the stocks at the Raynes yard, are the only vessels now being built here, save at the Navy Yard.

☞ Among other things we printers have to do, is keeping an old curiosity shop—of articles lost and found, &c. We don't lay in much stock to be sure,—and the less we keep on hand the better we like it. Among other things, we now have a couple of pairs of steel-bowed spectacles, and a gold bracelet—awaiting owners—all which articles have been advertised, for successfully, but have not yet been called for.

☞ The Rockingham Weekly Chronicle, containing a summary of the news of the week, this day published, and for sale at the Chronicle Counting Room; price 3 cts. each. $1 per year, in advance.

☞ Union Prayer Meeting at the Free-will Baptist Church to-morrow at the ringing of the first bells—during the week at the Fleet Street Vestry, at 8 o'clock.

POLICE COURT.

FRIDAY, August 20.

Before Justice Rollins—Three boys o young men, John Kelley alias John Kalloch, James Plaisted and John Moran, were charged with assaulting one John Batchelder of Pembroke, on the 18th, in this city, with intent to rob, steal and carry away his money. Plea not guilty,—but the proof was rather too strong for escape; and the court ordered them to find bail with two good sureties, in the sum of $500 each, to appear at the S. J. Court. Not doing this, the mittimus was issued—and they were committed to jail:

The man who was assaulted, is a laboring man who earned a little money, part of which he spent in one of the groggeries, on Wednesday, and when partly drunk, showed the rest of his money near the depot of the Concord road, to some of those accused. One of them, Kelley, pretended to be Mayor of the city, and ordered the other two to arrest him for being drunk.—They laid hold of him, and dragged him to Horrock's groggery, but Mrs. H. closed the door, so that they got him only into the yard, where they attempted to rob him, and perhaps did so.

The police heard of it, and came and put Batchelder into the lock-up, where he got sober by morning,—and then told the same story, which is corroborated by more witnesses,—and led to this arrest.

Kelley is a stray loafer, one of the 200 idlers and spongers whom our citizens have to maintain, as a bounty on the groggeries. The other two belong here,—and have for months formed part of a group of a dozen, who hang round the groggeries in that part of the town.

WARNING TO MOTHERS.—About 6 o'cl'k, a few evenings since, a wagon containing two persons, and driven at a slow rate, came in contact with a small child, a child too diminutive to be allowed in the streets unattended, and who being on the nigh side was not seen by the driver. The instinct of self-preservation is said to begin with life: an example of the truth of this was then afforded. The child clung to the step of the vehicle and emitted such sounds from its vocal organs as soon brought the driver from his seat and all the females in the neighborhood from their houses, when, to the relief of all concerned, it was found that the child had received no injury further than a slight jam of the toes on one foot and an extensive application of "free soil" to its wearing apparel. O.

WARNING TO BOYS.—A son of Mrs. McKenny, while playing around the railroad on Friday morning, was caught between the edge of a car and the end of a heavy stick of timber as it was being unloaded, producing a compound fracture of his right thigh, and making a wound nearly half the circumference of his thigh, on the inside. He is said to be a son of one of the four men who were drowned in our harbor a little more than two years since.

☞ Mr. D. M. French, the Sculptor, has a very interesting display of statuary, at his room over David Kimball's store, in Market street; and lovers of the fine arts can here spend an hour very agreeably.—Mr. French is now engaged on an ideal bust, of Truth, which he has but just commenced.

☞ This evening is the last chance to see by far the finest Panorama ever exhibited here—and the children are to have a free admission to it at three o'clock this afternoon. Send 'em all—and go yourselves to-night.

☞ The morning train from Portland, Friday, was detained an hour and a half by breaking an axle of the engine at Berwick.

100 Songs of Scotland,

MUSIC AND WORDS.

ALTHOUGH many editions of "Songs of Scotland" have been from time to time published, there is not one that combines the various features of the present work, which, as a comprehensive selection of the choicest melodies, adapted to their appropriate words, in a cheap, correct, and portable form, is perfectly unique

No national melodies have ever attained the lasting and universal popularity which is enjoyed by those of Scotland, which are equally welcome in the palace, in the cottage, and at the "ingleside." Price only 40 Cents.

THE PATENT
"Old Dominion" Coffee Pot.

THIS New Coffee Pot, for which a Patent has been issued, possesses this advantage over all others: You may boil coffee in it for any length of time, without a particle of the strength or aroma escaping. One-fourth less coffee is required, and the full flavor of the berry retained.

Thousands of this new Coffee Pot have already been sold, and the demand from all parts of the United States is rapidly on the increase. Wherever introduced, it has given the most complete satisfaction.

A large number of testimonials have been received from those who have used it. We have space for but a few:

From the Portsmouth Journal.

"OLD DOMINION."—If you wish to know what good coffee is, when all the aroma is retained in the coffee, be sure to buy one of the Old Dominion Coffee Pots, of Mr. Carleton. Around such a luxury, it is pleasant to be Pot-companions. We supposed the high commendations of the Old Dominion all puffing, until we tried it.

THE OLD DOMINION COFFEE POT.—We have had in use now, for over two months, one of these much talked of Coffee Pots, and we find that it does, in all respects, what is claimed for it. You may boil coffee in the Old Dominion for any length of time you choose, and yet lose none of the delicate aroma or strength. This desirable end is attained by a simple but ingenious contrivance, in the shape of a condenser, with which the syphons, by means of which the aroma-bearing vapor, which usually goes all over the house, or up the chimney, is condensed and thrown back into the coffee boiler, and you have its delicious flavor in the cup you bring to your lips. In all our experience of coffee drinking, we never found anything equal to what we now have daily at our morning meal. It is the perfection of coffee.—[Philadelphia Evening Journal.

The New Yorker thus endorses the Old Dominion: "It gives the entire strength as well as the grateful aroma of the berry, and by its simple construction is easy of use, always in order, and furnishes good coffee at one-fourth the cost of the old and unsatisfactory method of boiling."

The draught which it makes is nectar, compared with that of old-time coffee pots.—Springfield, (Mass.) Republican.

The Lady's Book says:—"The 'Old Dominion' is beyond question, the best coffee maker ever introduced to the public, and the only one by which all the strength and virtue of the coffee can be extracted by boiling without loss of aroma. We commend it with the full knowledge that it will do all that is claimed for it.

SIZES AND PRICES.—1 qt. $1.50 each; 1½ qt., 1.75; 2 qt., 2.00; 3 qt., 2.50; 4 qt., 3.00; 6 qt., 3.50; 10 qt., 5.00; 16 qt., 7.50. Larger sizes for Hotels and Restaurants.

*Ayer's Pills

Are particularly adapted to overcoming the digestive apparatus, and diseases arising from impurity of the blood. A large part of all the sickness that afflict mankind originate in one of them, and consequently these Pills are found to cure many varieties of disease.

Subjoined are the statements from some eminent physicians of their effects in their practice

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC.

From Dr. S. M. Clockwell, of New Orleans.

"Your Pills are the perfection of purges, for, combining excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of patients."

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

From Dr. Theodore Dell, of New York City.

"Not only are your Pills admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects upon the liver very marked. In Jaundice, which I have practice proved more effectual for the cure of bilious complaints than any one remedy I can mention. I sincerely rejoice that the best of all medicines for the ills it worthy the confidence of the profession and the people."

DYSPEPSIA—INDIGESTION.

From Dr. Henry J. Kent, of St. Louis.

"The Pills you were kind enough to send me have been all used in my practice, and I can cheerfully say that they are truly an extraordinary medicine. So peculiarly are they adapted to the diseases of the human system, that they seem to act upon them almost like a charm. I have cured some cases of dyspepsia and indigestion with them, which had resisted the other remedies we commonly use. Indeed I have experimentally found them to be effectual in almost all the complaints for which you recommend them."

DYSENTERY — DIARRHŒA — RELAX.

From Dr. J. G. Gross, of Chicago.

"Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in esteem as one of the best aperients I have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the bowels, I think, is an excellent remedy, when given in small doses, for bilious dysentery and diarrhœa. Their compounding makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION.

From Mrs. E. Sweet, chief physician to a Physician and Nurses, in Boston.

"I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are excellent promoters of the natural secretion when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very effectual in removing the worms with which children abound. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients."

CONSTIPATION — COSTIVENESS.

From Dr. J. P. Maxfield, Montreal, Canada.

"You cannot make too much of your Pills for the cure of costiveness. If others of our fraternity have found them as efficacious as I have, they should join me in proclaiming it for the benefit of the sick everywhere. Apart from that consideration, which, although bad enough in itself, is the prolifier of others that are worse, I believe costiveness to originate in the liver, but your Pills affect that organ and have its secretion."

IMPURITIES OF THE BLOOD — SCROFULA — ERYSIPELAS — SALT RHEUM — TETTER — TUMORS — RHEUMATISM — GOUT — NEURALGIA.

From Dr. Rudolph Bell, Philadelphia.

"You remark, however, that you do not think Pills purify the blood. They do that. I have used them of late years in my practice, and agree with your statements of their efficacy. They stimulate the operation and vary of the impurities that remain in the blood, and thus purify it. They stimulate the organs of digestion, and infuse vitality and vigor into the system.

"Such results as these you prepare upon national benefit, and you deserve great credit for them."

FOR HEADACHE—SICK HEADACHE—FOUL STOMACH—PILES—DROPSY—FLETHORA—PARALYSIS—FITS—&c.

From Dr. Edward Ewell, Baltimore.

"DEAR DR. AYER: I cannot but congratulate your dyspeptic acquaintance with your Pills better than to say all that are in accord with a purgative medicine. I place great dependence upon them in my own family, and I should feel the loss and bankering as I do that your Pills afford us the best we have. I of course value them highly."

☞ Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skillful hands, is dangerous in a popular pill, from the deceitful manner in which it is generally follow its beneficial use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has long been manufactured by a practical chemist, and every order of it seals his own eye, with invariable accuracy and success. It is unsolicited by any other cathartic, and consequently can be relied on as genuine, without adulteration. It supplies the correct remedy the world has long known for the cure of all pulmonary complaints, for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease. As these complaints are induced by sudden changes, this medicine has gradually become the best reliance of the afflicted, from the log cabin of the American peasant, to the palaces of European kings. Throughout this entire country, in every state and city, and indeed almost every house it contains, CHERRY PECTORAL is known as the best of all remedies for diseases of the throat and lungs. In more foreign countries it is universally used by their most intelligent physicians. If there is any dependence on what men of every station certify it has done for them; if we can trust our own senses when we see the dangerous sufferers of the lungs restored to health, we can depend on the assurance of intelligent physicians, whose business is to know, in short, if there is any reliance upon anything, then is it irrefutably proven that this medicine does cure the diseases of lungs and throat, beyond any other and all other remedies known to mankind. Nothing but its intrinsic virtues, and the unmeasurable benefit conferred on thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. Imitations, of inferior character, have been thrust upon the community, have failed, and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and remarkable to be forgotten.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to that pernicious herd of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent free express or otherwise, to all, who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three hundred of his cures here are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is speedy, safe and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills are for sale by agents in every country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 diy

Joy to the Admirers of

A FINE HEAD OF

RICH GLOSSY HAIR.

Talk of beauty, it cannot exist without a fine head of hair, then read the following, and if you ask more, see circular around each bottle, and no one can doubt.

PROF. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—We call the attention of all, old and young, to this wonderful preparation, which turns back to its original color, gray hair—covers the head of the bald with a luxuriant growth—removes dandruff, itching and all cutaneous eruptions—causes a continual flow of the natural fluids;—and hence, if used as a regular dressing for the hair will preserve its color, and keep it from falling to grow old early, in the world we live in. We call then upon the bald, the gray, or diseased in scalp, to use it; and surely the young will not, in their value for flowing locks or for the glossy curl, ever be without it. Its praise is upon the tongue of thousands.

The Agent for Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative in New Haven, received the following letter in regard to the Restorative, a few weeks since:

DIXIE RIVER, CONN., July 22, 1856.

Mr. Leavenworth—Sir: I have been troubled with dandruff or scurf on my head for more than a year, my hair began to come out, scurf and hair together. I saw in a New Haven paper about "Wood's Hair Restorative" as a cure. I called at your store on the 1st of April last, and purchased one bottle to try it, and I found to my satisfaction it was the thing; it removed the scurf and new hair began to grow, and now I have three inches in length where it was all off. I have great faith in it. I wish you to send me two bottles more by express. I have heard of it, but don't know as any of the kind is used in this place, you may have a market for many bottles after it is known here. Yours with respect, ROYCE PRATT.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 1856.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative is proving to be a great success. It has cured me and also the back part of my head almost lost its covering—in fact BALD. I have used but two half pint bottles of your Restorative, and now the tip of my head is well studded with a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving its benefit. I have tried other preparations without any benefit whatever. I think from my own personal recommendation, I can induce many others to try it. Yours respectfully,

D. B. THOMAS, M. D., No. 484 Vine street.

VICKSBURG, Ia., June 22, 1853.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: As you are about to manufacture and introduce your recently discovered Hair Restorative, I will state, for whomsoever it may concern, that I have used it and known others to use it, that, I have, for several years, been in the habit of using a hair preparation, and find that I find yours vastly superior to any other I know. It entirely cleanses the head of dandruff and with the dandruff, it removes all scurf, and leaves the hair to the original youthful color and texture, giving it a healthy, soft and glossy appearance; and all this, without discoloring the hands that apply it more than a drop or two is dropped. I would, therefore, recommend its use to every one desirous of having a fine color and texture to hair.

Respectfully yours, WILCOX ELISS.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interest money alone is a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets in Georgia Half the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to puzzle the buyer. Prizes vary from $50 to $70,000; every prize being drawn and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount of money to be entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Courier, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. THE MORE PERFECT AND COMPLETE OUR FIRE DEPARTMENT, THE LESS SHOULD OUR INSURANCE BE.—Messrs. Editors:—While all the world seem to be rejoicing at the great accomplishment of laying the telegraph cable, myself and others were politely invited to look at another accomplishment highly deserving the attention of the community.

I allude to Thomas Odiorne's Building Protector, from fire; the ever and always to be dreaded element when not in its useful place! An element indispensable it seems to our existence, and to our comfort in most latitudes on the largest part of the world.

But this element, so important and necessary to mankind, often becomes their greatest scourge; as all thickly settled places have had sad and sometimes overwhelming experience. A calamity, too, always to be dreaded, and one for which as yet we have no infallible remedy; but as we live in an age of discoveries, may we not hope that this great desideratum may receive its share of attention?

But to Mr. Odiorne's invention. All who have examined it must agree that he who can invent and put together in the workmanlike manner the first machine after a model like Mr. Odiorne's, is a workman of no common skill. I consider Mr. Odiorne's machine to be very useful; and it is apparent to all and every fireman, and every one who has attended fires, that one of a smaller size would be very valuable to place in front of the firemen or the fire company nearest to the fire, and that something of the kind was very much needed at the fire at the corner of Bow and Penhallow streets, where the only protection the firemen had was a small door;—which was as near no protection as it well could be.

The fact that Mr. Odiorne has at much cost, time, fatigue and perseverance, invented and so far perfected a machine to help protect the community from the necessary but destructive element, entitles him to the gratitude of mankind; and I hope that in more ways than one he will receive his reward: While he will need no other monument to perpetuate his disposition, skill and ability. B.

KEEPING ACCOUNTS.—Receiving a catalogue of a Commercial College that has recently been established in one of the Western states, reminds the Newburyport Herald of some queer book-keeping, not subject to the rules of single or double entry, or any entry at all.

The story of Fooney Gerrish, who was an apprentice to a barber in Newburyport in olden time, has become familiar. When he sold a wig, for which the purchase money was tendered, he declined to receive it, saying he would rather charge it, for they kept a book on purpose for that use; and when his master asked to whom he had sold it, he replied—he didn't know his name, but he "looked like an Amesbury man."

There are very many in this day who do business in very much the same way. It is an object, they think, to sell; and they often talk of how much they have charged for a week or a month, when very many of their debtors are no more reliable than though they were simply known as looking like Amesbury men.

A neighbor of ours, who is now doing business in Newburyport, often squares his books in case of bad debts, by stating the cause of non-payment, and giving credit for the amount to that. Thus we noticed on his ledger, a charge to Sally E——, of two dollars; and on the opposite side of the page—"bitch says she never had it." A man was made debtor to the amount of 62 cents; opposite reads—"Dead—rot-gut killed him." A third was debtor more than ten dollars. He was noted opposite, "An honest man; God called him home—that's settled."

Formerly there was a furniture dealer, a Swede, doing an extensive business in Newburyport. We believe he did not know how to write, but would tell his wife at night, what business he had done during the day, and she would write it down as well as his poor memory would furnish the date. It often happened he could not remember the names of purchasers, but could describe them, or tell where they lived, which was written in full, that he might make the most of it. He had these charges: "A bureau to a big bellied Englishman that works in the Bartlet Mills." "Chairs to man that lives in brick house round the corner." "Bedstead to woman that lives in Dove street." "Bedstead to the woman that belongs to Methodist Church, Sam'l R——t knows her." So all kinds of descriptions were given, such as "Man with silver headed cane;" "Woman who wears a black bonnet;" "A pretty woman about twenty-five years old;" "A cock-eyed man that comes down to the market every day;" and quite a bill of goods was charged to "A man in Rowley," and another to "A farmer that drives a black horse."

This furniture dealer failed, of course, and from his book, and from the memory of the person who attempted to collect his dues, we copy the above.

IS IT SO?—The Traveller says:—

"The ships of the American navy are entirely clothed with sails made of hemp duck of Scotch or Russian manufacture, notwithstanding the fact that the cotton duck, now made in this country, is upon the whole, decidedly superior to the foreign hemp duck, as is shown by the fact that for the last six or eight years all the vessels in our merchant service and whale fisheries use it in preference to the foreign article.

He begs leave to refer those unacquainted with him to the following testimonials:—
From Hon. Chas. Mason, Commissioner of Patents.
U. S. PATENT OFFICE, Feb 23, 1855.
I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged in this office, and has been in that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with the office; he has evinced a thorough acquaintance with the Patent Law, and with the rules and action of the office, a close attention to the interests of his clients, and a marked candor and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him as one of the very best agents for the transaction of business with this office with whom I am acquainted.
CHARLES MASON, Commissioner.
From the Examiners of the Patent Office.
The undersigned, Principal and Assistant Examiners in the United States Patent Office, have for several years been well acquainted with Mr. Samuel Cooper, late a principal Examiner in this office, and take pleasure in stating that he is a gentleman of the highest moral character, of unquestioned knowledge in the business and practice of the office, and that his scientific attainments are such as eminently fit him for the business in which he is about to engage.

QUEEN VICTORIA INVITED TO CANADA.—The people of Toronto are erecting a Crystal Palace for the exhibition of the products of the Canadian Provinces. The opening is expected to take place about the 1st of October, and in connection therewith a movement has been made to invite Queen Victoria either to preside in person over the opening of the Palace or to send the Prince of Wales or some other member of the royal family to do so. A petition to that effect has been signed by all the leading men of the country, and has been forwarded to London in the hands of Mr. John G. Norris, who left in the steamship Persia.

A NEW DODGE.—Mr. Carter, postmaster at Pulaski, Ky., has been committed for trial at Frankfort in that State, for robbing the post office department. His plan of operation was to address letters to the department, requiring a supply of stamps purporting to come from other offices than his own, and forging the names of the respective postmasters to them. He selected such offices, the mail matter of which had to pass through his office, and on returns being made from the department would abstract the letters and appropriate the contents to his own use.

THE CHANGE OF LEVEL IN THE LAKES—THE HIGH WATER—ITS CAUSE.—Chester Dewey, LL.D., of the University of Rochester, states that Lake Ontario is seven inches higher than in October, 1857, when it was the highest that had been known for eleven years. He states that there is no regular time for rise or fall in the lakes—no periodical changes of five, or seven, or eleven years. Lake Ontario is high or low when or soon after the same fact in Lake Erie, and the fluctuations are about equal, as they are in Lake Michigan. The difference in the level is very rarely four feet in a year, when the waters are at rest.

The conclusion he arrives at, after eleven years' observation of the lakes, and of meteorological conditions in their vicinity is, that the fluctuations of their level depend on the quantity of water flowing into the lakes by all the streams which carry off the rain and the melted snow, and upon the amount of evaporation.

SAD CALAMITIES.—A melancholy accident occurred at Rochester, N. Y., on Tuesday evening, while the discharge of fireworks was occurring on the completion of the Atlantic Telegraph. A wrought iron mortar belonging to Mr. Palmer, pyrotechnist, exploded in Buffalo street, throwing the pieces among the crowd. One man was killed, and several persons wounded.

This casualty was followed by an extensive fire, which burnt over one of the business centres of Rochester. Five blocks and twenty stores were consumed, with a loss of $175,000. The conflagration spent itself without resistance, as it continued until it reached walls which presented nothing of a combustible nature.

ATTACK ON A REPORTER FOR THE PRESS.—On Friday night two men went to the residence of Mr. Allen E. Forrester, one of the reporters of the Baltimore Exchange, and made an assault upon him as soon as he appeared at the door. Mr. Forrester with difficulty escaped into the house. Mrs. F. gave an alarm and the villains retreated.—This affair, together with numerous threats of further violence, has induced Mr. F. to resign his situation upon the Exchange and leave the city. Baltimore seems to be a perfect paradise for ruffians and rogues.

☞ On Tuesday last, George A. Walton, Esq., Principal of the Oliver Grammar School, Lawrence, while in the woods for berries, in company with his brother and another gentleman, was lost and completely bewildered; he wandered to Saugus before he came to a house, where he inquired and was directed to South Reading, but took the opposite direction for some two miles farther, when he was put on the right track, by two boys, and arrived at South Reading just as a party were starting for him with torches, and ringing bells, etc.,—much to the joy of his anxious wife and his affectionate parents.

☞ J. M. Freeman of Clarion county, Pa., has met with a serious loss by fire.—He had twenty-five acres of "grafted huckleberries," which he had contracted to deliver in Philadelphia at $9 per bushel, and had sent forward 300 bushels, when a devastating fire swept ruthlessly over his land, destroying his crop.

NOT TO BE ENFORCED.—We have information from sources which we deem entirely authentic, that it has been decided by the Maine Law men not to enforce the liquor laws of last winter until after the election! We are further advised that Hon. Neal Dow has been consulted and fully concurs in this policy!

Comment is unnecessary!—Portland Argus.

So much for assertion and guess work by those whose wish is father to the thought. Now for fact. The Portland Advertiser of August 20 contains the following item.

Seizure of Liquors.—Yesterday afternoon, upon a warrant issued by Judge Paine, the Marshall and his deputies seized at the store of Patrick McGlinchy, Fore street, some twelve or fourteen barrels of various kinds of intoxicating liquors, besides sundry demijohns of the same, in all amounting to some four hundred gallons. The liquor was removed to the Marshal's office, and the trial in regard to it will be had at the Municipal Court this morning.

☞ A letter from Amsterdam, received in Paris, states that during the celebration of Divine service in the church of the Scotch missionaries on Sunday last, the Rev. Mr. Schwar, the preacher, was attacked in the pulpit by a young Israelite, who stabbed him several times with a dagger. The assassin, in his reply to the magistrate, stated that he was induced to commit the crime in consequence of several Protestant tracts having been distributed the previous day in the Jewish synagogue. The wounded man remains in a dangerous state.

☞ Another fatal accident occurred at New York, on Tuesday night, through the carelessness of attempting to leap from a ferry boat before it could be made fast in the slip. The victim, a German, was horribly mangled, and died in a few hours.—But the evil appears to be incurable, as not a few of the passengers made the leap while the sufferer was still struggling between the boat and the bridge.

ATLANTIC MONTHLY FOR SEPTEMBER.—This able monthly comes to us from the publishers, Phillips, Sampson & Co., via Federhen & Co., Boston, and J. P. Morse of this city. Contents:—Eloquence; The Kinloch Estate, and how it was settled; The Birth-Mark; Rambles in Aquidneck; Ann Potter's Lesson; Le Marais du Cygne; Youth; Pintal; The House that was just like its Neighbors; Daphnaides; Water-Lilies; Fifty and Fifteen; Illinois in Spring Time; An Evening with the Telegraph Wires; The Autocrat of the Breakfast Table; Literary Notices; Obituary.

☞ Arthur's Home Magazine for September, 1858, contains a droll frontispiece, "Reading from a scene of Duty," true to the life, and quite suggestive—with the usual good variety and quality of matter.

THE NEW YORK CITY HALL FIRE.—It is estimated that the damage to the City Hall will not exceed $10,000. The bell still stands, and struck the noon hour next day as usual. Mr. Edge, who supplied the fireworks, has asked for an investigation, and in the meantime for a suspension of public opinion. He declines saying anything upon this subject in advance of an investigation. There are rumors of incendiarism.

☞ Accounts from Jaffa of the 27th inst., state that the Mussulmen of Gaza had attacked the Christians and massacred a great number of them. The Turks fell upon the Christians at a moment when they were engaged at their devotions in the church. The Bishop had with difficulty escaped the assassins.

☞ At New York a day or two since, Mr. S. K. Everett, of the firm of Everett & Brown, was very seriously injured while sitting in his dressing room in his residence, by the falling of the ceiling upon him. His condition is considered extremely critical by his physicians in attendance

PENNSYLVANIA POLITICS. Pittsburg, Pa., 18th.—The Democratic County Convention assembled here to-day and made the following nominations: Representative to Congress from 21st district, Samuel McKee; Senator, Thomas Donnelly; Members of Assembly, Philip Stephenson, J. M. Irwin, Robert Morrow, and A. Hartze. Strong repudiation resolutions were almost unanimously passed for no other platform, and the Convention refused to entertain resolutions offered by Judge Wilkins complimentary to the administration of Mr. Buchanan.

☞ A letter from the Hon. Wm. Montgomery, of Pennsylvania, is published in the Uniontown Standard, in which that gentleman says that he is in favor of the admission of Kansas as soon as a fairly formed constitution is presented to Congress.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH appears gradually to be getting into working order, and will doubtless in a few weeks, if no accident occurs, be opened for business and in daily communication across the ocean. In addition to the President's reply to the Queen, which was sent on Thursday, a message was also sent announcing the collision between the Europa and Arabia, which will relieve the anxiety that would otherwise be felt in England in consequence of her non-arrival.

THE NEW TRANSLATION OF THE BIBLE, BY REV. LEISTER AMBROSE SAWYER.—John P. Jewett & Co., Boston, propose to publish a new translation of the bible in three volumes, by the above named author. The first volume to contain the New Testament, and to be published during 1859. Mr. Sawyer's qualifications for such an undertaking, are highly spoken of by various clergymen and Professors. He lays down eleven principles, which are to guide him in the translation, which are as follows:

1. To translate from the most improved texts of the originals. Great attention has been paid to the text of the Greek Testament during the last two hundred and fifty years, and many inaccuracies have been detected and removed. A perfect text is not yet attained, and from the nature of the case, cannot be; but very great improvements have been made in it, and these ought to be made available to the English reader.

2. To translate with the utmost precision and accuracy word for word and particle for particle, but without servility in respect to idiomatic forms and modes of expression.

3. To translate the same words by the same when they mean the same thing, as far as may be, and by different words, only when they have different meanings which require a change.

4. To translate different words as far as may be, by different words of corresponding meanings, and each word by the same word.

5. To translate general terms by those equally general, and not the more general by the less general, or the less general by the more general.

6. To avoid all needless indelicacies in the translation.

7. To translate chiefly into the recent and improved style of the language, in preference to the antique. This involves the rejection of all obsolete words and modes of expression.

8. To interpolate as little as possible; and leave what is to be implied in the original, to be implied in the translation; and make the translation conform, as far as may be, to the style of the original.

9. To transfer the names of weights, measures, coins, &c., with expressions of their value in brackets, and to include all interpolations in brackets.

10. To arrange the Sacred Books according to their characters and dates, and not arbitrarily or according to their lengths.

11. To divide the Sacred Books into Chapters and verses according to their natural divisions, and not to allow chapters to break up closely connected discourses, or verses sentences.

The volumes will contain 400 to 450 pages, 12mo. Price $1 per volume.—The New Testament will be ready in October. Clergymen and others forwarding the amount, by mail, will have the New Testament sent to them post paid; and in ordering, will please state whether or not they wish to be considered as subscribers to the Old Testament when published.

CHINESE SUGAR CANE IN TEXAS.—G. W. Kendall writes to the New Orleans Picayune the following statement, regarding the corn and Chinese sugar-cane crops in Texas:—

"There is to be no want of corn in Western Texas, for every field which escaped the ravages of the grass hopppers is yielding abundantly, and many localities escaped these pests entirely. The crop of Chinese sugar-cane, which laughs at grasshoppers and droughts, is at the same time immense, and the first heads of ripe seeds are already gathered. Some of my neighbors are having it ground, and are making bread of it, speaking of it in commendable terms; while everywhere they are preparing to grind the stalks and convert the juice into syrup or molasses. That this is to be a valuable addition to our crops in this section, there can be no doubt; it stands a drouth better than any other plant—it is no more affected by dry weather than a salamander by fire. The grain makes a good article of bread—so many say; the leaves make an excellent fodder; while the stalks can be converted into molasses, and perhaps sugar; nothing is lost. I have heard it stated that the grain is hurtful to horses, and this may be so; yet, if any one has any of it to spare, I am willing to feed it out to my work animals as an experiment, and will run all risks of injuring them. In fact, I fed out no inconsiderable quantity of it last year, and would have used it more freely had I had it to spare. A bushel of it weighs some 48 pounds, or 8 pounds less han a bushel of corn. We have not as yet learned all its uses.

The surest way to loose your health is, to be all the time drinking that of other folks.

LINES
ON THE DEATH OF WATCH PRAY,—
Obt. August 17, 1858.

And is it true, poor Watch,
That thou hast met thy doom?
And in the silent grave
Hast found thy final home?
That we no more shall hear
Thy unmelodious voice?
Fain would I drop a tear—
But still, must I rejoice
That thou will no more drive
Thy timid friends away,
Nor howl when naughty boys
Their tricks upon thee play.—
No more, dear Watch, shall we
Smooth down thy shaggy fur,
Nor see thee wag thy tail,—
For thou art dead, poor Cur!
The dearest friends must part;
So, Watch, we say farewell!
Thy mem'ry in our heart
Shall ever fondly dwell.—
Thy name, dear Watch, we'll keep,
Our talisman by day—
And e'er we fall asleep,
Will ever Watch and Pray. * * *

E. P. RUSSELL'S
Patent Mastic Roofing.
Imperious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.
THE Inventor of this Roofing labored many years to combine articles which would answer the above purpose, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value, both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN!
This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.
We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

Patent Japan Weather Strip.
This Strip for outside doors is the most useful, and the very best improvement ever yet, now in use, and the latest, (like the Atlantic Cable,) to keep out Snow, Rain, Wind and Cold from your houses.
This Strip is applied to the bottom of the door by screws, with an ELLIPTICAL SPRING—(which cannot get out of order,) that causes the door to rise and fall, on opening or shutting the door.
THE PATENT STRIP is the most simple and durable of anything of the kind ever invented.—It may be regarded as the "ne plus ultra" in this line, obviating all difficulties in management.—It will save the cost of the article in one winter, in keeping the house warm and dry.
The Prices for putting on Doors: Japan Finish, $1 50 each. Brass Finish, $2 50 each.
Every one put on by the subscriber will be warranted, and if not successful, no pay required.

YES, YOU MAY
USE or recommend HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE HAIR COLORING, and find it to be all its proprietors claim for it. Do you doubt it?

READ! READ!! READ!!!
SCHROON LAKE, ESSEX CO., N.Y., February 6, 1858.
W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y.—Dear Sir: Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having been much pleased with it, I take pleasure in making the following statement: From the effects of a very severe fit of sickness when about eighteen years of age my hair commenced turning grey, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white, being very harsh and coarse. Last Summer I had reached my fifty third year, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by you. I commenced using it according to directions, and in a few days was surprised to find that my hair from the roots outward was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was as truly brown and glossy as it was in my youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color. MYLA SEAMAN.
Essex Co. ss: Myla Seaman came before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true, this 6th day of Feb., 1858.
JOEL F. PATTEN, Justice of the Peace.

PITTSFORD, VT., Aug. 1, 1857.
I hereby certify that my having become quite grey, I used Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, (prepared by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y.,) for four weeks and my hair was in like manner restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to be all it claims. WM. KINGSLEY,
Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt.

The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietor of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring and Restorative. It has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. This singular effect is not produced as when dyes are used; for it acts upon the natural secretions of coloring matter at the roots, and thus effects the change. Beside, the color produced is not a counterfeit, but the natural shade of youth. It does not color the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & Co., Troy, N.Y.

Excelsior Yeast Cakes.
A. A. PAYNE, NO. 87 MARKET ST.,
IS Agent in Portsmouth for the sale of the American Excelsior Dry Hop Yeast, manufactured by James W. Davis, Newburyport.
This yeast is one of the best articles in the market; it is put up in cakes, and packed in neat boxes; and has given the best satisfaction to those persons who have used it.
It will be sold at wholesale, by box, or by retail, to suit purchasers.

MATCHES.—10 cases, for sale low by the case or gross, by W. SIMES & CO.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SCURVY.
Scurvy is not confined to Arctic travellers and neglected sailors; it shows its disgusting features also among the ill-fed poor in our filthy lanes. Nothing has been found so speedily efficacious in arresting the decomposing tendency of the vital fluids in scorbutic disease as the PERUVIAN SYRUP.

AN OFFENSIVE BREATH.
There is no malady more disgusting than an offensive breath. Many persons are not aware their breath is bad, and it is a delicate subject to mention. All may be positively free from this disgusting malady by using the Persian Balm as a Dentrifice. Wet your brush in water, pour on it one drop of the Persian Balm, and wash your Teeth night and morning. It neutralizes the acids of the mouth, and restores to the breath a delicious fragrance and freshness.

TESTS OF CHARACTER.—Lord Byron once said "You never know a man's temper until you have been married, or a ship with him, or a woman's until you have married her". We are able to add, that no one can know how many use HEIMSTREET'S HAIR COLORING unless they see it applied, for it restores the hair to the precise shade of youth.

LADIES OF PORTSMOUTH.
IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.
Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer.
The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.
THE DESTROYER is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the nine plus ultra of cosmetics—It penetrates the pimples also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.
There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.
The Parisian ladies have used it for years; consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

LOCAL.

☞ The Hon. Isaac Toucey, Secretary of the U. S. Navy, visited the Navy Yard at Portsmouth, N. H., 18th inst., returned to Boston next evening, and left early next morning for Connecticut. At the Portsmouth station, says the Post, Mr. Toucey was received by Lieut. Nichols, and accompanied by him to the Yard, where he was met by Capt. Pope, commander, and others attached to the station, under a salute of seventeen guns. The Secretary immediately entered upon the duty of inspection.

There are more than seven hundred men employed upon the public works here.—The keel of one of the new screw steamers, ordered by the last Congress, is laid, and will be launched next fall. In the large ship house is the propeller steam frigate Franklin—4500 tons—ready for launching, and one of the most beautifully modelled and constructed vessels ever built by our government. The sloop-of-war Portsmouth is hauled up on the ways for repairs. The old "Constitution" has been thoroughly repaired and is now lying under the shears, with the new frigate Santee just astern of her—both could be got ready for sea in a month.

The U. S. ship Jamestown, Capt. Kennedy, lately returned from the West Indies with fever on board, is being "broken out" and thoroughly cleansed; officers and men still remain on board. The Secretary was received with military honors on board the Jamestown, and very handsomely entertained by Capt. Kennedy.

The Secretary also visited the new Ordnance building, under the charge of Lieut. D. D. Porter, who has arranged it with excellent taste and in a practical manner. From the latter place the Secretary, the gentlemen who accompanied him from Boston, and the officers, repaired to the quarters of Capt. Pope, upon invitation of the polite and worthy commander, where an elegant and bountiful repast was partaken of, graced by the presence of the ladies of Capt. Pope's family.

This agreeable duty having been completed, the Secretary took leave of the ladies, and was escorted to the boat prepared for his conveyance to the opposite shore, by the officers present, and there took leave of all except of Lt. Nichols, who continued with him to the hotel.—At half-past 5 o'clock the special train left for Boston, and the Secretary arrived at the Revere House at half-past 7; having rode one hundred and ten miles and inspected one of the largest Yards in the country, in seven hours and a half.—He expressed much gratification at the admirable condition of the Portsmouth Navy Yard, and all appertaining to it.

☞ The Panoramas of the East, West and South, which were exhibited at the Temple last week, are as much superior to anything of the kind we ever saw before, as a rainbow is to three strips of colored cambric, the sun to a boiled turnip, or the moon to a green cheese. In fact, we never saw a panorama before—the rest were mere daubs, compared to this. It was really grievous to us, to have some of those delicious rural scenes move from our sight.—Mons. Andrieu is a veritable artist—his coloring is perfect, and the perspective of his panorama so accurate that we were not a little puzzled, more than once, to understand immediately, how the delineator could, with his short stick, reach that building away down street, or that object high up on the hill.

The audiences have comprised many of our most respectable citizens—and perfect order was maintained throughout, which we never saw before at a panorama. This spoke strongly in favor of the attraction on the stage.

Mons. Andrieu has just completed a new and novel panorama — The Rake's Progress. We should like to see it; but we don't known as our citizens need any further illustration of that subject.

☞ There is to be a Temperance Picnic from this city to Raymond, on Tuesday, over the Concord Road. The managers of that road deserve the thanks of several religious bodies, whose members pass over it to their annual meeting at half fare.

☞ Among the strangers in town on Saturday we noticed Hon. Daniel Clarke, of Manchester, and Hon. John Wentworth, ex-Mayor of Chicago.

☞ On Wednesday evening, an aged lady named Sullivan, residing in Brewer, Me., during the temporary absence of the family, fell down the cellar stairs. She was so severely injured that death ensued. Mrs. Sullivan was nearly or quite a hundred years old.

Corkscrews have sunk more people than cork-jackets will ever save.

For the Chronicle.

MUST THESE THINGS BE?

Messrs. Editors;—Walking through the streets of our quiet city, and looking around upon its beautifully shady walks and lovely gardens, filled with the melody of birds and redolent with the perfume of flowers,—one would be tempted to think he had alighted in (what might be to him) another Garden of Eden; if he did not find unmistakable evidences of the presence of the "fell destroyer" at almost every turn; not in the trees or flowers, (they are true to the laws of nature,) but in the noblest handiwork of God, man.

I never was more forcibly reminded of this than I was a few days since, when I encountered in my walk, one who, had it not been for the "Demon Alcohol," might have been an ornament to society and a blessing to his friends—instead of which, he is, with all his noble intellect and generous impulses, staggering along—a living reproach to our city officers, who tolerate by not suppressing, the sale of intoxicating liquors. Would that all who are now slaves might join in the following

SOLILOQUY OF THE REFORMED INEBRIATE.

The course of folly with me now is o'er,
The baneful cup shall touch my lips no more;
A nobler spirit now within me burns,
And pride that spurns
The spirit's thraldom, lends a cheering ray,
And bids me turn from ruin's brink away.

Yes, now the spell is broken—once more I'm free,
And ne'er again thy abject slave I'll be,
Intemperance—for thou with poisoned dart
Hath pierced the heart
Of a kind, loving wife, and children dear,
Who oft for me have shed the sorrowing tear.

Oh! those were days of madness—would the pain
Which rends my spirit now, might cleanse the stain
From off my manhood's years. Yet there may be
Some hope for me,
That coming years may for the past repay,—
That I again may walk in virtue's peaceful way.

Mine is the soul's strong purpose, and the thought
That I have broke the galling chain, hath brought Unto my spirit calmness, joy and peace—
Which ne'er shall cease,
Till earth with all its clustering cares has fled,
And I am numbered with the silent dead.

THE PATENT
"Old Dominion" Coffee Pot.

THIS New Coffee Pot, for which a Patent has been issued, possesses this advantage over all others: You may boil coffee in it for any length of time, without a particle of the strength or aroma escaping. One-fourth less coffee is required, and the full flavor of the berry is realized.
Thousands of this new Coffee Pot have already been sold, and the demand from all parts of the United States is rapidly on the increase. Wherever introduced, it has given the most complete satisfaction.
A large number of testimonials have been received from those who have used it. We have space for but a few:

From the Portsmouth Journal.

"OLD DOMINION."—It you wish to know what good coffee is, when all the aroma is retained in the coffee, be sure to buy one of the Old Dominion Coffee Pots, of Mr. Carleton. Around such a luxury, it is pleasant to be Pot-companions. We supposed the high commendations of the Old Dominion all puffing, until we tried it.

THE OLD DOMINION COFFEE POT.—We have had in use now, for over two months, one of these much talked of Coffee Pots, and we find that it does, in all respects, what is claimed for it. You may boil coffee in the Old Dominion for any length of time you choose, and yet lose none of the delicate aroma or strength. This desirable end is attained by a simple but ingenious contrivance, in the shape of a condenser, with double syphons, by means of which the aroma-bearing vapor, which usually goes all over the house, or up the chimney, is condensed and thrown back into the coffee boiler, and you have its delicious flavor in the cup you bring to your lips. In all our experience of coffee drinking, we never found anything equal to what we now have daily at our morning meal. It is the perfection of coffee.—[Philadelphia Evening Journal.

The New Yorker thus endorses the Old Dominion: "It gives the entire strength as well as the grateful aroma of the berry, and by its simple construction is easy of use, always in order, and furnishes good coffee at one-fourth the cost of the old and unsatisfactory method of boiling."

The draught which it makes is nectar, compared with that of old-time coffee pots.—Springfield, (Mass.) Republican.

The Lady's Book says:—"The 'Old Dominion' is beyond question, the best coffee maker ever introduced to the public, and the only one by which all the strength and virtue of the coffee can be extracted by boiling without loss of aroma. We commend it with the full knowledge that it will do all that is claimed for it.

SIZES AND PRICES.—1 qt. $1.50 each; 1½ qt., 1.75; 2 qt., 2.00; 3 qt., 2.50; 4 qt., 3.00; 6 qt., 3.50; 10 qt., 5.00; 18 qt., 7.50. Larger sizes for Hotels and Restaurants.

Ayer's Pills

Are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive organs, and those arising from impurity of the blood. A large part of all the diseases incident to our climate, and consequently these Pills are found to cure many variable complaints.

Subjoined are the statements from some eminent physicians, of their effects in their practice.

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC.

From Dr. E. S. Chenault, of New Orleans.

"Your Pills are the pride of parents. Their excellent purgative qualities, and their sugar coating, recommend them very certainly and effectually in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of our children."

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

From Dr. Theodore Dale, of New York City.

"Not only are your Pills admirably adapted to their purpose as we started, but I find their beneficial effects upon the Liver very marked. In my practice, I find them the most efficacious medicine for the cure of bilious complaints that any one remedy I can mention. I sincerely believe that we have at length a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the people."

DYSPEPSIA — INDIGESTION.

From Dr. Henry A. Ream, of St. Louis.

"Your Pills are very kind to my patients who have been ill well in my practice, and I have recorded their testimony in favor of your Pills. Dyspepsia, in particular, are they adapted to the disease of the bowels system, that they seem to work upon them alone. I have noted some cases of dyspepsia of long standing, in which the most obstinate and intractable symptoms were entirely cured. In fact, I have experienced results from them so wonderful as almost all the complaints for which you recommend them."

DYSENTERY — DIARRHŒA — RELAX.

From Dr. J. G. Green, of Chicago.

"Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in esteem above all the best purgatives I have ever found. Their effects are so prompt, so certain, so safe, so free from excoriation, and so well adapted to the cases in small doses, for bilious dysentery and diarrhœa. Their sugar-coating makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION.

From Dr. E. Sauer, who practises as a Physician and Botanist, in Cincinnati.

"I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are excellent promoters of the natural secretions when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very effectual in the cure of worms, in children and others. They are mild in their operation, and I have found them to be the best of all cathartics we have had I recommend no other to my patients."

CONSTIPATION — COSTIVENESS.

From Dr. J. P. Temple, Montreal, Canada.

"Too much cannot be said of your Pills for the cure of costiveness, and other dyspeptic ills. I have found them as efficacious as I have, they should, just as in precedence, it for the benefit of the multitude who suffer from this complaint, which is productive of so much misery, and is the parent of many other complaints, which are not so generally known to be thus produced. I believe calomel is originable in the form, but your Pills effect that origin and cure the disease."

IMPURITIES OF THE BLOOD — SCROFULA — ERYSIPELAS — SALT RHEUM — TETTER — TUMORS — ULCERATION — GOUT — NEURALGIA.

From Dr. Ewald Hall, Philadelphia.

"For years past, I have been in the habit of using your Pills extensively in my practice, and have found them invariably to be a safe and sure purgative, and a valuable alterative. I have no hesitation in saying that your Pills are the best of all the cathartics with which I am acquainted, and I cheerfully add my testimony to the many you have had of their efficacy. They eradicate the corruptions, and carry off the impurities of the blood, which are the cause of so much misery. They stimulate the organs of digestion, and infuse vitality and strength into the system."

"Such testimony from physicians are a national benefit, and we think they deserve great credit for them."

FOR HEADACHE,—SICK HEADACHE—FOUL STOMACH—PILES—DROPSY—PLETHORA—PARALYSIS—FITS—&c.

From Dr. Edward Scott, Baltimore.

"I find Dr. Ayer's Pills to be a most valuable remedy in the cure of many complaints for which I use them. They have been to me of the greatest service in my practice. I place great dependence on them in my own family, and they never fail to give relief when used according to my directions. I have found the best results from your Pills, and I find Your Pills stand on the best of terms with my family."

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the incidents of certain secret diseases, induced by their shame to conceal from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may send them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empirics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are invalids who have his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully enclosed from observation, if desired.

Be particular in finding Dr. DIX. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with cheap and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

The medicines can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Obstruction in age, old and young, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless. Having put up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is to be sold.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 dly

Joy to the Admirers of

A FINE HEAD OF

RICH GLOSSY HAIR.

Talk of beauty, it cannot exist without a fine head of hair, then read the following, and if you ask more, see circular around each bottle, and no one can doubt.

PROF. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—We call the attention of all, old and young, to this wonderful preparation, which carries back to its original color, gray hair—covers the head of the bald with a luxuriant growth—removes the dandruff, itching and all cutaneous eruptions—cleanses the scalp of all the natural fluids;—and hence, if used as a regular dressing for the hair will preserve its color, and keep it from falling out, and will restore it to its natural beauty. We call then upon the bald, the gray, or diseased in scalp, to use it; and surely the young will not, as they value the flowing locks, the withering curl, ever be without it. Its praise is upon the tongue of thousands.

The Agent for Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative in New Haven, received the following letter in regard to the Restorative, a few weeks since:

DEEP RIVER, CONN., July 23, 1856.

Mr. Leavenworth—Sir: I have been troubled with dandruff to such a degree for more than a year, my hair began to come out, scurf and hair together. I saw in a New Haven paper about "Wood's Hair Restorative" as a cure. I called at your store on the 1st of April last, and purchased one bottle to try it, and I found to my satisfaction it was the thing; it removed the scurf and new hair began to grow in its place, to the extent of three inches in length where it was all off. I have great faith in it. I wish you to send me two bottles more by Mr. Post, the bearer of this. I have recommended it to all I used in this place, you may have a market for many bottles after it is known here. Yours with res., REVEL PRATT.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 1856.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative is proving itself beneficial to me. The front part of my head where the part of my head almost lost its covering—in fact bald. I have used but two half pint bottles of your Restorative, and now the tip of my head is covered with a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving its benefit. I have tried other preparations without any benefit whatever. I think from my case and my recommendation, I can induce many others to try it. Yours respectfully,

D. R. THOMAS, M. D., No. 464 Vine street.

VINCENNES, IN., June 22, 1853.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: As you are about to manufacture and sell your recently discovered Hair Restorative, I will state, for whomsoever it may concern, that I have used it and known others to use it—that, I have, for several years, been in the habit of using other hair dressings, and that I find yours vastly superior to any other I know. It entirely cleanses the head of dandruff, and with one month's regular use will restore any person's hair to the original youthful color and texture, giving it a healthy, soft and glossy appearance; and all this, without discoloring the hands that apply it or the dress on which it drops. I would, therefore, recommend its use to every one desirous of having a fine color and texture to hair.

Respectfully yours, WILSON SOM.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the tickets are sold at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all prizes have the legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be held every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket to every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $20 to $20,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New-Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Courier, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to SWAN & CO., Atlanta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m18ly

A PROCLAMATION TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, of virtue, of honesty, are fast passing away, and WHEREAS, the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily taking advantage of the profound and learned. BE IT KNOWN THEREFORE, to all, whether MAIDS, WIVES, or WIDOWS, that DR. CHESEMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are alone the certain panacea for the the troubles incident to female disorganization; they alone correct all painful menstruation, assuaging palpitations of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and causing health and happiness to whole system, especially to the married portion, as they are certain to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from mercury, perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unlike other medicines thrust upon the public, purporting to effect the object already detailed. THEREFORE, as it KNOWS, that NOTHING but the said PILLS of DR. CHESEMAN will accomplish the desired object, when PREPONDERANCE has been expressed under the seal of CHEESEMAN & CO.; and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread amongst them, to their own everlasting benefit—always remembering that said Proclamation in one case must be considered NULL and VOID; that is to say the PILLS MUST NOT be taken when any female is in an interesting situation, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail on enclosing $1 to DR. CORNELIUS L. CHESEMAN, Box No. 4771, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.

Given under my hand and seal,

YES, YOU MAY

USE or recommend HELMSTREET'S INIMITABLE HAIR COLORING, and find it to be all its proprietor claims for it. Do you doubt it?

READ! READ!! READ!!!

SCHROON LAKE, ESSEX CO., N.Y., February 6, 1858.

W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y.—Dear Sir: Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having been much pleased with it, I take pleasure in making the following statement: From the effects of a very severe fit of sickness when about eighteen years of age, my hair commenced turning gray, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white, being very harsh and coarse. Last summer I had reached my fifty-third year, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Helmstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by you. I commenced using it according to directions, and in a few days was surprised to find that my hair from the roots outward was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was as truly brown and glossy as it was in my youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color. MYLA SEAMAN.

Essex Co., ss.: Myla Seaman came before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true, this 6th day of Feb., 1858.
JOEL P. PATTEN, Justice of the Peace.

PITTSFORD, VT., Aug. 1, 1857.

I hereby certify that my having become quite grey, I used Helmstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y., for four weeks, and my hair was in that time restored to its original colour. I can fully recommend the article to be all it claims. W. K. KNIGHT,
Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt.

The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietor of Helm-treet's Hair Coloring and Restorative. It has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. This singular effect is not produced as when dyes are used; for it acts upon the natural secretions of coloring matter at the roots, and thus effects the change. Beside, the color produced is not a counterfeit, but the natural shade of youth. It does not color the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & Co., Troy, N.Y.

Sold by JOSEPH H. THACHER, Apothecary, cor. of State and Pleasant sts., and No. 12 Market Square, Portsmouth, N. H. jel 3misdaw

Tune—Anvil Chorus.

When the Gods were all assembled
In their grand debating Hall,
'Twas proved by that Sly Mercury
That they should have a ball.
A ball! cried out young Vulcan,
I'll dance it at your feet,
And on the sounting anvil
Good work I will complete.
This is the blacksmi h's table,
His dark mythology;—
Now let us turn the table,
His modern work to see.
The Shoes for your good Horses,
The Tire for Wagon Wheel;
The Axes, Mauls and Adzes
Of iron tried of steel,
For carpenters and farmers,
And all good working men;—
They'll make the tools so handy,
You'll surely call again.
Their prices will be moderate,
They'll never make you wait;
Their shop is at the Ferry Ways,
Their names JACKSON & RAIT. all

UNITED STATES AND FOREIGN
PATENT AGENCY.
SAMUEL COOPER,
Late Principal Examiner of Patents in the United States Patent Office, at Washington,
HAS REMOVED HIS OFFICE TO
WEBSTER BANK BUILDING,
13 EXCHANGE STREET, BOSTON.

PATENTS secured in the United States, and in all other patent granting countries. Specifications and drawings prepared. Caveats filed.—Reconsiderations procured, of applications that have been rejected upon imperfectly prepared papers. Interferences prosecuted. Re-issues and extension procured, and in general, all business connected with the Patent Office transacted with care and promptness.

British and other foreign patents procured through prompt and confidential agents in London and Paris.

Persons residing at a distance may obtain all necessary information, and have their business transacted, by writing to the subscriber, without the trouble and expense of a visit to Washington.

He begs leave to refer those unacquainted with him to the following testimonials:—

From Hon. Chas. Mason, Commissioner of Patents.
U. S. PATENT OFFICE, Feb 23, 1855.

I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged as Solicitor, and has been in that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with the office; he has evinced a thorough acquaintance with the Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office, a close attention to the interests of his clients, and a marked candor and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him as one of the very best agents for the transaction of business with this office with whom I am acquainted.
CHARLES MASON, Commissioner.

From the Examiners of the Patent Office.

The undersigned, Principal and Assistant Examiners in the United States Patent Office, have for several years been well acquainted with Mr. Samuel Cooper, late a principal Examiner in this office, and take pleasure in stating that he is a gentleman of the highest moral character, of unquestioned knowledge in the business and practice of the office, and that his scientific attainments are such as eminently fit him for the business in which he is about to engage.

PISCATAQUA RIVER.

NEW CASTLE SIDE, Aug. 21.

Messrs. Editors. There is nothing like changing one's point of view in order to gain a wider and clearer idea of the world about us. I know of many a man who has passed through life, entertaining most unhappy errors with regard to this world and the future life, from his inability to change his point of view. Truths as clear as sunlight to others, to him are ever presented in the same muddy obscurity. If such a man could only once break away from the web which has slowly wound about him whilst he has persistently stood in one position, what a scattering there would be of some of his pet notions; when seen in the reversed end of his Kaleidoscope, his flowers of beauty would appear but bits of glass.

If some men had once the power conferred to look with their neighbor's eyes, and to hear with their neighbor's ears, how remarkable would be the revulsion of feeling within; how would the despondent suddenly become hopeful, the sad, joyful, or the careless, thoughtful, and the wicked, terror stricken; how astonished would be the "abandoned man,' could he for a moment look at his course in life, with the eyes of yonder preacher; and how equally changed would be the view of life which this same clerical friend would take of the purposes of his maker with regard to man in this and in another life, could he for a moment look from the observation point of his strong minded and equally well educated neighbor, whose experience and meditations have led to opinions as widely separated from his own, as heaven is from earth. Could every man gain some notion of the point of view, from which his neighbor has drawn his conclusions, we should have far less of the spirit of intolerance, and more of that christian liberality which charity promotes.

But this is an unintended digression, and to come to the point, my last letter to your paper was written from the opposite shore of the Piscataqua—to-day we sit upon the moss covered rocks of old New Castle, and view our yesterday's field as it lies on the other side of the river in its verdure, and with an enchantment which distance lends; and this little village, which yesterday appeared to my short-sighted vision a miniature city in the distance, now proves to be what the youthful poet Aldrich called it, the "dingy little town."

A friend by my side, one of the dwellers hereabouts, informs me that the fisheries upon which the town has lived and flourished for a century or more, have much declined in the last twenty years. In 1843 I visited New Castle—and there were then upwards of sixty vessels employed to enrich the dwellers with sea treasures.—My friend now informs me that there are at present eleven only, and that the number was still less than this two years ago. The first fare of fish brought home this season was very fair; and one vessel has already returned with an excellent second fare from the mouth of the St. Lawrence. The tendency of the market for fish being upward, the prospects are very good for a profitable season to the owners.

The natural adaptedness of these islands in the harbor for fishing purposes is such, that one regrets the decline of the legitimate business, or the substitution of shoe making which has taken the place of fishing to some extent. To my mind there is little attraction in the exchange of the free outdoor life of the fisherman for the close confinement of the bench and lap stone, or the hook and line for the waxed end; but the making of brogans has not proved so profitable for the past few years, and the knights of the last will soon exchange their shoe knife for a splitter ;and find abundant renumeration in the swap.

How delightful to sit here upon this rock, in the quiet of a mind vacated of the world's business, as in vacation time it should be, and watch the tinted changing clouds reflected so azure like in the river, whose glassy surface is now rippled with the breeze that flaps the sails of yonder boat full of young children, whose mingled voices come stealing over the water, sweetly bearing the old song so appropriate to my meditation a few lines ago, a "life on the ocean wave," &c., whilst the herring are leaping high out of the water in their game of hide and go seek. A few days more of this pleasant quiet on the Piscataqua, and your correspondent must return to the turmoil of city life again; but he will not forget, another season, where rest can be found. N.

AT HOME AND AT SCHOOL.

From an article in the Boston Transcript we extract the following sensible remarks, which apply outside the locality for which they were written. We never yet knew of a case of difference between a teacher and a scholar or parent, in which the scholar was not the blameable party.—And most parents know this—though some are so weak or foolish as not to appreciate it. School committees, when they visit and examine a school, do really visit and examine the families represented ther. They become acquainted, to a very great extent, with the habits, sentiments, system of instruction, government, and domestic life of those families.

The troubles that constantly bubble up in some of our schools, are traced to the family, as streams to their sources. To cure the evil through remedies applied in the school-room, is impossible. A fountain is not purified but by cleansing its streams. Children must be accustomed to rigid discipline at home.

The blindness of parents to the faults of their own children, is proverbial; impatience with those of others, is equally proverbial. Lenity of supposition is the sin of parents, and the ruin of the young.—Let parents accustom their children to obedience—and the teacher will have no trouble. Instruments of punishment will then be as seldom used in the school-room as they now are in the family. Let the thing be reversed—let parents undertake the discipline of children—teachers do not covet the privilege.

In almost every example of juvenile delinquency, the parents have been recreant in their trust. Said a woman to Phillip, 'If you have no time to do justice, you have no time to be a King.' If parents have no time to be faithful, to their children, they have no right to be parents.—And they publish their own deep condemnation, when they send their offspring to school with outbreaking habits of indolence, insolence and insubordination. Remember, as looks and features indicate family origin, so speech and deportment betray parental habits, opinions and example. On the play ground and in the school room, children reproduce (perhaps reduplicate) the ways of thinking and of acting common at home.

To sum up all. If you want to enfeeble the authority of a teacher, and render the most earnest and judicious efforts fruitless; if you want to break up all habits of order, punctuality, studiousness, energy, obedience and reverence in your children, and foreclose all prospect of their future honor and usefulness—you can easily do so by sustaining their ex parte complaints; by condemning the rules and discipline of the school; by disparaging the labors of the teacher, and by neglecting home education and control.

POTATOES.—Though this crop has not as yet been affected to any great extent by the rot, the farmers are crowding them upon the market rather than run the risk.—Better get two shillings a bushel than to have them an entire loss. The Granite Farmer thinks that potatoes with the present yield cannot be raised to profit at 50 cents per bushel, but the Amherst Cabinet inclines to the contrary opinion.

☞ The Stamford, Ct., Advocate reports that one day last week, as Moses Nichols was fishing on the Sound, he was much surprised to observe a woodchuck swimming towards his boat, and apparently begging to be taken on board, whereupon Mr. Nichols seized him by the nape of the neck and placed him in the bottom of the boat. The danger of drowning had overcome the animal's fear of man, and he was as docile as a kitten.

☞ The New Orleans Picayune publishes statistics of former years, going to prove that the yellow fever reaches its maximum on the ninth week. Hence it infers that the largest number of deaths will occur during the present week, after which it anticipates a rapid decline. The maximum of 1855 was 394 deaths in one week.

☞ There was present at Niagara Falls, on Thursday last, the largest number of visitors that has been there in any one day since the summer of 1853. About 150 left one house alone, to go down the lake to Montreal and other places in that direction, but their places were immediately filled by new arrivals. That night all the great hotels had to refuse applicants for accommodation.

☞ A wine company has just been organised in Alabama, with a capital of $25,000, all of which has been subscribed. It is called the "Mobile Wine Company," and has for its object the growth and production of native wine.

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

EXETER, August 23, 1858.

Messrs. Editors;—Quite a stir was created here yesterday, by a fracas which took place between two females at the "Upper House," (so called) the Rev. Mr. Lamphear's (Orthodox). The affair took place in the singing seats, just as the morning service was about to commence, and while the pastor was entering the church.

The lady who was assaulted is considered highly respectable, while the aggressor is not entirely free from all taint. The difficulty is said to have arisen from a fondness which a son-in-law of the latter is supposed to entertain for the fair sex, to the neglect of his wedded wife, and which his vigilant mother-in-law seeks to rectify by accusing various persons of intimacy with him.

A considerable derangement of wearing apparel was the result of the first attack, and after hostilities were renewed for a second time, some gentlemen mustered sufficient courage to eject the termagant from the premises.

At the Unitarian Church, in the afternoon, a man who is said to be deranged through excessive drinking, slightly disturbed the meeting by speaking aloud during the service, and informing the minister that he "had prayed long enough."

Morale.—All vicious people are not to found outside of the church.

It is rumored that the Fair and Cattle Show is to be held here this fall. Why didn't the Portsmouth people arrange to have it there again? it was held here four years in succession. ION.

PIRATES TO BE TRIED.—It appears from the Boston Courier that the eight seamen of the whale ship Junior, sent home by the U. S. Consul at Sydney, on a charge of murdering Capt. Archibald Mellen, master, and John Smith, third mate, were brought up from New Bedford on Saturday evening, and arraigned before Commissioner Cushman, at the U. S. Court House. There were two complaints, the first charging the murders, and the second charging them with usurping the command of the ship, and depriving the captain and mate of their authority. To both complaints each prisoner plead not guilty, and the examination was to commence on Monday. The names of the accused are Cyrus W. Plummer, of Providence, their leader; Richard Cartha, Albany; William Sampson, Buffalo, N.Y.; Jacob Ricke, New York; Charles H. Stanley, Penfield, N. Y.; Adam Cannel, New York; Joseph Brooks, Utica, N. Y.; William Herbert, Newark, N. J. Their plan was to kill the officers, take possession of the ship, run her to the coast of Australia, and then proceed up into the country and turn highwaymen. This plan they carried into effect last Christmas night, so far as to kill the captain and third mate, and wound the first and second mates, and to intimidate into submission, by a display of arms, the rest of the crew. They compelled the mate to navigate the ship to the coast of Australia, where they abandoned her, but were soon after arrested by the police near "Ninety Mile Beach."

"UNION FOR THE SAKE OF THE UNION."—The New Bedford Mercury says:—"The press receive the news of Tom Corwin's nomination for Congress in good humor. It is refreshing to find that old party differences are not fatal to the union of good and true men in the endeavor to place Republican institutions on a better footing than they have been of late years, and that such an old Whig and Fillmoreite as Tom Corwin is heartily welcomed by whole-souled Republicans everywhere for the sake of the Union."

☞ A French Canadian committed suicide on Thursday, five miles below Richmond, Canada East. He had been hanging round the station at Richmond for some days, in a state of intoxication. It is supposed on that day he was attacked with the delirium tremens, and as the down train from Montreal was turning a curve in the road, he threw himself upon the track, and the whole train passed over him, taking off the top of his head and crushing his body in an awful manner.

☞ The advices from Canada (private letters in particular) strongly exhort young men, and especially those who are unable to perform the roughest and hardest work, not to think of emigrating to that colony, at any rate at the present time, as it is utterly impossible for them to procure employment at wages which will keep body and soul together. Returned emigrants tell the same story of an overstocked labor market.

A woman is either worth a good deal, or nothing. If good for nothing, she is not worth getting jealous for; if she be a true woman, she will give no cause for jealousy.

PESTILENCE AT NEW ORLEANS.—From a letter received in Boston from the Agent at New Orleans of the Southern Aid Society, the Traveller extracts the following: "The yellow fever commenced its ravages here about the middle of June, first among the sailors, but it has since been gradually spreading through the city." In a postscript he says: "The Angel of Death is in our midst; the pestilence is increasing;—our hospitals are fast filling up. Pray for us." He relates the following incident: "I called to see a poor German family in a back yard; found the mother and four children sick with yellow fever, and lying upon beds of shavings. Two little girls of the same family administered to their necessities. I provided watchers for the night, and the next morning sent them to the Charity Hospital. The father had previously died—the mother and two children are since dead, while the other two little girls are there with the same disease.'

New Orleans, August 19.—Deaths by yellow fever in this city on Wednesday were 43.

August 20.—The deaths in this city by yellow fever yesterday were 20.

August 21.—The deaths in this city yesterday from yellow fever were 54.

YELLOW FEVER AT CHARLESTON.—New York, Aug. 22.—The Norfolk Herald states that the yellow fever has become an epidemic in Charleston, and people are fleeing from the city in all directions.

The New York Health Commissioners yesterday declared Charleston an infected port, and will order all vessels from that port into quarantine.

A despatch from Charleston of the 22d says "the Health Officers report 28 deaths fever for the week ending yesterday."

☞ A few days since some person at the Red Sulphur Springs, Va., amused himself by slipping notes under the doors of visitors, stating that typhoid fever had "broken out" there. The trick caused a stampede among the more nervous, and a general circulation of the report that typhoid fever existed at that watering place. From two hundred visitors the number was reduced to forty. A letter from there says, however, that the panic is over, and about eighty of the visitors have returned.

☞ The Sage mystery is finally settled—that is, so far as the identity of young Sage can settle it. The Hartford Times learns, on what it considers good authority, that young Sage is now living with his father in Cromwell, and that the Goodriches in Rocky Hill, who offered to bet $100 that he could not be produced alive, are finally satisfied that he "still lives," having approached him, shaken hands with him, and gazed upon him with their own eyes.

CAUTION TO BOYS.—A smart little fellow, 8 years of age, son of Mr. George Wales, of Braintree, Mass., while at play last week, was, says the Boston Herald, accidentally shot in the eye by an arrow from a bow in the hands of one of his playmates. The arrow was pointed with a sharp nail, which entered the eye to the depth of an inch, and there hung until the suffering boy had walked home, when his affrighted mother pulled out the barb. The eye pierced by the arrow was entirely destroyed.

Boys can not be too careful in using these dangerous playthings, and we trust that the sad accident here mentioned will be a warning to lads everywhere. No repentance can atone for the mischief thus caused by one careless act.

☞ Seventy-four cows, four horses, one mule, five calves, and two goats, were burnt to death in the great dairy stable near Cincinnati, on the 17th.—Their suffering was terrible, but brief.

☞ It is now thought that Mrs. Studley, the husband-poisoner at Valley Falls, R. I., administered arsenic to two old ladies who died suddenly while residing with her.

☞ The most novel feature of the Telegraph jubilee at Syracuse is thus noted: About twenty engines were stationed at intervals along the line, extending from the Round House to the Tunnel. They were handsomely decorated with flags, and whistled and screamed in one grand, sublime, deafening chorus, sufficient to rend into shreds

"Nature's universal grand tympanum."

☞ Rev. Wm. T. Herrick has resigned the pastoral care of the Congregational Church in Candia, and has been dismissed by a Council, thus closing a ministry there, of four years.

☞ Swamp fever has broken out among whites and blacks in the lowlands of the Mississippi, occasioned by the receding of the water.

THE DELIVERERS OF KANSAS.—Gerrit Smith has written another letter rebuking some of his friends for their lukewarmness. The following is an extract:—

"The true history of Kansas is yet to be written. The impression that she has been preserved from the grasp of slavery by the skill of party leaders and by speeches in Congress, is as false as it is common. She has been preserved from it by her own brave spirits and strong arms. To no man living is there so much praise due for beating back the tide of border-ruffianism and slavery, as to my old and dear friend John Brown of Osowatomie; though he has had at no time under his command more than 150 fighting men, yet by his unsurpassed skill and courage he has accomplished wonders for the cause of freedom.—Small as have been the armed forces which have saved Kansas, their maintenance has nevertheless taxed some persons heavily.—My eye, at this moment is on one merchant in Boston, who has contributed several thousand dollars to this object. What, compared with him, has gaseous oratory, in or out of Congress, done for Kansas?"

☞ Queen Victoria has made Major Lousada Barrow a Companion in the most Honorable Order of the Bath, for distinguished conduct in the field. Major Barrow is a younger brother of Mr. Jacob Barrow of Boston, and commanded the small cavalry force through the whole of Havelock's brilliant career in Oude.

E. P. RUSSELL'S

Patent Mastic Roofing.

Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE Inventor of this Roofing labored many years to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value, both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN!

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every deg ription, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

BRADSTREET'S

Patent Japan Weather Strip.

This Strip for outside doors is the most useful, and the very best improvement ever yet (now in use, and the latest, (like the Atlantic Cable,) to keep out Snow, Rain, Wind and Cold from your houses.

This Strip is applied to the bottom of the door by screws, with an ELLIPTICAL SPRING—(which cannot get out of order,) that causes the leaf to rise and fall, on opening or shutting the door.

THIS PATENT STRIP is the most simple and durable of anything of the kind ever invented.—It may be regarded as the "ne plus ultra" in this line, obviating all difficulties in management—It will save the cost of the article in one winter, in keeping the house warm and dry.

The Prices for putting on Doors: Japan Finish, $1 50 each. Brass Finish, $2 50 each.

Every one put on by the subscriber will be warranted, and if not successful, no pay required.

Those who wish for the same may leave orders at the store of JOSEPH H. CLARK, corner of Market Square and Daniel street, where a sample may be seen, or at the residence of the subscriber, No. 15 Dennett street, North Portsmouth,—which will be promptly attended to.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SCURVY.

Scurvy is not confined to Arctic travellers and neglected sailors; it shows its disgusting features also among the ill fed poor in our filthy lanes. Nothing has been found so speedily efficacious in arresting the decomposing tendency of the vital fluids in scorbutic disease as the PERUVIAN SYRUP.

AN OFFENSIVE BREATH.

There is no malady more disgusting than an offensive breath. Many persons are not aware their breath is bad, and it is a delicate subject to mention. All may be positively free from this disgusting malady by using the Persian Balm as a Dentrifice Wet your brush in water, pour on it one drop of the Persian Balm, and wash your teeth night and morning. It neutralizes the acids of the mouth, and restores to the breath a delicious fragrance and freshness.

TESTS OF CHARACTER.—Lord Byron once said "You never know a man's temper until you have been imprisoned in a ship with him, or a woman's until you have married her". We are able to add, that no one can know how many use HEINSTREET'S HAIR COLORING unless they see it applied, for it restores the hair to the precise shade of youth.

LADIES OF PORTSMOUTH.

IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.

Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer.

The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

THE Destroyer is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the ne plus ultra of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimples also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Parisian ladies have used it for years; consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

LOCAL.

☞ How quiet and beautiful is a Funeral in the country! The attractions of rustic burial were pleasantly presented to us by the last services of friendship, performed for two well-known men just deceased near this city. The funeral of John G. Pickering, Esq., of Greenland, took place at the Congregational Church in that town, on Sunday, a week since, and was largely attended by his fellow townsmen and friends who really mourn his departure. Rev. Mr. Roby, (a younger brother of the pastor of the church,) and Rev. Mr. Thurston, of the Methodist Church there, officiated on the occasion.

One week later, last Sabbath, at the close of the afternoon service, the funeral obsequies of Mr. Mark Dennett, of Gravelly Ridge, were observed at his late residence — Rev. Mr. Comings officiating.—The gathering of friends and neighbors was large—about one hundered persons joining in the procession to the grave. The occasion was one of much interest—solemn, but not sad. Mr. Dennett's death was very sudden. He had just returned from a walk on his fine farm, and was standing talking to a little child in his house, when he fell to the floor, and only breathed two or three times after.

The bier sat under one of the wide-spreading trees which surround his house, and as the declining sun threw long shadows over the green lawn, toward the burial-place, which was marked by a weeping-willow,—they seemed to point to the "valley of the shadow," which all must pass through. It is something like life, to live among the green fields and trees, rather than in the dust and heat of a crowded city—and even death loses half its terrors, when the last breath is fragrant of clover and sweet herbs, and waving trees sing an eternal lullaby over the grave.

ROCKINGHAM FAIR.—The Annual Exhibition of this Society will be held in Exeter on Wednesday and Thursday the 22d and 23d days of September next. Professor J. G. Hoyt has been engaged to deliver the address. The Committees to award premiums have been appointed, and a list of the same will be published.

☞ Uncle Toby's broadcloth coat, having become quite unpresentable by reason of sundry grease and paint spots, which would gather dust and hold it, was on Monday noon consigned to the care of Mr. Goodell, the celebrated New England Clothes Dresser, who brought it back before sunset, completely cleansed from all its stains, and black as midnight dyed in the wool. No republican could desire anything blacker,—no pedler of dry goods have anything sleeker than the finish. Mr. Goodell's room is next door to the North Church, where old coats are made almost as good as new.

☞ One of the men who was on the hand-car at Hayes' Ledge, on the Eastern Railroad, on Thursday, informs us that there was no danger; as they heard the cars five minutes before they saw them,—saw them when a mile off, and had plenty of time to move their hand car, which they put off at the usual turn out, and not on a bank. So our correspondent "O." was mistaken.

☞ Our thanks, kind friends, for that most delicious Serenade at the still midnight hour. Your execution cannot be excelled hereabout. The ears of Uncle Toby rarely ever listened to anything so grateful as your skilfully-rendered pieces.

DEATH OF WILLIAM MONTGOMERY.—We learn that during the latter part of week before last, Mr. William Montgomery, father of Hon. William Montgomery, was found dead beside a haystack near the Virginia line. It is not postively known in what manner he came to his death, but from the fact of two whiskey bottles being found near the body, it is presumed he killed himself by the excessive use of intoxicating liquor. He had procured a quantity of liquor at Triadelphia, Virginia, a day or two previously. It is not known how long he had been dead before his body was discovered. His remains were interred in a graveyard in Washington. The age of the deceased was about 70 years.—Wheeling Intelligencer, 14th.

☞ A few days since a young daughter of George S. Underhill of Chester, N.H. was picking blackberries and was bitten by a spider on her great toe. The foot swelled, extending up her leg; erysipelas set in and she died.

4 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

QUEBEC, Aug. 22.

Steam propeller Anglo Saxon from Liverpool, 11 A. M., of the 11th inst. arrived at this port this morning.

Ship Magdalene, at Liverpool from New Orleans, reports, fell in, off Key West, with a boat containing a seaman named G. L. Baker, belonging to brig West, of Coston, which went ashore, on the Florida coast. The brig was bound to Liverpool from Galveston, and the sailor supposes the rest of the crew were drowned.

Victoria and Albert embarked at Graves end on the 10th, to visit their daughter, the Princess Frederick William.

At a meeting of the Great Eastern Steamship Company, it was resolved to receive offers for the purchase or charter of the ship, and to advertise her for sale at auction, and in the meantime to endeavor to raise money by mortgage.

Telegraphic communication between the English shore and the Channel Islands has been successfully completed by a submarine cable.

As the steamship Arabia was leaving Liverpool for New York, on the 7th, an absconder from New York, named James Fitten, who was doubling on his pursuers, by returning to America, was arrested by the police and lodged in jail. Nearly $130,000 in American securities were found on his person.

A prospectus has been issued for a Malta and Alexandria telegraph to complete the Mediterranean portion of the line to Candia. The project is to submerge a cable from Malta to India, from whence the lines will diverge to Constantine and Alexandria.

FRANCE.—The papers teem with accounts of the Cherbourg fetes, which had concluded.

At the banquet on board le Bretagne, Napoleon in proposing Victoria's health, made a very amicable speech. He said, facts proved that hostile passions, aided by a few unfortunate incidents, did not succeed in altering either the friendship existing between the two crowns, or the desire of the two nations to remain at peace.—He entertained the sincere hope that, if attempts were made to stir up old resentments and passions of another epoch, they would break to pieces upon comon sense.

Prince Albert responded, and expressed the most friendly sentiments on behalf of the Queen. He said she was happy at having an opportunity, by her presence at Cherbourg, of joining in endeavoring to strengthen, as much as possible, the bonds of friendship between the nations,—a friendship based on mutual prosperity,—and the blessings of Heaven would not be denied. He concluded by proposing a toast:—The Emperor and Empress.

Victoria left on the 6th, under a triple salute.

ITALY.—The wheat crop of Naples had proved in general to be good, but oats and barley had completely failed. The maize crop was very large.

LIVERPOOL COTON MARKET, Aug. 11.—Sales of cotton for three days 24,000 bales, including 3,000 to speculators, and 1800 to exporters. This market opened buoyant, but closed quiet and steady.

LIVERPOOL BREADSTUFFS MARKET.—The weather has been favorable tor crops and the market generally has a downward tendency, with a slight decline in quotations on all grades. Messrs. Richardson, Spence & Co. reports:—Flour with a slight decline, has still a downward tendency.

THE KANSAS ELECTION.—Official returns from twenty-two counties, and unofficial returns from the remaining seven, make the total vote of Kansas on the proposition to admit that Territory into the Union under the provisions of the English bill,—about 1200 in favor of the proposition, and 14,000 against it.

Robert Dale Owen, the American Minister at Naples, denies the report that he has become a Catholic. Without belonging to any religious body, he holds to the Unitarian doctrine.—Boston Journal.

100 Songs of Scotland,
MUSIC AND WORDS.

ALTHOUGH many editions of "Songs of Scotland" have been from time to time published, there is not one that combines the various features of the present work, which, as a comprehensive selection of the choicest melodies, adapted to their appropriate words, in a cheap, correct, and portable form, is perfectly unique

No national melodies have ever attained the lasting and universal popularity which is enjoyed by those of Scotland, which are equally welcome in the palace, in the cottage, and at the "ingleside." Price only 49 Cents.

THE PATENT "Old Dominion" Coffee Pot.

THIS New Coffee Pot, for which a Patent has been issued, possesses this advantage over all others: You may boil coffee in it for any length of time, without a particle of the strength or aroma escaping. One-fourth less coffee is required, and the full flavor of the berry retained.

Thousands of this new Coffee Pot have already been sold, and the demand from all parts of the United States is rapidly on the increase. Wherever introduced, it has given the most complete satisfaction.

A large number of testimonials have been received from those who have used it. We have space for but a few:

From the Portsmouth Journal.

"OLD DOMINION."—If you wish to know what good coffee is, when all the aroma is retained in the coffee, be sure to buy one of the Old Dominion Coffee Pots, of Mr. Carleton. Around such a luxury, it is pleasant to be Pot-companions. We supposed the high commendations of the Old Dominion all puffing, until we tried it.

THE OLD DOMINION COFFEE POT.—We have had in use now, for over two months, one of these much talked of Coffee Pots, and we find that it does, in all respects, what is claimed for it. You may boil coffee in the Old Dominion for any length of time you choose, and yet lose none of the delicate aroma or strength. This desirable end is attained by a simple but ingenious contrivance, in the shape of a condenser, with double syphons, by means of which the aroma-bearing vapor, which usually goes all over the house, or up the chimney, is condensed and thrown back into the coffee boiler, and you have its delicious flavor in the cup you bring to your lips. In all our experience of coffee drinking, we never found anything equal to what we now have daily at our morning meal. It is the perfection of coffee.—[Philadelphia Evening Journal.

The New Yorker thus endorses the Old Dominion: "It gives the entire strength as well as the grateful aroma of the berry, and by its simple construction is easy of use, always in order, and furnishes good coffee at one-fourth the cost of the old and unsatisfactory method of boiling."

The draught which it makes is nectar, compared with that of old-time coffee pots.—Springfield, (Mass.) Republican.

The Lady's Book says:—"The 'Old Dominion' is beyond question, the best coffee maker ever introduced to the public, and the only one by which all the strength and virtue of the coffee can be extracted by boiling without loss of aroma. We commend it with the full knowledge that it will do all that is claimed for it.

SIZES AND PRICES.—1 qt. $1.50 each; 1½ qt., 1.75; 2 qt., 3.00; 3 qt., 2.50; 4 qt., 3.00; 6 qt., 3.50; 10 qt., 5.00; 16 qt., 7.50. Larger sizes for Hotels and Restaurants.

Ayer's Pills

Are unrivalled in the treatment of the positive diseases, and diseases arising from impurity of the blood. A large proportion of all the maladies that afflict mankind originate in one of these sources, and consequently these Pills are in demand to an extent that no other medicine ever was, or ever can be, called for by the public.

Published are the testimonials from some eminent physicians of Lowell, given in their practice.

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC.

From Dr. A. H. Chandler, of Fort Gibson.

"Your Pills are the best family medicine I know of. Their excellent qualities are not to be surpassed. They are mild, but very certain and searching in their action on the bowels, which makes them the best cathartic for the daily treatment of families."

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

From Dr. Theodore Bridge, New York City.

"Not only are your Pills perfectly adapted to their purpose, but they are the most perfect specimen of pill-making I have ever seen. I find that they have in my practice proved the most efficacious of all the medicines I have used for the cure of the maladies mentioned, and I sincerely believe that they are the most perfect cathartic now in use, on the bowels, which makes them the best family physic, and the daily treatment of families."

DYSPEPSIA—INDIGESTION.

From Dr. Dyer, of Lexington, Ky.

"The Pills you were kind enough to send me have been all we could desire, and more than I thought they was truly a valuable medicine, in particular on the stomach and other organs of the human system, that they seem to regulate and invigorate all the functions of the body, and cleanse it from all impurities, which, and related the other complaints, they do in a most wonderful manner. Indeed I have experimented with them in a variety of cases, and find they do all the cure they are recommended to do."

DYSENTERY—DIARRHŒA—RELAX.

From Dr. J. C. Green, of Chicago.

"Your Pills have been in use in my practice, and I hold them in the highest esteem. I have never found anything so prompt in its effect upon that bowel which, when once set in motion, they will keep in order for days, without repeating a dose, thus rendering them the best family cathartic in use, for the relief of mothers and children."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION.

From Dr. L. Dunn, of Philadelphia, Pa.

"I find one or two boxes of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are sufficient to remove all the natural worms from a child, which, if not destroyed, will cause much misery, and, perhaps, death. I have also found them a most valuable medicine in suppression, and I believe they are in my opinion, the best family medicine in use, for the relief of mothers and children."

INFLUENZA OR THE BLOOD—SCROFULA—ERYSIPELAS—SALT RHEUM—TETTER—TUMORS—ERUPTIONS—ULCERS—NEURALGIA.

From Dr. Ford, Salem.

"I was induced to try your Pills purely for the blood. They fully did their work, and those of late years in my family, who have used them, have found them the best family medicine, and to take quite as well as sugar plums. They are the best cathartic, and to take daily as a tonic and alterative, they are a medical benefit, and I would recommend them to all."

SORE HEADACHE—SICK HEADACHE—FOUL STOMACH—COSTIVENESS—DYSPEPSIA—DROPSY—PARALYSIS—PITS—ETC.

From Dr. Edward Ford, Salem.

"Dear Sir: Your Pills are a most valuable medicine. I have used them in my family for some time, and find they do all that is claimed for them. I have also used them in my practice, and find they do all that I can desire. I have found them a most valuable cathartic in Costiveness, Sick Headache, Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Paralysis, Fits, &c. I have also used them in Dropsy, which they have cured in a few days, when other cathartics did not even move the bowels. I have also used them in Paralysis, and they have cured a case of long standing, when all other means had failed. I think your Pills are the best family cathartic in use, and I shall use them in my family and practice while they are to be had."

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrounding their dwelling lives to the misfortune through of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of this class will be sent free of express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directions followed.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empirics have come under his care, and more than three hundred testimonials are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicine sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from your purpose, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all possible irregularities. They action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. Females entirely useless have been put up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All those who are in possession of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

Pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

Joy to the Admirers of

A FINE HEAD OF

RICH GLOSSY HAIR.

Talk of beauty, it can not exist without a fine head of hair, and no matter how low, and if you ask more, see circular around each bottle, and so one can doubt.

PROF. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—To call the attention of all, old and young, to this wonderful preparation, which turns back to its original color, gray hair—covers the head of the bald with a luxuriant growth—removes dandruff, stops the hair from falling, and prevents—causes a continual flow of the natural fluids;—and hence it need as a regular dressing for the hair will universally color, and keep from fading to the extreme old age, all its natural beauty. We call then upon the bald, the gray, or diseased in scalp, to use it; and surely the young will not, if there be the slightest tendency to fade the flowing curl, even be without it. Its praise is upon the tongue of thousands.

The Agent for Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative in New Haven, received the following letter in regard to the Restorative, a few weeks since:

DEER RIVER, CONN., July 22, 1856.

MR. LEAVENWORTH—Sir: I have been troubled with dandruff for more than twenty years, and a year, my hair began to come out, scant and bare together. I saw in a New Haven paper about Wood's Hair Restorative, and I bought one bottle of your store on the 1st of April last, and purchased one bottle to try it, and I found to my satisfaction it was the thing; it removed the scurf and dandruff, and my hair grew, it is now two or three inches in length where was all off. I have great faith in it. I wish you to send me two bottles more to Deer River, Litchfield Co., Conn. I doubt know as any of the kind is used in this place, you may have a market for many bottles after it is known here. Yours with respect, RUFUS PRATT.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 1856.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative is growing into general use here. The Wife, and also the back part of my head almost lost its covering—in fact bald. I have used but two ball pint bottles of your Restorative, and now the tip of my head is well studded with a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving its benefit. I have tried other preparations without any benefit whatever. I think from my own personal recommendation, I can induce many others to try it. Yours respectfully,

D. R. THOMAS, M. D., No. 164 Vine street.

VICKSBURG, Miss., June 22, 1855.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—As I am about to cease return to the North, I regret to discovered Hair Restorative, I will state, for whomsoever it may concern, that I have used it and known others to use it, when I have been absent, and have been in the habit of using other Hair Restoratives, and that I find yours vastly superior to any other I know. It entirely cleanses the head of dandruff, and with one bottle produces a well enhanced amount of hair to the original youthful color and texture. Giving it a healthy soft and glossy appearance, and it is perfectly unobjecting to the most fastidious apply it or the dress on which it drops. I would, therefore, recommend its use to every one desirous of having a fine color and texture to hair.

Respectfully, WILLIAM ROSS.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for improving the interest money paid at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have the right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to puzzle the buyer. Prizes range from $20 to $20,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Mercury, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no commissions deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m18ly

A PROCLAMATION

TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, are fast passing and integrity and honor being away, and WHEREAS, the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily taking advantage of the profound and learned: BE IT KNOWN THEREFORE, to all, whether MAIDS, WIVES, or WIDOWS, that Dr. CRESSMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are alone the certain pancacea for the the troubles incident to female disorganization; they alone correct all painful menstruation, assuaging palpitations of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and causing health and happiness to whole sex; more especially to the married portion, as they are certain to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are yearly vegetable and unobjecting to the most delicate, they are perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unlike other medicines thrust upon the public, comparing to which the Quaker Bitters, detailed literature, SEE KNOWN, that genuine but the said PILLS of DR. CRESSMAN will accomplish the desired object, when MISFORTUNE has been expressed under the Quaker Bitters, OTHER PILLS; and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread, amongst them, to their own everlasting benefit. Every genuine Proclamation in one case must be considered SUIT and VOID; that is to say the PILLS MUST NOT be taken when any female is in an INTERESTING SITUATION, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each package. Price $5 in advance, enclose $1 to Dr. CORNELIUS L. CRESSMAN, Box No. 4,011, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.

YES, YOU MAY

USE or recommend HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE HAIR COLORING, and find it to be all its proprietor claim for it. Do you doubt it?

READ! READ!! READ!!!

SCHROON LAKE, ESSEX CO., N.Y., February 6, 1858.

W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y.—Dear Sir: Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having been much pleased with it I take pleasure in making the following statement: From the effects of a fever of sickness which I had when eighteen years of age my hair commenced turning grey, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white being very harsh and coarse. Last summer I had reached my fifty third year, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by you. I commenced using it according to directions, and in a few days was surprised to find that my hair from the roots outward was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was as truly brown and glossy as it was in my youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color. MYLA SEAMAN.

Essex Co., N. Y., Seaman came before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true, this 6th day of Feb., 1858.

JOH. F. PATTEN, Justice of the Peace.

PITTSFORD, VT., Aug. 1, 1857.

I hereby certify that my having become quite grey, I used Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, (prepared by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y.) for four weeks and my hair was in that time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to be all it claims. WM. KINGSLEY,
Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt.

The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietor of Helmstreet's Hair Coloring and Restorative. It has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. The singular effect is not produced as when dyes are used; for it acts upon the natural secretions of coloring matter at the roots, and thus effects the change. Beside, the color produced is not a counterfeit but the natural shade of youth. It does not soil or stain the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & Co., Troy, N. Y.

The Blacksmith.

Tune—Anvil Chorus.

When the Gods were all assembled
In the Olympic Hall,
'T was proposed by that sly Mercury
That they should have a ball.
A ball cried out young Vulcan,
I'll construct it at your order
And on the sounding anvil
Good work I will complete.
This is the blacksmith's table,
His dark mythology:—
Now let us turn the table,
His modern work to see.
The Shoes for your good Horses,
The Tire for Wagon Wheel;
The Axes, Mauls and Adzes
Of iron and of Steel.
For carpenters and farmers,
And all good working men;—
They'll make the work go handy,
You'll surely call again.
Their prices will be moderate,
They'll never make you wait;
Their shop is at the Ferry Ways,
Their names JACKSON & PRATT. all

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved to inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1858.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

Commissioner of Patents.

DIALOGUE ON UNITY.

Newark Journal.—It is useless to attempt to keep up in our columns with the evidences which reach us from every part of the country of the soundness and unity of the national Democracy. * * * We do not open a Democratic paper which is not filled with gratifying allusions to the firmness and integrity of the party; and we assure our readers that those who prate of our disorganization and demoralization are either very ignorant or willfully wrong-headed.

Dover Gazette.—Judge Douglas has placed himself squarely and boldly on the Democratic platform. * * * Again, his defeat at that time, if brought about by defection in the Democratic ranks,—especially if it seemed to have the countenance of the powers at Washington,—can not but have the most disastrous effect on the Democratic party throughout the whole north-west, and consequently endangerment its national existence. * * * Let Democrats pause and reflect. Let the Philadelphia Press and Washington Union forbear. Let the bolting Democrats in Illinois return to their allegiance, and all will be well.

Newark Journal.—All the signs of the present controversy with the Illinois Senator, indicate how absurdly he has followed the example of others in going out of the party, retreating and firing into the ranks he has deserted.

Washington Union.—We maintain that he is a traitor by action, design and position. He is not a reformer; for he denounces the friends and applauds the enemies of the Democracy.

Minnesota Enquirer.—The truth is, that Douglas, so far as Kansas is concerned, stands flat-footed and square-toed on the Republican platform. The Crittenden substitute, for which the whole Republican party in Congress voted, he still proclaims to be the embodiment of the right doctrine; and in so proclaiming, of course repudiates English's compromise, notwithstanding his pretended acquiescence in it.

New Hampshire Gazette.—We never knew a man to desert a party or a policy without some pretext more or less plausible. And what is the pretext in this instance? Why is it that a leader of a column and a half upon the subject of an important contest in Illinois, can appear in a New Hampshire Democratic journal without a single work of compliment, a single expression of encouragement, or even a hint at the probability or desirableness of a Democratic victory there? What is the pretext we ask? Has Douglas changed his views upon Lecomptonism? does he no longer believe it a "wet blanket?"

Democratic Standard.—The article above alludes distinctly and unmistakably to the N. H. Patriot. It charges it with Douglasism when the Kansas question was pending. It also in substance charges its editors with being mainly instrumental in procuring the passage of the "straddle-bug" resolutions by the State Committee last winter. We made the same charge, at the time, and were denounced by the veracious Patriot as falsifiers. Now, the charge is repeated by one of its own disciples whom it led astray.

In its present predicament, what is it going to do? Will it denounce the Gazette? Here is rank treason—will the Patriot tolerate it? Here is more than treason—here is absolute contempt for the Patriot. What will that consistent and dignified organ do? We guess it will "grin and bear it."

The Roman Catholic priest of a village of the diocese of Raab, in Hungary, was lately cited by his bishop before the ecclesiastical tribunal for having caused the bells of his church to be tolled as a mark of respect on the death of the Protestant pastor of the village. But as it has been the custom in Hungary for a length of time for the Catholic and Protestant clergy to live together on good terms and show respect for each other, the tribunal refused to entertain the complaint.

This is good; and it shows how much better a man is than a church, or a creed, or a sect, or a party.

Singular Scene in Court.—While the trial of Hiram Powers, for setting fire to the Moravian church in Brimfield, was in progress last week, the evidence being all in and B. D. Hyde, Esq., of Sturbridge, counsel for the government, making a very warm speech on the combination of circumstances which established the prisoner's guilt, an Irishman, named Harrington, came into Court, whispered to the Sheriff that he set the church on fire himself, being hired to do it by three of his neighbors, and Powers was innocent. On this statement Powers was at once discharged, and Harrington and his neighbors held for trial.

A Deep Coal Mine in England.—The deepest coal pit in England, and probably in the world, has after twelve years labor been completed and opened at Dukenfield, Cheshire. The depth of the shaft is 686½ yards, and the sinking of it cost nearly half a million dollars. At this immense depth, a fine seam of coal was found, nearly five feet thick, and calculated to last thirty years, at the rate of 500 tons a day.

GENERAL ASSOCIATION.

Hampton, Aug. 24.

The annual meeting of the General Association of Congregational and Presbyterian Ministers in New Hampshire commenced here this morning, and will continue three days, in connexion with various religious and benevolent societies.

The day is favorable, being clear and cool; and the occasion has drawn together a numerous company, the shelter and maintenance of whom is a good test of private hospitality which abounds here.

The opening service this morning was the Concio ad Clerum, [Call to the Clergy] which was delivered by Rev. John H. Merrill of Tamworth.

The Association was organized by choosing Rev. Dr. Bouton moderator, and Rev. W. A. Smith and Rev. W. R. Jewett scribes.

The Association proper is a representative body, composed of delegates from the several District Associations. These delegates are about 30 clergymen; but besides these, the voluntary attendants, of clergymen in the State and from other States, generally outnumber the regular members; in this meeting I think they may be two to one. There are also a goodly company of laymen and women from neighboring towns, composing in the whole a full congregation.

Among the representatives of charitable societies, we observed Rev. Isaac Willey for the Bible Society, and Rev. Dr. Stone and Rev. Wm. Clark for Home Missions.

The services this P. M. were opened by singing the hymn "Awake our souls, away our fears." And then came the narrations of the state of religion in the several Associations. The general representation is, that the churches have been increased in the number of members, strengthened and encouraged by hopeful conversions, and attentive congregations. Charitable and benevolent objects have gained somewhat, and additional aid is hoped for, as the sequence of the revivals.

Rev. L. Ainsworth, of Jaffrey, has died this year, aged 100 years, after a ministry of 76. Rev. Elisha Rochome, D. D., aged 86, after a ministry of 50 years, last at Swanzey.

Missions in the towns where there is little or no congregational preaching, were commended to attention and patronage.

Favorable reports of the churches in Maine were made by the delegate from the General Conference there:—from Vermont by the General Conference of Vt:—encouraging accounts of Temperance were given from both these States. The delegate from Massachusetts gave favorable reports from the General Association there. A fraternal speech was made by the delegate from Connecticut.

An Old Stroke of Lightning Turned Up.—The fixtures of the vane of the Second Universalist edifice in Lowell Mass., recently worked loose, and, lest the apparatus, which weighs 80 pounds, should descend with a crash, a staging has been built around the steeple, and the necessary repairs commenced; a coat of paint will also be laid on. The lightning rod, with the vane, was erected in 1838. The three points of the rod were covered with silver caps; and it was found that one of the points had been in some way broken off, and that the other two had been fused by electricity, causing the silver coating to run down upon the iron rod. There is no knowledge of any electric stroke that could have done this, but the rod itself is unmistakable evidence of its having at some time preserved the church from destruction. Those that have been writing articles to the Boston papers, to show that rods are no protection, will do well to make a note of this case.

☞ Another great point has been judiciously determined, and in a manner greatly to the satisfaction of those whose nocturnal slumbers are often disturbed by the music of cats. A suit was tried in Newark, N. J., last week, to recover $15 for losses sustained in the death of a cat, alleged to have been shot by defendant. Counsel on both sides made eloquent addresses to the jury, the main point being whether a cat is or is not property. The jury retired about 5 o'clock, and came in about half-past 8, with a verdict of "no cause for action."

☞ The "social evil" exists in London on a monster scale indeed. At the Thames Police Court, Margaret James, Morris Sheary, her brother, Elizabeth Martin, and Mary Martin, were committed for trial, charged with wholesale trafficing in vice and prostitution. It was stated that the prisoners were the proprietors of upwards of one hundred infamous houses.

Fearful Railroad Accident.—Most Diabolical Villainy.—A terrible accident happened upon the Western division of the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, about 1½ miles west of Olney, on Saturday afternoon last, about 4 o'clock. The construction train had been sent out from Olney to bring in some heavy timbers, and after it had passed over the road to its destination, some fiend in the form of a man fastened a "railroad chair" between the joints of the rail. The train, having been loaded, commenced backing down to Olney, and was going at the rate of about 20 miles an hour, in order to reach the switch at Olney in time for the freight train bound East to pass, when the hindmost car struck the obstruction placed upon the track, and was hurled a distance of thirty feet from the road. Some ten or twelve of the laborers were on this car, two of whom were instantly killed, another had his skull fractured, one his leg so terribly mashed that it had to be immediately amputated, one had his heel cut off, and another his right shoulder dislocated—in all eight were more or less severely wounded. The dead and injured were taken up to Olney—the latter were properly cared for. They were all German and Irish laborers.

Important Testimony.—More than two thousand physicians and surgeons of England have signed the following certificate, bearing upon the physical effects of alcoholic liquors:

"We the undersigned, are of opinion—

"1. That a very large proportion of human misery, including poverty, disease, and crime, is induced by the use of alcoholic or fermented liquors as beverages.

"2. That the most perfect health is compatible with total abstinence from all such intoxicating beverages, whether in the form of ardent spirits, or as wine, beer, ale, porter, cider, &c., &c.

"3. That persons accustomed to such drinks may, with perfect safety, discontinue them entirely, either at once, or gradually after a short time.

"4. That total and universal abstinence from alcoholic beverages of all sorts, would greatly contribute to the health, the longevity, the morality, the prosperity, and the happiness of the human race."

Reform in a Royal Household.—Since the arrival of the Princess Victoria of England in Prussia, she has made several innovations and reforms in the royal household, one of which is as follows:

The chambermaids, whose proper business it is to clean the rooms, discharge the duties of their position in silk dresses.—The daughter of the richest sovereign in the world determined to put a stop to this extravagance. One fine morning she had all the female servants summoned to her presence, and delivered what may be considered a highly successful maiden speech. She began by telling them the expense of their dresses must evidently exceed the rate of their wages. She added that as their wages were not to be raised, it would be very fortunate for them if they were allowed to assume cotton articles of clothing. "In order to prevent every misunderstanding," the princess continued, "I shall not only permit, but order you to do so."

Hear, Hear!—In a late speech, the great "mud-sill" member of Congress, Mr. Hammond, said:

To him the whole theory and scheme of squatter sovereignty was a matter of disgust. The Kansas-Nebraska bill was a deception and delusion from the beginning. Its only effect was to add another free State to the Union. It we had dissolved the Union, and had engaged in a brush with some people, (which must occur in setting up for ourselves, and lawfully establishing our institutions,) it would have been best for us; but now, if we can rule in the Union, let us remain.

The Bethel (Ct.) Bank Robbery.—It will be remembered that the officers of the Bethel (Ct.) Bank offered five per cent reward for the $86,000 of which it had been robbed, and that upwards of $70,000 was returned by an "arrangement satisfactory to both parties." The Norwich Courier understands that "two of the directors went to New York on Thursday for the express purpose of paying up this bounty on Bank robbery, and settling up the concern in an 'honorable' manner. It would be pleasant to know to whom the five per cent was paid."

☞ A slave mother in Florence, Ky., a few days since took her newly born infant by the heels and beat its brains out, and then concealed it beneath some rails, where it was discovered. The mother acknowledged her guilt, and gave as a reason for the murder of her infant, that she would not raise up children to work for others all their lives!

☞ A writer from the "Tip Top House," Mount Washington, who with others reached there in a rain storm, says that after dinner they sat around a charcoal fire and counted noses, and found that the party consisted of five rain-deers and twelve rain-bears.

A PLACE TO RUSTICATE.

Rye, Aug. 24.

This popular town has many very fine public and private boarding houses, that are in full blast. The Company comprises many fashionable ladies and gentlemen—and their smiling and cheerful looks, and the attentive landlords and assistants at the Houses, in doors and out, give to the transient visitor a pleasing remembrance, that will induce him to repeat the visit as often as convenient.

The Ocean House is a popular and fashionable establishment—by far the largest and most stylish this side Nahant. Job Jenness & Son, the proprietors, are thorough gentlemen; and nothing will be neglected on their part to make everybody feel at home. The pleasant summer weather seems to be just commencing, and visitors to this flourishing establishment will probably prolong their stay through September. An excellent Band discourses sweet music through the day, and at the merry dance in the evening, for those who take part in this pleasant amusement.

The Surf House is a fine establishment—N. B. Stebbins landlord. This is a very fine boarding-house, of high character, and worthy a full patronage.

The Atlantic House, John C. Philbrick proprietor, is enjoying a large rush of transient company, and a house-full of boarders, as usual.

Hundreds and probably thousands of persons, from all parts of the country, visit Rye every season,—many of them in delicate health—to bathe in old ocean, to walk and ride the beaches, and go sailing and fishing; and go away pleased and refreshed by their visit.

Rye is one of the first-class farming towns in the old Granite State—a garden for the visitor to ramble over. The crops in general look well, and bid fair for a heavy harvest. Potato-tops are very rusty, but the farmers do not anticipate much trouble from the disease; the corn-crop in general is very heavy; the yield of hay was very abundant. The soil here is rich and productive—good dwelling-houses, good roads, good churches, and a quiet town of industrious and prosperous citizens.

There is the old South School-House, situated on the road from the Ocean House to the Atlantic House, which was repaired a year or two since, and which used to be open for the gospel to be sounded within its walls on the Sabbath. It has been the custom in Rye, I believe, for all denominations to hold meetings in the school-houses in different parts of the town; and, kind reader, I have understood that meetings are frequently held at the West and East School-Houses, but it appears that the gospel is not a popular thing enough for the South School House. It was a good accommodation for people to go there to meeting, when there was a minister—the distance for some to walk to church being three miles. But it will do for the Squire to educate his Irish urchins in.

Visitor.

Another Doctor!—One Dr. David R. Brown, of Boston, has got into jail there, for the murder of an unknown young woman, who, he said died of cholera morbus, and whom he had buried, no one following the hearse.

Two colored females employed in the house of Dr. Brown, named Anna Maria Jenkins and Mary Ann Taylor, were arrested as important witnesses in the case. All that was gleaned from them, however, was that the deceased came last from Lawrence, Mass. Brown is an old offender, having served one term in the State Prison for having counterfeit money, and several in the house of Correction.

The young woman was apparently of good form, rather tall, with brown hair. A post-mortem examination of the body was made, when it was ascertained that the deceased died, not of cholera morbus, but of internal inflammation, the result of a criminal attempt to conceal her condition.

It was also apparent that instead of being thirty-seven years of age, as stated by Dr. Brown, she was not over nineteen or twenty.

☞ At a revival meeting at Barnett, near London, Canada, Rev. Mr. Arnold, an estimable young Episcopal brother, took an active part, and added greatly to the interest and spirituality of the meeting. He is grandson of Arnold, the American traitor, and the only male heir who survives him. He has a sister married, and they inherit a large tract of land in Canada from their grandfather.

"Here's Webster on a bridge," said Mrs. Partington, as she handed the dictionary, "study it contentively, and you will gain a great deal of inflammation."

☞ Porter Holden, of Sterling, committed suicide a few days since, by hanging himself to a tree. He was an intemperate man.

E. P. RUSSELL'S

Patent Mastic Roofing.

Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE Inventor of this Roofing labored many years to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested, both to such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most strongly assert that it is EQUAL TO NOT KNOWN!

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kind of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

Patent Japan Weather Strip.

This Strip for outside doors is the most useful, and the very best improvement ever those now in use, and the latest, (like the Atlantic Cable,) to keep out Snow, Rain, Wind and Cold from your houses.

This Strip is applied to the bottom of the door by screws, with an ELLIPTICAL SPRING—(which cannot get out of order,) that causes the leaf to rise and fall, on opening or shutting the door.

This Patent Strip is the most simple and durable of anything of the kind ever invented.—It may be regarded as the "ne plus ultra" in this line, obviating all difficulties in management—it will save the cost of the article in one winter, in keeping the house warm and dry.

The Prices for putting on Doors: Japan Finish, $1 50 each. Brass Finish, $2 50 each.

Every one put on by the subscriber will be warranted, and if not successful, no pay required.

Those who wish for the same may leave orders at the store of JOSEPH H. CLARK, corner of Market Square and Daniel street, where a sample may be seen, or at the residence of the subscriber, No. 15 Dennett street, North Portsmouth,—which will be promptly attended to.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SCURVY.

Scurvy is not confined to Arctic travellers and neglected sailors; it shows its disgusting features also among the ill fed poor in our filthy lanes. Nothing has been found so speedily efficacious in arresting the decomposing tendency of the vital fluids in scorbutic disease as the PERUVIAN SYRUP.

AN OFFENSIVE BREATH.

There is no one more disgusting than an offensive breath. Many persons are not aware their breath is bad, and it is a delicate subject to mention. All may be positively free from this disgusting malady by using the Oregon Balm as a Dentifrice. Wet your brush in water, pour on it one drop of the Oregon Balm and wash your teeth nightly and morning. It invigorates the gums of the mouth, and restores to the breath a delicious fragrance and freshness.

Tests of Character.—Lord Byron once said "You never know a man's temper until you have been in prolonged in a ship with him, or a woman's until you have married her". We are able to add, that no one can know how many use Heimstreet's Hair Coloring unless they see it applied, for it restores the hair to the precise shade of youth.

IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.

Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer.

The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

THE Destroyer is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the ne plus ultra of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimple also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Parisian ladies have used it for years consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady to Paris attend a gay opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

LOCAL.

N. H. State Agricultural Fair.—This annual gathering next month promises to be one of the most attractive the society have ever had. The citizens of Dover are doing everything in their power in order to make the occasion pleasant to visitors; and the government of the society is composed of men the most competent and liberal that can be found.

Probably the farmers in this vicinity will give this State Fair more notice than their own County Fair, which is to be held in Exeter.

Railroad to Great Falls.—John Halifax informs the public, as we are glad to see, that the Trustees of the Great Falls & South Berwick Branch Railroad have taken steps towards putting the road, which has been lying idle, in running condition, and it is contemplated to have it re-opened for business early in October. This will again give us a communication with Great Falls, Rochester and Wakefield, and the surrounding country, and restore some of the trade that Portsmouth formerly had with that section of the State.

Presentation.—Some of the ladies connected with St. John's Church in this city, have recently presented to Rev. Dr. Burroughs, the late rector of that church, a splendid service of silver plate, as a token of their affection and esteem for him. The matter was kept a profound secret from the worthy recipient, until his heart was gladdened by the sight of the token at his own mansion, on a recent return home from an absence of some weeks.

The Atlantic Cable is successfully laid! The Queen has spoken through the ocean wire, and the President has answered.

Thank the Lord, there is a telegraph from every christian to the throne of the "King of Kings," and communications are continually passing. Man's work is puny when compared with this wonderful arrangement for transmitting telegrams to the great Jehovah. There is a battery in every christian heart, and no storm or tempest prevents successful communication.—On land or sea, hill top or valley, by night or day, rich or poor, bond or free, learned or ignorant, noble or ignoble, low or many—the great operator is ever ready to attend to all the messages, without confusion, and send each an "answer of peace."
—World's Crisis.

The Senate wing of the capitol is pretty rapidly approaching towards completion. Quite a large number of committee rooms on the first floor are finished, adornments and all, and the Senate chamber itself is perhaps fully half done. Considerable progress has been made with the retiring room of the Senate, which will perhaps be the richest, most imposing and beautiful apartment of the whole capitol. Its lofty walls are divided into panels of highly polished Tennessee marble, between each two of which stands a broad pilaster of white Italian marble. The ceiling will also be of marble. Four marble columns, with elaborately wrought capitals, will occupy a place in this noble room. It fronts on the north face of the edifice.—National Intelligencer.

The Discovery of Electricity.—The casual rubbing of a little bit of amber produced the first recognized development of electricity, some six centuries before the Christian era, and this insignificant resinous deposit has thus given its Greek name to the wonderful agent whose greatest marvel we have just announced. For nearly 2400 years, however, electricity was regarded as only an eccentric quality of amber and a few other articles; for it is little more than a century since the discovery of the electric shock at Leyden, and during the last century all the grand triumphs of electricity have occurred.

Arrival of Priests and Nuns.—The ship Roger Stewart, Capt. Turner, from Havre, arrived at New Orleans on Saturday, 13th inst., with nineteen cabin and twelve steerage passengers. Among the former were seven Catholic priests, five sisters of charity, and four nuns, the greater proportion of whom, we are informed, are en route for Texas.

☞ A man named Robert Campbell, residing in Antrim, N. H., hung himself on Thursday of last week. Ill health and a fear of coming to want are the supposed causes of this self-murder. He was about forty years of age and unmarried.

Beer, and the Formation of English Character.—A late number of the English Record has an article with this caption. It is chiefly a commentary on a speech of a certain English gentleman, in which he ascribed the "renowned pith and sinew," the "indomitable pluck and valor," of English character, to beer, which he was pleased to denominate a "second necessary of life." The reply of the Record to this absurd statement is good.

"Though we should demur to the statement that beer had contributed to that 'renowned pith and marrow' which mark the physical character of Englishmen, we do mourn over the fact that beer has done much for the 'formation of the English character.'

"Let Mr. Nicoll make a tour of the agricultural districts, and visit the hundreds of beer-shops which curse the country, and he will soon be convinced how much beer has had to do with the formation of English character. Let him be a daily attendant at our police courts, and listen to the horrid recitals of brutality inflicted on innocent children, by drink loving husbands, and again we should have unmistakable evidence how much the English mixture of malt and hops has to do with the formation of the English character in all that is sinful, sensual, and devilish.

"Of the brewery, we have only to say, that were the oaths, and the curses, and the blasphemies, and the idleness and the want, the brawls, and disorder, and anarchy, the assaults, and suicides, and murders,—were these reported on every cask laden with the accursed potations, to be distributed by hirelings among their degraded victims, surely riches thus acquired would dance before their possessors like the ghosts of murdered innocency, and overwhelm them with shame, remorse, and confusion. Verily, beer has done much for the formation of the English character."

The Highest Crime.—Mr. Buchanan's mouth-piece, (the Washington Union,) thus pointedly expresses his notions of the criminality of "Douglas and his minions":

As the matter now stands, far more than at any former period of our history, we maintain that a failure to abide by the laws of the Democratic party is the HIGHEST CRIME that a representative can commit.

☞ The notorious Oxford precinct in Kansas, which used to cast votes by thousands, all on the pro-slavery side, at the late election gave but 29 votes, and had but three pro-slavery majority.

☞ New Haven papers notice a herring caught in that vicinity which weighs 47 pounds. Prof. Dana says it is a genuine herring.

A young woman of the tribe of the Oldtown Indians the other day in the cars was asked by a rowdy if she would not like to marry a white man. "No," was her ready reply, "because good white men do not want to marry me, and poor scamps like you I won't have!" The rowdy left at the next station.

100 Songs of Scotland,
MUSIC AND WORDS.

ALTHOUGH many editions of "Songs of Scotland" have been from time to time published, there is not one that combines the various features of the present work, which, as a comprehensive selection of the choicest melodies, adapted to their appropriate words, in a cheap, correct, and portable form, is perfectly unique.

National melodies have ever attained the lasting and universal popularity which is enjoyed by those of Scotland, which are equally welcome in the palace, in the cottage, and at the "ingle side." Price only 40 Cents.

THE PATENT
"Old Dominion" Coffee Pot.

THIS New Coffee Pot, for which a Patent has been issued, possesses this advantage over all others: You may boil coffee in it for any length of time, without a particle of the strength or aroma escaping. One-fourth less coffee is required, and the full flavor of the berry retained.

Thousands of this new Coffee Pot have already been sold, and the demand from all parts of the United States is rapidly on the increase. Wherever introduced, it has given the most complete satisfaction.

A large number of testimonials have been received from those who have used it. We have space for but a few:

From the Portsmouth Journal.

"Old Dominion."—If you wish to know what good coffee is, when all the aroma is retained in the coffee, be sure to buy one of the Old Dominion Coffee Pots, of Mr. Carleton. Around such a luxury, it is pleasant to be Pot-companions. We supposed the high commendations of the Old Dominion all puffing, until we tried it.

The Old Dominion Coffee Pot.—We have had in use now, for over two months, one of these much talked of Coffee Pots, and we find that it does, in all respects, what is claimed for it. You may boil coffee in the Old Dominion for any length of time you choose, and yet lose none of the delicate aroma or strength. This desirable end is attained by a simple but ingenious contrivance, in the shape of a condenser, with double syphons, by means of which the aroma-bearing vapor, which usually goes all over the house, or up the chimney, is condensed and thrown back into the coffee boiler, and you have its delicious flavor in the cup you bring to your lips. In all our experience of coffee drinking, we never found anything equal to what we now have daily at our morning meal. It is the perfection of coffee.—(Philadelphia Evening Journal.

The New Yorker thus endorses the Old Dominion: "It gives the entire strength as well as the grateful aroma of the berry, and by its simple construction is easy of use, always in order, and furnishes good coffee at one-fourth the cost of the old and unsatisfactory method of boiling."

The draught which it makes is nectar, compared with that of old-time coffee pots.—Springfield, (Mass.) Republican.

The Lady's Book says:—"The 'Old Dominion' is beyond question, the best coffee maker ever introduced to the public, and the only one by which all the strength and virtue of the coffee can be extracted by boiling without loss of aroma. We commend it with the full knowledge that it will do all that is claimed for it.

Ayer's Pills

are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive organs and disorders arising from impurity of the blood. A box of these pills should be in every family, as they will repay their cost many times over in the saving of doctors' bills, and in the prevention of sickness and suffering. They are sugar-coated, so that the most delicate can take them without inconvenience, and they are the safest and pleasantest cathartic yet known to the public. Being tasteless, they do not offend the most fastidious, and may be taken with perfect safety by children. They are not injurious to the most tender infant, and are the best family medicine within the reach of the public. They are sold by all the druggists in this place, and we believe there is no town in the United States or Canada that does not have some of the agents who sell Ayer's Pills. Ask your druggist for them, and take no other cathartic.

AYER'S FAMILY PHYSIC.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer, Chemist, Lowell, Mass. Sold by Druggists everywhere.

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

From Dr. Dunshee, Rich. of New York City.

"We have used your Cathartic Pills in our practice and find they produce the best effects upon the Liver very decidedly indeed. They have in my practice proved more decisive in the cure of Liver complaints than any remedy I use extensively. I always prefer your pills and have no hesitancy in saying that they are the best cathartic with which I am acquainted."

DYSPEPSIA — INDIGESTION.

From Rev. J. G. Bergen, of Ill.

"I feel it my duty to make known what I have been and am now suffering from Dyspepsia, and how I have been relieved by your Pills. For years I have been troubled with Dyspepsia in its worst form, and have tried the best medical advice I could obtain, but received no permanent benefit. I was induced to try your Pills, and have found that they do my stomach more good than all the other medicine I have taken for the complaint, for which you are at liberty to use my name."

DIZZINESS — DIARRHŒA — RELAX.

From Dr. J. G. Bergen, of Ill.

"Your Pills are what I have long wished for, for my patients, and I hold them in high esteem. I have prescribed them in my practice for years, and have found them to do all that you claim for them. I have prescribed them in cases of Dizziness, Costiveness, Diarrhœa, Relax, and Female Complaints, and have never failed to get the desired effect. I have also used them in my own family, and have found them to be a mild and efficacious cathartic, which you may safely use in all the ordinary complaints to which you are subject."

INTERNAL CONSTIPATION — WORMS — SUPPRESSION.

From Rev. E. Ferrett, the celebrated Traveller and Medical Author.

"I attribute my cure of your Pills, not only to the prompt, safe and thorough operation of the natural remedy, but also to the fact that I can now take food without fear of the consequences, which I could not before your pills were known. They are so mild and yet so thorough, that I do not know any other cathartic I can use in my family, and I have found them so in my own case, and I have found them so in my own family, and I recommend them to my friends as the best family medicine I know of."

CONSTIPATION — CONVENTION.

From Rev. Jas. Ferrett, of Philadelphia, Author of Church Manual.

"Your Pills are so much better than any other pill I know of, that I feel it my duty to say so. I have used them in my own family for some time, and have found them to be a safe and efficacious cathartic, and I know of no family medicine so well adapted to the use of a family as your Pills. They are so mild and yet so thorough, that I do not know any other cathartic I can use in my family, and I have found them so in my own case, and I have found them so in my own family, and I recommend them to my friends as the best family medicine I know of."

READ! READ!! READ!!!

SCHOON LAKE, Essex Co., N.Y., February 6, 1858.
W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y.—Dear Sir: Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having been much pleased with it, I take pleasure in making the following statement: From the effects of a very severe fit of sickness when about eighteen years of age my hair commenced turning grey, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white, being very harsh and coarse. Last Summer I had reached my fifty third year, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by you. I commenced using it according to directions, and in a few days was surprised to find that my hair from the roots outward was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was as truly brown and glossy as it was in my youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color. MEL. SEAMAN.
Essex Co. ss: Myla. Seaman came before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true, this 8th day of Feb., 1858.
Just. P. PATTEN, Justice of the Peace.

PITTSFORD, Vt., Aug. 1, 1857.
I hereby certify that my hair having become quite grey, I used Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y.; for four weeks and my hair was in that time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to be all it claims. WM. KINGSLEY,
Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt.

The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietor of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring and Restorative. It has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. This singular effect is not produced as when dyes are used; for it acts upon the natural secretions of coloring matter at the roots, and thus effects the change. Beside, the color produced is not a counterfeit, but the natural shade of youth. It does not color the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & Co., Troy, N.Y.

The Blacksmith.
Tune—Anvil Chorus.
When the Gods were all assembled
In their grand Olympic Hall,
'Twas proposed by that sly Mercury
That they should have a ball:
A ball! cried out young Vulcan,
I'll cast it at your feet;
And on the sounding anvil
Good work I will complete.
This is the blacksmith's table,
His dark mythology:—
Now let us turn the fable,
His modern work to see.
The Shoes for your good Horses,
The Tire for Wagon Wheel;
The Axes, Mauls and Adzes
Of Iron and of Steel,
For carpenters and farmers,
And all good working men;—
They'll make the work so handy,
You'll surely call again.
Their prices will be moderate,
They'll never make you wait;
Their shop is at the Ferry Ways;
Their names JACKSON & RAITT. all

UNITED STATES AND FOREIGN
PATENT AGENCY.
SAMUEL COOPER,
Late Principal Examiner of Patents in the United States Patent Office, at Washington.
HAS REMOVED HIS OFFICE TO
WEBSTER BANK BUILDING,
13 EXCHANGE STREET, BOSTON.
PATENTS secured in the United States, and in all other patent granting countries. Specifications and drawings prepared. Caveats filed.—Reconsiderations procured, of applications that have been rejected upon imperfectly prepared papers. Interferences prosecuted. Re-issues and extension procured, and in general, all business connected with the Patent Office transacted with care and promptness.
British and other foreign patents procured through prompt and confidential agents in London and Paris.
Persons residing at a distance may obtain all necessary information, and have their business transacted, by writing to the subscriber, without the trouble and expense of a visit to Washington.
He begs leave to refer those unacquainted with him to the following testimonials:—
From Hon. Chas. Mason, Commissioner of Patents.
U. S. Patent Office, Washington, Feb 25, 1853.
I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged as Solicitor, and has been in that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with the office; he has evinced a thorough acquaintance with the Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office, a close attention to the interests of his clients, and a marked candor and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him as one of the very best agents for the transaction of business with this office with whom I am acquainted.
CHARLES MASON, Commissioner.
From the Examiners of the Patent Office.
The undersigned, Principal and Assistant Examiners in the United States Patent Office, have for several years been well acquainted with Mr. Samuel Cooper, late a principal Examiner in this office, and take pleasure in stating that he is a gentleman of the highest moral character, of unquestioned knowledge in the business and practice of the office, and that his scientific attainments are such as eminently fit him for the business in which he is about to engage.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 26, 1858.

FREE TRADE—AND TRADERS.

Our oldest readers may remember, but the youngest cannot, how South Carolina nullified the U. S. tariff laws, and frothed at the mouth, defying the general government in Gen. Jackson's time, and threatening to "go to the death for the sugar" —how they sent out a vessel to Cuba, which was to bring out a cargo of sugar into Charleston without paying duty—and how Jackson sent Gen. Scott down there, who quietly brought the vessel to anchor under the guns of the fort, where the custom house officers boarded, took and kept possession,—and the duties were paid.

These old affairs are over, but now they have a Custom House building in Charleston, as if tariffs were to last always. It has been building a long time, and cost a pile of money. The Boston Journal thus notices the builder's reports:—

In 1854 we are told that "the most difficult and tedious parts, the piling and foundation, (which are well done) are now completed. The superstructure can be carried on very rapidly." Next year, however, we are informed that "the basement is completed to the belt course, with some unimportant exceptions." The engineer adds: "Altogether it presents a very imposing appearance." The year following, 1856: "The new Custom House in this city has not advanced as rapidly as could have been desired the past year." "The basement walls are completed to the belt course inclusive." This engineer, more cautious than his predecessors, says: "The building will present, when completed, a very imposing appearance." The last year, 1857: "The Custom House has not progressed as rapidly as was expected or could be desired." "The basement story is up," and some detached parts of the superstructure have been raised; but the important item of information is, that the superintendent "expects to finish the building by the end of September, 1860." Now, the reader who glances at the slow rate of progress thus far made, will naturally expect to find the expenditures on the same scale. But this is the statement: "Amount expended to September 30, 1847, $1,247,810,77!"

The following appears in the Secretary of Treasury's Report for 1852-'3:

Charleston, S. C.—Appropriations for a custom house are as follows:

1847, March 3,	$ 20,000	1851, March 3,	100,000
1848, August 12,	100,000	1852, August 31,	200,000
1849, March 3,	10,000	1853, March 3,	300,000
1850, Sept. 30,	100,000
			$800,000

This process of increasing the expenditures of government, might be traced in the subsequent reports—but this is enough to show how the thing was done. It is sufficient to say that Secretary Cobb's last report put the total appropriations up to that period, at $1,703,000. Senator Trumbull, in his late Chicago speech, said that the sum had since been carried up to about two millions; and he adds: "When I inquired in the Senate, of the Chairman of the Committee on Finance, how much the custom house at Charleston was to cost when completed, he replied that no estimate had been made!"

The Boston custom house—site, building and furnishing—cost about half of the sum already appropriated for that at Charleston. We have not just at hand the difference between the duties collected at the two ports, but it may be guessed at from the following official statement of the value of goods imported in the year ending June, 1857, as follows:

Boston	$44,840,083.
Charleston	2,016,368.

☞ The Bath Organ well says, dull as business is, and "blue" as some of our commercial men may feel at the present juncture, it is no time to lie down in the furrow and allow the grass and weeds to overrun our dearest interests. There never was a night yet that was not followed by daylight—there probably never will be. The darkest time is often just before day; and it is much more rational for a community in dull and depressed times to look up, than to moodily continue to look down; —much better to watch the rainbow, than to gaze upon the murky vapors of the fever-and-ague-breeding swamp.

☞ In the life of P. T. Barnum, written by himself, the following is one of his rules for success in business:

"Advertise your business. Do not hide your light under a bushel. Whatever your calling or occupation may be, if it needs support from the public, advertise it thoroughly and efficiently in some shape or other, that will arrest public attention.—I freely confess that what success I have had in my life, may fairly be attributed more to the press than to nearly all other causes combined. There may possibly be occupations that do not require advertising, but I cannot well conceive what they are."

THE CELEBRATION on Tuesday night generally passed off very well, but we have to announce the melancholly fact that several women were probably consumed in one of the large bonfires in Second Ward. We rode by shortly afterwards, and saw the remains of the hoops.—Louisville (Ky.) Journal.

GENERAL ASSOCIATION.

HAMPTON, August 25.

The sermon on Tuesday evening was by Rev. Mr. Ayers, of Hadley, Mass., delegate from the Massachusetts General Association, from Isaiah 26: 4—"Trust ye in the Lord Jehovah, in whom is everlasting strength." Trust in God, as the rock on which our hope rests, as the eternal shelter which secures our salvation, was described and recommended, as the means whereby man may become assimilated to the true God whom he worships—according to the well known and scriptural law by which the worship of a base deity debases the idolator, by which the worship of a cruel deity makes the barbarian more barbarous, and by which the worship of our Heavenly Father makes his children the more genial and fraternal. The effect of this trust and this assimilation would be to render the believer serene, steadfast, patient, long suffering, God-like; and the reason why Christians do not come up to this mark is, that their trust in Jehovah is so imperfect. We do not pretend to give the preacher's language—but his train of thought, which to us was beautiful and profitable.

This morning is as yesterday, and even more abundantly pleasant. The bell in the old dilapidated tower called the worshippers together soon after sunrise, to the morning prayer meeting—and now, just as I have read the sketch of yesterday's doings in this morning's Chronicle, it is time to look into the church and see how morals and benevolence prosper, which is the business of the forenoon.

By the way, the Rev. Dr. Elisha "Rockwell," whose death you noticed in this morning's paper, was Dr. Rockwood.

The delegate from Iowa addressed the meeting this forenoon. He spoke of the advance of the churches in numbers and strength, and stated that a great interest is felt there on the subject of slavery.—Many of the people, and of the church members are from slave states, and know and deplore the evil and withering influence of the "institution," which they hate most cordially.

He also spoke of the friendly but determined rivalry of the Presbyterian and Congregational Churches in the West, and he strongly preferred the latter.

By invitation of the First Church in Boscawen, the General Association is to be held in that place next year, being the 50th anniversary of its formation at that place.

It was voted that Rev. Dr. Bouton of Concord prepare a Historical Discourse for the occasion, and a committee was appointed to arrange other services.

Rev. Mr. Davis offered some remarks on Statistics.—And Rev. Mr. Ayers of Massachusetts related in a pleasing way, his vexatious but amusing experience in collecting church statistics in that state. He found the old DDs the hardest cases, and in getting some returns, he had to go himself and get them, and in others, to hire a man and send for them.

At 10 o'clock, the N. H. Educational Society held its Annual Meeting. Rev. Mr. Savage opened with prayer; Rev. Dr. Richards read the Report: twenty-three beneficiaries are in the State; and only between $600 to $700 paid for the object, last year.

The appropriations have been twice diminished within a year—and as the Am. Education Society will not run in debt,—it is a question to be answered, Will the churches sustain it, or shall it go down!

Rev. Mr. Tarbox of Boston, and Rev. Dr. Smith of New York, presented the claims of the Education Society to the audience.

The Sunday School object was next considered. At 11 o'clock, three Sunday Schools of Hampton came in, with some children from North Hampton, filling the centre of the house, and pressing the rest of the audience into the borders and gallery.

The exercises began with the hymn, "Come let our songs abound." Rev. Mr. Richardson of Dover offered prayer. Rev. Mr. Merrill of Tamworth read the Report, a very pleasant document;—Rev. Mr. Whiting of Portsmouth addressed the children first, and then offered, by request, Several Reasons why all Members of the Church (with few exceptions) should be in the Sabbath School.

At 2 o'clock, P. M. the New Hampshire Bible Society held its Annual Meeting.—Rev. Dr. Bouton presided. Opened with singing "There is a stream, whose gentle flow." Dr. Stone, the Treasurer read his Report. The Society has received and expended about $4000 the past year,—about $1500 less than the previous year.

Rev. Mr. Willey, Secretary, read extracts from his Report. About 15,000 copies of the Word, including 4000 of the whole bible, have been distributed by sale or otherwise, in the work of supplying all families in the State with the Bible, and all the children with the New Testament.—These reports were accepted, and Rev. Dr. Brigham, of New York, Sec. of the American Bible Society, addressed the people on the claims of the Society.

Rev. Mr. Hawks, of Boston, spoke of the Seaman's Cause, in terms of encouragement and hope, with as many interesting facts as he could crowd into a five minutes' speech, which he closed with the amusing illustration of a rich man in New York, who was invited to subscribe to the great Washington fund. Ah, said he, as he looked over the plan, I have a high degree of veneration for Washington; he was a great patriot; I can't give anything, but (laying his hand where his heart ought to be) I carry Washington in my heart!—Well sir, said the agent, I think Washington never got into a tighter place.

He was, quoth the speaker, like a great many professed friends of Poor Jack. He's a good fellow—I wish him well! But they give nothing and do nothing.

We gave the speaker a good refreshing laugh, as he gave us a fine specimen of good humor.

Rev. Dr. Haven of Boston, (Methodist) made an able, supplementary speech on the bible, and in behalf of bible societies.—This closed the afternoon services.

The evening is devoted to a Conference Meeting, at which Rev. J. C. Webster (a native of this place, and a son of the late Rev. Josiah Webster,) presides.

☞ It seems astonishing to landsmen, that so many collisions occur between vessels on the broad ocean—but sailors know that this is one of the greatest dangers of maritime experience. A good seaman, who resigned a fair prospect of promotion, told us he would have continued to do business on the great waters, but for the fear of being run down, from which he had several narrow escapes. A week or two since, two of the Cunard steamers smashed into each other, and two of the Portland steamers struck near the shoals, and on Wednesday, during the fog "a schooner run into the steamer Daniel Webster near Rockland, breaking the cutwater of the steamer, but doing no other injury to her. The schooner soon disappeared in the fog, so that the officers were unable to ascertain what vessel it was, or how much damage she had sustained."

THE MASSACRE AT JEDDAH.—A despatch states that 200 people implicated in the Jeddah massacre have been arrested. Probably it would have been more correct to say that a large number of people suspected of having been concerned in the outrage have been seized by the authorities, and that out of these a few will be selected as victims to appease the indignation of Europe. What Europe wants, however, is a stronger government in Turkey, so that all through the empire something like equal justice may be done, and outrage either prevented or promptly punished. The London Morning Post thinks that if very signal punishment be not immediately meted out to the murderers of Jeddah, and if the strongest pledges be not taken from the Sultan for the protection of Christians, it will be utterly unsafe for Europeans to reside in any part of the Turkish dominions, and that the tragedy of Jeddah will be repeated in a hundred other places.

DEMOCRACY.—The following from a speech delivered by Senator Clay of Alabama, at the last session of Congress, shows what a trust of the people some of the leaders of the Democratic party now entertain:—

"The great security of our rights of life, liberty and property is in the responsibility of those who make and of those who execute the law. Established it as a principle, that to give sanction to law it must be approved by the majority at the ballot box, and you take away this security, and surrender those rights to the most capricious, rapacious and cruel of tyrants. I regret to see the growing spirit in Congress and throughout the country to democratize our government, to submit every question whether pertaining to organic or municipale laws, to the vote of the people.

ADVERTISING.—The Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, noting the falling off in advertising which has accompanied the hard times, says:

Discontinuing to advertise is like taking down one's sign. It is a sort of intimation of retirement from business, and the public treat it as such. Or they may regard it as evidence that something has gone wrong in the business, which requires privacy for investigation. Whatever construction may be put upon it, the result is disastrous. While business creates advertising, it is equally true that advertising creates business. And even in the worst of times, advertising always pays well, and the more of it there is, the greater will be the circulation of money, and the sooner will be restored a condition of prosperity.

THE RAGLANS.—The approach of cool weather brings out this new style of overdress, which promises to become quite the rage among the ladies. Though introduced last spring, but few were made up, and those altogether in cloth, serving for use in travelling, and in the cold spells during the summer. The cloth is much lighter than ordinary ladies' cloth, and dark in color. The Raglan is a long and loose sacque, with wide, flowing sleeves, trimmed only with a silk tassel here and there. It is buttoned close up to the throat, and finished with a small collar, over which no muslin or lace collar is worn. There is no trimming on the other portions, except a row of buttons down the front, serving for fastenings. The effect is not so graceful as the circular, but it is becoming to tall figures. It will be worn almost universally as soon as the fall opens. —N. Y. Express.

WHAT NEXT?—Old Noah telegraphed a few miles through the air by means of doves, and Moses walked through a narrow sea on dry land. These were great feats in their day, and almighty power had a hand in them. But what would Noah and Moses have said, had they been told that when the world got older, Queen Victoria and President Buchanan would talk together three thousand miles assunder, through the channels of the ocean, twenty-four hundred fathoms deep?

Lord Geo. Townsend, brother of the Marquis, appeared at the Insolvent Court on the 10th, for his discharge. He was opposed by several creditors, one of whom said that, considering the drinking habits of the insolvent he was better in prison than out. He had an allowance of £500 a year from his family. The case was adjourned, and the noble lord was sent back to prison. English paper.

HITS FROM PRENTICE.—The Washington Union says that "the banks are divorced from the Democracy." If they are, they had better not renew the matrimonial connection, unless they are in a hurry to be widows.

The Detroit Advertiser says "that rats are continually gnawing into the Treasury." Rats, as everybody knows, die in an exhausted receiver, and we suppose they will share the same fate in an exhausted Treasury.

The editor of the Southern Mercury talks about boring people for the "simples." May be he thinks that everybody has the simples; he certainly bores everybody.

ANTI-TOBACCO.—The General Association of Connecticut, at their late session, adopted the following resolution:

Resolved, That whereas the habitual use of tobacco in any form is uncleanly, hurtful to mind and body, and of injurious example; therefore we commend the pastors and churches of this State to take into serious consideration the inquiry, whether it is not the duty of Christians to discontinue the use of it, and discourage the culture, manufacture, sale and use of the article.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.
THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.
THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic that is made.
It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.
Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.
Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin "to be not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."
It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.
For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.
May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. E. Pecker, 20 Elm st; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st; M. Davis & Co., 51 Blackstone st; R. E. P. RUSSELL'S
Patent Mastic Roofing.
Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.
THE Inventor of this Roofing labored many years to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value, both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN!
This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.
We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

BRADSTREET'S
Patent Japan Weather Strip.
This Strip for outside doors is the most useful, and the very best improvement ever those now in use, and the latest, (like the Atlantic Cable,) to keep out Snow, Rain, Wind and Cold from your houses.
This Strip is applied to the bottom of the door by screws, with an ELLIPTICAL SPRING—(which cannot get out of order,) that causes the door to rise and fall, on opening or shutting the door.
THE PATENT STRIP is the most simple and durable of anything of the kind ever invented.—It may be regarded as the "the plus ultra" in this line, obviating all difficulties in management—It will save the cost of the article in one winter, in keeping the house warm and dry.
The Prices for putting on Doors: Japan Finish, $1 50 each. Bronze Finish, $2 50 each.
Every one put on by the subscriber will be warranted, and if not successful, no pay required.
Those who wish for the same may leave orders at the store of JOSEPH H. CLARK, corner of Market Square and Daniel street, where a sample may be seen, or at the residence of the subscriber, No. 15 Deanforth street, North Portsmouth,—which will be promptly attended to.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SCURVY.
Scurvy is not confined to Arctic travellers and neglected sailors; it shows its disgusting features also among the ill-fed poor in our filthy lanes. Nothing has been found so speedily efficacious in arresting the decomposing tendency of the vital fluids in scorbutic disease as the PERUVIAN SYRUP.

AN OFFENSIVE BREATH.
There is no malady more disgusting than an offensive breath. Many persons are not aware their breath is bad, and it is a delicate subject to mention. All may be positively free from this disgusting malady by using the Persian Balm as a Dentrifice. Wet your brush in water, pour on it one drop of the Persian Balm, and wash your teeth night and morning. It neutralizes the acids of the mouth, and restores to the breath a delicious fragrance and freshness.

TESTS OF CHARACTER.—Lord Byron once said "You never know a man's temper until you have been imprisoned in a ship with him, or a woman's until you have married her". We are able to add, that no one can know how many use HEINSTREET'S HAIR COLORING unless they see it applied, for it restores the hair to the precise shade of youth.

LADIES OF PORTSMOUTH.
IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.
Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer.
The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Blotches and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.
THE DESTROYER is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the ne plus ultra of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimples also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.
There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.
The Parisian ladies have used it for years; consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

☞ The catch of mackerel at the Isles of Shoals the present season has been unusually light. The proprietor of a seine says that he has not taken fish enough to pay the expenses of the outfit of his seine, whereas, in ordinary seasons, he would have had more than $2000 worth of mackerel in salt. Other seiners have had a similar want of success. The fish caught recently have been principally "tinkers" or very small mackerel.

☞ Frank Leslie's Magazine and Gazette of Fashion is about as good as most any two other Magazines of the sort we know of. The literary contents comprise a great variety of light and solid reading, with numerous illustrations; and in the fashion department—patterns, &c., the ladies say this old favorite has no superior. Mr. Morse has it—for September—in fact he has everything in the Magazine, Periodical and Newspaper line that you want; and always serves them promptly too.

"STAR OF PEACE" is the name of a new ship just built at Newburyport. She is owned by Capt. Charles Hill and Charles Q. Hill of Boston, Capt. Lambert of Portsmouth, and Moses Davenport and John Currier, Jr., the builder, of Newburyport. She is commanded by Capt. Charles B. Stevens, of Newburyport.

VINDICATION.—Messrs. Editors:—We noticed in the Chronicle of Tuesday, a contradiction of our "item" in Friday's issue, headed "Almost an Accident." We did not say the hand-car was thrown from the track, but a platform-car, used occasionally with the former, for various purposes. The hand-car left the former with two men to secure some hay, and proceeded down the track with two or three other men, and undoubtedly placed their car on the usual turn-out, in season. But the platform-car was on the track one-half minute before the train passed, and it was only the throwing it from the track over the edge of the bank, that prevented an accident. If that was the "usual turn-out," we were in error. We are liable to mistakes, and are willing to acknowledge and correct them when made, but cannot suffer the imputation of such an egregious blunder as we are charged with, to rest upon us. C.

SUPERIOR MORAVIAN BLACK LEAD, imported directly from the mines, and manufactured into Stove Polish by Wondra & Pfeiffer, Portsmouth, N. H. This Stove Polish, the first of the kind, we are told, ever offered for sale in this country, is prepared from the pure lead, as found in the Moravian mines; and is recommended as superior to any Stove Polish in use, for the fineness of the lustre which it imparts, and the ease with which it may be applied.—See advertisement.

☞ The schooner Iowa, from Newburyport, on Monday made an excursion to "Pepperell's Cove," where an excellent chowder was provided for the company.—The afternoon was very profitably spent in examining the various objects of interest at Kittery. ☞ In Boston Police Court, Tuesday, David R. Brown, alias "Dr. Brown," charged with causing the death of Emily A. Thompson, waived the reading of the complaint, and the examination was postponed until Thursday, to allow the coroner's inquest time to conclude their investigation. Up to the adjournment of the Court, he had been unable to procure bail in $5000, although he is reputed to be a man of property.

THE SHOE TRADE.—The Haverhill, Mass., Gazette says:

During the past week there have been a good many shoe buyers in town, and a large quantity of shoes have been sold, but the price is so low that at the present rates of labor and stock no profit can be made in the manufacture. Wages have been reduced somewhat of late, and will probably be lower still, unless there are quicker sales, better prices, and the price of stock is reduced.

When the Princess Helena was born, it was told the Princess Royal that she had a little sister. "Oh! that is delightful!" cried innocent little royalty; "let me go and tell mamma."

FROM EUROPE, 4 DAYS LA ER.

The steamship Canada, from Liverpool on the 14th inst., arrived at Halifax Thursday evening, bringing three days later news. Among the passengers was Sir. W. Fenwick Williams, the hero of Kars, in honor of whom there were manifestations of great respect at Halifax.—About the Cable there is no news beyond what was already known in this country. The Lord Mayor is to give a banquet to the Atlantic Telegraph officers on the first of September.

Political news is scarce. The Times, in view of the ministerial crisis in Canada, advocated a federation of the Britis colonies in the Northeast of America. The reduction of the dividends on the English railways calls forth severe comment from the press on the general mismanagement of the companies. A serious riot had occurred in Kilkenny, Ireland, but had been quelled. Napoleon III. is continuing his tour through Brittany. Negotiations for the settlement of the difficulties between Spain and Mexico were expected soon to commence. Diplomatic intercourse between Naples and France and England is likely to be resumed. Queen Victoria had arrived at Berlin on a visit to her daughter. The American Sub-marine Company at Sebastopol has failed. A panic exists in Constantinople in regard to the collisions with the Montenegrins. It is said that a thousand inhabitants of Kolaschin were massacred by a band of Montenegrins on the 28th of July. Despatches from China indicate that a peaceful termination of the difficulties heretofore pending between England and France and that country will soon be reached.

MORE ZEAL THAN DISCRETION.—A joke is told of one of the New York night inspectors. It happened a few evenings since, shortly after the wharf watch was set, a plain looking countryman was seen to leave a brig lying at pier No. 6, with a suspicious looking bundle in his hands.—It was a large package and a heavy one, and the stranger tugged along up the pier with it, and turned the corner, sweating under his load. "Aha! my fine fellow," ejaculated the lynx-eyed inspector—a sharp-set official by the way—"aha! I've got you this time!" and approaching the countryman, he said, "Good evening.—Let me relieve you of that load, my friend."

"Eh?" respoded the man uneasily.—"I'll take that bundle, if you please." "Thank you." "It's heavy, isn't it?" said the officer. "YAAS. Which way you goin', nabur?" "Come along—it's all right; I'll take care of this—Come on!" "Edzactly—much obliged. It's tarnal heavy, an' I've got to git up to the Howard House." "Come along," continued the officer, knowingly; "we'll see about that!" and in a few minutes they reached the Howard, when the stranger observed that the inspector had no idea of halting.

"Halloo! which way, friend? I'm stopping here," said the countryman. "It's no matter. I've seized this property, and you can explain matters at the custom-house to-morrow," continued the shrewd inspector. "Luk here, friend! Not tow fast, if you please. I've paid my dooties on that 'ere lot o' goods. Jest you look at this, now," and he drew forth a bit of paper from his vest pocket, signed by the collector.

"Why, you scamp! said the inspector, "this is a permit for your goods! Why didn't you show that before?" Why, in the fust place, you didn't ask me tew; and in the next place, ef I had, you'd seen me break my back afore you ha' brought that bundle clear up here for me, I know! The Inspector blowed his nose, and cursing the countryman for a fool, turned down Pine street instanter to resume his lonely round. The stranger put his parcel in charge of the servant and grinned a ghastly grin, as the over-zealous watchman departed.

100 Songs of Scotland,
MUSIC AND WORDS.

ALTHOUGH many editions of "Songs of Scotland" have been from time to time published, there is not one that combines the various features of the present work, which is a comprehensive selection of the choicest melodies, adapted to their appropriate words, in a cheap, correct, and portable form, is perfectly unique
No national melodies have ever attained the lasting and universal popularity which is enjoyed by those of Scotland, which are equally welcome in the palace, in the cottage, and at the "ingleside." Price only 40 Cents.

THE PATENT
"Old Dominion" Coffee Pot.

THIS New Coffee Pot, for which a Patent has been issued, possesses this advantage over all others: You may boil coffee in it for any length of time, without a particle of the strength or aroma escaping. One-fourth less coffee is required, and the full flavor of the berry retained.
Thousands of this new Coffee Pot have already been sold, and the demand from all parts of the United States is rapidly on the increase. Wherever introduced, it has given the most complete satisfaction.
A large number of testimonials have been received from those who have used it. We have space for but a few:

From the Portsmouth Journal.

"OLD DOMINION."—If you wish to know what good coffee is, when all the aroma is retained in the coffee, be sure to buy one of the Old Dominion Coffee Pots, of Mr. Carleton. Around such a luxury, it is pleasant to be Pot-companions. We supposed the high commendations of the Old Dominion all puffing, until we tried it.

THE OLD DOMINION COFFEE POT.—We have had in use now, for over two months, one of these much talked of Coffee Pots, and we find that it does, in all respects, what is claimed for it. You may boil coffee in the Old Dominion for any length of time you choose, and yet lose none of the delicate aroma or strength. This desirable end is attained by a simple but ingenious contrivance, in the shape of a condenser, with double syphons, by means of which the aroma-bearing vapor, which usually goes all over the house, or up the chimney, is condensed and thrown back into the coffee boiler, and you have its delicious flavor in the cup you bring to your lips. In all our experience of coffee drinking, we never found anything equal to what we now have daily at our morning meal. It is the perfection of coffee.—[Philadelphia Evening Journal.

The New Yorker thus endorses the Old Dominion: "It gives the entire strength as well as the grateful aroma of the berry, and by its simple construction is easy of use, always in order, and furnishes good coffee at one-fourth the cost of the old and unsatisfactory method of boiling."

The draught which it makes is nectar, compared with that of old-time coffee pots.—Springfield, (Mass.) Republican.

The Lady's Book says:—"The 'Old Dominion' is beyond question, the best coffee maker ever introduced to the public, and the only one by which all the strength and virtue of the coffee can be extracted by boiling without loss of aroma. We commend it with the full knowledge that it will do all that is claimed for it.

SIZES AND PRICES.—1 qt. $1.50 each; 1½ qt., 1.75; 2 qt., 2.00; 3 qt., 2.50; 4 qt., 3.00; 6 qt., 3.50; 10 qt., 5.00; 16 qt., 7.50. Larger sizes for Hotels and Restaurants.

Ayer's Pills

Are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive apparatus, and diseases arising from impurity of the blood. A large part of the complaints that afflict mankind will be found to yield promptly to these pills, such as Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Headache, Pain in the Side, Rheumatism, Gout, Dropsy, Worms, Jaundice, Erysipelas, Eruptions, Pimples, Tumors, Salt Rheum, Ulcers, Dysentery, Fever and Ague, and Liver Complaints, which are the consequence of their disease, and which can be cured only by purging them out with these pills. Many of these complaints are the forerunners of more dangerous diseases, and should be cured at once, to prevent their fatal results. Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Piles, Fistula, Pain in the Side, Heart, Kidneys, Stomach, Bowels, Flatulence, Dropsy, Suppression, Gravel, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Erysipelas, Eruptions, Pimples, Tumors, Salt Rheum, Ulcers, Dysentery, Fever and Ague, and Liver Complaints, which are the consequence of their disease, and which can be cured only by purging them out with these pills. Many of these complaints are the forerunners of more dangerous diseases, and should be cured at once, to prevent their fatal results.

As a Family Physic.

From Dr. E. M. Gerardin, of New Orleans.

"Your Pills are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass all others in famous. They are mild, sure, safe, and pleasant to take. Being free from calomel or any other mineral, they are as much to be preferred to all the old nauseous drugs as they are superior to all other pills."

For Jaundice and all Liver Complaints.

From Dr. Theodore Dale, of New York City.

"Your Pills are very beneficial to their purpose, to be sure, but I find their beneficial effects upon the Liver very remarkable. They cure it by purging it of the cause of its disease, which is, in most cases, the only one necessary to be removed to restore the healthy action of the liver."

For Dyspepsia and Liver Complaints.

Dysentery — Diarrhœa — Relax.

From Dr. J. G. Owen, of Chicago.

"Your Pills have been in use in my practice, and I hold them in high esteem as the best purgative I have ever found. Their superior effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy when given in small doses for those dyspeptic complaints which are so prevalent, and which yield so promptly to the influence of these pills, when properly administered, that I now rely on them almost exclusively for the cure of those obstinate and troublesome complaints."

Constipation — Costiveness.

From Dr. J. P. Vaughn, Windsor, Canada.

"I have used your Pills in my family for the cure of Costiveness, and have found them to be the most agreeable and effectual cathartic we have used. They are so much better than the nauseous drugs we have been in the habit of using, that they are received by my family as a great blessing. I have also used them in my practice, and find them to be the most reliable cathartic I have met with, and I shall use them in preference to all others."

For Heartburn — Sick Headache — Foul Stomach — Flatulency — Dizziness — Flatulence — Paralysis — Fits — &c.

From Dr. Samuel Scott, Toronto.

"I have used your Pills in my family for the last year, and find them to be the most reliable cathartic we have met with, and I shall use them in preference to all others."

Ayer's Pills are sold by druggists everywhere, and by dealers in medicine throughout the country, who receive their supplies from the wholesale agents, who are also supplied with Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, Cathartic Pills, Sarsaparilla, Cathartic Pills, Ague Pills, Liver Pills, Cathartic Pills, Ague Pills, Liver Pills, Cathartic Pills, Ague Pills, Liver Pills

A GOLDEN THOUGHT SET IN PEARLS.—In speaking of marriages for money, Miss Muloch, the eminent writer, observes, and we think very justly:

Marriage ought always to be a question, not of necessity, but choice. Every girl ought to be taught that a hasty, loveless union stamps upon her as foul dishonor as one of those connections which omit the legal ceremony altogether—and that, however pale, dreary and toilsome a single life may be, unhappy married life must be tenfold worse—an ever-haunting temptation, an incurable regret, a torment from which there is no escape but death.

☞ The New York News says: "A friend informs us that he recently purchased some beautiful red and apparently ripe peaches from a fruit seller just opposite the Post Office, and that on peeling them he found them perfectly green under the skin, the seller having painted the skins red to make them saleable."

The "sell" is not original with him—the ladies have tried it successfully, on themselves, many a time.

☞ Mrs. Ellis, a true wife and woman of England, says to her young countrywomen—

"The truth is, my dear girls, you want, generally speaking, more liberty and less fashionable restraint; more kitchen and less parlor; more leg exercise and less sofa; more making pudding and less piano; more frankness and less mock-modesty; more breakfast and less bustle."

ADVERTISING.—"Visit Oak Hall, Boston; George Simmons; 1835"—is painted on the Old Man of the Mountain, at Franconia, and in German on a rock at Nova Zembla; and all the world over, between these two almost inaccessible points.

COLLEGE ANNIVERSARY.—The celebration of the four hundredth anniversary of the Magdalen College, Oxford, was attended by the bishops of Exeter and Oxford.—Among the celebrated names enrolled among its alumni, are those of Dr. Hammond, and Gibbon, the historian, and Dr. Routh, the late President.—Correspondent of the Churchman.

MISTAKING THE CAPTAIN.—A green Vermonter enlisted in the naval service, and upon his first visit to his ship, espying the marine in the gangway pacing backwards and forwards with his musket, he accosted him with—"Hello, Capting, out a-shooting lunes this marning—hey?"

☞ The Albany Atlas says that the quantity of wheat left at tide water this year, reduced to flour, shows an increase of 1,233,141 bbls. of flour, as compared with the corresponding period last year.

☞ A cow which attacked some women and children picking berries in a pasture in Templeton, made a misstep while following them down a steep hill, and broke two of her legs.

☞ A pet deer in St. Louis entered his owner's sleeping apartment and devoured $47 in bills, which were lying loose on a lounge in the room. Rather expensive fodder that.

Men are born with two eyes, but with one tongue, in order that they should see twice as much as they say. The same is applicable to boys and women.

Will the Atlantic cable bring fresh news through so much salt water?

UNITED STATES AND FOREIGN
PATENT AGENCY.
SAMUEL COOPER,
Late Principal Examiner of Patents in the United States Patent Office, at Washington,
HAS REMOVED HIS OFFICE TO
WEBSTER BANK BUILDING,
13 EXCHANGE STREET, BOSTON.
PATENTS secured in the United States, and in all other patent granting countries. Specifications and drawings prepared. Caveats filed.—Reconsiderations procured, of applications that have been rejected upon imperfectly prepared papers. Interferences prosecuted. Reissues and extensions procured, and in general, all business connected with the Patent Office transacted with care and promptness.
British and other foreign patents procured through prompt and confidential agents in London and Paris.
Persons residing at a distance may obtain all necessary information, and have their business transacted, by writing to the subscriber, without the trouble and expense of a visit to Washington.
He begs leave to refer those unacquainted with him to the following testimonials:—
From Hon. Chas. Mason, Commissioner of Patents.
U. S. PATENT OFFICE, Feb 23, 1858.
I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged as Solicitor, and has been in that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with the office; he has evinced a thorough acquaintance with the Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office, a close attention to the interests of his clients, and a marked candor and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him as one of the very best agents for the transaction of business with this office with whom I am acquainted.
CHARLES MASON, Commissioner.
From the Examiners of the Patent Office.
The undersigned, Principal and Assistant Examiners in the United States Patent Office, have for several years been well acquainted with Mr. Samuel Cooper, late a principal Examiner in this office, and take pleasure in stating that he is a gentleman of the highest moral character, of unquestioned knowledge in the business and practice of the office, and that his scientific attainments are such as eminently fit him for the business in which he is about to engage.

LETTER FROM "VERITAS."

Aug. 25.

Messrs. Editors:—Since my last letter to you, we have had all the varieties of weather set down in the almanac—rain and hail, wind and snow, with abundance of thunder and lightning. There was a slight frost also on the night of the 23d. Still vegetation progresses, and promises abundant harvest. Well would it be if the virtues of individuals and communities grew and strengthened under all the temptations and adverse circumstances that beset their path. Would they not, if there was a more set and determinate purpose that it should be so?—if our deficiences were understood, and there was not so much vainglorying.

The great event of the age will immortalize August as the Fourth does July.—May be it will bring another universal holiday. How glorious it will be when the new world can tell the old slavery is abolished and America is free. We shall not live to see the joyful day, but it will come as sure as Jehovah reigns. The accounts from Missouri are encouraging. I wish the free States would unite and offer a bonus to the first State that would emancipate. Then to another, and so on till all were free. Delaware would probably follow Missouri. There is not a Southern city or State where a Northern invalid can go without being brought into contact with slavery. If we could have Cuba honestly, and without slavery, it would be good on this account. As it is, it is preferable to our own States, for we do not hear of their tarring and feathering anybody for their opinions' sake.

Did you read that obituary in the Boston Courier? I did, and thought of cutting it out to send to you for a text. The paragraph from the Transcript is quite to the point. I think the editor would make a better foot man to some man who has made a fortune by keeping a slop-shop or selling rum, than an enlightener of the public. The press and the pulpit should never be servile, in any country, but especially in one whose constitution declares "that all men are born free and equal."—But as the first part is made to apply only to people of a particular colored skin, he may think the other applies only to people whose parents are rich, or whose ancestors have been for two or three generations.—Butler, in his new work, speaks of "the American peerage." Perhaps it is to be an institution, now the declaration is discovered to be a "string of glittering generalities." The church seems to be copying the fashion of the world very fast. A person is valued very much by the length of his purse and the position he occupies. I hear that they have first and second class sewing circles in Boston, and expect soon to hear that they have a first and second class communion table. I asked a poor widow the other day if she attended church. Her reply was, "Such as I are not wanted; it is only those who have money." I asked a family in poor circumstances if the minister had called on them. The mother, who appeared to be a woman of more than ordinary refinement and intelligence, replied, with quite an amusing expression, that "she supposed he was not sent to the lost sheep of the house of Israel."

I thought when I saw in your paper that Mr. Coolidge resolved to preach Jesus, and his people were willing he should leave, that I would like to help build a chapel in some large town and help to support him as its minister. But if the statement in regard to his last sermon is correct, he is not the man I took him to be. Any man who could say that the preaching of Channing, Ware and Gannett led to immorality, is not much to be depended on.

I hope Dr. Cheever's address at Dartmouth will be published. He told them some truths which it is well should be heard and pondered, particularly when for the sake of gain such a man as Mr. Kalloch is invited back to Boston. To be sure David penned his best Psalms after his sad fall, but he confessed his iniquity and did not hide his sin. But admitting him to be entirely innocent, which he may be, of the charge laid against him, his own confession makes him unfit to occupy the pulpit. A man who will call for "gin slings" at a bar-room, should never undertake to preach the gospel until he is really and truly converted. No man is forced into the ministry. Yours, VERITAS.

☞ Miss Isabella Cass, daughter of Hon. Lewis Cass, was married at Stonington on Tuesday, to His Excellency Roest Van Limburg, Minister to the United States from the Netherlands.

GENERAL ASSOCIATION.

HAMPTON, Thursday, Aug. 26.

It was a pleasant sight yesterday, to behold the Sabbath Schools of three religious societies in this place, assembled under one roof, and meeting for one purpose, viz. improvement. These societies differ in name, and somewhat in creed, and in their past history is written much strife and not a little bitterness, all of which is now deplored or laughed at,—as it deserves to be. Their union is progress in the right direction;—and now let us propose for them, one more united act, for the benefit of the whole. There stands here a good strong well proportioned meeting house, in which their fathers all worshipped together.—This house is only 50 or 60 years old, yet the root above the bell is dropping to pieces, the clapboarding of the house is shabby, and inside, (we are sorry to say it,) vandal hands have broken down the rail of the pulpit stairs, and damaged some seats and pews. Now this building could be thoroughly repaired and painted outside for $300. Inside, a ten-dollar bill would make it clean, neat and convenient for town business,—and it would be just the place for all union meetings like that Sunday School service yesterday,—and for hundreds of other purposes.—To let it go down would be a great blunder and a great folly. This wealthy people should not suffer it:—If they were poor, they could not afford it; for a poor little town house would cost double the money, and then not be half so good.

This day, the closing day of the N. H. General Association is as pleasant as the others, and considerably warmer, as the wind is from the south.

The exercises of to-day have been; the morning prayer meeting at 6 o'clock; the association proper at 8, to close up its business; the business meeting of the N. H. Missionary Society at 9; and the public meeting of the same at 10. At this hour the Annual Report was read; and then came the anniversary sermon by Rev. Asa D. Smith, DD. of New York city.

This afternoon the closing sacramental sermon was by Rev. Mr. Parker, of the South Church in Concord; and the Lord's supper administered to a large body of communicants.

According to the report read by Rev. Dr. Stone (of the Congregational Journal,) Secretary:

The N. H. Missionary Society the past year has received about $6000, or about $900 less than last. Yet this, rightly explained and understood, does not show weakness, but strength. The subscriptions and donations have increased. The receipts from legacies only have diminished. But the expenditures and promises of the Trustees are so increased that the treasury asks for aid.

Rev. Dr. Smith's missionary sermon was from Isa. 65: 17—"For behold I create new heavens and a new earth." Subject, the Diversities caused by Sin: and as its counterpart, the tendency of Gospel to Union and Brotherhood among men, and to the gathering together in one, all things in Christ.

Another tendency of sin is monopoly; exhibited among the Jews and the Gentiles;—running out in the benefit of clergy, caste, slavery, &c., &c. Christianity would counteract all this, and so far as it is real and active it does so.

Another tendency of sin is sensualism; exhibited in the examples of the first chapter of Romans. But true religion, while it does not repudiate, does subordinate the senses and the body to the spirit and the soul. This it does gradually; dimly by Noah and Moses; clearly by Jesus; actively by living christians and live men down to our own days.

This sermon was admirable in tone, spirit and elocution. It was prefaced by the hymn containing these lines:

"Jesus shall reign where'er the sun,
Does his successive journeys run.
In him the tribes of Adam boast
More blessings than their father lost."

In the course of their sessions, the General Association, to their credit be it spoken, unanimously passed resolutions approving the action of the Am. Tract Soc'y at Boston, (not New York);—condemning the retrograde action of the Am. Bible Society;—approving and aiding temperance efforts;—and exchewing the evil and folly of the tobacco institution.

The resolution on the Bible Society's force pas is as follows:

Resolved, That the Gen. Association of New Hampshire deeply regret the action of the American Bible Society, as prejudicial to its best interests, when receding from the emendations of the late committee on revisions.

The resolution on Temperance, which follows, was offered by Rev. Mr. Whiting, who prefaced it by a brief speech, in which he alluded to the fact that Rev. Mr. Webster of Hampton, deceased, was one of the earliest temperance men in this region;—and was, with Rev. Dr. French, among the strong supporters of this reform.

Resolved, That we, the Congregational Ministers of New Hampshire, feel called upon to renew the early efforts, in the modes of that time, to persuade from Intemperance, by preaching upon the sin of it, by constantly remembering it in the prayers of the sanctuary, and by occasional lectures and neighborhood meetings—to the end that we may encourage and stimulate all good men in this blessed work.

The following resolution, on Tobacco, which includes a gratifying fact, was also offered by the same mover, Rev. Mr. Whiting, who refrained from making a speech on the subject, it being too dirty a matter to handle.

Resolved, Grateful for our personal freedom from the debasing vice of using tobacco—until not more than one, if any, pastor among us continues it—we will cordially aid all other bodies of ministers in attaining the like blessed freedom from such spots in their feasts of charity.

Rev. Drs. Dimmick and Withington, of Newburyport, were present in the meetings to-day. The latter, with Rev. Dr. Richards of Hanover, performed the sacramental services.

The singing, throughout the meetings, was by the congregation; and many of the ministers being singers, the effect was pleasant.

ANCIENT.—Benjamin Chase, Jr., of Auburn, N. H., did a few days ago, what probably few people ever did or could do; viz. He visited a house erected by his great-grandmother's great-grandiathor.—The house is in Newbury, Mass., and is owned and occupied by Paul Jaques, who is seventy-six years old, and is the great-great-grandson of the builder, who was Elisha Ilsley, a son of William Ilsley, who was the first of the name in Newbury.—Elisha was married in March, 1667-'8; and the house was probably erected about that time.

The Congregational Journal learns that there has been a very extensive work of grace in Lyndeboro,' and that some fifty have recently indulged a hope connected with the Congregational Society.—Keene Sentinel.

If the writer of that paragraph meant that it should read thus, then it would seem that the "some fifty" do really and literally "pin their faith" on "the Congregational church."

A FAT BOY.—Mr. Joseph Lake, of Chichester, N.H., has a son, a lad of less than seven years, who weighs one hundred and twenty-eight pounds. The parents are less than ordinary size, and when born the child weighed but six and a half pounds. His growth has been uniform, and he is a hearty, sprightly lad, of good intellect and hard muscles, who may live to become a great man.

NEW METHOD OF RAISING THE PRICE OF WHEAT.—The Madison (Wis.) Patriot announces that the Democracy are going to ignore all divisions, take their stand on the Cincinnati platform, and "restore general prosperity, and a fair price of wheat to the farmers of Wisconsin."

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH.—Private despatches, which are continually coming over the wires from Trinity Bay, concur in stating the Ocean Telegraph to be in good working order, and represent the prospect, in regard to a despatch of business, as quite encouraging.

☞ The Boston papers of Thursday afternoon publish despatches "Eleven days later from Europe, via Atlantic Cable—Highly important from China—Later from India," &c.

A treaty of peace has been concluded with China, which secures indemnification to England and France.

Bombay dates are in England to July 19th. The mutiny in India was being quelled.

☞ The Boston Courier calls "Republicanism, the common danger" of our country. Well, it may be so—but if the United States ever gets to be a Republic in fact as well as in name, the Courier certainly won't be answerable for it.

☞ A writer in the Boston Courier, who has been luxuriating at the Atlantic House on Rye Beach, says: "Truly I know of no summer resort to which one tired of the noise and dust of the city, can visit with more certainty of finding all that reasonable heart could wish."

☞ Gen. Harney has gone to St. Louis to make preparations for a speedy departure to the Pacific; and if the Indians remain hostile, a vigorous warfare will be prosecuted against them, until they become tractable.

☞ Secretary Toucey visited Brooklyn Navy Yard on Wednesday.

YELLOW FEVER IN NEW ORLEANS.—The deaths Monday were seventy-four,—Tuesday, 44.

SCURVY.

Scurvy is not confined to Arctic travellers and neglected sailors; it shows its disgusting features also among the ill-fed poor in our filthy lanes. Nothing has been found so speedily efficacious in arresting the decomposing tendency of the vital fluids in scorbutic disease as the PERUVIAN SYRUP.

AN OFFENSIVE BREATH.

There is no malady more disgusting than an offensive breath. Many persons are not aware their breath is bad, and it is a delicate subject to mention. All may be positively free from this disgusting malady by using the Persian Balm as a Dentrifice. Wet your brush in water, pour on it one drop of the Persian Balm, and wash your Teeth night and morning. It neutralizes the acids of the mouth, and restores to the breath a delicious fragrance and freshness.

The Blacksmith.

Tune—Anvil Chorus.

When the Gods were all assembled
In their grand debating Hall,
'T was proposed by that sly Mercury
That they should have a ball;
A ball! cried out young Vulcan,
I'll cast it at your feet;
And on the sounding anvil
Good work I will complete.
This is the blacksmith's table,
His dark mythology:—
Now let us turn the table,
His modern work to see.
The Shoes for your good Horses,
The Tire for Wagon Wheel;
The Axes, Hoes and Adzes
Of Iron and of Steel,
For carpenters and farmers,
And all who work in metal;—
They'll make the tools so handy,
You'll surely call again.
Their prices will be moderate,
They'll never make ye wait;
Their shop is at the Ferry Ways;
Their names JACKSON & RAITT. all

E. P. RUSSELL'S
Patent Mastic Roofing.
Imperious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE Inventor of this Roofing labored many years to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value, both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN!

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

ECONOMY. ECONOMY.

THE subscriber has been appointed Exclusive Agent for this city in furnishing and putting on
BRADSTREET'S
Patent Japan Weather Strip.

This Strip for outside doors is the most useful, and the very best improvement ever those now in use, and the latest, (like the Atlantic Cable,) to keep out Snow, Rain, Wind and Cold from your houses.

This Strip is applied to the bottom of the door by screws, with an ELLIPTICAL SPRING—(which cannot get out of order,) that causes the leaf to rise and fall, on opening or shutting the door.

THIS PATENT STRIP is the most simple and durable of anything of the kind ever invented.—It may be regarded as the "ne plus ultra" in this line, obviating all difficulties in management—It will save the cost of the article in one winter, in keeping the house warm and dry.

The Prices for putting on Doors: Japan Finish, $1 50 each. Brass Finish, $2 50 each.

Every one put on by the subscriber will be warranted, and if not successful, no pay required.

Those who wish for the same may leave orders at the store of JOSEPH H. CLARK, corner of Market Square and Daniel street, where a sample may be seen, or at the residence of the subscriber, No. 15 Dennett street, North Portsmouth,—which will be promptly attended to.

☞ Reader, do you want THE picture of the day? If so, have one of Gregory's Photographs in Oil Colors, which he is selling at about half the Boston and New York prices.

☞ The only place in this city where an Ambrotype can be obtained, is at Davis' Ambrotype Gallery, No. 8 Daniel Street, as they have the Patent, and all infringements will be prosecuted. sept9

☞ Notwithstanding the statements of competitor NEIGHBORS to the contrary, Gregory continues to make the MOST DURABLE Ambrotypes, Melainotypes, Photographs, and all other kinds of pictures that are worth making, at his OLD STAND No. 33 Congress street, where he is ever happy to FIX the smiling faces of his friends and patrons.

TESTS OF CHARACTER.—Lord Byron once said "You never know a man's temper until you have been imprisoned in a ship with him, or a woman's until you have married her". We are able to add, that no one can know how many use HEINDWEBER'S HAIR COLORING unless they see it applied, for it restores the hair to the precise shade of youth.

LADIES OF PORTSMOUTH.
IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.
Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer,

The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

THE DESTROYER is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the ne plus ultra of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimples also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Parisian ladies have used it for years; consequently they have been capable of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For sale by Druggists everywhere.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty-eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHERS IMPORTED.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. K. Pecker, 20 Elm st.; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st.; M. A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DR. DUPONCO'S
French Periodical Golden Pills,
FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them, to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H THACHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

LOCAL.

BRIEF LOCALS.—The delightful serenade which several of our citizens enjoyed on Tuesday evening, was by the fine Band connected with the Ocean House at Rye Beach. They came in a carriage, and drove home after complimenting a number of their friends, and partaking of the hospitality of a gentleman whom they honored with some of their beautiful pieces.

The Telegraph Office in this city, as in all parts of the country, was draped with appropriate emblems of mourning, on Tuesday—on account of the death of Mr. Eddy, the general telegraphic agent.

The steamer Uncle Sam took the Boon Island Ledge Boat or Fog Bell from this port to its moorings, on Wednesday.

A workman had his foot badly crushed by a bar of iron, at the new Custom House, on Thursday forenoon.

A NUISANCE ABATED.—The Ballot states that "a party of roystering young men on Friday night last visited a house of ill-repute in Gates street, and incited more by a spirit of rowdyism, probably, than regard for the morals of the city, proceeded to smash windows, furniture, &c., and compelled the occupants to promise to leave the city. The furniture of the house was sold at auction next day—and the city was rid of one of its nuisances. Truth demands the admission—'Rum did it!' "

Patrons of the grog-shop demolishing the house of her whose "steps take hold on hell!" "A kingdom divided against itself cannot stand."

☞ A correspondent of the Boston Courier calls "the Eastern Railroad cars, that respectable mode of conveyance, which so steadily refuse to meet with accidents, but yet move quite as rapidly as those which run off the track—and selecting always, it would seem, some peculiarly-unlucky scene for the performance of such pranks, if they do not drown or otherwise murder us outright, let us off with stun and bruise long to be remembered."

☞ The Ballot learns that two persons, Rev. Mr. Medbery and a little boy, were badly bitten by dogs last week; and says, "We do not not believe there is a place in the Union, cursed with such a lot of worse-than-useless curs, as our city—and we think it quite time something was done to relieve the community of such an intolerable nuisance." That's right—thin 'em out.

☞ The members of the Mercantile Library Association are hereby reminded that the regular weekly meetings of the Association will be held on and after this (Friday) evening, at 8 o'clock.

The Dover Gazette, as was anticipated under its new managers, is out flat-footed for Douglas, and there is talk of a new democratic organ among the "faithful."—The Portsmouth Gazette is getting quite rabid in its Douglasism, and is pegging it into Mr. Buchanan's official organ with a ferocity which must endanger the necks of the office holders in the custom house and post office down there, if it is not stopped.—Dover Enquirer.

☞ As John B. Leo, of East Boston, an employee on the Eastern Railroad, was propelling a hand-car between Salem and Lynn, on Tuesday afternoon, he fell upon the track and the car passed over him—severely injuring the man's head and breaking two or three ribs.

GREAT FISHING.—Two gentlemen from Exeter went to Boar's Head on Wednesday, and caught sixteen tautog in two hours. They weighed when they were brought ashore more than 100 lbs.

☞ Mr. Justus Blake, a well-to-do farmer, about seventy years old, hung himself in the shed attached to his house, in Northumberland, on the 13th inst. He was afflicted with an incurable cancer, which had destroyed his nose and nearly one side of his face and one eye.

☞ Gen. Cushing is to deliver the Address at the Fair of the Connecticut River Valley Agricultural and Industrial Association, at Charlestown, N. H., Sept. 21st, 22nd and 23rd.

☞ The Illinois Journal asks Prentice if he can throw any light upon the subject of kissing.—"We don't care to—the thing is just as well in the dark."

☞ A writer in the Boston Journal gives to F. N. Gisborne the honor of conceiving the idea of the International Telegraph.

MARINE CHRONICLE.
PORT OF PORTSMOUTH.

Arr bark Harriet Hazeltine, Drinkwater, Providence, R I.

TWO VIEWS.

BURNING THE CANDLE AT BOTH ENDS.—The banks here, as will be seen, expanded their circulation $375,000 more, while their deposits have run down $800,000 and their specie $566,000. This is not correct, and if persevered in will work mischief. The loans are now $121,000,000, an immense sum in a contracted business; and the statement, seemingly good from such large assets, must yet cover a great deal of rottenness that passes for substance; for it is well known that the banks for many months have found it difficult to obtain good paper for discount. They have indulged in all sorts of unusual and unsound banking expedients to make dividends. Their loans to discount brokers, who re-loan to individuals on stocks and bonds, are very large—and herein is a weakness of the money and stock markets: for these loans will be the first to be called in when money is wanted for more regular business purposes. The banks use their deposits in loans and discounts, and as the deposits decrease, their loans should decrease. The deposits have run down much greater than appears by the statement; for the increase of loans always goes to increase the deposits. The banks, though strong at present, must soon cease to be so, if, while their resources for loans diminish, they keep increasing those loans. In the current week a large sum will be paid by them into the Treasury for the new loan, which will diminish, temporarily only, however, their specie. To keep making additional loans, and keep paying back their deposits, is burning their candle at both ends very effectually—a course, however, they will hardly persevere in, flush though they be.—N. Y. Independent.

Now, per contra, read this:

REVIVAL OF BUSINESS.—The state of our advertisement columns, and the large increase of our circulation, are evidences of a satisfactory revival of business. Other evidences are not absent. The streets begin to be crowded; the principal hotels are full; such theatres as are open are well patronized; and everything else betokens a resumption of trade. We are told that the arrivals at our hotels are more numerous now than they were last year at this time, which was before the panic.—New York Herald.

That is, the wheels have got agoing again, in the road to ruin. The next crash will not wait ten years.

EARTHQUAKE IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.—We noticed yesterday that an earthquake was experienced at Holderness N. H., on Tuesday. A letter from Rumney to the Boston Journal says the earthquake was felt in that town and in Hebron. It shook the houses quite perceptibly, but the worst effect of the earthquake was to shake confidence in the stability of the granite hills of New Hampshire, whose foundations have been supposed to be immovable.

"OLD RYE."—We recently gave a copy of the letter in which William Montgomery, M. C., the Lecompton traitor from Pennsylvania, bargained for a cask of whisky for Mr. Buchanan, stating that the latter drank nothing but "old rye," and commissioned him to buy a barrel for use at the White House. A few days since the father of this Congressman was found dead under a haystack, two bottles of this "old rye" lying by him and indicating the cause of this loathsome end. Is there not a moral here?—Lowell News.

In Attleboro', the other day, during a shower, a young lady, not being able to do better, sheltered herself effectually by taking off her crinoline skirt, and making a sort of tent of it. She emerged as dry as a toper at 6 A. M. Let the women alone for invention.

☞ Steamship Great Britain, from New York for Liverpool, Wednesday, took out $70,000 in specie and 75 passengers.

☞ John Hutchins has been nominated for Congress by the Republicans of the 20th district of Ohio, vice Joshua R. Giddings.

A GOOD ONE.—A worthy son of the Emerald Isle in this village, on Monday night, as the bells commenced ringing in honor of the transmission of Victoria's message to the President, went hastily into the street to ascertain where the fire was! On his return he was asked: "Billy, where's the fire?" He replied: "And sure there is no fire at all: it is only the Queen spaking across the water to the President."—Pittsfield Sun,

100 Songs of Scotland,
MUSIC AND WORDS.

ALTHOUGH many editions of "Songs of Scotland" have been from time to time published, there is not one that combines the various features of the present work, which, as a comprehensive selection of the choicest melodies, adapted to their appropriate words, in a cheap, correct, and portable form, is perfectly unique
No national melodies have ever attained the lasting and universal popularity which is enjoyed by those of Scotland, which are equally welcome in the palace, in the cottage, and at the "ingleside." Price only 50 Cents.

THE PATENT
"Old Dominion" Coffee Pot.

THIS New Coffee Pot, for which a Patent has been issued, possesses this advantage over all others: You may boil coffee in it for any length of time, without a particle of the strength or aroma escaping. One-fourth less coffee is required, and the full flavor of the berry retained.
Thousands of this new Coffee Pot have already been sold, and the demand from all parts of the United States is rapidly on the increase. Wherever introduced, it has given the most complete satisfaction.
A large number of testimonials have been received from those who have used it. We have space for but a few:

From the Portsmouth Journal.

"Old Dominion."—If you wish to know what good coffee is, when all the aroma is retained in the coffee, be sure to buy one of the Old Dominion Coffee Pots, of Mr. Carleton. Around such a luxury, it is pleasant to be Pot-companions. We supposed the high commendations of the Old Dominion all puffing, until we tried it.

THE OLD DOMINION COFFEE POT.—We have had in use now, for over two months, one of these much talked of Coffee Pots, and we find that it does, in all respects, what is claimed for it. You may boil coffee in the Old Dominion for any length of time you choose, and yet lose none of the delicate aroma or strength. This desirable end is attained by a simple but ingenious contrivance, in the shape of a condenser, with double syphons, by means of which the aroma-bearing vapor, which usually goes all over the house, or up the chimney, is condensed and thrown back into the coffee boiler, and you have its delicious flavor in the cup you bring to your lips. In all our experience of coffee drinking, we never found anything equal to what we now have daily at our morning meal. It is the perfection of coffee.—[Philadelphia Evening Journal.

The New Yorker thus endorses the Old Dominion: "It gives the fine strength as well as the grateful aroma of the berry, and by its simple construction is easy of use, always in order, and furnishes good coffee at one-fourth the cost of the old and unsatisfactory method of boiling."

The draught which it makes is nectar, compared with that of old-time coffee pots.—Springfield, (Mass.) Republican.

The Lady's Book says:—"The 'Old Dominion' is beyond question, the best coffee maker ever introduced to the public, and the only one by which all the strength and virtue of the coffee can be extracted by boiling without loss of aroma. We commend it with the full knowledge that it will do all that is claimed for it.

SIZES AND PRICES.—1 qt. $1.50 each; 1½ qt., 1.75; 2 qt., 2.00; 3 qt., 2.50; 4 qt., 3.00; 6 qt., 3.50; 10 qt., 5.00; 16 qt., 7.50. Larger sizes for Hotels and Restaurants.

Ayer's Pills

Are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive organs, and those arising from impurity of the blood. A large part of all the complaints that afflict mankind originate in the stomach, and manifest themselves externally through the skin. These pills are found to cure many very distressing cases of dyspepsia, costiveness, pain in the side, and other symptoms usually ascribed to the liver, when in fact the disorder is in the stomach. Some eminent physicians, (their names in the pamphlet,) have borne testimony to the virtues of these pills in their practice.

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC,

From Dr. E. H. Cummings, of Sun Cross.

"You Pills are the pleasantest purgative I have used in my practice, and I find their beneficial effects equal to any I have used. They are mild, and yet thorough in their action, and I can confidently recommend them to my patients as a safe family medicine."

FOR JAUNDICE, AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS,

From Dr. Wm. Ingraham, of Fort Gibson, Ark.

"Not only are your Pills extremely adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects on the liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice cured many of the worst cases of liver complaint that I have met with, and I do not hesitate to say that they are the most valuable aperient pill we have."

From Dr. Chas. S. Rich, of Boston.

"The Pills I have received from you some time since, I have found to be a very efficacious cathartic, and I find they are very valuable in my practice, especially as they adapt themselves to the various conditions of the system, and do not require to be given in increased doses, as most other cathartics do. I have found them very efficacious in the cure of costiveness, and in those cases of liver complaint which are connected therewith, and I have found them to answer all the purposes for which you recommend them."

DYSPEPSIA—DIARRHŒA—RELAX.

From Dr. J. G. Gosney, of Chicago.

"Your Pills have taken the place of all others in my practice, and I hold them in high esteem as the best aperient I have ever found. Their activity effect upon the liver makes them an excellent pill, which, given in small doses, will cure most cases of dyspepsia and diarrhœa. They are a mild but thorough cathartic, and are well adapted for the use of women and children."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION.

From Mr. T. Sewell, who formerly was a Physician and Druggist in Boston.

"I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, will prevent the occurrence of fever and ague, (for which they are partially responsible), and also very effectually remove the stomach and bowel worms. They are so mild that they may be given safely to children, and I do not know of any cathartic I can recommend in preference to them, for the use of women and children."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION.

From Mr. T. Sewell, who formerly was a Physician and Druggist in Boston.

"I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, will prevent the occurrence of fever and ague

LET'S TAKE A DRINK.

"Let's go and take a drink, boys," said a well dressed young man as the cars stopped at Waukegan station. And so the boys did, re-entering the cars with their language and persons marked by the bar-room odor.

Take a drink! The young men were well-dressed fools. They have taken a step which will bear a fearful retribution. Years hence a thousand woes will blossom in the footprints now made in young life. A false light gilds the deadly miasma which dogs their footsteps. They see not the smoking altar towards which they are tending. A host of shadowy phantoms of vice and crime are flitting on before. Red-handed murder laughs at their folly; and death is waiting at the fresh-opened grave. There are tears to shed by those who at this hour dream not of the sorrow which these false steps shall bring them.

Take a drink! All the uncounted host of drunkards whose graves in every land mark the pathway of intemperance, took a drink. They took drinks and died. The drunkards of to-day are taking drinks.—Three out of four of the murderers of 1856 took a drink. Their steps were towards the dram shop, and then from the scaffold out upon the fearful waste that lies beyond. The palsied wretches which totter in our streets all took drinks.

We involuntarily shudder when we see young men crowding the deeply beaten path to the dram shop. They are all confident in their own strength. With the glass in one hand where coils the deadly adder, they ha! ha! about the fools who drink themselves to death! They boldly leap into the tide where stronger arms have failed to beat back the sullen flow. They dance and shout in the midst of the grinning and ghastly dead, and riot upon the reeking fumes of the grave's foul breath! They boast of their strength, and yet they are but the reed in the storm. They wither like grass under the sirocco breath of the plague they nourish. A brief time and they are friendless, homeless and degraded. Another day and the story of their lives is told by a rude, stoneless grave in the Potter's Field.

Don't take a drink! Shun the Dead Sea fruits, that bloom on the shore where millions have died. The bubbles which float upon the breaker's brim, hide the adder's fang. The history of ages points sadly to the maddening hosts who have offered themselves soul and body to the demon of the cup. The bondage of iron, galls but the limbs. That of the dram fetters the soul.—Cayuga Chief.

A HARD CASE OF DELIRIUM TREMENS.—Charles Roberts, a sailor, of Bangor, arrived in Portland on Tuesday from New York, and took lodgings at the Atlantic House. Having "steamed up" pretty well, he was seized in the night with the delirium tremens, and rushed to the roof of the house, (four stories high,) took to the ridgepole, with a brick in each hand, frightened out of his senses with the drunken notion that all sorts of people were after him to kill him. The neighbors were aroused with his cries, and the police summoned. The danger was imminent that on the slated roof he would go off and be dashed to pieces. Officer Ring finally coaxed him down, and succeeded in getting him to the watch house. His spasms during the night were terrible, requiring at times four or five men to restrain him from doing himself mortal injury. Dr. Perry was called and succeeded in quieting him, and he was sent home yesterday afternoon by cars. This was a young man 19 or 20 years old—and yet so entirely brutalized by liquor, as to be reduced to this pitiable state! We would that the man who sold him the stuff that laid him thus low, could have seen the result of his work. If there was a spark of humanity in him, he would have quailed at the wrock he had made, and resolved never to commit that terrible sin again!—Portland Advertiser.

UNITED STATES AND FOREIGN
PATENT AGENCY.
SAMUEL COOPER,
Late Principal Examiner of Patents in the United States Patent Office, at Washington.
HAS REMOVED HIS OFFICE TO
WEBSTER BANK BUILDING,
13 EXCHANGE STREET, BOSTON.
PATENTS secured in the United States, and in all other patent-granting countries. Specifications and drawings prepared. Caveats filed. Reconsiderations procured, of applications that have been rejected upon imperfectly prepared papers. Interferences prosecuted. Re-issues and extensions procured, and in general, all business connected with the Patent Office transacted with care and promptness.
British and other foreign patents procured through prompt and confidential agents in London and Paris.
Persons residing at a distance may obtain all necessary information, and have their business transacted, by writing to the subscriber, without the trouble and expense of a visit to Washington.
He begs leave to refer those unacquainted with him to the following testimonials:—
From Hon. Chas. Mason, Commissioner of Patents.
U. S. PATENT OFFICE, Feb 23, 1855.
I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged as Solicitor, and has been in that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with the office; he has evinced a thorough acquaintance with the Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office, a close attention to the interest of his clients, and a marked candor and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him as one of the very best agents for the transaction of business with this office with whom I am acquainted.
CHARLES MASON, Commissioner.
From the Examiners of the Patent Office.
The undersigned, Principal and Assistant Examiners in the United States Patent Office, have for several years been well acquainted with Mr. Samuel Cooper, late a principal Examiner in this office, and take pleasure in stating that he is a gentleman of the highest moral character, of unquestioned knowledge in the business and practice of the office, and that his scientific attainments are such as eminently fit him for the business in which he is about to engage.
HENRY B. RENWICK, L. D. GALE, S. H. LANE, T. R. PARR — Principal Examiners.
THOS. T. EVERETT, F. SOUDRETTE SMITH, WM. C. LANGTON — Assistant Examiners.
From long acquaintance and intimate official relations with Mr. Cooper, I fully and heartily concur in the foregoing recommendation made by my late colleagues. W. P. N. FITZGERALD,
Late Principal Examiner of Patents.

THE CLIPPER SHIPS NIGHTINGALE AND THE RAVEN—Great ocean race—The Nightingale triumphant.—The clipper ship Raven, Capt. Crocker, sailed from New York March 14; the clipper ship Nightingale, Capt. Peterson, sailed from Boston March 21—and both arrived at Batavia June 13, the Nightingale having beaten her rival seven days. We understand that much feeling was displayed by the admirers of both ships about their sailing qualities, and bets, as usual in such cases, were made, and now will have to be paid. The commanders of both vessels are gentlemen of tried ability, and have no doubt put forth all their skill and perseverance, knowing the anxiety of their respective friends to achieve a triumph. It may be fairly presumed, therefore, (says the Boston Traveller,) that the superiority of the Nightingale is in her model.

The Nightingale is one of our Piscataqua built ships; launced in 1851. Her tonnage is 1046. If any ship is disposed to compete in a race, or in finished workmanship and strength, and finds her competitor was built on our river, she may as well at once retire from the contest.

The same may be said of the ships-of-war in our Navy. The noble steamship Franklin, which is nearly ready to go into the water, is a piece of good workmanship, which will compare without disadvantage with any war ship on the ocean, no matter to what country it may belong.

THE ATLANTIC CABLE.—Messrs. Tiffany & Co. of New York have bought the 100 miles of Cable now remaining on board the Niagara, which they intend to have cut up in small sections for sale, to be mounted or otherwise as purchasers prefer. The bargain for the Cable was closed on Saturday at about $400 per mile. They also intend to present a handsome specimen of the Cable to every State and college library in the Union, as well as to all the libraries in Canada and the other British possessions.

The following brief but comprehensive description of the Submarine Cable, will be read with interest at this time:

The central conducting wire is a strand made up of seven wires of the purest copper, of the guage known in trade as No. 22. The strand itself is about the sixteenth of an inch in diameter, and is formed of one straightly drawn wire, with six others twisted round it; this is accomplished by the central wire being dragged from a drum, through a hole in a horizontal table, while the table itself revolves rapidly under the impulse of steam, carrying near its circumference six reels or drums, each armed with copper wire. Every drum revolves upon its own horizontal axis, and so delivers the wire as it turns. The twisted form of conducting wire was first adopted for the rope laid across the St. Lawrence in 1856, and was employed with a view to the reduction to the lowest possible amount of the chance of continuity being destroyed in the circuit. It is improbable in the highest degree that a fracture could be accidentally produced at precisely the same spot in more than one of the wires of this twisted strand. All the seven wires might be broken at different parts of the strand, even some hundreds of times, and yet its capacity for the transmission of the electric current not be destroyed or reduced in any inconvenient degree. The copper used in the formation of these wires is assayed from time to time during the manufacture, to insure absolutely homogeneity and purity. The strand itself, when subjected to strain, will stretch twenty per cent. of its length without giving way, and, indeed, without having its electricity-conducting power much modified or impaired.

CARE OF THE EYES.—Crawford, the celebrated sculptor, had an inveterate habit of reading in a reclining position; one eye had to be taken out in consequence of a cancerous tumor forming behind it, and his life has paid the forfeit after years of suffering, and the expenditure of a large amount of money. Prescott, the historian, in consequence of a disorder of a nerve, by which the eyes were rendered useless for all writing purposes, could not use a pen, as he was unable to see when it failed to make a mark, for want of ink; nor could he distinguish the lines or edges of his paper; yet with these disadvantages, he wrote all his historicals, using an agate stylus on carbonated paper, being guided as to the lines or edges, by brass wires drawn through a wooden frame; but, with all these hinderances, he has made himself one of the most readable of modern historians, and earned a fortune besides.

To avoid these, and similar calamities, we urge upon the young, especially, never to use the eyes by any artificial light, where nicety of sight is required, nor to use them in any strained position or while riding in rail cars or carriages. We urge upon parents in view of the many incurable eye diseases, to caution their children against reading by twilight; that is, not before sunrise nor after sunset. It would be greatly better not to allow them to read or sew by any artificial light, but if that is unavoidable, let it be imperative that they cease by nine o'clock at night in summer, and by ten at farthest, in the winter. It is a most inexcusable folly, and will, sooner or later, bring its punishment, to read or sew by gas, or lamp, or candle light, and then sleep after daylight next morning, as a habit.—To persons of all ages it is a most injurious practice.—Hall's Journal of Health.

FIRE IN BARRINGTON.—On Monday evening last about half past eight o'clock, the Saw and Grist Mills, in Barrington, occupied by Messrs. Lyman Lock and Joseph Cater, were destroyed by fire, with a large quantity of lumber and other property. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. The loss is estimated at five or six thousand dollars.

COUNTERFEIT COIN.—A large number of counterfeit dimes have, within a few days, been put in circulation in Baltimore, calculated to deceive, if not closely noticed. The words "one dime" are considerably larger than in the genuine, and the numerals of the date are also larger. They are dated 1854.

BOGUS GOLD DOLLARS.—Look out for a well gotten up gold dollar, of the "bogus kind," the result of the labors of an ingenious crew of rascally counterfeiters in Massachusetts. Nothing but strong acid will show the deceit.

MINISTERIAL VACATIONS.—The Salem Gazette says: "It was stated last week that every clergyman belonging to Salem, excepting Rev. Dr. Emerson, was absent from the city."

The frost, Monday morning, was very destructive to the cranberry crop. Mr. Fisher, of Dedham, lost one hundred barrels, valued at $5 per barrel A sample picked by him shows eleven out of fourteen frost bitten, on an average.

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 28, 1858.

Concluded from yesterday.

LETTER FROM "VERITAS."

CONCLUDED.

No man is forced into the ministry. If he enters it, it is voluntary; and by doing so he virtually says, "I have gained and mean to keep the mastery over myself in all things, and have attained to such clearness of vision that I can teach by precept and example." Thus much he says, and society have a right to expect it of him, and do expect it, and no minister can be useful in a community, or retain the respect of a people, who does not meet these expectations.

I have attended worship in three different places, lately, and heard but two sermons. The rest might as well have been readings from Hiawatha, so far as any religious or moral effect was aimed at apparently, or produced. I regretted the waste of time and opportunity. How men set apart to influence others, could answer it to their consciences, I know not. I thought of the remark of a celebrated divine, "Man is used by God as his mightiest agency in operating on man," and felt how sadly it was perverted and misused. To be a minister of years to undying souls is the greatest honor that can be put upon any man. How can he so pervert it as to seek to display himself? True there is fault in hearers. More go to be amused than instructed, and a minister is dismissed if he does not please and draw full houses. But the readiness with which they settle, creates in part if not in toto this state of things. Let a minister called to a people who have treated their minister so, say to them, "I will preach for you as long as it may be agreeable, but I cannot go through with the solemn ceremonies of a settlement, unless my brother is satisfied. The commands of my Master mean something and are to be obeyed. 'If thy brother hath aught against thee, leave thy gift before the altar, go and be reconciled to thy brother, then come and offer thy gift.'" Such a man would be more respected and more useful too, than one who asked no questions and took a brother's place who felt himself aggrieved. Christian brotherhood should mean something if the world are expected to be converted to Christianity.

I am obliged to an Old Subscriber for his discriminating praise. Your Exeter correspondent seemed to take it for granted another genius had made his appearance when I commenced my letters for the Chronicle. I am sorry that my article on the candidate for the presidency should have mystified anybody. I thought that a man who could see that slavery had developed the resources of this country, must be superior to the Adamses, or even to Mr. Choate, and consequently just the man for the highest gift of a grateful people. I guess the Old Subscriber will not be in the dark now.

Have you read Mr. Charles Dickens' letter? From that it would appear that his poor wife is partially insane, from care, ill health or ill treatment, and so he must separate from her. Physicians could point to many such cases. I always feel sorry that a woman does not die just as soon as she has helped her husband to be successful. Ten to one if he does not find out that he is somebody, that she is nobody, or that her temper is "incompatible," or something that will make a separation necessary. Mrs. Bulwer could give her husband all the property she had to advance him in the world; and when he was advanced he could leave her, and out of an income of ten thousand he could give his wife her own four hundred pounds. Judge Taney, when a poor lawyer, could say that "every one must desire and look forward with hope to the time when slavery should be removed." When Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, "black men have no rights that white men are bound to respect."

Since writing the account of the little boy who thought the clouds the Angels' carpet, I have been told of a host of bright and fanciful sayings. I love the sweet briars well enough to think all they say momentous; but only once in a while can anything be repeated with effect. Among the items was one of a little fellow who was always washed before going to bed.—His mother was ill, and the nurse did not think it necessary. He said to her, "I must be washed—what if God should call me? I don't want to go dirty." It would be a good text to preach from, and to ponder. What if God should call a good many unwashed and unweaned from their iniquities? Have you read the article in the Congregational Journal on "pulpit coquesting?" It has been quoted and commented on by the secular press, rather extensively.

I hope farmers will use sulphur for potatoes, as recommended in spring. If sifted over them in the morning, when the dew is on them, it will undoubtedly prevent the insect from attacking them. I saw clouds of the fly, which has a brownish look in the sunlight, hovering over a lot, just as mosquitoes do in marshy places. I did not stop to see if they had attacked them, but presume not. When a remedy so simple, so inexpensive and easy of application is recommended, it seems strange that a universal trial of it is not made. Potatoes here are excellent and abundant, and farmers say they are retailed in Exeter for forty cents a bushel. They used to think they were paid at a shilling and twenty-five cents for them. I should think fifty was as good now as that sum used to be.

Wishing you success and prosperity, I remain Yours, VERITAS.

INSURANCE IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

The last Legislature in New Hampshire passed a law by which insurance companies have the power at any time to withdraw their policies, but no provision is made for refunding the money. This looks like a swindle, and we should advise persons getting insured there to see what they were about before paying out any money.—Exchange paper.

The information in the above item must have emanated from some Solon or Solomon. There is just the same chance to get a return of premium now that there was before.

The power to withdraw a policy is one thing: the power to withold money due is quite another thing. The legislature have grafted the power to withdraw: they have not granted, and cannot grant, the power to withhold.

If I insure my house for $1000 for one year, paying $1 for my policy, and $5 premium—and sell my house and so leave the insurance company at the end of 6 months, I can do so—and I shall get my 2.50 cts. return premium on application, not by statute law, but by well settled usage, i. e. common law, as a matter of right.

So the insurance company, if for any reason it sees fit to close the contract, not annul it, can do so, but it must take the consequence, of paying me back whatever it owes me, of premium, or damages, if I can prove any.

BURGLARY IN FRANKLIN.—We learn from the Patriot that two burglars calling themselves Charles Smith and Charles Thompson, entered the saloon of Asa Heath in Franklin, August 19th, at 2 o'clock in the morning, and stole a silver watch, a jack-knife, a one dollar bill, and six dollars in small change. While one was rifling the drawer, the other stood by the sleeper's bunk with a pistol and a club. As Col. Heath was aroused from sleep by the noise at the drawer, the fellow struck him a tremendous blow on the head with the club, severely injuring him. The cry of murder being raised by Mr. Heath, the burglars left by the way in which they entered.—They were both caught on Wednesday, and on Friday afternoon were indicted by the grand jury at Concord, arraigned, and upon pleading guilty were sentenced to the State Prison for three years. Thus in the space of thirty-six hours, they committed the crime and found themselves in the State Prison therefor. They are both young, about 18 and 20 years old.

☞ Robert Fleming Gourlay, well known in Canada on account of his banishment in 1828, and who returned thither a short time since, was married at Ceres, in the county of Oxford, on the 17th inst, to Miss Mary Keeman. The bridegroom is in his eighty-first year, and the bride in her twenty-eight.

☞ The Washington Union criticizes Senator Green of Missouri for expressing a preference for Douglas over Lincoln. The Union says:

Mr. Green looks with more distrust to Mr. Lincoln than of confidence and hope to Mr. Douglas. This, in our judgment, is precisely his error.

☞ The Boston Journal states that Mr. E. A. Boardman of that city, has been appointed by Gov. Haile of New Hampshire, the contractor to furnish the town agents of N. H. with liquors.

☞ Cox and Williams, the pirates and murders, were hanged on Friday, at Auburn, Maine, by the U. S. Marshal. Ten thousand spectators looked on.

☞ The little Underhill girl, who died at Chester, was not bitten by a spider, nor any thing else, that anybody knows of—but died of erysipelas,—so says her physician.

SCURVY.

Scurvy is not confined to Arctic travellers and neglected sailors; it shows its disgusting features also among the ill-fed poor in our filthy lanes. Nothing has been found so speedily efficacious in arresting the decomposing tendency of the vital fluids in scorbutic disease as the PERUVIAN SYRUP.

DETECTION OF COUNTERFEIT
—AND—
Altered Bank Bills.
THE undersigned begs leave to inform the citizens of this place, that he proposes to instruct all who may favor him with their patronage, in a sure and scientific method of detecting
Counterfeit and Altered Bills upon any Bank in the United States.
This he proposes to do in a manner and according to tests perfectly satisfactory to the learner, or no charge will be made. Having learned, thoroughly, the method taught by G. H. Knapp, he feels confident you would be pleased with this important information. Lessons given in about one hour's time complete.
You are respectfully invited to give us a trial, and when through with the investigation, if you are not convinced you are posted, we do not wish you to feel under any obligations to us.
Persons receiving this information are not permitted to impart to others. You can suit your convenience, either by calling upon me at my

Patent Mastic Roofing.
Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.
THE inventor of this Roofing labored many years to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, we can with the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value, both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN!
This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.
We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

ECONOMY. ECONOMY.
THE subscriber has been appointed Exclusive Agent for this city in furnishing and putting on
BRADSTREET'S
Patent Japan Weather Strip.
This Strip for outside doors is the most useful, and the very best improvement over those now in use, and the latest, (like the Atlantic Cable,) to keep out Snow, Rain, Wind and Cold from your houses.
This Strip is applied to the bottom of the door by screws, with an ELLIPTICAL SPRING—(which cannot get out of order,) that causes the leaf to rise and fall, on opening or shutting the door.
THE PATENT STRIP is the most simple and durable of anything of the kind ever invented.—It may be regarded as the "ne plus ultra" in this line, obviating all difficulties in management—It will save the cost of the leaf in one winter, in keeping the house warm and dry.
The Prices for putting on Doors: Japan Finish, $1.50 each. Bronze Finish, $2.50 each.
Every one put on by the subscriber will be warranted, and if not successful, no pay required.
Those who wish for the same may leave orders at the store of JOSEPH H. CLARK, corner of Market Square and Daniel street, where a sample may be seen, or at the residence of the subscriber, No. 15 Deanstreet, North Portsmouth,—which will be promptly attended to.
ALEXANDER H. DENNETT.

The Blacksmith.
Tune—Anvil Chorus.
When the Gods were all assembled
In their grand debating Hall,
'T was proposed by that sly Mercury
That they should have a ball:
A ball! cried out young Vulcan,
I'll cast it at your feet;
And on the sounding anvil
Good work I will complete.
This is the blacksmith's table,
His dark mythology:—
Now let us turn the table,
His modern work to see.
The Shoes for your good Horses,
The Tire for Wagon Wheel;
The Axes, Mauls and Adzes
Of Iron and of Steel,
For carpenters and farmers,
And all good working men;—
They'll make the tools so handy,
You'll surely call again.
Their prices will be moderate,
They'll never make you wait;
Their shop is at the Ferry Ways;
Their names JACKSON & RAITT. all

☞ The only place in this city where an Ambrotype can be obtained, is at Davis' Ambrotype Gallery, No. 8 Daniel Street, as they have the Patent, and all infringements will be prosecuted. sep19

☞ Notwithstanding the statements of competitor NEIGHBORS to the contrary, Gregory continues to make the MOST DURABLE Ambrotypes, Melainotypes, Photographs, and all other kinds of pictures that are worth making, at his OLD STAND No. 83 Congress street, where he is ever happy to FIX the smiling faces of his friends and patrons.

TESTS OF CHARACTER.—Lord Byron once said "You never know a man's temper until you have been imprisoned in a ship with him, or a woman's until you have married her". We are able to add, that no one can know how many use HEINTZELMAN'S HAIR COLORING unless they see it applied, for it restores the hair to the precise shade of youth.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.
THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.
THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.
It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, fiery character, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.
Though recommended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., which the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.
Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."
It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.
For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER is genuine.
May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st.; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. K. Fowler, 20 Blackstone st.; J. Wilde, 102 Blackstone st.; M. Davis & Co., 57 Blackstone st.; R. LADIES OF PORTSMOUTH.
IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.
Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer,
The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.
THE DESTROYER is an old French Compound, (which cannot get out of order,) that cause the former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the ne plus ultra of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimple and all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.
There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which is connected with the tube, and when it becomes worn out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.
The Parisian ladies have used it for years; consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the Extures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady of Paris attending a dance or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

Lost Overboard.—John Edward Billings, a son of Ephraim Billings of Kittery Point, was lost overboard from a Fishing schooner a few days since and drowned. He was a promising young man and his loss falls heavily upon his friends.

THE LOST BRIDEGROOM.

A STORY WITH A MORAL.

The New York evening Post of Wednesday says:—

A family residing in Fulton avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., were thrown into great distress last night under the following circumstances:—A daughter, an only child, was engaged to be married on that evening. Every preparation had been made for the wedding, the bride was dressed and decorated, and everything was in readiness, but the bridegroom.

As the hour fixed for the ceremony approached, his absence became the subject of remark, and messengers were despatched to his residence to hurry him up, but he was not to be found. He had left his residence about two o'clock in the afternoon to get some things for the wedding in New York, and persons had seen him at the Fulton Ferry, but since that no trace of him could be found.

Inquiries were made of the police, if any accidents had occurred, but no tidings could be had. Time wore away, the bride and her parents watching eagerly every footstep in expectation that it might be the absent one. Midnight came, but no bridegroom, no tidings of him. It was thought unadvisable to wait longer and the party broke up, the bride nearly distracted with grief, and the parents and friends filled with wonder at the cause of the bridegroom's absence. No trace of him had been found this morning. The bride's family are of the highest respectability, and have long resided in Brooklyn.

The Express appends some additional facts, as follows:

The name of the young man is Leicester. His friends fear that he has been foully dealt with, as all efforts to discover his whereabouts, have proved futile.

At about 6 o'clock he left his place of business, corner of Dock and Water streets, and proceeded home, where he procured an empty carpet bag, and then started for New York to obtain clothing. At the time of his departure he had a considerable sum of money in his possession

The relatives of the missing man have been searching for him, but without the least particle of success. Leicester is a young man of good appearence, about twenty-five years of age.

N. Y. Papers of Thursday morning say:—

Peter Luyster, the young bridegroom, whose mysterious disappearence from Brooklyn was mentioned in last evening's papers, has turned up. He was found in a lager beer saloon, drugged, and robbed of his watch, money, and wedding clothes.

The moral is quite plain, that all such drinking holes, by whatever name they may be known, are unsafe and dangerous places,—and that most of them are dens of thieves. Young men! avoid them; turn from them, and pass on the other side, into better places with better company.

Peter was promptly on hand on Wednesday evening, and was married to his affiance, a Miss Van Voorhies.

Gen. Todleben, the heroic defender of Sebastopol, lately visited Antwerp, and while there was asked his opinion in regard to the immense fortifications which the Belgian people talk of building at that point. The distinguished engineer replied that opinion was not favorable to the project; that he did not favor the building of fortifications in general as a means of defence to a country; that they were almost useless in presence of modern artillery.

NEWS BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

London, Friday, August 27.—The Emperor of France returned to Paris on Saturday.

The King of Prussia was too ill to visit Queen Victoria, at Pottedam. Her Majesty returns to England on the 30th inst.

St. Petersburg dates of the 21st state the conditions of the Peace settlement between England and France and China. The Chinese empire is to be open to all trade; the Christian religion is to be allowed and recognized; foreign diplomatic agents are to be admitted to the empire; and indemnity is to be made to France and England.

A dispatch from Alexandria, of the 9th, says the steamer Madras arrived at Suez on the 7th, with news from Bombay to the 19th of July.

The above was received at Trinity Bay, from Mr. Saward, Secretary of the Atlantic Telegraph Company.

No commercial news of any description has been transmitted through the Cable yet, nor will any be until after the line in thrown open to the public.

RALPH METCALF.

The following sketch of His Excellency Ralph Metcalf, deceased, is from the Manchester American:

Gov. Metcalf was a native of Charlestown, this State, where he followed farming till eighteen years old. He entered Dartmouth College in 1819, and graduated in the class of 1853. Among his classmates were W. W. Stickney of Exeter and J. S. C. Knowlton of the Worcester Palladium. In 1825 he began the practice of law at Newport, and five years after was elected Secretary of State, an office which he held for several years. He also held a clerkship at Washington for a short time. In 1852 he was chairman of the committee for compiling the laws of the State, and in 1852 and 1853 was a member of the House from Newport. He was elected Governor in 1855, and was re-elected the next year.

At the close of his gubernatorial term he removed to Claremont, but did not actively engage in professional business.—He was, we think, sixty-one years old, and leaves a wife and three children.

Gov. Metcalf was a man of sound, but not brilliant talents. His views were practical,—and although never a public speaker, he had an extensive acquaintance as a safe legal adviser. His knowledge of the affairs of the State enabled him to discharge the duties of Chief Magistrate successfully, and he retired from public life with the confidence and respect of his personal and political friends.

From Utah and Kansas.—Leavenworth, Aug. 22.—[Per U. S. Express to Booneville, 25th.]—The Utah mail, with dates to July 31st. has arrived. The news is uninteresting. The army continues occupied with preparations for winter. All was quiet at Salt Lake City. Surgeon Watts of the army arrived with the mail.

The Board of Commissioners constituted by the English bill, have issued a proclamation declaring the proposition rejected by 9512 majority. The whole vote cast was 13,088. No fraudulent votes were received. A few preceints were rejected on account of informalities.

Boy Killed by Rum.—We are informed that a boy named McLaughlin, whose parents reside near Masardis, died last week from the effects of rum, under the following circumstances:—He left home a week ago last Saturday, in company with an old man, whose name we do not learn, to go to the Oxbow. The old man took a bottle of rum with him, obtained, we understand, of the boy's mother. Some hours after, the man and boy were found lying in the ditch beside the road, dead drunk. From appearances, it was judged that they had laid there several hours.—The boy was carried to a house, where he lingered until Tuesday in unconsciousness, and died, literally killed by rum.—Aroostook Pioneer.

Served 'em Right.—Five rowdies and a woman of a bad character, went from St. Louis, Mo., last week, to Bloody Island, and while there behaved so badly, that the citizens caught them, and gave the male portion a severe cowskinning, after which they tarred and feathered them, and then tying them all together with a strong rope compelled the woman to lead them on board the ferry boat, amid the laughter and shouts of the assembled crowd.

A Hard Bargain.—Col. Forney's Philadelphia Press says the editor of the Washington Union would sell his soul for a mess of pottage. Prentice of the Louisville Journal replies that "if he did he would cheat the pottage vender most outrageously."

100 Songs of Scotland,
MUSIC AND WORDS.

ALTHOUGH many editions of "Songs of Scotland" have been from time to time published, there is not one that combines the various features of the present work, which, as a comprehensive selection of the choicest melodies, adapted to their appropriate words, in a cheap, correct, and portable form, is perfectly unique.

No national melodies have ever attained the lasting and universal popularity which is enjoyed by those of Scotland, which are equally welcome in the palace, in the cottage, and at the "ingleside." Price only 20 Cents.

THE PATENT
"Old Dominion" Coffee Pot.

THIS New Coffee Pot, for which a Patent has been issued, possesses this advantage over all others: You may boil coffee in it for any length of time, without a particle of the strength or aroma escaping. One-fourth less coffee is required, and the full flavor of the berry retained.

Thousands of this new Coffee Pots have already been sold, and the demand from all parts of the United States is rapidly on the increase. Wherever introduced, it has given the most complete satisfaction.

A large number of testimonials have been received from those who have used it. We have space for but a few:

From the Portsmouth Journal,

"Old Dominion."—If you wish to know what good coffee is, when all the aroma is retained in the coffee, be sure to buy one of the Old Dominion Coffee Pots, of Mr. Carleton. Around such a luxury, it is pleasant to be Pot-companions. We supposed the high commendations of the Old Dominion all puffing, until we tried it.

The Old Dominion Coffee Pot.—We have had in use now, for over two months, one of these much talked of Coffee Pots, and we find that it does, in all respects, what is claimed for it. You may boil coffee in the Old Dominion for any length of time you choose, and yet lose none of the delicate aroma or strength. This desirable end is attained by a simple but ingenious contrivance, in the shape of a condenser, with double syphons, by means of which the aroma-bearing vapor, which usually goes all over the house, or up the chimney, is condensed and thrown back into the coffee boiler, and you have its delicious flavor in the cup you bring to your lips. In all our experience of coffee drinking, we never found anything equal to what we now have daily at our morning meal. It is the perfection of coffee.—[Philadelphia Evening Journal.

The New Yorker thus endorses the Old Dominion: "It gives the entire strength as well as the grateful aroma of the berry, and by its simple construction is easy of use, always in order, and furnishes good coffee at one-fourth the cost of the old and unsatisfactory method of boiling."

The draught which it makes is nectar, compared with that of old-time coffee pots.—Springfield, (Mass.) Republican.

The Lady's Book says:—"The 'Old Dominion' is beyond question, the best coffee maker ever introduced to the public, and the only one by which all the strength and virtue of the coffee can be extracted by boiling without loss of aroma. We commend it with the full knowledge that it will do all that is claimed for it.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empirics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are described upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in dealing Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, by the pretext of his experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all unusual irregularities. Their action is speedy and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely female, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

Joy to the Admirers of

A FINE HEAD OF

RICH GLOSSY HAIR.

Talk of beauty, it cannot exist without a fine head of hair, then read the following, and if you ask once, one circular around each bottle, and as one can doubt.

PROF. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—We call the attention of all, old and young, to this wonderful preparation, which truly, restores to its original color, gray hair—covers the head of the bald with a luxuriant growth—removes the dandruff, scurf and all cutaneous eruptions—cleanses the scalp, allays the natural fluids;—and hence, if used as a regular dressing for the hair will preserve its color, and keep it from falling to whatever age it may be carried by time. We call then upon the bald, the gray, or diseased in scalp, to use it; and surely the young will not, at their value the flowing tresses of the Spaniard, ever be without it. Its praise is upon the tongue of thousands.

The Agent for Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative in Portsmouth received the following letter in regard to the Restorative, a few weeks since:

Deep River, Conn., July 23, 1856.

Mr. Leavenworth—Sir: I have been troubled with a very bad scurf on my head for more than a year, my hair began to come out, curl and hair together. I saw in a New Haven paper about Wood's Hair Restorative, and by a mere chance I called at your store the 1st of April last, and purchased one bottle to try it, and I found to my satisfaction it was the thing; it removed the scurf and new hair began to grow, it is now upwards of two inches in length where it was all off. I have great faith in it. I wish you to send me two bottles more by the first opportunity. Mr. Ely, I doubt not, is as far of the kind is used in this place, you may have a market for many bottles after it is known here. Yours with res., Royce Pratt.

Philadelphia, Sept. 9, 1856.

Prof. Wood—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative has proved to be just what you represent it, not only has it restored a good head of hair to my head almost lost its covering—in fact bald. I have used but two half pint bottles of your Restorative, and now the lip of my beard is supplied with a luxuriant growth of young hair, and the front is also receiving its benefit. I have tried other preparations without any benefit whatever, I think from my own personal recommendation, I can induce many others to try it. Yours respectfully,

D. R. Tyson, M. D., No. 404 Vine street.

Vincennes, Ia., June 22, 1853.

Prof. O. J. Wood: As you wished me to make return of your wonderful Hair Restorative, I will state, for whomsoever it may concern, that I have used it and known others to use it, which, I have for several years, been the bauble of your Hair Restorative, and that I find yours vastly superior to any other I know. It entirely cleanses the head of dandruff, and with one application will restore any person's hair to the original youthful color and texture, giving it a healthy, soft and glossy appearance; and all this, without blistering the hands the apple for the dress on which it drops. I would, therefore, recommend its use to every one desirous of having a fine color and texture to hair.

Respectfully yours, Wilson King.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the lottery is carried at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the following extract from a letter of a distinguished right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to make up the Prizes very from $10 to $10,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Mercury, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Dog Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m18iy

A PROCLAMATION
TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, truth, and integrity are fast fading from the earth, and WHEREAS, the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily taking advantage of the profound and learned BETT KNOWN THEREFORE, to all, whether MAIDS, WIVES, or WIDOWS, that Dr. CHEESMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are alone the certain panacea for all the troubles incident to female organization; they alone correcting all painful menstruation, assuaging palpitations of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and causing healthy blood to course to which, more especially to the MARRIED PORTION, as they are certain to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from mineral, therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unlike other medicines thrust upon the public, as the effects of the others are well detailed. THEREFORE, BE IT KNOWN, that NOTHING but the said PILLS of Dr. CHEESEMAN will accomplish the desired effect, as numerous females have experienced under the regime of OTHER PILLS; and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread amongst them, to their own everlasting benefit—always remembering that said Proclamation in one case must be considered null and void; that is to say the PILLS MUST not be taken when any female is in an interesting situation, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail, enclosing $1 to Dr. Cornelius L. Cheeseman, Box No. 4631, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.

☞ The sporting papers give a detailed account of the course of training and exercise which Morrissey is daily undergoing, preparatory to his prize-fight. It shows how much training men will submit to for a bad thing, and is a sad rebuke upon nearly all 'the rest of mankind,' who will not submit to any sort of training for the sake of health and long life.

Morrissey rises at 5 in the morning, and after a cold bath and thorough rubbing, dresses and practices with dumb-bells and heavy weights for half an hour, and walks four or five miles before breakfast, and after being thoroughly rubbed and having his clothes changed, he awaits breakfast at 8. This consists of a cup of tea with the yolk of an egg beaten in it, and a mutton-chop without fat. At 9 he starts to walk nine or ten miles,—dressed in warm clothing—and winding up with a half-mile run home; when, after another good rubbing, he jumps into bed between blankets, and remains fifteen or twenty minutes, to facilitate perspiration. Another rubbing—and clothes changed again—and then he "fights the bag," (strikes a heavy sack of sand, suspended so as to swing,) uses the dumb-bells, weight-machine, &c.

At 1 he dines, leisurely, and takes a glass or two of the finest sherry wine—and after resting an hour, starts afresh in pursuit of muscle, and the necessary consequent reduction of fat and size. He takes a seven or eight mile walk, changes clothing, is rubbed again, and after rest, again practices with the weights, bag and bells, and spars with his three trainers. After a light supper at 6, he rests, and then rows a boat two hours. Scientific men say no exercise is equal to rowing. At 8 his day's work is done, and he retires.

So this man daily walks from 20 to 25 miles, and takes as much other exercise—to develop his muscle and strength; and yet a mile walk, or none at all, is considered sufficient even for sedentary men. If something approaching this severe training was a part of every boy's and girl's education—we should not only have more hale and hearty men and women, but more good scholars withal.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT — MRS. A. L. Miller, wife of W. H. Miller, of Deerfield, Wisconsin, was killed on the evening of the 1st inst., by being thrown from a horse and dragged nearly a mile, her foot remaining in the strap above the stirrup, where it was placed, the stirrup being too long.

She had playfully mounted the horse, not intending to ride any distance, and was not more than four rods from the gate near her house, when she fell or was thrown, and letting go the bridle, the horse became frighted and ran off at full speed.

Two young men who were standing at the gate at the time, both sprang forward to save her, but were too late. She was shockingly bruised, and it is probable instantly killed.

Mrs. Miller was 35 years old, and leaves a husband and two children and a large circle of friends to mourn her loss.—Illinois State Journal.

AN OFFENSIVE BREATH.
There is no malady more disgusting than an offensive breath. Many persons are not aware their breath is bad, and it is a delicate subject to mention; it may be rendered perfectly free from this disgusting malady by using the Persian Balmus a Dentrifice. Wet your brush in water, pour on it one drop of the Persian Balm, and wash your Teeth night and morning. It neutralizes the acids of the mouth, and restores to the breath a delicious fragrance and freshness.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,
(Late Assist'nt of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st. oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American, or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The facilities of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The reputation of the subscriber during the twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, or more capable of putting their application in a form to secure them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

SOLE Agents for the above Goods, have on hand a large Stock of the same, suitable for shore and sea wear.
These fabrics, since their first introduction to the public, (almost three years since,) have been fully tested, and the result has proved them to possess all the qualities requisite to make a perfect article. They have on hand numerous testimonials from gentlemen in the navy and merchant service, which they would be pleased to show any one who would favor them with a call. They have been supplying some of the officers of the Falmouth, who have tested the Rubber goods, and found them undi for ser vice.

ADDITIONAL FOREIGN NEWS

OVER THE OCEAN CABLE.

OFFICE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH CO., Trinity Bay, Aug. 27, P. M.

The only additional intelligence received from London since our report this forenoon is that the Gwalior insurgent army, in India, has been broken up, and much progress has been made in the establishment of order throughout all the disturbed districts.

The only news dispatches thus far received through the Cable have been addressed to the Agent of the associated Press, New York. No special dispatches of European news have been passed over this line to any other address, and none will be until after the Cable shall have been thrown open to the public.

We understand that Lord Derby, in answer to the representations of the Directors of the Atlantic Telegraph Company, has signified the willingness of the British government to amend the charter of the company, so as to place the organization, etc., upon a footing of absolute equality as regards the British and American governments.

THE CABLE CELEBRATION. — Portland, August 28.—The city authorities last evening voted to take part in the grand International Celebration on the 1st of September. Salutes of one hundred guns will be fired at sunrise, noon and sunset, and the bells rung at the same hours. The public buildings will be decorated with flags, emblems and devices appropriate to the occasion, and will also be illuminated in the evening. The press of this city, and all others, it is understood, will join in recognizing the first as a holiday, by a general suspension of business.

CAPE NEDDICK, Aug. 27.

Messrs. Editors;—Here, if anywhere in the vicinity of Portsmouth, is the place to display talent as a letter writer; for one who can, in ordinary times, write a readable letter from York, must be allowed to be a correspondent of no mean qualifications.

The road from Portsmouth hither is the worst and most uninviting which leads out of your city, and with the exception of a few cases is entirely destitute of objects of interest.

The first oasis is the beautiful grove of elms which skirts both sides of the road in a little valley about equi-distant from Spruce Creek and York River Bridges.—The second is York River with its rather seedy-looking bridge. The third and last is the pleasant village of York.

The road itself is mostly of clay, and one would expect to see brick-yards on all sides; but not a vestige of one could I perceive. In wet weather the road is shockingly muddy, and in dry weather fully as disagreeable from its roughness and dust.

Arrived at Mrs. Freeman's, however, all troubles vanish, and you can rest assured of a good dinner or supper as the case may be. You can go to see the Beach, the Cliff, the Mountain, or any of those places so well known and so often visited by the frequenters of this spot.

Corn and potatoes look well in this region. Of apples there will be no superabundance;—in fact, the orchards hereabouts are not of that class which will be likely to take the highest premium at many Agricultural or Horticultural exhibitions. IOM.

A SAD PICTURE.—The Cleveland (Ohio) Plaindealer of the 13th gives a pitiable picture of large numbers of laboring men and their families in that city. It says the monster Destitution is crouching around their hearthstones, and the still more terrible monster, Starvation, is knocking at their doors. At least, this is so with some of the working men. These are not beggars, nor loafers, nor sots.—Hundreds are seeking work, but cannot find any.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Mr. Ebenezer Savory, a well known school teacher, was visiting a neighbor in Newburyport, on Wednesday evening, and complained of being unwell—afflicted with severe pain in the head. About 10 o'clock he started for home, but being dizzy attempted to return, when he fell at the doorstep, and being carried home, lived but two hours. It was a case of paralysis. He had been a teacher in that vicinity for twenty-five years or more.

YELLOW FEVER IN NEW YORK.—At Staten Island there have been 13 cases of the fever among the people in the neighborhood of the Quarantine ground, several of which proved fatal. It was spread by a man named Kramer, who was employed to burn infected bedding, but instead carried the articles home, where they were washed by his wife, who was one of the victims.

☞ The deaths in New Orleans on the 26th, by yellow fever, were 60.

COMMUNICATION FROM GOV. HAILE.

CONCORD, N. H., Aug. 26, 1858.

To the Agents of the several towns and cities in the State of New Hampshire, appointed to sell spirituous and intoxicating liquors, under the act entitled "An Act for the suppression of intemperance, approved July 14, 1855."

The Governor having been authorized and required by an act passed June 26, 1858, to contract with some person or persons to furnish the agents of the several towns and cities appointed under said act with pure and unadulterated spirituous and intoxicating liquors, hereby gives notice that he has concluded said contract with EDWIN A. BOARDMAN, Esq., a large importer of the city of Boston.

In the discharge of his duties under said act, the Governor has intended to carry out the same according to its true spirit and intent. He has not understood the act to create an office or an agency for the purchase of liquors, but merely to authorize the formation of a contract with the importer and vender, by whom the liquors are to be furnished directly to the towns and cities, at the lowest cash prices. It was very apparent that no such agency could be located in this State, as there is no point from which liquors could be furnished without great inconvenience and expense.

It appeared to him that Boston was the only point from which the whole State could be conveniently supplied, and that by making the contract directly with the importer, the public interest would be best promoted. The expense of an agency is in this way saved, while the assurance that the liquors will be pure and unadulterated is not diminished. The Governor has therefore made the contract accordingly—a copy of which is herewith published for your information. It will be your duty hereafter to purchase all your liquors of the contractor—whose address is E. A. Boardman, No. 20 Congress street, Boston.

WILLIAM HAILE.

WHEREAS, by an Act of the Legislature of the State of New Hampshire, passed June 26, 1858, entitled "An Act in addition to an act entitled 'An Act for the suppression of Intemperance, approved July 14, 1855,'" the Governor was authorized and required to contract, in behalf of and on the credit of the several towns and cities in this State, with some person or persons to furnish the agents in such towns and cities, appointed under said act, with pure and unadulterated spirituous and intoxicating liquors: and whereas the Governor has made said contract with Edwin A. Boardman, of Boston, in the County of Suffolk and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, the said Boardman hereby covenants and agrees with each of the said towns and cities, that he will at all times during the continuance of this contract furnish the Agents of said towns and cities, appointed under said act respectively, with all such spirituous and intoxicating liquors as the said agents may require, whenever and as often as they may call for the same; that all such liquors shall be pure and unadulterated, and that he will furnish all such liquors at the lowest wholesale cash price of the importer and manufacturer for the same, in Boston, at the time of delivery: That he will deliver them at his store in Boston, or in bond, or send them by such modes of conveyance as such Agents may respectively designate, at the risk or expense of the town or city for which ordered; it being understood that all such liquors as said Boardman shall furnish under this contract shall be paid for on delivery; or in case of any delay, with legal interest from the day of delivery. And the said Boardman further covenants and agrees with each of said towns and cities, that he will keep regular accounts with each of them, in which the quantity, quality and price of the liquors sold shall appear; open at all times to the inspection of the agents or Selectmen of the town, or the Mayor of the city, and the Governor of the State; and further, that if any of the liquors furnished to any town or city under this contract shall not be pure and unadulterated, he will forfeit and pay to such town or city double the price of said liquors, as liquidated damages, on demand.

This contract is to continue one year, renewable by consent of the Governor and said Boardman, but to be revokable by the Governor in case of its violation.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal, this twenty-sixth day of August, A. D. 1858. E. A. BOARDMAN.

Signed, sealed and delivered in presence of WILLIAM HAILE.

Know all men by these Presents, that we, the said Edwin A. Boardman, as principal, and Joseph S. Abbot, Charles Smart, George H. Hutchins, and Isaac Danforth, all of the City of Concord, in the County of Merrimack, and State of New Hampshire, as sureties, are held and firmly bound to each of said towns and cities in the sum of ten thousand dollars, to the payment whereof we jointly and severally bind ourselves, our heirs, executors and administrators, firmly by these presents, sealed with our seals, and dated this twenty-sixth day of August, A. D. 1858.

The condition of this Obligation is such, That if the said Boardman shall well and faithfully fulfill and perform the foregoing Contract in all respects, then this Obligation shall be void—otherwise in force. Signed, sealed and delivered. in presence of WILLIAM HAILE.

E. A. BOARDMAN.
JOSEPH S. ABBOT.
CHARLES SMART.
GEO. H. HUTCHINS.
ISAAC DANFORTH.

In order that there may be no mistake in carrying out the foregoing contract, the selectmen of the towns, and mayors of the cities will oblige me by sending me the names of their respective agents immediately by mail. E. A. BOARDMAN.

August 26, 1858.

MERRIMACK COUNTY.—The Supreme Judicial Court began a session in Concord on Tuesday week. The Patriot informs us that the following liquor indictments were returned:

1 against John C. Hagar for keeping liquor and two for selling.
1 against Reuben Fife for selling liquor.
1 against John Bresnehan for keeping and another for selling liquor.
1 against Patrick Bresnehan for keeping and two for selling liquor.
1 against David C. Watson for keeping liquor, and two against Isaac H. Houston for selling liquor.

The following notes of trials are from the Democrat:

Monday, Aug. 23d, John Bresnehan of Concord was tried on two indictments, one for keeping intoxicating liquor for sale, the other for selling a pint of rum. Verdict on each indictment guilty. Fine imposed by the Court in each case, $50 and costs of prosecution.

Patrick Flanagan, of Fisherville, was tried and found guilty on an indictment for breaking the windows of a house in the night time; sentenced to 90 days in the common jail, and to pay costs of prosecution.

Patrick Bresnehan of Concord was tried on two indictments for selling liquor, and the jury disagreed upon one and found him guilty on the other.

Wednesday morning the trial of Isaac H. Houston of Concord for selling liquor was commenced.

☞ The Spiritual Clarion, published at Auburn, New York, gives an account of the speaking of a babe six months old through a spiritual agency. Also the following: "A merchant of this city informs us that since the 30th of July, at almost every meal time, a chair is moved up to the table and placed in a suitable position, by some invisible power and intelligence represented as his spirit daughter. The circumstances are such as to preclude all deception, and Mr. H. has undoubted confidence in the agency of his child."

DEATH OF MR. HAWKINS.—A telegraphic dispatch has been received, announcing the death of J. H. W. Hawkins, the Washingtonian reformer, by cholera, at Parksburg, Pa. Mr. Hawkins was one of the original Washingtonians, and was an able, eloquent and enthusiastic advocate of the temperance reform.

Somebody writes from an American vessel in the Chinese waters, that a worthy missionary had scattered several copies of the Ten Commandments on the shore.—The next day they were sent back with the request that they might be distributed among the French and English, for the tracts contained admirable doctrines, and these people evidently much needed them.

☞ Mr. Truman Judd of Claremont, N. H., was instantly killed on the track of the Sullivan Railroad, at that place, on Saturday last. He was walking on the track, and being somewhat deaf, he probably did not hear the whistle or the noise of the approaching train. He was over 70 years of age.

ONE OF THE ANCIENTS.—Died, in Hampton, August 26, 1858, Mrs. Betsey G. Shaw, widow of Simeon Shaw, aged 93 years and 5 months, the oldest person in town. She retained her faculties till within a short time of her death, and has never used spectacles; she has occupied a great portion of her time in the care of a fine lot of flowers which she had tenderly cared for.

FUGITIVE SLAVES ARRESTED.—Cincinnati, August 27.—Two fugitive slaves, belonging to Robert W. Ingraham, who escaped in March from Kentucky, were arrested last night and taken before Commissioner Newhall, who remanded them to their master, whereupon they were taken to Covington. The arrest was made quietly.

THE CASE OF H. D. STONE.—Worcester, August 27.—In the case of H. D. Stone, defaulting debtor, the court having ordered that he should give a schedule of all property possessed by him on January 5th, the day of his failure, he to-day filed an answer refusing, on the ground that it would expose him to criminal liability.—The answer was deemed insufficient, and he was committed to close confinement for contempt.

E. P. RUSSELL'S

Patent Mastic Roofing.

Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE Inventor of this Roofing labored many years to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by fire and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value, both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN.

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most confidently and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

BRADSTREET'S

Patent Japan Weather Strip.

This Strip for outside doors is the most useful, and the very best improvement over those now in use, and the latest, (like the Atlantic Cable,) to keep out Snow, Rain, Wind and Cold from your houses.

This Strip is applied to the bottom of the door by screws, with an ELLIPTICAL SPRING—(which cannot get out of order,) that causes the leaf to rise and fall, on opening or shutting the door.

THE FIFTEEN SENT is the most simple and durable of anything of the kind ever invented.—It may be regarded as the "ne plus ultra" in this line, obviating all difficulties in management.—It will save the cost of the article in one winter, in keeping the house warm and dry.

The Prices for putting on Doors: Japan Finish, $1 50 each. Brass Finish, $2 50 each.

Every one put on by the subscriber will be warranted, and if not successful, no pay required.

Those who wish for the same may leave orders at the store of JOSEPH H. CLARK, corner of Market Square and Daniel street, where a sample may be seen, or at the residence of the subscriber, No. 15 Dennett street, North Portsmouth,—which will be promptly attended to.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, RHEUMATISM, GOUT, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES OF THE URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DERILITY, &c., &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and climate.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

LADIES OF PORTSMOUTH.

IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.

Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer.

The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

THE DESTROYER is an old French Compound, but recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the ne plus ultra of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimples also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 8,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from carrying out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Parisian ladies have used it for years; consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? for Sale Everywhere.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DR. DUPONCO'S

French Periodical Golden Pills,

FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them, to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their wholesomeness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1 00. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H THACHER, in Dover by Chas A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

PORTSMOUTH AND ITS VICINITY.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 20.

The crop of grass about here is good, and the price of hay ranges from eight to ten dollars per ton, with no prospect of much increase, unless the damage to the crop by wet weather should cause it. In passing between Portsmouth and Rye Beach, the past two or three weeks, I have seen large quantities of hay injured by the numerous rains we have had, and there seems no prospect of any improvement in the weather. Those farmers who have harvested their hay before the 4th of July, for the past two or three years, have been almost the only ones who have had good opportunity for doing it at all.

Notwithstanding the "dull" weather, the travel to Rye Beach this season is not less than usual. In fact, complain and growl about it as all do, there is more real comfort to be had even at the beaches in cloudy weather than in hot, sweltering days. Unless it actually rains, the bathers enjoy themselves just the same; and, of course, the in-door sports flourish as well, or better. The Atlantic House is situated but a few rods from the beach (at Rye), and has immediately in the rear a most beautiful wood—one of the most delightful situations and best kept houses I ever visited. The bathers ride through a grass grown by-path half a mile or so, to the long beach, where the dressing houses are, the proprietor of the Atlantic gratuitously furnishing a large two-horse wagon for this purpose. Amusing and ridiculous are many of the sights to be seen "by the sea." It is strange, what a difference circumstances do make in what the world calls modesty, which is ever ready to accommodate itself to habit or fashion.

There is fun to be had at Rye Beach, and of various sorts, too. And it is each year becoming more and more popular.—Besides the Atlantic House—which can't be beat—the Ocean House, located a mile or two east, on the same beach, is a very large and splendid hotel, and is well kept by Messrs. Job Jenness & Jon. This is the largest house east of Nahant, and can and does accommodate a regiment of company. Then there is the Surf House, and a number of other smaller hotels; and scores of handsome farm-houses wherein summer boarders are accommodated. Sometimes nearly a thousand visitors are enjoying the unexcelled attractions of Rye—ocean and rural—at a time.

The ride to Rye Beach, across Sagamore Creek, is most beautiful—to the Ocean House 7 miles, and a mile or two farther to the Atlantic House. Then a drive up the river, along the banks of the Piscataqua, is delightful. Great Bay, situated half a dozen miles from Portsmouth, is a fine sheet of salt water, surrounded with most beautiful and luxuriant scenery. The tide ebbs and flows here, through Piscataqua river; and it is this large body of water, miles in extent, which causes the swift tide in this river. The towns of Newington, Greenland, Stratham, and Durham, and perhaps some others, border on Great Bay; and Exeter and Newmarket are connected with it by small yet navigable streams.—The Cocheco River, which runs to Dover, and I believe also to Berwick, branches off to the North from the Piscataqua, below Piscataqua Bridge, which is, or was, located just at the head of the river, at the entrance of the Bay.

The old Piscataqua Bridge, which had not paid a cent of dividend for years, if it ever did, has been allowed to decay; and a few years since the tide carried about half of it down stream. The view from the banks of the river, taking in the remaining ruins of the old bridge, is picturesque indeed. The country all about here is very attractive—of which, perhaps, more anon.

Yours, SCRIBO.

BRIEF LOCALS.—We hear from good authority, that a Military Company composed of merchants and others of good standing in this city, is about to be organized—to be called the "National Guards."

The Tigers, of Boston, are to visit Portsmouth in a few days, on their way to the Shoals.

Concord Fire Company, No. 4, are contemplating an excursion with the Portsmouth Cornet Band, to this city, Rye Beach, and the Shoals.

Sagamore Bridge has been lately sheathed with heavy plank, and raised in the centre, which will cause the rain and snow to run off, instead of standing in puddles and rotting the wood, as heretofore.

An Old Relic.—In digging post holes preparatory to building a new fence in the rear of the Chronicle Office, Friday, the workmen ran afoul of a heavy stick of mahogany, twelve feet in length and eight inches square. One of the oldest inhabitants, who was on the ground at the time, said it was a piece of the ship Falmouth, brought into this port nearly 50 years ago. The wood was as sound as the day it was cut. H.

PUBLIC SPIRIT.—The Press, all over the country, are going to make a holiday of September 1st—in honor of the Atlantic Cable. We trust we Chroniclers will not be behind any of the craft in enjoying the celebration—even if we are in appreciating the occasion for it. Vive la Atlantic Telegraph!

☞ On Sunday, about noon, two young Germans—Mr. D. I. S. Hart, (well known in this vicinity as a teacher of languages, and now said to have been engaged in that capacity in a school at Newport, R. I.,) and Mr. Herman Lissner of Boston, took a boat from Green's Wharf, Water street, to go down river. But the tide swept them up against the bridge, and upset the boat, which sunk. A man put off in a boat, and rescued Lissner in a very exhausted state; but Hart was drowned—and his body was not recovered.

FROM CALIFORNIA.

TWO WEEKS LATER.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.

Steamship Moses Taylor, from Aspinwall 19th, via Key West, with the California mails of Aug. 5, and nearly a million and a half in specie, arrived at three o'clock this afternoon. She left the U. S. brig Dolphin at Key West, who reported having captured a slaver under American colors and sent her into Charleston.

The first mail from Salt Lake, under the new contract, arrived at Placerville on the 21st of July, and the first mail eastward via Salt Lake, left on the 24th.

The colored men of San Francisco contemplate emigrating to New Granada, and have entered into correspondence with Gen. Bosques, who invites them to come.

A skirmish had occurred at Grouse Creek, Humboldt County, between the Indians and whites, in which one of the latter and ten of the former were killed.

A party of 60 apostate Mormons had arrived with their families in Carson Valley.

But little is said about Fraser River.—The steamer Pacific, which left San Francisco for Victoria, took but few passengers.

The health of San Francisco was never better. Business is improving.

The frigate Merrimac was at Callao.

The steamer Oregon, from San Francisco for Victoria, struck on a reef July 31st, but subsequently got off uninjured. During the confusion a number of passengers jumped overboard and six were drowned—their names unknown.

SOUTH AMERICA.—Valparazo dates are of July 16th, and Callao 27th. The crops of Chili are promising.

A project for towing vessels through the Straits of Magellan had been submitted to Congress.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—A letter from Key West says the slaver recently captured by the Dolphin and ordered to Charleston, is the brig Putnam, formerly the Echo, of Boston. She was from the coast of Africa, with 318 slaves. Her crew were confined, and the prize put in charge of Lt. Bradford. The captain of the slaver is on board the Dolphin, which vessel was to leave on the 22d for Boston.

The slaver alluded to arrived at Charleston yesterday. She is reported as the "brig Echo, of Baltfmore."

The committee on the celebration yesterday decided on inviting all the ex-Presidents to be present at the ceremonies on Wednesday. They requested that all public and private places of business be closed that day.

☞ At the Regatta in Springfield, Mass., on Friday, the following prizes were awarded:

For the first race—1st prize of $100 to the Frank G. Wood, of Newburg; 2d prize, of $50, to the Dan Bryant, of New York. For the second race—1st prize of $100, to Fort Hill Boy, of Boston; 2d prize, of $50, to the Bonita, of New London. Third race—One prize of $50 to the S. H. Seymour. Fourth race—One prize of $150 to the Experiment of New York.

☞ Susan Aroline Webster is the name of the young woman who was killed in Boston the other day, for whose death one Dr. Brown is now in jail. The victim was 20 years old, and belonged in Appleton, Maine.

READ! READ!! READ!!!
SCHROON LAKE, Essex Co., N.Y., February 6, 1858.
W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y.—Dear Sir: Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having been much pleased with it, I take pleasure in making the following statement: From the effects of a very severe fit of sickness when about eighteen years of age my hair commenced turning grey, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white, being very harsh and coarse. Last summer I had reached my fifty-third year, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by you. I commenced using it according to directions, and in a few days was surprised to find that my hair from the roots outward was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was as truly brown and glossy as it was in my youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color. MYLE SHAMAN.
Essex Co.: Myle Shaman came before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true, this 6th day of Feb., 1858.
JOH. F. PATTEN, Justice of the Peace.

PITTSFORD, VT., Aug. 1, 1857.
I hereby certify that my having become quite grey, I used Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, (prepared by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y.,) for four weeks and my hair was in that time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to be all it claims. WM. KINGSLEY,
Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt

The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietor of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring and Restorative. It has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. This singular effect is not produced as when dyes are used; for it acts upon the natural secretions of coloring matter at the roots, and thus effects the change. Beside, the color produced is not a counterfeit, but the natural shade of youth. It does not color the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & Co., Troy, N.Y.
Sold by JOSEPH H. THACHER, Apothecary) cor. of State and Pleasant sts, and No. 12 Market Square, Portsmouth, N. H. 1e4 Smisdaw

From the N. H. Gazette.

Protest against Proscription.

Judge Douglas has placed himself squarely and boldly on the Democratic platform. * * Again, his defeat at this time, if brought about by defection in the Democratic ranks,—especially if it seem to have the countenance of the powers at Washington,—cannot but have the most disastrous effect on the Democratic party throughout the whole north-west, and consequently endanger its national existence. * * Let Democrats pause and reflect. Let the Philadelphia Press and Washington Union forbear. Let the hobbing Democrats in Illinois return to their allegiance and all will be well.

The above extracts, which we clip from an able editorial in the Dover Gazette, indicate that the ignominious system of eternal barking forms no portion of the policy of its new editors. We are glad to see a little independent expression of sentiment upon this important matter on the part of our co-laborers in the Democratic ranks. Just at present, the question of what course the Democratic party is to pursue with reference to Stephen A. Douglas and his friends, Lecompton and anti-Lecompton, overshadowes in importance all other political questions of the day, and we can see no reason why the politician or the party journal that abstains from expressing decided views upon this subject, is too cowardly to be of much account here or hereafter. To every Democrat whose mind is not embittered with prejudices, it is as clear as noon-day, that the success of the unreasonable efforts now being made to break down the Democratic party of Illinois and of the West, will secure as its immediate result, the election of as black an abolitionist as can be found to the U. S. Senate over as able and as true a Democrat as walks the footstool, disheaten the friends of the Administration all thro' the North and West, and render the defeat of our party in the next Presidential election inevitable.

There is but little or no diversity of opinion among Democrats relative to the propriety of the admission of Kansas under the Lecompton Constitution, that diversity has existed in this State, but upon the question whether the feelings engendered by that dispute shall be kept alive or buried in the grave along with the rejected Lecompton Constitution itself, whether all who did not view the subject in the same light in which the President viewed it, are now to be read out, turned out, or kicked out of the party;—upon this question, we think there is no great diversity of opinion among the Democracy of this State. Though as a party we have been unfortunate in this State of late, we have not yet got quite so low as to have no hopes of better and brighter days; while we have 32,000 voters firm and true, we cannot afford to put forth extraordinary efforts to bring the party to a "convenient by small" condition, for the benefit of those patriots who would serve the federal government without the annoyance of many competitors. The Democracy of the old Granite State is too proud, too conscious of its strength, too devoted to its time-honored principles, too self-respected with its glorious past, too confident of the immutability of truth, and too hopeful of the future, to commit deliberate suicide during the present generation.

In the contest now being waged between Douglas, battling inside the Democratic organization, supported by all the caucuses and conventions of the Democracy of his State, and Lincoln supported directly by all the abolitionists, black republicans, and avowed enemies of the Administration, and indirectly by the poor crew of mercenary rascals who arrogate to themselves all the Democracy in the land, and heady libel and scandalize the Administration, by claiming its support and countenance in these infamous operations, there can be no question as to the sympathies of the New Hampshire Democracy. A house-cart will hold every individual within its ranks who does not believe that the defeat of Douglas will be most disastrous to the interests of the party. We hound the prediction that when the proper time arrives for the Administration to express its views,—that is, when by so doing it can most advance the interests of the Democratic party, it will speak, and throw its weight in favor of crushing at one blow the last hopes of black republicanism in the western States; and that the Dennie crew will soon stand as astonished and disgusted as the sleeper who thought he heard Whitefield preach, but being told of his mistake, was forced to confess that "the nigger rolled herself in de sheet for nothin!"

COL. FORNEY.—The devil seems to have got full possession of Col. Forney of the Philadelphia Press. The lies and slanders upon the Administration to which he gives currency through the columns of his organ, outnumber all the inventions of the Black Republicans proper, whose amanuenses he will soon grow jealous of this professor of the art. Neither the cause of Judge Douglas, nor of any individual or portion of the Democracy, can be served by the utterances of the villainous blackguardism and silly falsehoods with which the "Press" is freighted. His latest invention since the "English Letter," of which we presume he is the author, is the statement that President Buchanan wrote out for Hon. James B. Clay, Henry Clay's son, the speech which he recently delivered in Pennsylvania, a malignant and senseless story intended to injure Clay, but better calculated to draw upon Col. Forney the contempt of all decent men, and the regret of all Democrats, that a man capable of such villeinies ever belonged to the Democratic party.

☞ The Democrats of the First Congressional District of Vermont held their District Convention at Rutland, on Wednesday, the 18th instant, and nominated C. C. Eastman, Esq., of the Montpelier Patriot, for Congress. It is but a few days since President Buchanan cut off Major Eastman's head, as Postmaster at Montpelier, and now the Democrats of the District propose to send the rest of his body to Washington.

☞ The Daily Ledger of Leavenworth City has been informed that immediate application will be made to Governor Denver to call an extra session of the Legislature of Kansas, in order that steps may be taken for the formation of another constitution for the Territory.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain well-marked maladies who will suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he has determined that any of these persons will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and enclosed as follows:

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empirics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post-paid, and enclosing a fee of $5, will be sent, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING FLUID. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regular and all female irregularities. Their action is speedy and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely worthless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the effects of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

The Dr. has every part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

Boarding and accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. 1y2 dly

Joy to the Admirers of

A FINE HEAD OF

RICH GLOSSY HAIR.

Talk of beauty, it cannot exist without a fine head of hair, then read the following, and if you ask more, see circular around each bottle, and as one can doubt.

PROF. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—We call the attention of all, old and young, to this unrivalled preparation which turns back to its original color, gray hair—covers the head of the bald with a luxuriant growth—removes the dandruff, itching and all scurfy eruptions—causes a continual flow of the natural fluids;—and hence, it used as a regular dressing for the hair will preserve its color, and keep it from falling to extreme old age, in all its natural beauty. We call then upon the bald, the gray, or diseased in scalp, to use it; and surely the young will not, at their value be slow to profit by one of the richest, ever, ever be without it. Its praise is upon the tongue of thousands.

The agent for Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative in New Haven, received the following letter in regard to the Restorative, a few weeks since:

DEAR BRUCE, CONN., July 23, 1856.

MR. LEAVENWORTH—Sir: I have been troubled with dandruff for a long time, and the more than a year, my hair began to come out, scurf and hair together. I saw in a New Haven paper about "Wood's Hair Restorative" and thought I would try it, and purchased one bottle to try it, and I found to my satisfaction it was the thing; it removed the scurf and new hair began to grow in now two or three inches in length wherever it may be. I have great faith in it. I wish you to send me two bottles more, for I want to give it to my friends. I want to know as any of the kind is used in this place, you may have a market for many bottles after it is known here. Yours with res., REVEL PRATT.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 1858.

PROF. WOOD—DEAR SIR: Your Hair Restorative is to me a most blessed thing. The first time I used it, also the back part of my head almost lost its covering—in fact BALD. I have used but two half pint bottles of your Restorative, and now the back of my head is studded with a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving its benefit. I have tried other preparations without any benefit, but after reading much from my own personal recommendation, I can indeed many others to try it. Yours respectfully,

D. R. TWEEDS, M. D., No. 404 Vine street.

VICKSBURG, TA., June 22, 1858.

PROF. WOOD: ALLOW ME to inform you that "Wood's Hair Restorative" has proved, been in the habit of using other Hair Restoratives, and that I find yours vastly superior to any other I know. It effectively cleanses the head of dandruff, and with the application of a few bottles will restore a person's hair to the original youthful color and texture, giving it a healthy, soft and glossy appearance; and a beautiful gloss to whiskers, the hands that apply it, or the dress on which it drops. I would, therefore, recommend its use to every one desirous of having a fine color and texture to hair.

Respectfully yours, THOMAS KING.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are charitered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the integrity of properties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that the Subscriber has a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. Every ticket will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. Adventurers can depend on having a prize, or money must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. Purchasers may pick the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to puzzle the brain. Private venture tickets at $1.00; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Augusta Chronicle, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Dey Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m18 1y

From the Worcester Spy.

LECTURE ON WINE DRINKING.

BY REV. J. G. ADAMS.

The Universalist church in Worcester was crowded to its utmost capacity, Sunday evening, to hear the fourth of the course of temperance lectures by the clergymen. The lecture by Rev. J. G. Adams was one of the best we ever had the pleasure of listening to. We are sure he touched at the root of the matter, when he viewed the wine drinking customs of our times as the source of most of our drunkenness.—We heartily wish that the whole lecture might be published, and not only published, but carried out into practice. The following brief report will give but a faint idea of the lecture; it wants the eloquence and earnestness of the speaker, to give more power:

The subject was Wine Drinking; and the text Proverbs 23: 31, 32. "Look not thou upon the wine when it is red, &c.—At the last it bitoth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder." Abstinence from the use of intoxicating wines as a beverage, seemed, to the speaker, to be the doctrine of the text; nothing less, nothing more. Physiologically, man is thus warned and directed. Any "creature comfort" of God ot actual benefit to man, may be properly used by him. Abstinence from all intoxicating wine is enjoined, not because wine is a good creature, but because it is an evil thing. No where in the Bible are these statements contradicted.—The speaker went specially and at some length into a consideration of the Bible question as to the uses of wine, fermented and unfermented, citing passages in the Old Testament where wine drinking is interdicted, or the use of it in certain instances allowed. References, in particular, were also made to the example of our Saviour, his first miracle, the eucharist, and the use of wine medicinally, as in the case of Paul's advice to Timothy, in the New Testament. If any would justify wine drinking from our Lord's miracle at the marriage, the speaker thought they ought to be careful to procure an article such as our Lord furnished,—wine manufactured from water alone. Other preparations, or simplest drinks, might be used at the Lord's Supper. Medicinal wines might be of home manufacture, with but little of the alcoholic in them, and taken in small quantities, as Paul advised Timothy.—Had this young apostle been a wine drinker, this prescription would not have been given him.

Quite an expose was given of the infamous work of drugging liquors, and making all kinds of artificial wines of the worst of mixtures, and of the extensive use of these destructive drinks, all over our land. Many instances were cited to show this fearful work was continually going on. The culture of the grape was alluded to, and the benefits of this culture, if the fruit could be used as food principally. Its extensive manufacture into intoxicating drinks would serve to encourage counterfeit wines.

In regard to the effects of wine drinking, wine growing countries, some very striking evidences were adduced to show that these effects are, on the whole, evil.

Here, then, was a principle; here were facts. And from them the speaker made his earnest appeals, to Christians, that they take just ground on the subject of temperance, and maintain it, through evil and bad report; to all good citizens, that they exert their influence, by word and example, for the right. They cannot elude responsibility here; there can be no purification of their indifference. More could now be done in our own city for temperance, if the drinking usages of our homes were different.

Here is one of our greatest hindrances. Appeals to the law, to the city government, appeals to have temperance candidates for office supported, and all this, were of but little avail, so long as this evil of home and social wine drinking abounded. Let the greater part, a respectable majority of our fellow citizens, feel to their souls' depths the binding force of the doctrine of the text, and how long would this apathy in respect to the making and selling of these liquid poisons here, prevail? An appeal to parents was made, and startling facts stated in reference to the drinking habits of the young men of our city.—Any father who could sneer at the temperance cause and refuse to aid or countenance it, while his sons might be among the fastest drivers and drinkers of the place where he lived, he thought was troubled with a kind of parental insanity. An appeal to young men and women was made, in view of their responsibilities in the present and for the future, and of the dreadful ravages of the evil of drinking with the youth of our land.

The temperance cause is a work. It had lost, because this fact had been too little regarded. Our public opinion needs vitalizing and strengthening anew. Law, alone, had been, recently, too much depended on; and old drinking habits revived. The law of conscience, as well as the legislative law, needs new and wider existence and application. We need it in individual example, in home influences, social observances; in our Bands of Hope for the young, in associations of the Sons and Daughters of Temperance; in the union of those of every age and station of life in our community, who would say to the work of the destroyer, "Thus far shalt thou go, and no farther."

The speaker closed in a truthful paraphase of the text by an American poet.—The address occupied more than an hour in the delivery, but was listened to with the utmost attention by the large audience.

UNITED STATES AND FOREIGN
PATENT AGENCY.
SAMUEL COOPER,
Late Principal Examiner of Patents in the United States Patent Office, at Washington.
HAS REMOVED HIS OFFICE TO
WEBSTER BANK BUILDING,
13 EXCHANGE STREET, BOSTON.
PATENTS secured in the United States, and in all other patent granting countries. Specifications and drawings prepared. Caveats filed.—Reconsiderations procured, or applications that have been rejected upon imperfectly prepared papers. Interferences prosecuted. Reissues and extensions procured, and in general, all business connected with the Patent Office transacted with care and promptness.
British and other foreign patents procured through prompt and confidential agents in London and Paris.
Persons residing at a distance may obtain all necessary information, and transact their business transacted, by writing to the subscriber, without the trouble and expense of a visit to Washington.
He begs leave to refer those unacquainted with him to the following testimonials:—
From Hon. Chas. Mason, Commissioner of Patents.
U. S. PATENT OFFICE, Feb 23, 1855.
I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged as Solicitor, and has been in that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with the office; he has evinced a thorough acquaintance with the Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office, a close attention to the interests of his clients, and a marked candor and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him as one of the very best agents for the transaction of business with this office with whom I am acquainted.
CHARLES MASON, Commissioner.
From the Examiners of the Patent Office.
The undersigned, Principal and Assistant Examiners in the United States Patent Office, have for several years been well acquainted with Mr. Samuel Cooper, late a principal Examiner in this office, and take pleasure in stating that he is a gentleman of the highest moral character, of unquestioned knowledge in the business and practice of the office, and that his scientific attainments are such as eminently fit him for the business in which he is about to engage.
HENRY S. REMWICK, L. D. GATE, S. H. LAKE, T. R. TEALE } Principal Examiners.
THOS. T. EVERETT, F. SOUTHGATE WHITE, WM. C. LANGDON } Assistant Examiners.
From long acquaintance and intimate official relations with Mr. Cooper, I fully and heartily concur in the foregoing recommendation made by my late colleagues. W. P. N. FITZGERALD, Late Principal Examiner of Patents.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 31, 1858.

CAPTURED SLAVER.

The Africans from the brig Echo have been landed at Castle Pinckney, Charleston, S. C., and placed in charge of the U. S. Marshal. The whole affair has created much excitement.

Well may there be excitement. Here are a crowd of negroes landed from a slaver; the first we believe, ever sent into one of our ports with negroes on board—and the vessel will be libelled, and the case tried, we suppose, in the United States Courts, against the officers and crew, as pirates, under our U. S. Laws.

This prize goes into Charleston, the hot bed of American slavery, an institution whose foundation was laid in African negro trading—and which is kept in countenance and some kind of strength, by Northern men who eat southern dirt by the shovel-full.

Quite an excitement and noise has been made within a few years, about the patriots in Boston, who valiantly sent back into slavery, a fugitive or two, all to obey the U. S. Laws and save the Union.

Now we see a cargo of African slaves sent into Charleston, to put the patriots there into "a state of probation." Well may they be excited.

THE PIRATE'S EXPERIENCE.—The editor of the Portland Advertiser gives the following account of his interview with Williams, one of the pirates hung last Friday, at Auburn, Maine:

In an interview with the prisoners yesterday morning in the cell, Williams said: "I never felt so happy in my life. The Lord God makes me happy—Lord Jesus Christ makes me happy."

To a question, "Can you meet your fate?" he replied:

"Fate! what fate? The Lord Jesus has washed away my fate with his blood."

"Do you feel sorry?"

"I did," he said, "but Jesus has washed away my sorrow."

Observing a beautiful boquet of flowers in his cell, we said to him, "Who gave you those flowers?"

Williams replied, "Lord God sent them all! The Lord God will pardon me. A little girl (alluding to the child who has taught him to read since he has been in prison) brought me to the Lord."

The ministry of the little girl to the murderer was certainly very beautiful;—but the poor culprit's brain seems to have been crazed by his crimes, conviction and impending death, so as to fancy, from some teaching, that the Lord Jesus had washed away his fate and his sorrow.

EXCURSION TO THE WHITE MOUNTAINS.—Edson C. Eastman, Esq., of Concord, publisher of the excellent and reliable "Guide Book to the White Mountain Region," is engaged in getting up an excursion to the White Mountains, to start from Boston or Concord on Monday morning next, Sept. 6—reaching Franconia via White River Junction and Mills River railroads to Littleton, thence by stage to Franconia and the White Mountains, across to Gorham, and returning on Saturday by the Eastern road.

The trip will occupy precisely six days, and tickets for the excursion, including railroad and other fares, hotel bills, the ascent of Mount Washington, &c., are furnished at $35. Tickets and all information concerning the trip can be obtained of Mr. Noyes, conductor on the Concord railroad, and we presume that quite a pleasant party can be made from among those of our citizens who have not visited the mountain region the present season. The name of Mr. Eastman is to our mind a sufficient guaranty that the programme of the excursion will be carried out in good faith.

EXETER ACADEMY.—The next term of this institution commences on Wednesday of this week. The system of recitation will be somewhat different from heretofore. Instead of desks, setters have been furnished in the recitation rooms, and classes will be confined in the rooms only at recitation hours.

☞ We understand that the Young Men's Christian Association of Exeter is at present in a flourishing condition. They have a fine reading room in the Town Hall, where about thirty newspapers and periodicals are taken. Favorite among the dailies, says a correspondent, is the Morning Chronicle of Portsmouth.

☞ Johnny Downey, a boy who sells papers at the Courtlandt street Hotel, New York, has come into the possession of $550 on the recent race at Goodwood Park in England. John sold copies enough of "Porter's Spirit" to entitle him to a share in the sweepstakes offered by the proprietors of "Porter's Spirit," and John was lucky enough to draw "Saunterer."

☞ The Tribune says the receipts at the Assay Office of silver for re-coinage have of late been quite large, beyond the capacity of the Mint to make quick returns. Some 400,000 Mexican dollars are now waiting the progress of coinage, and more will be deposited next week. These dollars have been drawn from Mexico mostly through Texas and New Orleans.

HALF FARE TO CLERGYMEN.—The Pennsylvania Railroad Company now issue tickets to clergymen at half-price. Annual tickets are issued to the clergy, which they present to the conductors when travelling, who are authorized by the face of the ticket to pass them upon payment of one-half the usual price for such distance as they may wish to travel.

A LADY FINED FOR WEARING CRINOLINE The Independence Belge states that a young lady, living in Hanover, has been sentenced by a court of that town to pay a fine of two francs, "for having worn a dress which, occupying the whole breadth of the pavement, is an obstruction to the public way."

LIBERAL DONATION.—It is stated that Mr. John Pickett has lately given $10,000 to the Southwestern Bible Society of New Orleans, La., for the purpose of stocking their Bible Houses with Bibles. He is a young man, and a member of the Presbyterian church. This society have nine persons who have given or pledged $1000 each.

☞ A family named Mackerel have recently come into possession by chancery in Great Britain of an estate valued at £1,000,000, left by one Salmon, who died without an heir. The lord chancellor decided that as there were no more Salmons, the largest family of Mackerels should inherit the fortune.

MARRIED AT LAST.—The young man at Brooklyn, who so mysteriously disappeared on the eve of his wedding on Tuesday night, was found on Wednesday afternoon in New York. Last evening he was married to the young lady by the Rev. Dr. Kennaday, the minister engaged for the ceremony.

He stated that he went to New York for the purpose of procuring a suit of wedding clothes, having in his possession a gold watch, a diamond breastpin, and four hundred dollars in money. He stepped into a refreshment saloon in New York to get a glass of soda water, and after drinking it he formed the acquaintance of two men, and had some conversation with them.

This is the last that he remembers until he was found yesterday afternoon, on the steps of a house in Roosevelt street, New York, with a light suit of clothes on, and his money and watch gone, as well as the breast pin. His feet were blistered so badly that when his socks were taken off the skin came of with them. His back was badly bruised and body also. He is a member of the Young Men's Christian Association of Brooklyn, and is said to be a man of exemplary character. It is supposed that he must have been watched by some parties who intended to rob him, and in order to effect their object, drugged him in some manner and then left him destitute. His name is Peter Luyster. His bride was a Miss Van Voorhies. Both parties belong to highly respectable families—New York Com. Advertiser of Thursday.

A HANDSOME PRESENT FROM ARCHBISHOP HUGHES.—We learn with pleasure that Bishop McGill, of Richmond, has received from Archbishop Hughes, of New York, a present of a magnificent pair of carriage horses, as beautiful in action as they are to look upon.—Richmond Enquirer.

This "magnificent" present, of course, comes from the superfluous extractions of sixpences and dimes from the poor Irish laity, many of whom after giving the church their scanty earnings, fall back on Protestant charity for support. In this connection it is useful to remember the Brooks controversy, in which this Archbishop protested that he was not worth a dollar in the world. Here he is making "magnificent" presents. Who pays, not only secondarily but ultimately? Our protestant philanthropists.—Lowell News.

The Duke of Mecklenburg-Strelitz has placed a laurel crown of gold on the tomb of Mme. Sontag, who lies buried by her sister Nina's side, in the chapel of the convent at Marienthal, a village near Dresden. The crown bears this inscription: "To the best of wives and of mothers, the most faithful of friends, the most beautiful and amiable of women, the greatest of songstresses, this crown is dedicated by George, Grand Duke of Mecklenburg-Strelitz."

FROM KANSAS.—St. Louis, August 28.—A despatch from Kansas City, 26th, per U. S. express to Booneville, says that M. Bordeau and party arrived there the night before from Pike's Peak, for the purpose of procuring outfits to work the newly discovered mines. They brought several ounces of gold and confirm the existence of the mines, which are situated on Cherry Creek, one of the most southern branches of the South Platte, in latitude 39.

☞ Louisa Pyne, the English cantatrice, has made a fortune, it is said, of nearly $100,000 in three years.

LATER FROM EUROPE.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Aug. 28.

Steamer North Star, from Havre and Southampton 18th inst., passed Cape Race on Friday afternoon, and the news despatch was obtained.

ENGLAND.—Interesting accounts are given of Queen Victoria's royal visit and progress in Germany.

More members of the East India Council are to be appointed.

A splendid banquet has been given by the Duke of Malakoff to celebrate the Napoleonic fetes.

The House of Commons has ordered the return of the lands of Vancouver's Island. The Cunard steamship Company, have offered to put a vessel on the line between Liverpool and British Columbia. The British government are about sending a corps of Engineers to that country, to build roads and bridges, erect block houses for the reception of gold, and at the same time form a military organization.

The American ship Abby Langdon has been wrecked at Freshwater Bay, Isle of Wight.

The potato disease is again making its appearance.

Two suspensions are reported at Calcutta, and several others are expected to follow.

There has been a financial crisis at Shanghae, and accounts state that the new crop of tea is of a very inferior quality.

The intelligence from Bombay, is highly favorable.

From Australia, accounts state that the newly discovered Copper mines were very rich. £900,000 Australian gold are known to be on the way to England.

FRANCE.—The last month's account of the Bank of France is considered unsatisfactory, and it is stated there is something in the present condition of commercial affairs of France that invites serious attention.

Two new line of battle ships are to be immediately built, and ribbed cannon are to be introduced and used in the French Navy.

SPAIN.—Yellow fever has broken out in some portions of Spain.

INDIA.—Telegraphic advices have been received, via Alexandria.

The Begum and her son, the present king of Oude, are at Burgoo, where the rebels are collecting.

The Bombay Presidency is quiet.

The Gwalior Army had broken up and gone into quarters.

Sir Hugh Rose has resumed the command of the Poonah Division.

General Roberts had reached Joypoore. The enemy was alarmed and withdrew to the southward.

At Indore an outbreak was expected.

The fugitive rebels from Gwalior had occupied the town of Tonk.

A later despatch says Gen. Roberts, on reaching Joypoore, threw out a flying detachment, and the rebels fled precipitately.

The Rajah of Shanghur had surrendered himself to the British.

Matters seem to be settling down in all parts of India, although there were 30,000 rebels still in the field.

LIVERPOOL COTTON MARKET.—Richardson, Spence & Co. report a decline of 1-16d on middling, and 1-16 a 1-8d on the lower qualities.

The market in breadstuffs is generally steady. The weather has been unfavorable for crops, but the harvest has been well secured. Flour very dull, with a slight decline on inferior qualities. Corn dull and nominally unchanged.

☞ Signor Rossini is said to find himself so well at Paris as to have determined on giving up Bologna and established himself for the rest of his days at Passy, where he is about to erect a mansion.

NAVAL.—Washington, Aug. 29.—The Secretary of the Navy has appointed Com. Shubrick to the command of the Brazilian squadron. He relieves Com. Forrest.—The Paraguay fleet, under command of Capt. Page, will be attached to this squadron, and the Commodore will probably accompany it to La Plata. He will go out in the Sabine, stopping at Rio Janeiro on his way.

The Liver Invigorator!

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD,

Compounded Entirely from GUMS.

THE GREAT PURGATIVE AND LIVER MEDICINES now before the public.

These Gums remove all morbid or bad matter from the system, supplying the place of a healthy flow of bile, invigorating the stomach, causing it to digest well, purifying the blood, giving tone and health to the whole machinery.

Bilious Attacks are cured, and, what is better, prevented by removing the cause of the disease—effecting a radical cure.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach and prevent the food from rising and souring.

Only one dose taken before retiring, prevents nightmare.

Only one dose taken at night, loosens the bowels gently, and cures costiveness.

One dose taken after each meal will cure Dyspepsia.

Mix water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.

One dose often repeated is a sure cure for Cholera Morbus, and a preventive of Cholera.

Only one bottle is needed to throw out of the system the effects of medicine after a long sick spell.

One bottle taken for Jaundice removes all sallowness or unnatural color from the skin.

One dose taken a short time before eating gives vigor to the appetite and makes the food digest well.

One dose, often repeated, cures Chronic Diarrhœa in its worst form, while Summer and Bowel Complaints yield almost to the first dose.

A few bottles will cure Dropsy by exciting the absorbents.

We take pleasure in recommending this medicine as a preventive for Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a Bilious type. It operates with certainty, and thousands are willing to testify to its wonderful virtues.

PRICE, ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION.

This personal charm all would possess, and every means has been used to obtain it. All can obtain it who use the Persian Balm at their Toilette. Wet a sponge or napkin in water, pour on it two or three drops of the Persian Balm, and wash the face night and morning. It removes from the skin all impurities, refreshes and ameliorates its whiteness, relieves it from all unpleasant odor, and imparts a freshness and fragrance to the body unequaled by any cosmetics. For nothing it is peculiarly desirable.

How to Behave.

A POCKET Manual of Republican Etiquette, and guide to correct personal habits; embracing an exposition of the principles of good manners: useful hints on the care of the person, on dress, drinking, exercise, habits, dress, self culture and behaviour at home; the etiquette of salutations, introductions, receptions, visits, dinners, evening parties, conversation, letters, presents, weddings, funerals, the street, the church, places of amusement, travelling, &c. With illustrative anecdotes, a chapter on love and courtship, and rules of order for Debating Societies.

E. P. RUSSELL'S

Patent Mastic Roofing.

Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE Inventor of this Roofing labored many years to combine articles to build such a roof for the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and Gravel roofs now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested in these matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most cordially assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN.

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most confidently and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, GLOW, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from these distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and confectioners. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.

Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer,

The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

THE Dermorah is an entirely New Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the one plus ultra of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimples and all eruptions, removes the cause and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which secrete a peculiar fluid to lubricate them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Dermorah has stood the test it for years: consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of all the articles on the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris without using an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

Seventy-five couple were present, including many who came from Boston to participate in the tepsichorian exercise. Many beautiful costumes were displayed, making it a very brilliant affair. The company adjourned at 5 o'clock Saturday morning.

First Class Hotel at Cape Neddick. A first class Hotel will probably be built at Bald Head Cliff, Cape Neddick, or at York Beach, next spring, by a gentleman who has recently visited there from abroad, and who thinks it is the most desirable situation for a watering place that is to be found in this part of the country. H.

BRITISH PRIZE-SHIP FALMOUTH.—Messrs. Editors:—In the Chronicle of Monday, "H." mentions a piece of mahogany dug up near your office, supposed to have been brought in by that ship. I have no doubt such was the fact. The Falmouth was captured and brought in by the privateer-schooner Thomas, T. M. Shaw commander, in October, 1812; and was sold at auction, together with the cargo, by Maj. Sam'l Larkin. The cargo was valuable,—consisting of rum, sugar, coffee, &c., and brought a very high price.

The ship was purchased by Mr. James Sheafe, and Robert Lenox of New York; and was, after the war, fitted out for Calcutta, and called the Ramdololday, the name of a native merchant in Calcutta.—No doubt Mr. Sheafe bought this piece of mahogany with the ship; and as at that time no sawing was done by steam-power, and it perhaps would not pay for sawing by hand, Mr. S. appropriated it to some other purpose—and Exchange Buildings were built about that time, viz. after the fire of 1812. F——.

"There's something rotten—somewhere."—Anon.

Messrs. Editors:—We have heard that a Londoner, who has recently become a resident of this city, has for the last week or two regularly stationed himself every day on the leeward side of the slaughter houses in Auburn street and on South Road. The only explanation which can be given to this remarkable exhibition of taste, is to be deduced from a remark which he made in answer to an inquisitive bystander:—"Vy, sir, the hodor, sir, so like the Thames of the metropolis, ham so vell haccustomed to it, sir, hit's really quite delicious, sir." How strong is home association!

Of course we don't believe it—we give it as a passing rumor. ROMAN NOSE.

☞ We learn that as Mrs. Joseph Leach and her son, of Eliot, were sailing up river on Monday morning, their boat struck the bridge and was filled—and the parties endangered were taken up on the bridge, the woman being pretty thoroughly wet.

FAIR.—The Ladies' Society at Kittery Point propose to hold a Fair at Gunnison's Hall, on Thursday, Sept. 2d. The object is to raise funds to make improvements on the old Meeting-House—and it is hoped that the friends of that old church will bear them in mind. Hall open from 2 to 11 o'clock.

☞ See Auction Column for a rare chance to buy Furniture.

☞ A "working Democrat" is defined by a Minnesota paper as a "Democrat who can poll the largest number of votes with the fewest men!"

He who imagines he can do without the world, deceives himself much; but he who fancies the world cannot do without him, is still more deceived.

MURDER.—Savannah Aug. 28.—Dr. W. S. Haldon, of Bryan county, was killed today by his step-son, George Land.

YELLOW FEVER. Charleston, Aug. 29.—The official report of the deaths, for the week ending yesterday, include 39 from yellow fever.

MORTALITY.—New Orleans Aug. 28.—The deaths from yellow fever for the 24 hours were 75.

☞ New wheat is now selling in Knoxville, Tenn., at 65 cents a bushel.

TO MRS. R. L. T.—
ON THE DEATH OF HER BABE.
BY "ANNIE."

Dear friend, the sweet babe thou dost mourn,
Has only passed this "vale of tears;"
Now resting in Our Father's arms,
An angel bright appears.

'Tis sweet to know the tiny bud
That thou hast cherished with thy love,
Now safely passed from earthly storms,
Shall bloom above.

And to the stricken heart, 'tis balm,
That all we know of human woes,
Will to our upturned, praying souls
A higher life disclose—

A life whose ever-glowing page
Is brightened by the light of Heaven—
Where we may gather gems of truth
That God has given.

And in that holier, higher life,
Dear friend, that seeking, we may live,
We'll calmly yield unto Our God
That he did give—

Knowing, in scenes more bright than these,
The loving ties by Death here riven,
Will by the hands of angels bright
Be joined in Heaven.

BRADSTREET'S

Patent Japan Weather Strip.

This Strip for outside doors is the most useful, and very best improvement ever thrown now in use, and the latest, (like the Atlantic Cable,) to keep out Snow, Rain, Wind and Cold from your houses.

This Strip is applied to the bottom of the door by screws, with an ELLIPTICAL SPRING—(which cannot get out of order,) that causes the leaf to rise and fall, on opening or shutting the door.

This PATENT STRIP is the most simple and durable of anything of the kind ever invented.—It may be regarded as the "ne plus ultra" in this line, obviating all difficulties in management—It will save the cost of the article in one winter, in keeping the house warm and dry.

The Prices for putting on Doors: Japan Finish, $1 50 each. Brass Finish, $2 50 each.

Every one put on by the subscriber will be warranted, and if not successful, no pay required.

Those who wish for the same may leave orders at the store of JOSEPH H. CLARK, corner of Market Square and Daniel street, where a sample may be seen, or at the residence of the subscriber, No. 15 Dennett street, North Portsmouth,—which will be promptly attended to.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DR. DUPONCO'S

French Periodical Golden Pills,

FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H THACHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by C A Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post office.

N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

READ! READ!! READ!!!

SCHROON LAKE, ESSEX CO., N.Y., February 6, 1858.

W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y.—Dear Sir: Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having been much pleased with it, I take pleasure in making the following statement: From the effects of a very severe fit of sickness when about eighteen years of age my hair commenced turning grey, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white, being very harsh and coarse. Last Summer I had reached my fifty-third year, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by you. I commenced using it according to directions, and in a few days was surprised to find that my hair from the roots outward was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was as truly brown and glossy as it was in my youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color. MYLA SEAMAN.

Essex Co. ss: Myla Seaman came before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true, this 6th day of Feb., 1858.

JOEL P. PATTEN, Justice of the Peace.

PITTSFORD, VT., Aug. 1, 1857.

I hereby certify that my having become quite grey, I used Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, (prepared by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y.,) for four weeks and my hair was in that time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to be all it claims. WM. KINGSLEY,

Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt.

The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietor of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring and Restorative. It has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. This singular effect is not produced as when dyes are used; for it acts upon the natural secretions of coloring matter at the roots, and thus effects the change. Beside, the color produced is not a counterfeit, but the natural shade of youth. It does not color the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & Co., Troy, N.Y.

Ayer's Pills

Are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive organism, and diseases arising from impurity of the blood. A large part of all the complaints that afflict mankind originate in one of these, and consequently these Pills are found to cure many varieties of disease.

Subjoined are the statements from some eminent physicians, of their effects in their practice.

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC.

From Dr. E. W. Cartwright, of New Orleans.

"YOUR PILLS are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease."

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

From Dr. Theodore Bell, of New York City.

"Not only are your Pills admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects upon the Liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proved more efficacious in the cure of bilious complaints than any one remedy I can mention. I sincerely relish that we have at length a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people."

DYSPEPSIA — INDIGESTION.

From Dr. Henry Dickerson, of Mobile.

"The PILLS you were kind enough to send me have been all used in my practice, and have satisfied me that they are truly an extraordinary medicine. So positively are they adapted to the diseases of the human system, that they seem to work upon them alone. I have cured some cases of dyspepsia and indigestion with them, which had resisted the other remedies we commonly use. Indeed I have repeatedly found them to be effectual in almost all the complaints for which you recommend them."

DIARRHŒA — RELAX.

From Dr. J. G. Green, of Chicago.

"YOUR PILLS have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in esteem as one of the best aperients I have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy, when given in small doses, for the bilious disorders of diarrhœa. They sugar-coating makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION.

From Rev. R. Sweet, who practises in a Physician and Minister in Indiana.

"I find one or two large doses of your PILLS, taken at the proper time, are excellent promoters of the natural secretion when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very effectual to cleanse the stomach and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend nothing to my patients."

CONSTIPATION — COSTIVENESS.

From Dr. J. P. Vaughn, Montreal, Canada.

"Too much cannot be said of your PILLS for the cure of costiveness. If others of our fraternity have found them so efficacious as I have, they will be doing a praiseworthy act if for the benefit of the multitude who suffer from that complaint, which, although bad enough in itself, is the prolific source of other and far more serious ailments, originate in the liver, but your PILLS affect that organ and cure the disease."

INFLUENZA OF THE BLOOD — SCROFULA — ERYSIPELAS — SALT RHEUM — TETTER — TUMORS — RHEUMATISM — GOUT — NEURALGIA.

From Dr. Enoch Ball, Philadelphia.

"You were right, Doctor, in saying that your PILLS purify the blood. They do that. I have used them of late years in my practice, and have found them to be a most powerful agent. They stimulate the excretories, and carry off the impurities that stagnate in the blood, engendering disease. They quicken the organs of digestion, and infuse vitality and vigor into the system.

"Such remedies as you prepare are a national benefit, and you deserve great credit for them."

FOR HEADACHE—SICK HEADACHE—FOUL STOMACH—COSTIVENESS—DROPSY—PLETHORA—PARALYSIS—FITS—&c.

From Dr. Edward Ingal, Baltimore.

"DEAR DR. AYER: I cannot answer you what complaints I have used your PILLS because I have to say of them all you can say without a blush—everything. I place great dependence on an efficient cathartic in my daily context with disease, and believing as I do that your PILLS afford us the best of this class of remedies, I use them freely."

Our Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skillful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has long been manufactured by a practical chemist, and every dose of it under his own eye, which invariable accuracy and care. It is sealed and protected by law from counterfeits, and consequently may be relied on as genuine, without adulteration. It supplies the unrest remedy the world has ever known for the cure of all pulmonary complaints; for COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, ASTHMA, CROUP, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, and INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease. As time makes these facts wider and better known, this medicine has probably proven the best relief known to the afflicted, from the log cabin of the American peasant to the palaces of European kings. Throughout this entire country, in every state and city, and indeed almost every village, it is explicitly relied on as the best of all remedies for diseases of the throat and lungs. In many foreign countries it is extensively used by their most intelligent physicians. If there is any dependence on testimony of every station merely it has been of them; if you can trust our own names when we see the dangerous affections of the lungs yield to it; if we can depend on the assurance of intelligent physicians, whose business it is to know; in short, if there is any reliance upon any thing, then is it irrefutably proven that this medicine does cure the class of diseases it is designed for, beyond any and all other remedies known to mankind. Nothing but its intrinsic virtues, and the benefits it has conferred on thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior remedies have been thrown upon the community, have failed, and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and remarkable to be forgotten.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the mistaken idea that to conceal their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can safely say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than one hundred cases of disease have been improperly treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are described from his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with falsely and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practised by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by unscrupulous persons who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine, the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

Joy to the Admirers of A FINE HEAD OF RICH GLOSSY HAIR.

Talk of beauty, it cannot exist without a fine head of hair, then read the following, and if you ask more, see circular around each bottle, and no one can doubt.

PROF. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—We call the attention of all, old and young, to this wonderful preparation, which turns back to its original color, gray hair, covers the head of the bald with a luxuriant growth—removes the dandruff, itching, and all cutaneous eruptions—cleanses and invigorates the scalp, renders it healthy, and hence, if used as a regular dressing for the hair will preserve its color, and keep it from falling to extreme old age, in all its natural beauty. We cannot do better than to refer the reader to the scalp, to use it; and surely the young will not, as they value the flowing locks, or the witching curl, ever be without it. Its praise is upon the tongue of thousands.

The Agent for Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative in New Haven, received the following letter in regard to the Restorative a few weeks since:

DEAR RIVER, CONN., July 23, 1858.

Mr. Leavenworth—Sir: I have been troubled with dandruff or scurf on my head for more than two years, my hair began to come out somewhat and hair together. I saw in a New Haven paper about "Wood's Hair Restorative" as a cure. I called at your store on the 1st of April last, and purchased one bottle to try it, and I found to my satisfaction it was the thing; it removed the scurf and new hair began to grow, it is now two or three inches in length, where it was all off. I have great faith in it. I wish you to send me two bottles more by Mr. Post, the bearer of this. I don't know as any of the blind head in this place, you may have a market for many bottles after it is known here. Yours with respect, REUBEN PRATT.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 1856.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative is proving itself beneficial to me. The front, and also the back part of my head almost lost its covering—in fact BALD. I have used but two half pint bottles of your Restorative, and now the tip of my head is well studded with a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving its benefit. I have tried other preparations without any benefit whatever. I think from my own personal experience, I can induce many others to try it. Yours respectfully,

D. R. THOMAS, M. D., No. 464 Vine street.

VINCENNES, IA., June 22, 1853.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: As you are about to manufacture and vend your recently discovered Hair Restorative, I feel it my duty to announce it and concern, that I have used it and known others to use it—that, I have, for several years, been in the habit of using other Hair Restoratives, and that I find your article far superior to any other I know. It entirely cleanses the head of dandruff, and with one month's proper use will restore any person's hair to the original youthful color and texture, giving it a healthy, soft and glossy appearance; and all this, without discoloring the hands that apply it, or the dress on which it drops. I would therefore recommend its use to every one desirous of having a fine color and texture to hair.

Respectfully yours, WILSON KING.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send money for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all prizes drawn and being filled in the week to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize; the prizes are from one dollar to quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that one can at once understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer and Savannah Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full.—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m13ly

A PROCLAMATION TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, It appears that the days of right, honor, and integrity are last fading away, and WHEREAS, Numerous cases are important are daily taking advantage of the profound and learned. BE IT KNOWN THEREFORE, to all, whether male, wives, or widows, that DR. CHANSMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are ALONE the certain pancacea for the the troubles incident to female disorganization; they ALONE correcting all painful menstruation, unmanging palpitation of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and causing health and happiness to whole sex; more especially to the married portion, who are certain to bring on the monthly period with regularity. AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from mineral, therefore perfectly harmless in every, respect, and wholly unlike other medicines thrust upon the public, purporting to effect the objects already detailed. Knowing, as we do, from experience, that the said PILLS of Dr. CHEESEMAN will accomplish the desired object, when DISAPPOINTMENT has been experienced under the regime of OTHER PILLS; we therefore will cause this Proclamation to spread amongst them, to their own everlasting benefit—always promising that said Proclamation by one man must be considered true and true; that is to say the PILLS MUST NOT be taken when any female is in an INTERESTING SITUATION, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail on enclosing $1 to Dr. CHANSMAN, Box No. 4031, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.

E. P. RUSSELL'S
Patent Mastic Roofing.
Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE Inventor of this Roofing labored many years to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN!

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every deep inclination, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

BRADSTREET'S
Patent Japan Weather Strip.
This Strip for outside doors is the most useful, and the very best improvement ever invented now in use, and the latest, (like the Atlantic Cable,) to keep out Snow, Rain, Wind and Cold from your houses.
This Strip is applied to the bottom of the door by screws, with an ELLIPTICAL SPRING—(which cannot get out of order,) that causes the flat to rise and fall, on opening or shutting the door.
THIS PATENT STRIP is the most simple and durable strip ever offered, and ever invented.—It may be regarded as the first plan hitherto in this line, obviating all difficulties in management.—It will save the cost of the article in one winter, in keeping the house warm and dry.
The Prices for putting on Doors: Japan Finish, $1.50 each. Brass Finish, $2.50 each.
Every one put on by the subscriber will be warranted, and if not successful, no pay required.
Those who wish for the same may leave orders at the store of HOWARD H. CLARK, corner of Market Square and Daniel street, where a sample may be seen, or at the residence of the subscriber, No. 15 Bennett street, North Portsmouth,—which will be promptly attended to.

YES, YOU MAY
USE or recommend HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE HAIR COLORING, and find it to be all its proprietor claims for it. Do you doubt it?
READ! READ!! READ!!!
SCHOOR LAKE, Essex Co., N.Y., February 8, 1858.
W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y.—Dear Sir: Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having been much pleased with it, I take pleasure in making the following statement: From the effects of a very severe fit of sickness, when about eighteen years of age, my hair commenced turning grey, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white, being very harsh and coarse. Last Summer I had occasion to try your Hair Dye, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by you. I commenced using it according to directions, and in a few days was surprised to find that my hair from the roots outward was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was as truly brown and glossy as it was in my youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color. MYLE SEAMAN.
Essex Co ss: Myle Seaman came before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true, this 6th day of Feb., 1858.
JOHN F. PATTEN, Justice of the Peace.
PITTSFORD, Vt., Aug. 1, 1857.
I hereby certify that my having become quite grey, I used Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, (prepared by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y.,) for four weeks and my hair was in that time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to be all it claims. WM. KINGSLEY,
Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt.
The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietor of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring and Restorative. It has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. This singular effect is so produced as when dye are used, for it acts upon the natural secretions of coloring matter at the roots, and thus effects the change. Beside, the color produced is not a counterfeit, but the natural shade of youth. It does not color the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & Co., Troy, N.Y.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on the usual terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States for the last twenty-five years, enable him, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Morning Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 1. 1858.

VERDICTS AND DISCLOSURES.—In a well known murder case in Boston, the coroner's jury agreed to the following verdict, which was returned:

That Susan Aroline Webster, who was buried under the name of Emily A. Thompson, came to her death on Monday, Aug. 16, 1858, at about 8 o'clock A. M., at the house of Dr. David Brown, No. 90 Union street, in consequence of an operation performed upon her by the said David R. Brown, for the purpose of procuring an abortion.

The Traveller of Monday says:—Among the witnesses whose testimony was wanted at the inquest into the circumstances of the death of Susan A. Webster, was Dr. Pratt, who was regarded as an important witness, as will be readily inferred from the allusions to his name in the testimony of other witnesses. On Thursday a constable was sent to Dr. Pratt's house, in Montgomery place, to summon him, but found that he had moved from the house to parts unknown. The plate is gone from the door, and there is no clue to his whereabouts. The sister-in-law, another important witness, is also missing.

In the same city, Coroner Cornell has been engaged for a few days in investigating the circumstances attending the death of Mrs. Elizabeth F. Boyd, at Davis street, at the South End. She was respectably connected, and leaves two children—one six and the other eleven years of age. The following verdict of the jury explains the case:

That Elizabeth F. Boyd came to her death at No. 17 Davis street, August 18, 1858, by voluntarily swallowing oil of tansey, for the purpose of procuring an abortion; and the jury further say that in their opinion, she did this with the knowledge and co-operation of her husband, John M. Boyd.

A large portion of our well-disposed people have no adequate notion of the frequency with which the above crime, against the lives of both mother and child, is committed, not only by the openly vile, but by those who pass in the world as respectable. It is, as some have reason to know, very frequent among married as well as single.

☞ Should Senator Douglas be re-elected to the Senate, he is pretty sure to be the next democratic candidate for President, or to be in a position to say who shall be the candidate, and upon what platform he shall run. The election does not entirely depend upon the members of the state legislature, to be chosen this year. The Illinois Senate contains 25 members, and 13 of those hold over, of whom a large portion are Douglas men. In order for the Republicans to carry the Senate they must obtain eight of the twelve new senators; and that is said to be improbable. Persons acquainted with the state affirm that Douglas is sure of the Senate, and may have the House, which consists of 58 members. He feels very sanguine, therefore, that he will carry, or if not that no election will be had, which he would consider a partial triumph.—We shall see.

☞ The New Haven Register gives an account of a farmer in Indiana who plants four thousand acres of corn. He sends his corn husks to London, and, last year, they brought $15,000. He had between 700 and 800 hogs which sold for over seven dollars a head. His intention is next year to move his ploughs by two steam engines, and, if they work as he expects, to plant ten thousand acres of corn. He owns forty thousand acres. We swallow this story—all but the husks.

FREEDOM OF SLAVES.—By recent decrees of the King of Portugal, slavery is abolished at Macao and in the African province of Angola, and is prospectively abolished in all the remainder of the Portuguese Colonies, the children of female slaves hereafter born being declared to be entitled to their freedom on reaching the age of twenty years.

"O May our happy country ever be
The world's last hope,—great, independent, free!"

A keen satire.

☞ Dr. Abial A. Cooley, the inventor of friction matches, died at Hartford, Conn., on the 18th inst., aged 76 years.—This Dr. Cooley had a large share of mechanical ingenuity, and invented several valuable machines; but he will probably be longer known from his "locofoco" matches than from any other cause.

A lady wished a seat. A portly, handsome gentleman brought her one and seated her. "Oh, you're a jewel," said she. "Oh, no," replied he, "I am a jeweller—I have just set the jewel." Could there have been anything more gallant than that?

ITEMS FROM THE BATH TIMES.

We used to have the Bath Tri-weekly Organ on our table; and expected to see some witty or droll item in it, every time we opened it. Now it has become the Bath Daily Times; but tho' the name Organ is lost, the music still lives; so when our readers see a humorous item in our columns that we don't claim nor credit, they may suppose we cut it from the Bath Times—or the Charlestown Advertiser.

The following half dozen good things are from the Bath Times:

"Junius" is informed that we shall not knowingly publish any communication which would cause the blush of shame to mantle the cheek of a gentleman, if obliged to read it in the presence of ladies. The editor claims the exclusive privilege of using profane and indecent language in the Times. Whether he will take practical advantage of this exclusive right is another thing.

Does our correspondent, "Over There," really think there is force or beauty in low blackguardism? If he does we must beg to differ from him. We prefer to call parties by their own recognized names, and would put no opprobrious prefix to the name of Satan; so we prefer not to give an ugly christian name to the party called Republican.

Ladies who wear roped skirts should see that the ends of the cord are properly secured. A trail some two feet long, the size of a bed cord, dragging over the wet sidewalks, as we saw a few days since, is not a very becoming caudal appendage for a fashionable lady.

It has been suggested that in the churches where they have congregational singing, those who are not able to rise during this exercise, be requested to lie down. This suggestion is not of course for the aged or infirm.

When a hard-laboring man falls into a drowse in church on the Sabbath, and nods his head, especially if he tries to resist the influence of the sleepy god, he is to be pitied and sympathized with; but when a stranger in church deliberately prepares for a nap by adjusting his hymn book or wadded handkerchief under his head, he is guilty of premeditated insult to the congregation; and we always feel as though, if we could exchange seats with him, we would give him boot!

Some very small political birds in Maine are dirtying their nests dreadfully, in distress about the woodpecker law; but the editor of the Bath Times has not troubled himself about it till now, when a correspondent stirs him up, and he says:

A friend wants to know why we don't pitch into the woodpecker law. He says they bore holes in his apple trees, and he wants the privilege of shooting them. Does he know that the woodpecker never bores a hole except to bring out the worm which is gnawing at the seat of life in the tree? Wouldn't it be well, before commencing war upon the birds, to allow them to exterminate the insects whose natural enemies they are?

EASTMAN'S EXCURSION.—Mr. Edson C. Eastman of Concord, whose proposed excursion to the mountains, we have already noticed in the Chronicle, has, it now appears, made a change of route, and thus reduced the price of tickets nearly one-half. He now announces an excursion from Concord to the Franconia mountains, starting on Monday morning Sept. 6th, and returning on the Friday afternoon following, by the way of the Lake. The entire expense of the 5 days trip will be but $18,50—this including board at the magnificent "Profile House" and all the best hotels on the route—the ascent of Mt. Lafayette—repeated trips upon the steamer "Lady of the Lake," &c. It will prove a delightful excursion.

If a car load can be obtained from Portsmouth, an extra train will be run over the Concord road on Monday morning next, in season for the excursion; otherwise it will be necessary for those going from this city to take the last train Saturday night for Concord. Fare one way over the Concord road, for excursionists, and hotel bills for those compelled to remain over Sunday, at less than the usual rates.

Those who contemplate joining the party can obtain further information by calling at this office.

LABOR IN DISTRESS.—The sewing machines have thrown large numbers of journeymen tailors in Philadelphia out. Many of these are unskilful workmen who have heretofore been employed on coarse fabrics, and who, by working sixteen hours out of every twenty-four, have been able to procure a bare subsistence. The sewing machine now comes in and robs them of even that pittance. It can do the work much faster, eats nothing, drinks nothing, and occupies very little room. Of course, the journeymen are unable to compete with it, and are necessarily driven to the wall.

"I wish you would pay a little attention, sir," said a stage manager to a careless actor. "Well, sir, so I am paying as little attention as I can," was the calm reply.

FROM EUROPE.

ST. JOHN'S N. F. Aug. 29.

The Galway steamship Propeller, from Galway 21st instant, arrived at this port at noon to-day. She brings Liverpool dates of the 20th by mail, and of the 21st by telegraph,—reports a small decline in cotton—breadstuffs dull.

A project has been started in Paris to connect Europe with China by telegraph.

The Madrid journals ridicule the idea that has just been renewed in the United States of the cession of Cuba by Spain to that country.

It is reported that the King of Prussia will probably abdicate the throne in October.

The crop accounts from Russia are unsatisfactory, particularly in the vicinity of Odessa.

Jeddah, the scene of the late massacre of the Christians, has been bombarded by the British steamer Cyclops. The bombardment lasted five days, and resulted from delay by the authorities of the place in affording satisfaction for the outrages, in the absence of Ismal Pasha, who finally arrived, when eleven executions took place, and four prisoners were sent to Constantinople. Nothing definite is known as to the amount of damage by the bombardment, or the immediate reasons for the remarkable proceeding.

The details of the India news to July 19th, have been received in England; they fully confirm the telegraphic statement, that the country was quieting down.

THE OCCASION.—The murderer Cox, when he stood upon the gallows, with death at his hand, said:—"It was cruel usage, terrible abuse on our feelings and bodies, that tempted us to do what we did. We were driven and banged about all the time. When I think that I should live so many years, all my life, a sailor, and never have any trouble with officers or fellow-seamen, and then, in my old age, to be brought into this condition, my heart is all broken. I die heart broken. My heart is broken to pieces."

The Newburyport Herald remarks:—

Sailors seldom gain much by resisting abuse on ship board; and though they may be treated like dogs, as they often are, it would be better for them to quietly submit; but at the same time, we may well question whether tears shed over their victim officers are not thrown away, when those officers from the influence of rum, which is generally at the bottom of such troubles, or from natural depravity and malignity, could forget that the sailors under them were men, and could treat them worse than brutes should be treated.

DEATH OF AN AUTHORESS.—It was with regret that we learned to-day of the death of Mrs. H. M. Stephens of this city, which occurred on Friday, 27th inst., at the residence of her sister at East Hampton, Me. Her decease was not unexpected, for the hectic flush of consumption had long been on her cheek. Her life is briefly told.—Miss Harriet Marion Atwell was the daughter of the Rev. John Atwell of the Methodist persuasion, (still living) and was born at Sidney, Me., July 2, 1823.—In early life she adopted the stage as "Miss Rosalie Somers." In 1848, she married Mr. Richard Stephens, comedian, and about that time commenced her literary career, at first assuming the signature of "Marion Ward." In 1857 she left the stage, and devoted herself entirely to her pen. She was the authoress of one novel, "Hagar the Martyr," and of a great variety of tales, sketches and poems, a collection of which was once published, with the title of "Home Scenes and Home Sounds." She also adapted for the Stage Herbert's Marmaduke Wyvil, and several of Dickens's stories. Mrs. Stephens was unquestionably a woman of marked ability, and as a poetess she excelled. Her nature was warm and generous, her hand the first to relieve a suffering actor, her heart was ignorant of envy and malice, and these whom she once made friends of were friends forever. Peace to her memory!—Evening Gazette.

THE LATE GEORGE F. HAYTER.—Allusion has been made in several of the city papers to the recent melancholy death of young Hayter. His death was indeed melancholy, but not recent, he having died in the early part of this season—we think as early as February, but perhaps a little later. We were shown a letter at the time, addressed to a friend here, from one who had formerly been a friend to him, and had opened his house to him for a long time previous to his death, and for a space of time during his last sickness, but was finally, for certain reasons, obliged to have him removed to the City Hospital, from whence he was removed again to the Bellevue Hospital, an institution for paupers, where he died. The letter was written in a very feeling and tender manner, from one who had long known him, and dwelt on his kindness of heart, at the same time speaking of his known habits of intemperance, which were the ultimate cause of his death, he having ruptured a blood-vessel in some of his wanderings, which finally terminated his existence.

He was an accomplished musician and organist, and his last days were indeed sad to contemplate. May his fate be a warning to others.—Boston Traveller.

FACTORY STRIKE.—The operatives on the corporation at Great Falls turned out on Thursday morning en masse, and refused to work for the pay they have been receiving. They receive 10 1-2 cents per pound for their filling, and ask 12. If they get the asked for advance, they can make but a dollar a day, which is none too much for for the support of a family in these times. Newburyport Herald.

A FIGHT WITH A HORSE.—About five weeks since, Mr. Lewis S. Munger, of Topeka, Kansas Territory, formerly of this city, while riding on horseback, not far from that place, was terribly injured by his horse becoming enraged. The first intimation that he had of it, the animal commenced rearing and plunging, but as he did not succeed in throwing his rider, the brute actually laid down and rolled over, thereby bringing Mr. Munger to the ground. Quicker than thought the horse sprang upon the rider, planting his knees upon his prostrated victim, and commenced tearing his arm and shoulder in a shocking manner. Mr. Munger says he had no idea of ever getting away from him alive. He however succeeded in getting the horse by the tongue, and thus conquered the tiger. He then mounted the animal and succeeded in reaching home. The left arm was laid bare to the bone, two-thirds of the way to the elbow. It was only by the best care and skill that his life was saved, as the arm mortified the next day. We are happy to state that Mr. M. is now out of danger. The horse is one he took with from Buffalo some ten months since.—Buffalo Republican.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.
THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.
THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it the equal of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.
It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.
Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES OF THE URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently accord their delicate organization.
Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."
It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.
For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

LADIES OF PORTSMOUTH.
IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.
Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer,
The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Blotches, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.
THE DESTROYER is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the ne plus ultra of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimple also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.
There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased and prevents them from acquiring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.
The Parisian ladies have used it for years; consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

POLICE COURT.

TUESDAY, August 31.

Before Justice Rollins.—John Hoyt and John White, minors, were convicted of stealing horse-shoes from a blacksmith's shop; and as Hoyt was only 10 years of age, and White 14, the Justice sentenced them for one year in the House of Reformation, or 30 days in jail—and ordered them to be committed to the House of Reformation.

This is the first sentence of the kind, from this city, and is a fair warning to the loafing, truant, thieving boys.

Now there is an old law, and a very good one, whereby two dozen of our two hundred grown-up loafers, might be bound out to labor, or made to earn their living on the city farm. Perhaps one dozen would be enough; for the rest would slip away about the time we got these fairly at work. A reform of this kind would save money and promote peace.

Church Improvements.—The Universalist Church in this city was erected in the years 1807 and 8. The leading men in building were Mark Simes, William Simes, Oliver C. Blunt, Lewis Barnes, Isaac Waldron, Jr., Jeremiah Libbey, Daniel R. Rogers, Abner Blaisdell, Chas. Treadwell, Abraham Shaw, and Nathaniel B. March. Only one of the committee is living at the present time. Since its erection, till now, nothing of importance has been done to alter the style of architecture—everything remains in the taste of the times in which it was erected. It is now in the hands of a corps of fresco painters, masons, joiners—and all things are to become new. The walls are frescoed in oil, which in durability and beauty will excel anything of the kind in this city.—The middle of the ceiling is surmounted by a dome enriched with fresco decorations, which adds grace to the effect of the entire design. The floor of the house has been raied. Small iron pillars are substituted in place of the large wooden ones; a recess has been added to the end of the church for the pulpit, which will be of modern style; the house is to be warmed by furnaces, and circular slips will take the place of the old-fashioned pews. The house is one of the largest in the city, and, when complete, will present a handsome and uniform appearance within, agreeing with the exterior, which is an ornament to our city.

The Stone Church in this city is undergoing a thorough alteration inside, which when finished will excel in architectural beauty any church in the State. The architecture is of the Corinthian order. An addition of twenty feet on the end of the building makes room for the new organ and ante-rooms on either side. The walls are ornamented with fluted pilasters bearing heavy Corinthian capitals, which support a heavy enriched cornice of great beauty. An increased degree of decoration is bestowed upon the ceiling, which is formed in panels, and carved with a rich fret work, chaste and pure. The centre pieces are in imitation of richly carved Parian marble. The ornaments throughout are of plaster Paris, and are beautifully executed. H.

☞ Is it any wonder that there is not to-day a single good church choir in Portsmouth—and hardly enough good singers in the whole city to form one? Is it at all surprising that "congregational singing" goes hard—and that even when occasionally an old tune which 'everybody knows' is suggested for the whole people to join in singing, the real participators are so small a minority, and of necessity so scattered over the houses, as to be hardly able to feel the harmony and keep together? Finally, do any think it strange that we have now hardly one prompt, powerful and accurate native singer in our midst, where formerly were a dozen?

If yes, to either of these questions,—we think the explanation is sufficiently evident, from the fact that a singing school of any sort is a rarity with us, whereas they formerly abounded—both for juveniles and adults. It seems to us that at present, the only way to have the children sing is to send them to singing school; and as there is but one institution of the kind in the whole city—and that has been amply proved to be a good one—it would seem as if the new term, which commences this afternoon, should be fully attended, were music rightly appreciated.

☞ Mr. Goodell, the celebrated New England Clothes Cleaner will make your old clothes look almost as good as new—at his room, next North Church. It is magical, to see how he carries off an old dirty rusty-red coat, and brings it (or another one) back, looking as it did in days of yore.

ROCKINGHAM COUNTY FAIR.

Messrs. Editors:—I notice the "County Fair" is to be held at Exeter. As the object of this exhibition is for the improvement and cultivation of every thing of an agricultural nature in the county; and as there has formerly been a considerable sum expended for music for some band out of the State; and as Rockingham County has now some ten bands, all or most of which can do themselves and the occasion credit, allow me to suggest to those who have the charge of this business, the propriety of making the exhibition strictly a Rockingham County one. And that there may be no preference, and that all may have justice done them, and no partiality shown, let me commend the propriety of inviting all the Bands in the County to perform the music on the occasion; and to pay the same, let the Bands give a Concert during the Fair, and the admittance not exceed fifteen cents, and a handsome sum will be realized. At the Concert, let each band play at least two pieces, and also in procession; and a committee be chosen who shall select say three bands from all who take part, and an award of $50 shall be paid to the band that is adjudged the best; and one of $30 to the second best band, and one of $20 to the next best band: the committee to decide the awards. This, or some similar plan, will secure good music, add interest, give satisfaction, and encourage our own. ROCKINGHAM.

☞ Uncle Toby's wig put on a new gloss, and shed forth a "flagrance" equal to Mrs. Partington's coffee, when the Great Goodwin of Exeter sent down a package of the G.G.G. and the G.G.G.G. by "Old Dusty's" express. Now perhaps these G's may be all Greek to the unlearned reader—but all the literati of Exeter and vicinity know full well that Goodwin's Grand Greasejuice is "an excellent oil, which will not break the head," but only dress the hair and make it look fresh and bright—and that Goodwin's Grand Glittering Globules are the 4 G's and are meant to purify the breath.

The 4 D's which came in the same package mean Drop Down Dead Saw Dust, to kill the flies—and a sky-blue compound, dyed in the wool, is death to the bugs, as anybody may believe, when told that it is made of mercury and tobacco.

MARRIED,

In Salem, Mass., John D. Eaton to Judith P. Smith of Gilford, N. H.
In San Francisco, Pilsbury Hodgkins to Louise O. Shattuck of Brookline, N. H.

DIED,

In Rye, August 30th, of consumption, Mr. Eli S. Dow, aged 28 years.

About eight years since, he left home and connected himself with one of our popular Academies, with the intention of pursuing a course of study preparatory to College. While at school he acquitted himself honorably in the discharge of his duties; and although successful in all his studies, he excelled in Mathematics,—having completed nearly half the college course in these, before the ordinary time of finishing his preparatory classical studies.

Free from all habits that naturally tend to vice, and true to his sense of moral obligation, he pressed on his way toward a useful and happy life.—With ample means of obtaining an education, and a natural love for study, nothing seemed to present even the remotest obstacle to the attainment of his wishes. But Providence at length appeared to indicate a different course of life from that of the student;—and he engaged in a lucrative business, in the Middle States. It was there he contracted the disease of which he died.

Honorable and upright in his dealings—kind, sympathizing and unwavering in his friendship—he won the respect and confidence of all with whom he formed acquaintance, and that confidence and esteem he retained till his latest hour. Irreproachable in his life—conscious of his moral integrity, he, at last, left the world, and now rests in death, lamented and beloved by all who knew him. COM.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DR. DUPONCO'S
French Periodical Golden Pills,
FOR FEMALES;
Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity o the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them, to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H THACHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

Ayer's Pills

Are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive organs, and to diseases arising from impurity of the blood. A large part of all the complaints that afflict mankind will yield to the influence of these, and consequently these Pills are found to cure many varieties of disease.

Subjoined are the statements of some of the eminent physicians, of their effects in their practice.

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC.

From Dr. E. H. Cartwright, of New Orleans.

"Your Pills are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any other cathartic we have yet met with, but very certain and beneficial in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease."

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

From Dr. Thompson, of New York City.

"Not only are your Pills admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects upon the Liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proven invaluable in Jaundice, for the cure of which disease I think they are now my sole remedy; I can envision. I sincerely regret that we have at length a cathartic which is worthy the confidence of the profession, and the public."

DYSPEPSIA — INDIGESTION.

From Dr. Henry T. Ewer, of St. Louis.

"The Pills you sent me are kind enough to send me have been all used to my practice, and have satisfied me that they are a very extraordinary compound. I find them well adapted to the diseases of the human system, that they seem to work upon them alone. I have cured some cases of Dyspepsia with them, and I find they are better adapted than other remedies we commonly use. Indeed I have experimentally found them to be effectual in almost all the complaints for which you recommend them."

DYSENTERY — DIARRHŒA — RELAX.

From Dr. J. G. Green, of New Orleans.

"Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in esteem to one of the best aperients I have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them invaluable in those cases where it is called into action. Dysentery and diarrhœa. Their sugar-coating makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION.

From Wm. H. Stuart, who practices on a Plantation and Midwife in Louisiana.

"I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, very beneficial in the cure of the worst cases of worms, or in relieving obstruction when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very effectual to cleanse the stomach and expel worms. They are so much better than all physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients."

CONSTIPATION — COSTIVENESS.

From Dr. J. P. Fimple, Montreal, Canada.

"I thought, upon the trial of your Pills for the cure of costiveness, of which I am a victim, that they were as efficacious as I have, they should join me in proclaiming it for the benefit of the multitudes who suffer from that complaint, which, although not enough to kill, is the prolific source of more misery than almost any other complaint, originate in the liver, but your Pills effect that organ and cure the disease."

INFLUENTIAL OF THE BLOOD — SCROFULA — ERYSIPELAS — SALT RHEUM — TETTER — TUMORS — RHEUMATISM — GOUT — NEURALGIA.

From Dr. Eliphalet Bell, Philadelphia.

"You were right, doctor, in saying that your Pills purify the blood. They do that. I have proved them for 5 years in my practice, and can vouch for my statement of their efficacy. They eliminate the corrupt humors, and carry off the impurities that stagnate in the blood, occasioning disease. They stimulate the organs of digestion, and infuse vitality and vigor into the system."

Such remedies as you prepare are a national benefit, and you deserve success and will meet it."

FOR HEADACHE — SICK HEADACHE — FOUL STOMACH — PILES — DROPSY — PLETHORA — PARALYSIS — FITS — &c.

From Dr. Edward Bond, Baltimore.

"DEAR SIR: I cannot answer you what complaints I prescribe your Pills for, because I prescribe them for almost every complaint incident to our patients. I place great dependence in your Pills, and I have met with the best results in my daily contact with disease, and believe them to be the most perfect cathartic offered to the best of my knowledge and belief."

Use none of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skillful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its improper use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

This long been manufactured by a practical chemist, and every trace of it under his own eye, with invariable accuracy and care. It is sealed and protected by law from counterfeiters, and is sold by all druggists, and by dealers everywhere, without adulteration. It supplies the surest remedy the world has ever known for the cure of all pulmonary complaints; for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, Whooping-Cough, Influenza, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease. As these maladies these facts wider and better known, this medicine has proved its power over them, and many, even from the log cabin of the American peasant to the palaces of European kings. Throughout this entire country, in every state and city, and indeed almost everywhere in civilized countries, Cherry Pectoral is known as the best of all remedies for diseases of the throat and lungs. In many foreign countries it is extensively used by their most intelligent physicians. If there is any dependence to be placed upon the testimony of those who have tried them; if we can trust our own senses when we see the dangerous affections of the lungs yield to it, we can depend on the assurance of intelligent physicians, whose business it is to know it, in short, if there is any reliance upon any thing, then is it irrefutably proven that this medicine does cure the class of diseases it is designed for, beyond any and all other remedies known to mankind. Nothing but its intrinsic virtues, and the unmistakable benefit conferred on thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior remedies have been thrust upon the community, have failed, and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and remarkable to be forgotten.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER, PRACTICAL AND ANALYTICAL CHEMIST,
LOWELL, MASS.

The Liver Invigorator!

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD.

Compounded Entirely from GUMS.

IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE AND LIVER MEDICINES now before the public.

These Gums remove all morbid or bad matter, supplying in their place a healthy flow of bile. Invigorating the stomach, and giving tone and health to the whole machinery, removing the cause of the disease—effecting a radical cure.

One dose often repeated is a sure cure for Cholera Morbus, and a preventive of Cholera.

One bottle is needed to throw out of the system the effects of medicine after a long spell of sickness.

One bottle takes for Jaundice removes all sallowness or unnatural color from the skin.

Bilious Attacks are cured, and, what is better, prevented by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.

One dose taken after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach and prevent the food from rising and souring.

Only one dose taken before retiring, prevents nightmare.

One dose taken at night, loosens the bowels gently, and cures costiveness.

One dose taken after each meal will cure Dyspepsia.

A One dose of two teaspoonfuls will always relieve Sick Headache.

Only one dose immediately relieves Colic.

One dose often repeated is a sure cure for Diarrhœa in its worst form, while Summer Complaints and Dysentery yield almost to the first dose.

A few bottles will cure Dropsy by exciting the absorbents.

We take pleasure in recommending this medicine as a preventive for Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a Bilious type. It operates with certainty, and thousands are willing to testify to its wonderful virtues.

All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.

Mix water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.

PRICE, ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, unacquainted with the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directions shown.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empirics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

In particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE

RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practised by advertising a worthless article, to the imminent peril of fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as safely cared for as if they were present. The Managers would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right, under Rebellion Proclamation, as well as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all numbers required being filled in the drawing, yet to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten receives a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2 50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70, as one ticket may draw, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and in Savannah, Ga., Daily Sun. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m181y

A PROCLAMATION
TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honor, and integrity are last fading away, and WEREAS, the unprincipled quacks, who are daily taking advantage of the profound and learned. BE IT KNOWN THEREFORE, to all, whether married, or women, that Dr. CHEESEMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are alone the certain remedies for the the troubles incident to female disorganization; they alone correcting all painful irregularities, such as pain in the side, and causing health and happiness to whole sex; more especially to married women, they are certain to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from minerals, therefore perfectly harmless in their operation, and wholly unlike other medicines thrust upon the public, purporting to effect the objects already detailed. Therefore, be it resolved, that none but the said PILLS of Dr. CHEESEMAN will accomplish the desired object, when DISAPPOINTMENT has been experienced under the regime of OTHER PILLS; and the Ladies will, most assuredly, be induced to spread amongst them, to their own everlasting benefit—always promising that said Proclamation in no case must be considered secret, and young that is to say the PILLS MUST NOT be taken when any female is in an INTERESTING SITUATION, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail on enclosing $1 to Dr. CHEESEMAN, Cheeseman, Box No. 1401, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.

APPLEDORE HOUSE,

ISLES OF SHOALS.

THIS well known Ocean Retreat is now open for visitors. The house has been refurnished, and every preparation made to secure the health, comfort and happiness of its patrons.

Isolated as this is, in the Atlantic ocean; ever surrounded by an atmosphere of perfect purity; its delicious coolness in the hottest days of summer; its entire exemption from all epidemics, and its freedom from dust and odious exhalations render it a superior summer residence for invalids and all those who wish to restore their wasted energies. To amateur fishermen it offers a centre of the most glorious sport that can be conceived.

E. P. RUSSELL'S
Patent Mastic Roofing.
Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE Inventor of this Roofing labored many years to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the contraction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the Several trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value, both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most strongly assert that IT IS EQUAL TO NOT KNOWN!

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or 1 ply, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most confidently and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

ECONOMY. ECONOMY.

THE subscriber has been appointed Exclusive Agent for this city in furnishing and putting on
BRADSTREET'S
Patent Japan Weather Strip.

This Strip for outside doors is the most useful, and the very best improvement over those now in use, and the latest, (like the Atlantic Cable,) to keep out Snow, Rain, Wind and Cold from your houses.

This Strip is applied to the bottom of the door by screws, with an ELLIPTICAL SPRING—(which cannot get out of order,) that causes the door to rise and fall, on opening or shutting the door.

THE PATENT STRIP is the most simple and durable of anything of the kind ever invented.—It may be truly said of the "plus ultra" of this line, obviating all difficulties in management—It will save the cost of the article in one winter, in keeping the house warm and dry.

The Prices for putting on Doors: Japan Finish, $1 50 each. Brass Finish, $2 50 each.

Every one put on by the subscriber will be warranted, and if not successful, no pay required.

Those who wish for the same may leave orders at the store of JOSEPH H. CLARK, corner of Market Square and Daniel street, where a sample may be seen, or at the residence of the subscriber, No. 15 Dennett street, North Portsmouth,—which will be promptly attended to.

USE or recommend HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE HAIR COLORING, and find it to be all its proprietor claim for it. Do you doubt it?

READ! READ!! READ!!!

SCHUSON LAKE, Essex Co., N.Y., February 6, 1858.

W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y.—Dear Sir: Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having been much pleased with it, I take pleasure in making the following statement: From the effects of a very severe fit of sickness which lasted about eighteen years of age my hair commenced turning grey, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white, being very harsh and coarse. Last Summer I had reached my fifty first year, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by you. I commenced using it according to directions, and in a few days was surprised to find that my hair from the roots outward was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was as truly brown and glossy as it was in my youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color. MYRA SEAMAN.

Essex Co. ss: Myra Seaman came before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true, this 6th day of Feb., 1858.

JOEL F. PATTEN, Justice of the Peace.

PITTSFORD, VT., Aug. 1, 1857.

I hereby certify that my having become quite grey, I used Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, (prepared by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y.,) for four weeks and my hair was in that time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend it to any wishing to be all it claims. WM. KINGSLEY,
Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt.

The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietor of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring and Restorative. It has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. This singular effect is so produced as where the roots are weak, for it acts upon the natural secretions of coloring matter at the roots, and thus effects the change. Beside, the color produced is not a counterfeit, but is the natural shade of youth. It does not color the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & Co., Troy, N.Y.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. He has, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full account of patents granted in the United States and Europe, rendering him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

GOOD CHOIRS.

Do you believe what you say, Uncle Toby, about no good choir, and not enough good singers in town to make one? I believe you are, or used to be, a singer yourself, and if you think the singers are all gone, I wish you would say what you think has become of them. OLD FOLKS.

Uncle Toby replies that, whatever he believes, he has not said a word of the sort; it was said by a younger critic. Uncle T. has heard similar complaints, often, during the last 50 years, and yet the singing has not yet quite died out from the churches. It has had its ups and downs, and will have them. There is at least one large volunteer church choir in this city, of 14 or 15 singers, of such power and skill as to satisfy the congregation of which they are a part and not an appendage. To say anything in their praise to outsiders would not be in good taste for Uncle T.—but he would say to others, 'go and do likewise,' and as much better as you can! And to the young people, learn to sing by all means, in the best schools, and from the best teachers—for it is always pleasant to be able to sing, and sometimes profitable.

He has no objection to quartette singing, choir or congregational singing—no objection to any decent singing, paid or unpaid. And the better it is, and the more of it, the better he likes it. But he thinks scolding about singing is not apt to improve it. Sometimes it may destroy it, and so make room for something better.—But frequently, the fault finders go further and fare worse.

CHURCH MUSIC.—Messrs. Editors:—One church in the small town of Jamaica Plain, Mass., (a place containing two-thirds the population of Portsmouth,) pays more for its quartet of singers than the salaries of the organists and singers in all of our churches put together. Mr. Henry C. Barnabee, formerly of this city and now a resident of Boston, is a member of this choir, and informs us that $1800 is yearly raised for defraying the expenses of the orchestra. When will Portsmouth appreciate music enough to pay half of that sum to a choir? One church only hires its singers, and they receive but a shadow of a salary. Our newly remodelled Unitarian Church, which ought to pay one thousand dollars a year for singing, are forming a voluntary choir. All other cities of the size of Portsmouth can boast of their large number of good singers, and it is because there is some inducement for all to learn to sing. But Portsmouth is behind the times in music, and always will be until the organists and singers are remunerated adequately for their services. H.

☞ We are much obliged to our friends of the Worcester County (Mass.) Musical Institute, for their polite invitation to attend their Convention at Blackstone on the 7th inst. They have a strong team for managers—and Prof. Baker's name at the head of the musical performances guarantees their excellence. We have most pleasant remembrance of attending one of their Conventions, at Milford, three years ago—and a great success it was. The young people of all that neighborhood of towns make more account of attending their annual County Convention than of celebrating the Fourth of July—and indeed the musical festivities are ten times the more national, interesting and important.

Speaking of Musical Conventions, we are reminded of the three which have been holden in this city—of the value of which the managers had a most realizing sense—the first costing the committee of arrangements $100 above receipts, the second $75, and the third (and last thus far) $50. Musical Conventions are designed, like free schools, for the good of the whole public—and the public can hardly encourage a more worthy and useful institution.

GOLD EXCITEMENT IN KANSAS.—St. Louis, Aug. 30.—Leavenworth advices of the 29th have been received per U. S. express to Boonville.

Considerable excitement exists in Lawrence and Kansas City, in consequence of recent arrivals from the gold regions of Pike's Peak, confirming the existence of ore in abundance in that locality. The company which went from Lawrence in June has met with good success. The gold found is similar to that of Fraser's river and California. Mr. Richards, who arrived at Kansas City on the 28th, reports, that with very little prospecting, satisfactory amounts were obtained. Two men, with inferior implements, washed out $600 in one week, in a small stream 50 miles from Pike's Peak. A second Fraser river excitement is apprehended.

FEARFUL AND WONDERFUL.—It is reported, says the Greenbrier Era, that while a young gentleman and lady were gazing down from the summit of "Lover's Leap," a high cliff near the White Sulphur, that the lady, in attempting to pluck a flower from the side of the cliff, lost her balance, and fell with headlong rapidity down the side of the rock. Her attendant hastened round to the base of the cliff, expecting to see her mangled and lifeless body; but hearing her cry of distress, he looked up and beheld his lady-love safely suspended by her steel hoops from the projecting limbs of a gnarled oak. The gentleman had to summon aid before she could be released from her embarrassing position. It was, however, accomplished without injury to the fair fashionable.

☞ There was a great celebration, by bell, guns, fireworks, illuminations, &c., on Wednesday, at New York, Albany, &c. on account of the Atlantic Cable.

THE CROPS AT THE WEST.—A very intelligent merchant of Boston, who has just returned from an extended tour through the Western States, informs the Traveller that although the crops have suffered much from the weather in some sections of Iowa and Illinois, yet in the larger portion, where the land has not been subjected to inundations, the corn crop promises well; especially is this the case in the northern part of Ohio and Indiana. In Michigan, Wisconsin, and Missouri, no very disastrous news has as yet reached us, and with the increased amount of corn and wheat that will this year be raised in the Southern States, it is not at all improbable that the fall harvest will in the aggregate be beyond present expectations.

POLITICAL.—The political contest in Illinois is the theme of newspaper comment throughout the land. The New York Herald says:—

"It appears that the Hon. Alexander H. Stevens of Georgia, on his return trip from his late unprofitable visit to Illinois as a democratic peacemaker, declared at Cincinnati, that 'he was in favor of the re-election to the Senate of Judge Douglas, and regards the war of the President upon the anti-Lecompton men of Illinois, as wickedly foolish.' From the article which we publish to-day from the Charleston Mercury, the reader will also perceive that at least one of the most prominent democratic organs of Georgia substantially endorses the views of Mr. Stephens, while the Mercury itself flatly declares that 'the evils of pardoning and supporting Douglas' will be the absolute destruction of the democratic party, inasmuch as the party, which is now weak at the North,' will be divided and repudiated at the South, and between the sections fall hopeless to the earth."

DEATH OF GEORGE COMBE.—The English papers of the 14th ult., mention the death of the distinguished author of the "Constitution of Man," a work, it is said, which has been exceeded in circulation in our language only by the Bible, Bunyan's "Prilgrim's Progress" and "Robinson Crusoe." Mr. Combe was born in 1788, and was therefore at his death seventy years of age—a limit which, as he was of a sickly frame of body, he had only attained by that practical regard of nature's laws which he did so much to inculcate.

DESTRUCTIVE TORNADO—LOSS OF LIFE.—New York Aug. 31.—A destructive tornado recently visited several of the towns in Ulster county, destroying everything in its course, tearing up trees, demolishing buildings, fences, and blowing down dwellings. At Dewittsville, the Houses of Mr. P. Smith and Mr. Hoyt were prostrated. Mrs. Hoyt and her three children were at the house of Mr. Smith on a visit. Mrs. Hoyt was instantly killed, and Mrs. Smith so seriously injured that she died in a few hours after. A lady named Hornbeck was also so injured that her life is despaired of. The three children of Mrs. Hoyt were badly hurt.

THE NATIONAL REVENUE.—The Washington correspondent of the Tribune says that as the Customs receipts last week at New York were but $450,000, the belief is gaining ground at the Treasury Department that the rate of duties must be increased. The deficiency bill will be perfectly slaughtering if the Indian war is to be prosecuted in Washington Territory, and trains beyond the four thousand wagons already sent to Utah are to be continued.

Lord Kames, in a conversation with his gardener one day, said. 'George, the time will soon come when a man shall be able to carry the manure for an acre of land in one of his waistcoat pockets;" to which the gardener replied, "I believe it, sir, but he will be able to carry all the crop in the other pocket."

☞ The Scientific Artizan is the title of a new weekly published at Cincinnati by the American Patent Company, and designed to fill the same place in the great West and South-west as is occupied in this section of the Union by the Scientific American. Terms, $2 per annum.

FIRE IN HANOVER.—We regret to learn that two barns filled with hay and grain, a carriage house and one or two small out buildings, belonging to A. Huntington, Esq., of East Hanover, were wholly destroyed by fire on Sunday night last. The origin of the fire is unknown. It took in one of the barns where there had been no person for two days. Of course unpleasant conjectures connect themselves with its origin. Loss, $1,200; insured, $500.—Lebanon Whig.

A DISCRIMINATING PAUPER.—The Inspector of a House of Industry told of an amusing case of epicureanism in poverty. "How do you like it here?" he asked of one of his male charges. "Pretty well, sir," said he "as regards the fare, but you must do better about the clothes." "Ah?" "If I should be allowed to state my preferences" continued the pauper, "I should say give me Boston for its table, Portsmouth for its wardrobe, and Concord for general freedom, extending to the refinements of social life. I've tried 'em all, and if ever you come to it, you will find it just as I tell you."

OBITUARY.—Died in this city 29th ult., Mrs. Mary W., wife of John P. Newell, Esq., Principal of the High School, and daughter of Hon. S. D. Bell, aged 24.—She leaves an infant two weeks old. It is seldom that public feel so pervading a sympathy in the decease of an individual, as in this unexpected bereavement. Mrs. W. was deeply beloved not alone in the family circle, but among a large circle of acquaintances.—Manchester American.

☞ The Boston Olive Branch comes out in a new dress, and with many improvements, under its new publishers, Upham & Dix.—Among its writers are T. B. Aldrich the poet, T. S. Arthur, Hazewell, Trowbridge, Mrs. Sigourney, &c.

BANK PRESIDENT SHOT.—Richmond, Aug. 30.—On Friday, a Mr. H. M. Bowyer walked into the Farmer's Bank, at Fincastle, and deliberately shot its President, James McDowell, Sen., who had seduced the daughter of Bowyer.

BRANDON, Vt., Sept. 1.—By the premature discharge of a cannon while firing a salute here this morning, Edward Quilly lost an arm and George Rutlidge an eye.

YELLOW FEVER.—New Orleans Aug. 31. The deaths by yellow fever in this city yesterday were 92.

☞ Mr. J. B. Benton, the postmaster at South Hadley Falls, who had his right arm crushed in his wheel factory about a fortnight since, died on Monday in consequence.

MORMONS.—A late writer from Utah to the Boston Journal, says:

'The condition of the females is the most lamentable feature of Mormon life. They seem to have lost all delicacy and personal pride; and look upon themselves as inferior beings, quietly taking the place and submitting to the treatment of slaves.—They are generally women of inferior capacity; and the tale of there being many refined and educated ladies among them is regarded as worse than apocryphal.

The condition of the common people is wretched. Poverty and filth prevail among them. They labor hard, and, deprived of all the luxuries of life, find great difficulty in obtaining its necessities. Their clothing is very meagre, their toil severe, and their articles of subsistence are few and coarse. They find in the city of Salt Lake a woful contrast to the Paradise which they were told existed there.

My friend was greatly surprised at the inferiority of the leading men among the Mormons. Brigham Young and his associates he regards as possessing some low cunning, and a vast amount of audacity; but utterly wanting in those qualities which constitute great leaders in any ordinary condition of society. He speaks of Gov. Cummings in terms anything but complimentary, both as regards integrity and executive ability.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE

RICHEST DIADEM

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What? Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself provided for all our races. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be snarled and shriveled, harsh and dry, or worse still, if sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg:

NEW YORK, April 19, 1858.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your 'Hair Restorative,' it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,
S. THALBERG.

"Drych n'n Gwyllieydet."

Welsh Newspaper Off., 13 Nassau st., Apr. 12, '58.
DR. J. W. WOOD:—Dear Sir.—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who concluded to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CHARLES CARDEW.

NEW YORK, July 28, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I am fully confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant itching, so common among persons who perspire freely. J. G. KILBY.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 1, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; I was fast becoming bald, and had resorted to new Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications fastened my hair firmly. It began to fill up from the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveilance of the British Excise Laws, is now flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., while the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever met with."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale by agents at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty-eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall Inch, M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. E. Foster, 20 Elm st.; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st.; M. Davis & Co., 57 Blackstone st.; R. IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.

Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer,

The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Blotches and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

THE DESTROYER is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from the former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the ne plus ultra of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimples, also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which lets these glands open, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Parisian ladies have used it for years; consequently they have all a fair reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

LOCAL.

SEPTEMBER 2, 1812—LANDING OF THE BRITISH AT RYE.—For some weeks the English vessels had been lying off the harbor. News arriving every week from the South, of the movements of the English fleet, struck terror into the minds of the people. The military had been drawn from the interior to the number of 2000, and were encamped in the neighborhood of the town. Batteries and redoubts had been hastily thrown up on Pierce's Island and on the opposite side of the river, which presented a formidable show of resistance. The young ladies of the town were engaged for a number of days in making up cartridges in the Court House. Valuables and money were secreted in the cellars or sent away to friends in the country, and in every quarter preparations were being made for the expected foe or sudden flight.

It was three o'clock in the morning when the sound of the alarm gun was heard from Rye, and the tocsin of war soon spreading from belfry to belfry, awoke in surprise the citizens of Portsmouth, and producing excitement in the souls of some, terror in the minds of others. I can well remember my father driving up to our door with a horse and carriage to convey us away from the town, our hastily made toilet, our collecting of our valuables, our impatient waiting for confirmation of the news.

Daylight appeared in the sky; and the arrival of troops from the encampments every quarter of an hour—officers on horseback passing through the city—crowds of people collected at the corners and the Parade. The roll of the drums and other martial music echoed on the morning air. Such was the aspect of Portsmouth at daybreak on the second of September, 1812. The sky was overcast; the military shivered under their arms. The want of sleep, the cold, the sound of the tocsin, the roaring of the alarm gun, the importance o the event—doubt, astonishment and uncertainty—gave to the physiognomy of the people and soldiers a serious expression.

Among the ranks of the military were seen Daniel Webster and Edward Cutts, Jr., with their muskets, Jeremiah Mason, and other eminent men who were opposed to the war, but who volunteered their services on this occasion.

By ten o'clock in the morning fresher news had been received from the sea shore, which somewhat quieted the inhabitants. The landing of the enemy turned out to be only a small boat with a few sailors, who had come ashore at Wallis's Sands for the purpose of filling some casks with water. Before night the regiments had returned to their camp, the tumult had ceased, the people had returned to their homes; and thus ended the Battle of Rye. H.

Uncle Toby remembers this battle very well; nobody was killed; nobody hurt; but many frightened. H. has described it in glowing terms—we will not spoil it.

☞ The street commissioner, Mr. Libbey, is doing a good work in High street. He has already destroyed, by draining, that ancient mudpuddle, which has long embellished the neighborhood of the primary school, and in which the urchins have so often disported themselves to the damage of the hose and vexation of the mammas. He will make a good street of that part, and pretty durable too.—It is a pity, however, that we have not in the city this general rule, viz., to pave the centre of all such streets as this, when they are once well graded, as this will be.

BRIEF LOCALS.—New Block of Buildings. A wooden block, three stories high, is to be immediately erected on the corner of Penhallow and Daniel street, to be used for stores below and dwelling houses above.

Newburyport Visitors.—A large party of ladies and gentlemen from Newburyport arrived in this city Tuesday and took passage in Capt. James Goodwin's yacht, Magnolia, for the Shoals.

Camp-meeting at New Market.—The Methodist Camp-meeting at New Market is well attended this season. Thirty-one tents have already been put up, including a large and spacious one from the Portsmouth Society; a party of thirty left here on Tuesday for the promised land.

Dry Dock.—The basin of the Dry Dock at the Navy Yard, which was laid by contract a few years since, was done so slightly that it is now being laid again in cement. The engines are kept at work day and night pumping out the water, so as to allow the workmen chance to get at the foundation. H.

☞ The south east wind which prevailed on Friday and Saturday drove immense quantities of sea shore birds on the marshes and fields.

☞ Rockingham Fair at Exeter, on Wednesday and Thursday, Sept, 22d and 23d. Why it isn't advertised down this way, we can't understand. We intend to publish a list of the Committees to award Premiums, at our first opportunity. Wm. P. Moulton is President, and Chas. G. Conner Secretary.

KITTERY POINT FAIR.—We are informed that a boat, capable of carrying from thirty to forty with comfort and safety, will be provided, free of charge, to carry friends to the fair and to bring them back after their visit. The boat will start from near the Navy Yard landing at about half past one this day and return early in the evening.

☞ There will be no evening train to the Camp Meeting, on Friday P. M., at half-past 6, as per previous notice.

The Great English Remedy.
SIR JAMES CLARKE'S
Celebrated Female Pills.
Prepared from a prescription of Sir Jas. Clarke M.D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

THIS Invaluable Medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous disorders to which the female constitution is subject. It moderates all excess, removes all obstructions, and a speedy cure may be relied on.

TO MARRIED LADIES
it is peculiarly suited. It will, in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

Each bottle, Price One Dollar, bears the Government Stamp of Great Britain, to prevent counterfeits.

CAUTION.
These Pills should not be taken by females that are pregnant, during the FIRST THREE MONTHS, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at every other time and in every other case they are perfectly safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed, and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or any thing hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions accompany each package.

Sole Agent for the United States and Canada
JOB MOSES,
(late I. C. BALDWIN & CO.,) Rochester, N. Y.

N B.—$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized Agent, will insure a bottle of the Pills by return mail.

For sale, wholesale and retail, by W. R. PRESTON, Portsmouth, and by Druggists in every town in the United States.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DR. DUPONCO'S
French Periodical Golden Pills,
FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity o the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them, to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietors assume no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H THACHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (individually) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

Ayer's Pills

Are purposely adapted to counteract the digestive system, and diseases arising from derangement of the stomach. A large portion of all the cases that afflict mankind originate in the stomach, and yet no cathartic has been generally prescribed for them until these pills were introduced. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint are the parents of a host of other ailments, and cannot be cured by cathartics which do not act upon the digestive organs.

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC,

From Dr. J. Wilson, Cincinnati, Ohio.

"Your pills are the prince of purges, and I use them in my family to the exclusion of all others."

From Dr. Hunter, Cincinnati, Ohio.

"Your pills are the best cathartic we have, and we use them in our family to the exclusion of all others."

FOR INDIGESTION AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS,

From Dr. Flanders, Tiff, of New York City.

"We only are your Pills, while they effectually cleanse the system, are the best aperient we can use. They have in my family, given us more health than all other medicines combined."

DYSPEPSIA — INDIGESTION.

From Rev. J. Cox, of Mobile.

"The Dyspepsia with which I have been afflicted for many years, and from which I have suffered so much, yields to your Pills. In justice, I am bound to say that I have tried many other remedies, but your Pills are the only one that has given me any relief."

Prepared and sold by Druggists everywhere.

Price 25 cents per box, or five boxes for $1.

The Liver Invigorator!

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD,

Compounded Entirely from GUMS.

IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE AND LIVER MEDICINES now before the public.

These gums are used instead of the common alkaloids or bad mixtures of the system, supplying their place with a healthy flow of bile, invigorating the stomach, causing food to digest, and purifying the blood, giving tone and health to the whole machinery, removing the cause which is the disease—affecting a radical cure.

Billious Attacks are cured, and, what is better, prevented by the occasional use of the medicine.

One dose taken before retiring, will relieve Sick Headache.

Only one dose taken is sufficient to relieve the worst, and prevent the food from rising and souring.

Only one dose taken at night, will move the bowels gently, and cure costiveness.

One dose often taken will cure Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a Bilious type. It quickly relieves Sick Headache, and thousands are willing to testify to its distinguished wonderful virtues.

One dose, often repeated, cures Chronic Diarrhœa in its worst form, while Summer and Bowel Complaints yield almost to the first dose.

A few bottles will cure Dropsy by expelling the aforesaid humors.

We take pleasure in recommending this medicine as a preventive for Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a Bilious type. It eradicates with certainty, and thousands are willing to testify to its distinguished wonderful virtues.

All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.

Mix water in the mouth with the Invigorator, swallow it down.

PRICE, ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

FORD, Proprietor, 345 Broadway, N. Y.

Sold by THACHER, PRESTON, HUTCHINGS and all Druggists everywhere. au11 1y

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are, at this moment, thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to consult a physician, by complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice, he has more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are incurable, or nearly so, when he commenced.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in sending Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and fabulous remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

The medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS.

These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all those peculiarities which require a specific and certain, speedy relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish to pay a reasonable rate. 1y2 dly

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that he has been granted a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the State Legislature. The Lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year; all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the number of tickets in every lot, must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to puzzle the brain; the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to SWAN & CAMPBELL, Savannah, Ga.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m181y

A PROCLAMATION TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honor, and integrity are now past and gone away, and WHEREAS, the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily taking advantage of the profound and confiding nature of the KNOWN THERE TO BE, whether MAIDS, WIVES, or WIDOWS, that Dr. CHEESMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are ALONE the certain panacea for all the troublesome incidents to female discommodation; they alone correcting irregular menstruation, assuaging palpitations of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and causing health and happiness to blossom more especially to the MARRIED PORTION, as they are certain to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from mineral, therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unlike other medicines thrust upon the public, purporting to be the same, but which are ruined. THEREFORE, BE IT KNOWN, that nothing but the said PILLS of Dr. CHEESEMAN will accomplish the desired effect, and that they have been long experienced under the regime of OTHER PILLS; and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread amongst them, to their own everlasting benefit—always remembering that no PERSON interested in one case must be considered well and cured; that is to say the PILLS MUST NOT be taken when any female is in the APPROACHING SUFFERING, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Explicit directions, to be carefully read accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail on enclosing $1 to Dr. CORNELIUS L. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4231, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.

Given under my hand and seal,

C. L. CHEESEMAN, M. D.

APPLEDORE HOUSE,

ISLES OF SHOALS.

THIS well known Ocean Retreat is again open for visitors. The house has been refurnished, and every proper attention made to secure the health, comfort and happiness of its patrons.

Beomed as this locality is, in the Atlantic ocean; ever surrounded by an atmosphere of perfect purity, its delicious cool nere in the hottest days of summer; its entire exemption from all epidemics, and its freedom from dust and odious exhalations render it a superior summer residence for invalids and all those who wish to restore their wasted energies. To amateur fishermen it offers a centre of the most glorious sport that can be conceived.

Tune—Anvil Chorus.

When the Gods were all assembled
In their grand debating Hall,
It was proposed by Jupiter to Mercury
That they should have a ball.
A ball! cried out young Vulcan,
I'll cast it at your feet;
And on the sounding anvil
Good work I will complete.
This is the blacksmith's table,
His dark mythology:—
Now let us turn the table,
He modern work to see.
The Shoes for your good Horses,
The Tire for Wagon Wheel;
The Axes, Mauls and Axles
Of Iron and of Steel.
For Carpenters and Farmers,
All good working men;—
They'll make the tools so handy,
You'll surely call Vulcan;
Their prices will be moderate,
They'll never have you wait;

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

THE long list of distinguished persons who have recorded their testimony in favor of this excellent remedy, is evidence of its virtues and value. It would be useless to publish the names of those who have borne witness to the efficacy of this pleasant pectoral, for the fame of its cures in their own neighborhoods is its best recommendation. It is adapted to all ages and conditions of life, and yet there are few who do not need it. Colds, Coughs, Hoarseness, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, Incipient Consumption, and other pulmonary affections, are cured by it so promptly and so easily, that it is a wonder that any one should suffer from them. Many of our most eminent public men have recommended it from the stand, and have given their testimony in its behalf, and we have published the fact that they have used it in their families and found it invaluable. Many of our most distinguished clergymen have also given their testimony to its excellence, and have published it for the benefit of their flocks. Many of our most eminent physicians have also given their testimony in its favor, and have published it for the benefit of their patients. Many of our most distinguished citizens have also given their testimony in its favor, and have published it for the benefit of their friends and neighbors. Many of our most eminent merchants have also given their testimony in its favor, and have published it for the benefit of their customers. Many of our most eminent editors have also given their testimony in its favor, and have published it for the benefit of their readers. Many of our most eminent lawyers have also given their testimony in its favor, and have published it for the benefit of their clients. Many of our most eminent manufacturers have also given their testimony in its favor, and have published it for the benefit of their operatives. Many of our most eminent men have also given their testimony in its favor, and have published it for the benefit of their friends and acquaintances. Many of our most eminent women have also given their testimony in its favor, and have published it for the benefit of their friends and acquaintances. E. P. RUSSELL'S
Patent Mastic Roofing.
Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE Inventor of this Roofing labored many years to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value, both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN!

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

THE subscriber has been appointed Exclusive Agent for this city in furnishing and putting on
BRADSTREET'S
Patent Japan Weather Strip.
This Strip for outside doors is the most useful, and the very best improvement ever those now in use, and the latest, (like the Atlantic Cable,) to keep out Snow, Rain, Wind and Cold from your houses.
This Strip is applied to the bottom of the door by screws, with an ELLIPTICAL SPRING—(which cannot get out of order,) it causes the leaf to rise and fall, on opening or shutting the door.
This Patent Strip is the most simple and durable of anything of the kind ever invented.—It may be regarded as the "ne plus ultra" in this line, obviating all difficulties in management.—It will save the cost of the article in one winter, in keeping the house warm and dry.
The Prices for putting on Doors: Japan Finish, $1 50 each. Brass Finish, $2.50 each.
Every one put on by the subscriber will be warranted, and if not successful, no pay required.
Those who wish for Rooms May now be cooled of effects of a very severe fit of sickness when about eighteen years of age my hair commenced turning gray, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white, being very harsh and coarse. Last Summer I had reached my fifty-third year, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by you. I commenced using it according to directions, and in a few days was surprised to find that my hair from the roots outward was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was as truly brown and glossy as it was in my youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color. MYLA SEAMAN.
Essex Co. ss: Myla Seaman came before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true, this 6th day of Feb., 1858.
JOEL F. PATTEN, Justice of the Peace.

PITTSFORD, VT., Aug. 1, 1857.
I hereby certify that my hearing became quite grey, I used Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, (prepared by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y.,) for four weeks and my hair was in that time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to be all it claims. KNOWLTON.
Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt.
The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietor of Heim-treet's Hair Coloring and Restorative. It has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. This singular effect is not produced as when dyes are used; for it acts upon the natural secretions of coloring matter at the roots, and thus effects the change. Beside, the color produced is not a counterfeit, but the natural shade of youth. It does not color the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & Co., Troy, N. Y.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Research made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1858.

CATHOLIC AND NATIONAL.—Burleigh, of the Boston Journal says:—

Rev. Seth Bliss, who was the Secretary of the Boston Tract Society for so many years, and was displaced the last year on account of his sympathy with the National Society, has shaken the dust of Boston off his feet, and removed to the city of Brooklyn, which will now be his permanent home. It is not at all probable that he will be long unemployed. The experience of more than a quarter of a century in the Tract cause—and the fact that he was made a martyr to his devotion to the catholicity and nationality of the National Society, will commend him to that institution.

Mr. Bliss was a good officer of the Tract Society, to our knowledge,—and there is no doubt that the New York Society is National enough in the sense of being choked by the slave power,—but to call it Catholic, in any sense, is carrying the joke quite too far beyond the truth, when every director and manager is "evangelical," in the most technical and restricted sense.

☞ The two fugitive slaves who were sent back from Cincinnati, as the papers said, quietly and without excitement, were hustled away in the night. They were taken before Commissioner Newhall at 8 o'clock, who at first declined entering into an examination at that hour, but the owner being present insisted on his right to a speedy examination, which was at once entered into. The slave driver cracked his whip over his head, and he obeyed,—poor craven minion,—trembling, lest his owner should report him at Washington for disobedience, and so his official head be cut off. The two negroes are said to be valued at $3000. This Commissioner would not bring $30 if he should sell himself.

THE CAPTURED SLAVER.—Lieut. John N. Maffit, commander of the U. S. brig Dolphin, the vessel which captured the slaver, is the son of the noted Methodist preacher of the same name. Lieut. Maffit is much respected wherever he is known.

The government, having been officially advised of the the landing at Charleston of the captured negroes from the brig Echo, telegraphed, through the War Department, to the U. S. Marshal to remove them to Fort Sumpter, about five miles from Charleston. Arrangements will be made to restore them to their native land. Twelve of them have died since the capture of the vessel, which was in an extremely filthy condition.

The New York Express concludes an article on the capture by remarking: "Once give us some practical assurance that the slave trade is—just what the law says it is—piracy—and that the pirates are hanged, and we suspect the traffic, so far as American vessels and American 'traders' are concerned, would undergo at once a sensible decline."

INTERFERENCE WITH THE PULPIT UNBECOMEFUL.—The South Presbyterian church of Chicago has resolved to abandon its church edifice and to worship in a public hall until able to build. Mr. McCormick, the reaper man, who gave the lot and assisted in building the church, made a deal of trouble because Rev. Mr. Henry was retained as pastor after he had refused to be silent on the subject of slavery at the dictation of McCormick. The edifice is now vacant, and any minister whose principles are in the market can probably get a bid from McCormick, only the higher reaping-machine of truth mustn't be run among the weeds of slavery.

SERFS LIBERATED IN RUSSIA.—On the 6th of August the St. Petersburg Journal contained a ukase, dated June 20th, addressed by the Emperor Alexander to the Minister of the Imperial Household, proclaiming the enfranchisement of the peasantry belonging to the imperial appanage, that is, the appanage of the Emperor and the members of the royal family. The serfs are a different class from those which occupy public or national domain, in whose behalf many restrictions have been heretofore removed.

☞ The Portland Advertiser of Thursday says:

The liquors recently seized at the store of McGlinchey were yesterday declared forfeited to the city, no one appearing to contest the case.

This looks a little like enforcing a wholesome law. McGlinchey had just been tried on a charge of keeping liquors for sale, but plead not guilty, and the jury found him not guilty. Now the marshal seizes his liquors; he dares not claim them—they are gone.

THE STATE FAIR.

The N. H. Statesman says the officers of the State Agricultural Society have engaged Hon. George S. Boutwell, ex-Governor of Massachusetts, as orator.

Governor Banks has given them permission to expect him, and Governor Haile has expressed his intention to be present.

Messrs. King and Allen, the very successful aeronauts at the Fair of 1857, will make an ascent at the Dover exhibition.

Capt. Lane, formerly of Candia, this State, who has been engaged in raising the sunken ships in the harbor of Sebastopol, hopes to exhibit his superb Arabian horses, now in Baltimore. These animals cost $18,000, which is said to be less than their real worth. They stand about 15 hands high, are matched, and are pairs of dark bay, gray and black. They are direct from the cavalry stables of the emperor of Russia, and were raised expressly for him.—The number of horses in the imperial stud is limited to 5000, and when it exceeds that number sales are made. Of this fact Capt. Lane took advantage, and carefully selected these.

The prices of admission will be: for a badge, admitting the holder with wife and minor children, $1. Single admissions, 25 cents.

☞ The Telegraph gives an account of the grand celebration on Wednesday in New York, of the triumph of the Atlantic Telegraph. We have also accounts of celebrations in other places.

Mr. Field received a congratulatory message directly from London, which announced that the directors were on their way to Valentia, to make arrangements for opening the line for public business.—He also received messages from a great number of State and municipal chief magistrates throughout this country and Canada.

Matthew Hale Smith, whom Rev. Henry Ward Beecher branded as a falsifier in the Independent, not two months since, was invited to fill the pulpit at Brooklyn yesterday, rendered vacant by Mr. Beecher's absence.

Well: what of it? If Mr. Smith preached, we dare say the people were entertained, if not instructed; for he could lecture on a broomstick as well as on anything else. And if a portion of the people disapproved the preacher, they could easily stay away for a Sunday.

The "old theology" was probably never more forcibly presented than in the reply of a student at the recent examination of Andover theological seminary. Being asked, "In what sense did Christ die for all?" He answered, "He died for the elect to provide a way of salvation for them, and for the non-elect that they might be more effectually damned."

We have seen this in many papers.—But can it be true? We doubt that any such answer was given.

☞ Some of the magazines and papers are down on the use of perfumes—and go in for the 'wholesome savor of clean linen.' Clean clothes are certainly desirable, but we don't believe they are injured by a fragrant perfume—and is it not strange that the very men who complain of them defile themselves, outrage decency, and sicken every man free from the vice, by the use of tobacco? Give us almost any perfume but that—the most universally used.

☞ Armenia Scouten of Chicago lost a pair of silver spectacles. She applied at once to Miss Tennessee Chaffin, a clairvoyant, to know what had become of them.—The clairvoyant informed her that they were in a jewelry store in that city—the store of Alexander & Wilcox; whereupon Armenia Scouten forthwith brought suit against the said Alexander & Wilcox for the spectacles, and on the evidence obtained a verdict of $3 from a Chicago jury.

☞ It has been proposed among Anti-Lecompton Democrats in Michigan to nominate Senator Stewart for Governor.—The Detroit Advertiser says the administration, on learning the fact, sent on orders from Washington, a few days since, positively forbidding the nomination of Mr. Stuart, as such a result would be considered a rebuke of the administration, and be treated accordingly.

☞ The trial of steam fire engines in Boston was concluded on Wednesday, and, after a careful consideration of the facts before them, the committee of the City Council have made the following report. They award the first prize of $500 to the Philadelphia; the second, $300, to the Lawrence; the third, $200, to the Elisha Smith.

☞ Bills of the Strafford Bank, Dover, N. H.—ones altered to tens—have been put in circulation.

☞ A freight train on the Newburgh (N. Y.) Branch Road was stopped by grasshoppers a few days since. Large numbers of grasshoppers had alighted on the track, literally covering the rails. The train passed over a great number of them, which made the track so slippery that the wheels turned round without going forward. Sand was procured and poured upon the rail, when the train resumed its accustomed motion.

☞ Rev. Mr. Leop, of the Episcopal church at Metamora, Ill., was about commencing a sermon, when a sudden gust of wind blew the document out of the window. Some of the congregation tittered and laughed. The clergyman descended from his desk, went out and recovered his sermon, returned and preached it, and then announced that he would preach no more for that congregation.

☞ Several days ago, two drunken fighting Irishmen, were picked up by the police in Boston, and locked up for safe keeping. Some time in the night they fought; and in the morning it was found that Patrick Harrigan was badly beaten by Murtus Quinn, so that he has since died at the hospital. Quinn is in jail awaiting trial for murder.

PARALYSIS RESULTING FROM TOBACCO TIN FOILED.—Within a few years past tin foil has come into very general use in the place of paper, as an article in which to put up chewing tobacco for general use. The change was convenient, and the new article grew in favor among the tobacco chewers. At first consumers had to pay a pretty good price for it, but of late the article has been cheapened. But it has just received a blow that we think must terminate its entire use. It is now asserted, and with severe experience to support it, that the tin foil has dangerous poisonous qualities. Two cases have just arisen that are calculated to give a great celebrity to this belief. Police Justice Bragg of Detroit, and a prominent citizen of Cincinnati have been attacked by severe strokes of paralysis, produced as the physicians declare by the poisoning influence of tin foil used by tobacco venders. If this statement be sound, we may expect to see at once a general abolition of the use of the article.

General and individual health, cleanliness and comfort would be promoted by "a general abolition of the use of" both the articles!

☞ "Lecompton is dead," says one paper. "So it is," says another.

Indeed it is so, say we; but the men are not dead who killed it. They still live—and their principles live too.

☞ An Irishman, by the name of Patrick Colan, being out after rabbits, in Ashburnham, on Sunday, the 29th ult., was accidentally killed while taking his gun out of the wagon. The charge entered the left breast and went to the heart, killing him instantly. It was the result of carelessness.

☞ William Little, a sailor, who has been in the city hospital, New Haven, for several weeks, escaped on Monday night from his keepers, while in a fit of delirium, and was found dead in the street a short time afterwards. He was about 41 years of age, and belonged in Maine.

A MARE'S NEST.—The Boston Post has discovered that in a few weeks several parties will be sent on a club-organizing expedition, with plenty of capital to bring the name of Gen. Winfield Scott before the country for the "people's" nomination in 1860.

☞ Ex-Governor Hunt, of New York, heretofore a straight national whig, has fully identified himself with the republicans. So learns the Utica Herald.

☞ Some newspapers are ungallant enough to state that Miss Isabella Cass, daughter of the Secretary of State, and who has just been married to the Dutch Minister, is 40 years of age.

WHAT NOT?—A duel was fought in Mississippi last month by S. K. Knott and A. W. Shott. The result was, Knott was shot, and Shott was not. In those circumstances, we should rather have been Shott than Knott.

☞ The new style of bonnet is a unique affair, and resembles a cabbage leaf trimmed with tomatoes. The price is cheap—only thirty dollars.

☞ Talcott & Fuller, the coal dealers of Hartford, for selling short, have been condemned to pay six plaintiffs $200 each.

As two children were playing together, little Jane got angry and pouted. Johnny said to her—"Look out, Jane, or I'll take a seat up there on your lips." "Then," replied Jane cured of her pouts, "I'll laugh and you'll fall off."

DETECTION OF COUNTERFEIT

—AND—

Altered Bank Bills.

THE undersigned begs leave to inform the citizens of this place, that he proposes to instruct all who may favor him with their patronage, in a sure and scientific method of detecting

Counterfeit and Altered Bills upon any Bank in the United States.

This he proposes to do in a manner and according to rents perfectly satisfactory to the learner, or no charge will be made. Having learned, thoroughly, the method taught by G. H. Knapp, he feels confident you would be pleased with this important information. Lessons given in about one hour's time complete.

You are respectfully invited to give us a trial, and when through with the investigation, if you are not convinced you are posted, we do not wish you to feel under any obligations to us.

Persons receiving this information are not permitted to impart to others. You can suit your convenience, either by calling upon me at my

☞ The only place in this city where an Ambrotype can be obtained, is at Davis' Ambrotype Gallery, No. 8 Daniel Street, as they have the Patent, and all infringements will be prosecuted. sept9

TESTS OF CHARACTER.—Lord Byron once said "You never know a man's temper until you have been imprisoned in a ship with him, or a woman's until you have married her". We are able to add, that no one can know how many use HEINSTREET'S HAIR COLORING unless they see it applied, for it restores the hair to the precise shade of youth.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restorative of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in the world.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, GALLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty-eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER is genuine.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshal st.; M. S. Burr & Co., 2 Cornhill; S. E. Pecker, 20 Elm st.; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st.; M. Davis & Co., 51 Blackstone st.; E. Smith & Co., 20 Exchange st.; Gilbert, Abbott & Co., 78 Broad st.; Deland & Snow, 34 Elm st. and others. In Portland, Me., of H. Hay & Co., C. W. Atwell, and C. C. Mitchell & Son.

IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.

Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer,

The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

THE DESTROYER is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the one plus ultra of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimples also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Parisian ladies have used it for years; consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

PROPRIETORS, C. H. GARDNER & CO.,

A BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION.

This personal charm all would possess, and every means has been used to obtain it. All can obtain it who use the Persian Balm at their Toilette. Wet a sponge or napkin in water; pour on it two or three drops of the Persian Balm, and wash the face night and morning. It removes from the skin all impurities, refreshes and augments its whiteness, relieves it from all unpleasant odor, and imparts a freshness and fragrance to the body unequaled by any cosmetics. For bathing it is peculiarly desirable.

HISTORY SET RIGHT.

Messrs. Editors:—Uncle Toby was very kind not to spoil the story about the Battle of Rye—as he certainly must have done had he tried his hand at amending it.—That battle did not take place in 1812, but in 1814, as I well remember coming to live in Portsmouth in 1814, and I was in the battle. It did not take place in September, but in June, as Mr. Adams says in his Annals, viz., the 21st, between 10 and 11—I think it was past 11, but not after midnight. And the people got quiet and everything was safe by sunrise the next morning. D.

BRIEF LOCALS.— Change of Mercantile Library Rooms.—The Mercantile Library Association will soon move into a new suite of rooms, in Exchange Block, No. 15—comprising a Library Room, a Reading Room, and a large Hall, all of which will be fitted up in the best manner.

Court House Improvements.—The gallery at the end of the Court Room has been taken out, and an elevated platform built up on the lower floor for spectators. The roof has been reshingled and the interior walls whitened, which makes it a trifle more decent than it was before.

Smart Shooting in York.—265 Plover were shot in York, near the Beach, on Tuesday, by a sportsman from Portsmouth. H.

☞ We learn that some "lewd fellows of the baser sort" went into the camp of the Methodists at New Market on Tuesday night, past midnight, and commenced a disturbance; that some of the men in the camp got up and ordered the disturbers to leave the premises; and that these disturbers then made a fight, assaulting the presiding elder, Mr. Thurston, knocking him down and stamping on him. It is a high-handed outrage, perpetrated by men said to be employed in this city, who we hear have been apprehended. We hope they may meet their deserts.

GOOD.—It affords us pleasure to learn that Waugh's magnificent Mirror of Italy is soon to be on exhibition at the Temple. This series of panoramic paintings have the reputation of surpassing in beauty and magnificence anything of the kind in this country. It is very large, being some fourteen feet in height, and twenty-six hundred feet in length; covering about 36,000 square feet of canvass. Mr. Waugh has spent between seven and eight years upon this work, having painted it in Florence, Italy; and so elaborately is it finished that it is exhibited by daylight at the afternoon exhibitions. It is to open at the Temple next Tuesday night, and cannot fail to attract intelligent citizens as well as all students. ***

☞ There will be no evening train to the Camp Meeting, on Friday P. M., at half-past 6, as per previous notice.

AGRICULTURAL FAIRS.

Rockingham County, at Exeter, Sept. 22d and 23d. New Hampshire State, at Dover, Oct. 6th, 7th, and 8th.

GENERAL CONFERENCE, CONGREGATIONAL CHURCHES OF MAINE.—The minutes of the 23d annual meeting of this body, held at Augusta on the 22d of June last, show 244 churches and 201 ordained ministers. The number of church members reported this year is 17,842; last 16,765. Baptisms, 689 adults, 311 infants. Sabbath School scholars 19,662. Donations $27,140.

SOUTHERN SNOWS.—The Valparaizo correspondent of the Pennsylvanian writes, under date of July 16th:—

"This is mid-winter here, and the weather very cold and unpleasant. The Andes are covered with snow. Snow to the depth of several inches, fell in the streets of Santiago one night last week.—The oldest settlers unite in declaring that they have never passed through a more inclement winter than the present. The snow is so deep on the mountains that wild animals are compelled to leave the mountain gorges, and seek for a milder climate in the valleys."

DISTURBANCE AT WOLFBOROUGH.—The Washington Street Freewill Baptist Society of Dover, made an excursion to Wolfborough on Wednesday of last week. The weather was delightful and the party had a fine time of it. Towards the close of the festivities, some disturbance was occasioned by the riotous conduct of some fellows of the baser sort, not belonging to the society, who had gone up for a row. A fight ensued, in which a man by the name of Guptil, belonging to Wolfborough, was knocked down, his arm broken, and his jaw smashed in, rendering him a cripple probably for life. Two of the assailants were arrested and brought back to Dover the next day, where one of them was committed to jail and the other put under bonds to appear at the next term of court for trial.—Enquirer.

MARRIED,

☞ On Wednesday night, at 10 o'clock, the New York quarantine establishment on Staten Island was mobbed by one thousand men—several buildings burned—the sick removed and the hospital fired.

The mob broke in the iron gates to the main entrance, and the engines were taken in, but the hose was cut, and the firemen manifested no disposition to extinguish the fire.

The mob deliberately entered the several hospitals, and removing the sick, piled straw beds and bedding in the doorways and windows, and set them on fire.

Dr. Thompson, the health officer, called his men—about sixty in number—into his house and armed them with muskets, but the force was too powerful to render any attempt to oppose them successful. The harbor police were all on duty in their boats, but the mob was beyond their control.

RAILROAD DISASTER.—Pittsburg, Sept. 2. A terrible disaster occurred last night, at 8 o'clock, on the Alleghany Valley Railroad, near Hatton's Station, twelve miles above Pittsburg. The Kittaning train arriving down, stopped at Tarrenturn Station, and hitched on a car containing a large party returning from camp meeting. When the train reached the point mentioned, the Tarrenturn car was thrown from the track by the breaking of the cross bar connecting the brakes. The car rolled down a steep enbankment, turning over twice. At the first revolution the roof was torn off, and the passengers scattered over the ground, mangling the bodies of some of them terribly.

One young woman was killed, and several persons wounded—most of them living in or near Pittsburg.

A collision took place on the Northern road, near Albany, N. Y., about the same time, badly wounding several persons, all from West Troy.

THE CAPTURED SLAVES. — Charleston, Sept. 1.—The Mercury of to-day contains the Attorney General of South Carolina's opinion on the subject of the negroes brought here by the brig Echo. It is to the effect that the Africans be retained by the U. S. Marshal, and that they are not subject to the laws of South Carolina.

It is said that the Trustees of Tremont Temple object to the settlement of Mr. Kalloch over the Baptist church worshipping in the building. The temple belongs to the associated Baptist churches of Boston. One of the conditions of the lease is, that no pastor shall ever be settled over the church worshipping, without the consent of the Trustees. The Baptist ministers of Boston refuse to exchange with Mr. Kalloch, hence the objection to his settlement. —Congregational Journal.

FRAUD.—The gross frauds at St. Louis by which Frank Blair, Jr., was defeated of a re-election to Congress, are now confessed. The officers of the election have refused to allow the poll books and ballots to be examined, or to furnish any official information that may lead to an exposure of the frauds.—Lowell News.

☞ Refering to the Democratic primary meetings in Berks county, the Pennsylvanian says:

"As far as heard from, every district has gone largely for Hon. J. Glancy Jones, and according to present indications the nomination will be nearly unanimous."

☞ A correspondent of the Providence Journal says, that in ninety-nine cases out of every hundred, cranberries applied as a poultice will effectually cure the erysipelas.

☞ A town clerk in Massachusetts returned a death as cause by "bad rum."

One-tenth of the New York Tribune establishment has recently changed hands. Price $33,000, making the value of the whole $333,000.

Ayer's Pills

Are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive apparatus, and diseases arising from impurity of the blood. A large part of all the complaints that afflict mankind originate in one of these organs, and comparatively few persons are found to care many varieties of disease.

Among the elaborants from some eminent physicians of their acquaintance.

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC,

From Dr. E. W. Cartwright, of New Orleans.

"Your Pills are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very positive and efficacious. Rather upon the lowest, which we all think is desirable. It is in the Multitude of doses, I find them invaluable."

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

From Dr. Theodore Bell, of New York City.

"Kind only are your Pills especially adapted to their purpose, and so decidedly superior to all other cathartics offered upon the Liver very medical friend. They have in my practice proved most efficacious for the cure of Liver complaints, dyspepsia, and its attendant evils. I strongly recommend the use of them in all cases in which it is worthy the consideration of the profession and the people."

DYSPEPSIA — INDIGESTION.

From Dr. Henry H. Ross, of St. Louis.

"The Pills you were kind enough to send me some time have been all used in my practice, and been satisfied me that they are truly an extraordinary medicine. Its peculiarity are they adapted to the cure of the disease of the digestive organs, to work upon them alone. I have cured some cases of dyspepsia and indigestion with them, which had resisted the other remedies we commonly use. Indeed, I have experimented with them in my family, and I should all the cathartics for which you recommend them."

DYSENTERY — DIARRHŒA — RELAX.

From Dr. A. G. Cross, of Chicago.

"Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in high esteem as the best cathartic I have ever found. Their peculiarity effect upon the liver rather than an exclusive property, when given in small doses for bilious dysentery and diarrhœa, I have experimented, makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION.

From Mr. E. Sweet, who practices as a Physician and Midwife in Cincinnati.

"I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are excellent promoters of the natural secretion which usually or suddenly ceases, and I have never failed to cleanse the stomach and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients."

CONSTIPATION — CONTIVENESS.

From Dr. J. P. Kimball, Montreal, Canada.

"Too much cannot be said of your Pills for the cure of costiveness. If others of our medicines have found them so, it is no wonder. I have long found them invaluable in my practice, and it is the opinion of the multitude who suffer from that complaint, either, although they may not be well, is the greatest of blessings that ever was bestowed upon mankind. Let the Pills, but your Pills effect that object and cure the disease."

IMPURITIES OF THE BLOOD — SCROFULA — ERYSIPELAS — SALT RHEUM — TETTER — TUMORS — ERUPTIONS — GOUT — NEURALGIA.

From Dr. Andrew Dott, Philadelphia.

"I always feel better in using your Pills purify the blood. They do that. I have used them for many years in my practice, and know with confidence of their efficacy. They purge off the morbid humors of the blood, and thus eliminate the seeds of disease and bring vitality and vigor into the system."

From Dr. Edward Boyd, Baltimore.

"Do you Dr. Ayer, I cannot express to what complaints I have used with your Pills—but mention as my all that can be said, that I use them in my family, and prescribe them as an effectual cathartic in my daily practice with the utmost satisfaction and confidence, that your pills will do what you claim for them, and that they do it well."

Sugar-coated Pills in handsome boxes, containing 40 Pills, which, although a valuable family medicine, are so mild as to be suitable for children, and yet so powerful as to cleanse the system effectually from the worst humors.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has long been manufactured by a practical chemist, and every one of it stands its own ground, with invariable accuracy and cure. It is sealed and protected by law from counterfeits, and consequently can be relied on as genuine, without adulteration. It is the best remedy the world has ever produced for the cure of all pulmonary complaints; for COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, ASTHMA, CROUP, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of consumptive patients it does indeed wonders of the disease. As time passes along, facts wider and better known, the PECTORAL has gradually forced to the front rank of the affected, from the shores of the American pennant to the palaces of European kings. Throughout this entire country, in every state and city, and indeed almost every house, a cordial CHERRY PECTORAL is kept, as the best of all remedies for diseases of the throat and lungs. In many families it is extensively used by their physicians in their practice. It does so many wonderful cures, and such a very great variety certainly it has done for them; if we can trust the testimony which we see the dangerous affections of the lungs yield to it; if we can depend on the opinions of intelligent physicians, whose business is to make the best of case is any reliance upon any thing, then we believe that this preparation has done more the cloak of disease it is claimed for, beyond any and all other remedies known to mankind. Nothing but its intrinsic merits, and the unquestionable benefit conferred on thousands, of sufficient to establish and establish the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior remedies have been thrown upon the community, have sold, and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, confirmed benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and remarkable to be forgotten.

A valuable horse belonging to Samuel Hussey was killed on Wednesday last. A son of Mr. H. had been to Dover Point to leave a load of ice, and on his return he stopped at his uncle's, and took the head-stall off the horse in order that he might graze. He had scarcely left before the horse became frightened and ran at a furious rate, until he reached Mr. Estes' stable on Central Street. Here he stopped on a flat stone, which caused him to fall, breaking his neck and crushing his skull. The horse was valued at two hundred dollars.

The Court of Common Pleas was occupied from Monday until Friday in the case of Steele vs. Canney. It appears by the evidence that the defendant gave the plaintiff a note of hand for $100, at New Durham in 1850, and in 1851 he paid the plaintiff's wife, and neglected to take up the note. The case was ably argued by Christie for plaintiff and Doe for defendant. Verdict for defendant. The case will now go up to the Supreme Judicial Court on exceptions filed by the plaintiff's counsel.

There were 42 persons proposed at the Orthodox church, (Rev. Mr. Richardson's) for admission on Sunday last. This is the largest number that has come before the church for admission at any one time for sixteen years. This undoubtedly is one of the results of the late revival, and shows plainly that the citizens of Dover are still at work in the good cause set before them.—Ballat.

A correspondent of the New York Times makes the following statements in regard to Illinois:

"Mr. Buchanan and his office-holders represent the regular Democratic organization in Illinois. They have 50,000 voters. That is my estimate, and it is concurred in by Fitz Henry Warren, one of the closest political calculators in the West. Mr. Douglas has 80,000 Democratic voters. The Americans may be estimated at 25,000, and hold the balance of power. Their leaders have gone over to Mr. Douglas, and the contest now is for the privates. The Republicans think they will get three-fifths of them. If Mr. Buchanan should remain firm, Senator Douglas would be beaten out of sight. He would not have one-fourth of the Legislature. But he will not remain firm. He will yield just in time to allow his 50,000 to settle comfortably into line. In that contingency the star of Mr. Douglas will ascend to the zenith, and he will triumph over all his enemies including Mr. Buchanan."

The Washington correspondent of the New York Courier and Enquirer says of the Legislature of Illinois:

"Of the members of the Senate who hold over, nine are Democrats and only four are Republicans. The Democrats have but to secure four in the election of next fall to retain the same majority which they had in the last Senate. Of the Senators holding over, seven are said to be in favor of Douglas and five opposed to him. Two of the latter are Democrats. Should the Democrats carry the Senate, as seems probable, and the Republicans the House, the seat of Judge Douglas is likely to remain vacant for two years from March next."

The official vote for Governor, at the late election in Oregon, is as follows: L. F. Grover, Dem., 5859; J. K. Kelley, Rep., 4190. Majority for Grover, 1669.

☞ The Maine Democrat claims credit for the democratic party in Congress for passing the English bill, under which the people of Kansas have rejected the Lecompton constitution, which bill was opposed by the Republicans; but it shrewdly refrains from mentioning the fact that nearly all the democrats in Congress, including a majority in the Senate, voted to force the Lecompton constitution upon the people against their will, and that had it not been for the united opposition of the Republicans that measure would have been forced through the House in defiance of the wishes of five-sixths of the sovereigns of that territory.—Ballot.

Hon. W. W. Boyce of South Carolina understands well enough why it is that Kansas has rejected the English proposition, and he boldly meets the emergency. In a recent speech he says:

"Kansas has voted upon this land proposition, and refuses to accept the terms offered and therefore remains out of the Union. This conclusively establishes the fact that Kansas is ultra anti-slavery. This being the case, the best thing for us is for her to stay out of the Union. Her coming in would only give an accession of strength to our enemies. If she should stay out forever, all the better."

It is amusing to read in administration papers of the devotion of the Democracy to principle. The Convention of the first district of New Jersey, recently held, said nothing about the Kansas policy of the Administration, but approved its course in regard to the Right of Search, and resolved in favor of a Protective Tariff. There are several manufactories in the district.

A woman named Edey Harris, about fifty years of age, unmarried, committed suicide in Nashua, N. H., last Thursday night, by hanging herself to the bedpost. The cause is said to be despondency and melancholy, from losses which she has suitained.

HAS REMOVED HIS OFFICE TO
WEBSTER BANK BUILDING,
13 EXCHANGE STREET, BOSTON.
PATENTS secured in the United States, and in all other patent granting countries. Specifications and drawings prepared. Caveats filed.—Reconsiderations procured, of applications that have been rejected upon imperfectly prepared papers. Interferences prosecuted. Re-issues and extension procured, and in general, all business connected with the Patent Office transacted with care and promptness.
British and other foreign patents procured through prompt and confidential agents in London and Paris.
Persons residing at a distance may obtain all necessary information, and have their business transacted, by writing to the subscriber, without the trouble and expense of a visit to Washington.
He begs leave to refer those unacquainted with him to the following testimonials:—
From Hon. Chas. Mason, Commissioner of Patents.
U. S. PATENT OFFICE, Feb 23, 1855.
I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged as Solicitor, and his been in that capacity in one of the highest moral character, of unquestioned knowledge in the business and practice of the office, and that his scientific attainments are such eminently fit him for the business in which he is about to engage.

DISAPPEARANCE OF ELIZA CRANE.

MYSTERIOUS.—On Tuesday, July 20, Mrs. Eliza Brannan, a daughter of the late Col. J. B. Crane, U. S. A., and wife of Capt. J. N. Brannan, U. S. A. stationed at Key West, Fla., came to the city of N. York from Staten Island, in company with her mother and brother, for the purpose of shopping. She parted from them about 1 o'clock to call on a lady friend residing in Third street, and this is the last that has been seen of her by any member of her family. The Herald of Sunday says: "The fear is that she has met with a violent death, for to suppose that she is voluntarily absent is forbidden by every circumstance of her life, by her devotion as a wife and mother, her only child having been left at her mother's on Staten Island. She was dressed in mourning, and wore a small gold watch, with a gold chain. She may have been abducted, or she may have been drowned: but viewed in any light, the disappearance at such a time of day is very mysterious. The police have ever since been busily engaged in indeavors to discover her fate, but without success."

It is alleged that the missing lady was seen to enter a carriage at Tompkinsville on the evening of the 20th. Since then no trace of her has been found. The brother of Mrs. Brenan caused the arrest of several drivers of public carriages at Tompkinsville. The evidence did not in any way implicate the parties arrested.

Col. Crane (a brother of Com. Crane) was several years since stationed at Fort Constitution in this harbor, and his family residence was in High street in Portsmouth. The girls were well known here, and the mysterious disappearance has excited the sympathy of their friends. Every effort is making to discover what has become of her, but as yet no light is thrown upon the mystery.

MOVING IMPUDENCE.—An outlandish fellow the past week has been going from house to house with a small box of green stuff—perhaps the remains of some itch ointment stock—which he calls furniture polish. He calls at the door and requests to see the lady of the house. If informed that she is engaged, he refuses to state his business, but says that he has a special message from Mrs. ——, (naming some lady of distinction in the neighborhood,) which he must deliver personally. He gives the impression that his message is of such a nature as requires immediate attention, and so he gets an interview. The lady is informed that Mrs. —— requested him to call on her with a box of his superior furniture polish! It is in vain the indignant lady tells him she does not want his polish—and to get the nuisance out of the house she has at last to pay him 25 cents. In cases where it was persistently refused, the fellow gave marks of his indignity.

We know not whether the fellow has a license—but if he has, should he apply at any house where the gentleman is at home, in this or any other town, the fellow should have a feeling admonition that his polish is not wanted, and shown the door with a double quick step.

Those who place any value on the loose articles in their parlors or entries, should never let such strangers pass over their thresholds.

THE PORTSMOUTH BAPTIST ASSOCIATION, comprising the churches in Rockingham county and a few places outside, held its annual session at Deerfield on Wednesday and Thursday last, Rev. Wm. LAMSON, D. D. of this city, presiding. Tuesday evening, Rev. Mr. Barnabee of Newburyport, preached.

Wednesday forenoon was occupied in organizing and listening to a sermon from Rev. Dr. Lamson. In the afternoon the Letters from the various churches in the Association were read, indicating a general feeling among the churches during the religious interest of the past season. In that respect Portsmouth must have experienced as much as any in the district if not more. There have been additions altogether amounting to about 200 members. After the reading of the letters, Rev. Mr. Peck, of Exeter, preached, and in the evening Rev. Mr. Archibald, of Exeter, delivered an eloquent and powerful discourse upon the sovereignty of God as conducive to religious activity. Mr. A. is a man of rare ability.

The business was concluded on Thursday forenoon, Rev. Mr. Tibbits of Plaistow, reading the circular letter to the churches, and the various committees reporting. An hour was spent in conference, and the meetings were concluded by a sermon from Rev. Mr. Collins of Great Falls.

PATENT HOSE CARRIAGE.—We have before us a model of a Hose Carriage, invented and patented by Mr. John H. Stickney of this city. By an arrangement of cog wheels, the Hose can easily be let out or wound up by the progression of the carriage wheels—saving all dragging of the Hose and most of the manual aid now required to reel it up.

CAR COUPLINGS.—We have also on our table a newly invented Car Coupling, produced by Mr. Wilbur B. Wait. Its operation in the model is excellent.

STATE REFORM SCHOOL.—A correspondent inquires whether this institution is open for inmates? It is, and has been for three months. There have as yet been but seven admitted.

A FIELD OF CORN BLIGHTED BY FROST.—A correspondent informs us that passing through Canterbury last week he saw an acre of corn entirely blasted by the frost of the 23d August, a thing which seldom happens so early in that part of the State.

HEAVY RAIN.—The fall of rain between Friday afternoon and Saturday afternoon last, was 2 3-4 inches.

GOOD COW.—Mr. L. H. Yeaton, of Rollinsford has a cow which has given in the month of August 1341 lbs. of milk, being 44¾ lbs. per day, and this without any extra feed.

Hon. Amos Kendall, the distinguished Postmaster General under the Administration of Mr. Van Buren, is now on a visit to Maine, with his family, and is a guest of Hon. F. O. J. Smith at "Forrest Home," Westbrook.

DEMOCRATIC TRIUMPHS.

In Kansas the democratic principle of popular sovereignty has been vindicated, and the undemocratic constitution of Lecompton has been scattered to the winds. No Republican Senators will represent that state at the next session.—Bath Times.

This undemocratic constitution was made by a national democratic convention, but not submitted to the people—and President Buchanan urged Congress to admit the State under this undemocratic constitution! The people of Kansas who opposed the Lecompton swindle, and finally "scattered the undemocratic thing to the winds," were said by Mr. Buchanan to be in a "state of rebellion" for making this very opposition. Again, every Republican in Kansas voted to "scatter the undemocratic Lecompton thing to the winds!" Query, did this not make them so far democrats?

The principle, and the only principle voted for by the free State men there, is opposition to slavery! Nothing else was put within their reach! The question, as put by the English bill, did not contain any popular sovereignty by which a people could say whether they would be a free State or a slave State; but whether they would be a slave State under this undemocratic Lecompton, or no State at all!

This question, be it remembered, Mr. English got up in Congress to unite the democratic party—and they did unite on it so far as to carry the bill through Congress. And President Buchanan did sign it.

Next, it went to the people of Kansas; they spit upon it, spurned it, trampled out the breath of life from it, and, as the Bath Times says, "scattered it to the winds!"

And this is a "democratic triumph!" Truly it may be so—but how it is a triumph of the democratic party, to have its pet measure scattered to the winds, it is difficult to see.

It is hard also to see any principle of popular sovereignty in the ox, who is chained to his stanchell, when the farmer brings him an armfull of orts, which he blowed upon last night, and throws it down in his crib. The ox snuffs at it, and looks up, but the farmer says, eat that or nothing! shuts the barn door and goes to bed!

In the morning the ox looks thin and cross; the orts are not eaten, but all trodden under his feet and mixed with ordure. And now the farmer tosses up his cap, gives three cheers for the sovereign ox, and rejoices that these undemocratic orts are spurned and scattered! Does he?

MASSACHUSETTS.—The State Convention of the Democratic party met at Worcester. It was a very large, enthusiastic, and harmonious meeting, nearly a thousand votes being cast on the first ballot given in the organization. There were two parties for the nomination—Beach men, who are Buchanan men strong, and Butler men, who prefer to take a course more in harmony with the public sentiment of the State, that is, not so openly and decidedly proslavery. The Buchanan section prevailed on the vote for Governor, which was as follows:—

Erasmus D. Beach, of Springfield,	636
Benjamin F. Butler, of Lowell,	406
Scattering,	12

The platform is very long, containing numerous planks, of which we select two or three on slavery, rum, &c.

Resolved, That no state ever gave to congress any power to regulate or prescribe its domestic institutions, and that its forms of labor are as inviolably its own as its forms of faith.

That every new state has all the sovereignty of an old state, because congress has no power to admit anything less than a state; and, therefore, it is a violation of the constitution for the north to assume to prescribe the exclusion of slavery as the condition of the admission of a new state.

That having thus settled the equal rights of the old and new states, the like principle is applicable to the equality of all the states in all the territories; and, therefore, congress has no power to shape the territory with a view to make it a free or slave state, nor to interfere with the condition of slavery therein, that condition being a judicial and not a political question.

Resolved, That we rejoiced greatly at the election of James Buchanan, so do we now heartily approve of the able, upright and faithful manner in which his administration has been conducted.

Resolved, That the law authorizing the sale of intoxicating liquors by State and town agents, is wholly obnoxious, and ought to be stricken from the statute book, it being in effect a legislative sanction of intemperance.

Nobody expects Mr. Beach to be elected.

☞ Messrs. Douglas & Sherwood, of New York, who employ 780 girls in the manufacture of crinolines, took them all out to a pic-nic last week, defraying the entire expense, and making no deduction from their wages.

For the Chronicle.

ESSAY ON THE RESURRECTION.

The Resurrection of Nature, in Spring, a Token of the Resurrection of the Body.

Who can doubt the resurrection of the body, after feasting the eye on the beauties of Spring? Whence come the glorious forms and tints of the vegetable world? Where were they but a few weeks ago? Look at the delicate leaf, so fresh in its beautiful coloring,—the grass creeping into every nook, and giving, even to the wildest and roughest spots, a screen of beauty, hiding irregularity and disorder,—the many hued Spring blossoms,—the varied shades of brilliancy lavished on the foliage of the tree,—the new, fresh, vivid look which the whole vegetable kingdom wears,—look at all these, which, it would seem, must cause Earth somewhat to resemble the Eden our race have lost, and tell me where they were a few short weeks ago?

Ah! they were locked in the death-sleep of winter. Icy arms held them fast in their cold embrace. Yet the germ was alive. The death which Winter brings to Earth's bosom could only partially conquer the principle of life, implanted by the Great Father in the vegetable creation. In the root, the trunk, the bud, the seed, still lay the hidden life, ready to burst forth as soon as the warm influences of Spring should call it, to its multiform resurrection. And when that resurrection cometh, glorious are the forms of beauty on every side.

Is not the lesson plain? Will not the comparison hold? The resurrection of Spring is a fit emblem of that ineffably more glorious day, when the human body, long laid in the grave, crumbled into dust, resolved into its elements, it may be, shall be raised in new, immortal vigor, deathless evermore.

"Thou fool," saith Paul, "that which thou sowest is not quickened, except it die; and that which thou sowest, thou sowest not that body that shall be, but bare grain, it may chance of wheat, or of some other grain."

What resemblance does the small, brown, cold, hard kernel bear to the luxuriant stalk of waving corn? And yet that tall and juicy stalk, those long, beautiful leaves, that glossy, golden silk, draping the well filled ear, are the result of the decay and germination of that little, cold, hard kernel which you buried in the earth. The germ of all this beauty was enfolded in the little, almost insignificant seed. Yet there is no resemblance between the plant and the seed. We are accustomed to this on every side. All plants springing from seeds differ as much from the seeds in which they were folded, therefore we see it often, and feel no astonishment. Why then, since the apostle has considered this a fit emblem of the resurrection, why should we puzzle ourselves about the body that shall be raised? Christ went to Heaven in his glorified body, when he rose toward the sky from the Hill Bethany, while in the act of blessing his disciples, and parted from their sight. We are told that he will so come in like manner, that is, with the same glorious body, to judge the world. Enough for us to know that these bodies are to be raised and spiritualized. How it shall be done, becomes us not to enquire. Christ has given us a guaranty that it will be done, in that he himself rose from the dead; indeed, he is called "the first fruits of them that slept."

Many have speculated upon the difficulties in the way of such a resurrection of the body, till they seem to be lost in their own speculations. Can it be any more difficult for an all powerful being to collect elements, than to create them? To raise a body from the dead, than to create it at the first? O, truly, "the wisdom of the world is foolishness with God." Instead of endeavoring to fathom what the Almighty has not revealed to us, and which in no sense is necessary for us to know, let us put full faith in his promise that these bodies shall be raised, and raised in such a manner as to preserve our personal identity. And instead of speculating upon the subject, far more important is it that we give our whole attention, that we may have Christ revealed in us, the hope of glory, that so we may be his in that day.

DETECTION OF COUNTERFEIT

—AND—

Altered Bank Bills.

THE undersigned begs leave to inform the citizens of this place, that he proposes to instruct all who may favor him with their patronage, in a sure and scientific method of detecting

Counterfeit and Altered Bills upon any Bank in the United States.

This he proposes to do in a manner and according to tests perfectly satisfactory to the learner, or no charge will be made. Having learned, thoroughly, the method taught by G. H. Knapp, he feels confident you would be pleased with this important information. Lessons given in about one hour's time complete.

You are respectfully invited to give us a trial, and when through with the investigation, if you are not convinced you are posted, we do not wish you to feel under any obligations to us.

Persons receiving this information are not permitted to impart to others. You can suit your convenience, either by calling or addressing at my

FEMALE DISEASES.

A large proportion of the female sex suffer from some irregularity in the menstrual secretion. All such sufferers, whether from suppression, excessive flow, or painful discharge, can find sure and permanent relief in the well-tried PERUVIAN SYRUP, which acts in such cases almost like magic.

☞ Reader, do you want THE picture of the day? If so, have one of Gregory's Photographs in Oil Colors, which he is selling at about half the Boston and New York prices.

☞ The only place in this city where an Ambrotype can be obtained, is at Davis' Ambrotype Gallery, No. 8 Daniel Street, as they have the Patent, and all infringements will be prosecuted. sept9

TESTS OF CHARACTER.—Lord Byron once said "You never know a man's temper until you have been imprisoned in a ship with him, or a woman's until you have married her". We are able to add, that no one can know how many use HEDNSTREET'S HAIR COLORING unless they see it applied, for it restores the hair to the precise shade of youth.

LADIES OF PORTSMOUTH.

IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.

Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer,

The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worm, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

THE DESTROYER is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from the former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the ne plus ultra of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimples also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Parisian Ladies have used it for years; consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady of Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend the delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty-eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, liquor dealers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st.; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. E. Pecker, 20 Elm st.; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st.; M. Davis & Co., 67 Blackstone st.; R. Smith & Co., 50 Exchange st.; Gilbert, Abbott & Co., 78 Broad st.; Dana & Co., 34 Elm st; and others. In Portland, Me., of H. H. Hay & Co., C. W. Atwell, and C. C. Mitchell & Son.

The Great English Remedy.

Prepared from a prescription of Sir Jas. Clarke M.D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

THIS invaluable medicine is confidently offered in the cure of all those painful and dangerous disorders to which the female constitution is subject. It moderates all excess, removes all obstructions, and a speedy cure may be relied on.

TO MARRIED LADIES

it is peculiarly suited. It will, in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

Each bottle, Price One Dollar, bears the Government Stamp of Great Britain, to prevent counterfeits.

CAUTION.

These Pills should not be taken by females that are pregnant, during the FIRST THREE MONTHS, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at every other time and in every other case they are perfectly safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed, and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or any thing hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions accompany each package.

☞ H. L. Hastings, of Rochester, N. Y., will preach at the Advept Chapel tomorrow, at the usual hours.

☞ Active preparations are being made for the opening of the beautiful Mirror of Italy, next Tuesday evening, at the Temple, when we may look for a full house.—The Mirror is now on exhibition at Newburyport, where the large City Hall is nightly crowded. We copy the following from the Herald of that city.

***

The beautiful Mirror of Italy opened Tuesday night, to a most excellent house; and we think we never saw an audience so well pleased. The Mirror is a most magnificent affair, and no one should fail to see it. Yesterday afternoon a large number of children and ladies were present, and were highly entertained as well as greatly instructed. Three days more yet remain to see this splendid series of paintings, and we recommend all to go.

ROWDIES AND LOAFERS.

Messrs. Editors:—Having had occasion for the last four Sabbaths, to visit that part of the city formerly called Christian Shore, now North Portsmouth, I have been surprised to see the great number of *loafers and rowdies that congregate from early morn till night, on the corner of Dennett and North street to the great annoyance of all who may have occasion to pass in that direction. The object of these loafers, seems to be to spend the day in smoking their pipes and cigars, using the most obscene, vulgar and profane language, thereby insulting many females, and otherwise desecrating the Sabbath. I have understood and know that the owners of the premises have repeatedly warned them off, but it seems to no effect. Would it not be well for the City Police to abate this nuisance, which is a great one, not only to the neighbors near by, but to all of those passing to and from church. ORDER.

*The names of some of them are known to many, as every day loafers, gamblers and fast pickpockets.

Rockingham County, at Exeter, Sept. 22d and 23d. New Hampshire State, at Dover, Oct. 6th, 7th, and 8th.

☞ A horse ridden by a lady at Plainfield, N. J., ran away, took to the sidewalk, regardless of the awnings and signboards, and brought up in a stall in a stable; and without doubt the lady's brains would have been knocked out if she had not shown remarkable presence of mind in throwing herself flat upon the animal's back. Such stupid brutes as that, are no more fit for a lady to mount, than a jackass is for parade use. A saddle horse, especially for a side-saddle, should be at once prompt, spirited, bold, and kind.

☞ A singular circumstance, but not out of the course of nature, occurred on the steamer Superior, during her last trip from Louisville to Cincinnati. A lady passenger gave birth to a pair of twins—fine, bouncing girls—as the boat was about making a landing. Scarcely had the pleasurable excitement consequent upon the occasion subsided, when intelligence was received in the cabin that a German lady on deck had become the mother of three boys. Such a hasty addition in the passenger way rather confounded the officers of the boat.

☞ At a meeting in Newark, N. J., on Saturday, Captain Nye advanced the opinion that the passage from New York to Liverpool by steam power would never be made in six days as had been anticipated. He thought that the success of the Telegraph would have a tendency to make the commercial world careless as to any increase of speed in steamers, and that they would soon be constructed with less regard to this point.

☞ The wife of Mr. Joseph Baxter of Hyannis, after having received from her too confiding and excellent husband a liberal sum of his money, last week left his bed and board, stating that she should "never return." The husband, it is said, inclines to the opinion that he shall "never look her up."

☞ Hon. C. C. Washburn, of Wisconsin, has been renominated for Congress.—Three Washburn brothers are all likely to be returned to the next Congress.

The ship Essex with 75,000 ounces of gold arrived from Melbourne.

Mr. Ten Broeck's American horse Babylon won the Chesterfield handicap, at York, against a field of seven horses.

A great demonstration was being organized at Killarney, in honor of the success of the cable, in the shape of a banquet to the directors of the Company.

A project was on foot for running a railway to Valentia.

The Atlantic and great western Railway Company, of Ohio and Pennsylvania, had negotiated in England bonds for about $3-000,000.

At a meeting of the Liverpool Workhouse Committee, it was reported that thirty-five destitute emigrants, whose passage had been paid from the United States, had been brought to the Liverpool workhouse. One-fifth of the number were lunatics.

The fact that an enquiry could be sent from London and a reply of some length be received from Newfoundland in 2 1-4 hours, had been demonstrated in the matter of the collission between the steamers Arabia and Europa, and was regarded with great satisfaction.

Some Italians had been arrested at Cherbourg and Paris, and the Paris police were exercising a marked surveillance at the station of the Great Western Railway.—The Government had been informed that Mazzini had left London.

Portello, Speinbrie & Co., of London, engaged in the Mediterranean trade, have failed, with liabilities amounting to over £150,000.

The Empress of Austria was safely delivered of a prince on the 21st.

The rumor gained ground that a definitive abdication of his throne by the King of Prusia would become necessary in consequence of his disease getting worse. Some fears are expressed of the event bringing on a political crisis.

It is announced that the Duke de Malakoff is soon to marry a Spanish relative of the Empress Eugenie.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—The remainder of the quarantine buildings at Staten Island were burnt last night. The conflagration commenced soon after the adjournment of a meeting of the citizens of Richmond county. Among the buildings burned were the six cottages occupied by the boatmen of the station, the large mansion occupied by Dr. Waller, deputy health officer, and the fine brick dwelling house of Dr. Bissel. The furniture had been removed from the buildings, excepting the last named. Dr. B., though warned of the intended burning, refused to move an article.

The mob, it is stated, was led by Ray Tompkins, Chief Engineer of the Staten Island Fire Department, who appeared in his fireman's uniform.

Soon after midnight the female hospital was set fire to and wholly consumed. It contained seventy-five patients, who were previously removed, and placed on the grass plat between the hospital and the resident physician's house, the latter being still on fire, where they remained during the night, covered with showers of sparks from the burning buildings.

A detachment of U. S. marines was present, but only to guard the government property.

No attempt was made by any one to stop the flames.

The United States revenue office was among the property destroyed.

Three of sick have died from the heat and exposure, and are yet lying under the trees where they died.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the New York Times says:

Soule still lingers here. He denounces the course of the Administration toward Douglas with contempt, and thinks the extreme Southern party has destroyed itself by its blunders about Kansas and neglecting Central America.

The Democrats have brilliant pro-Douglas news from Illinois, and think his success certain; but Trumbull writes that the reaction is strong against him and that the Americans are decidedly disposed to fuse with the Republicans."

☞ Bishop Eastburn, of the Episcopal Church, is to preach at the Congregational Church at Rye, to-morrow.

Sugar was not known in Europe until about the year 1150. The use of honey is of very ancient date.

Ayer's Pills

Are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive apparatus, and diseases arising from impurity of the blood. A thorough trial of all the various kinds of cathartic medicines now offered to the public, has proved these pills to be the most effectual and reliable purgative that can be used in the treatment of all those diseases which require a cathartic for their cure. Prepared and sold by Dr. J. C. AYER, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists everywhere.

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC.

From Dr. E. W. Clark, of New Orleans.

"Your Pills are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any eulogy we possess. They are mild, sure, and not disagreeable. We use them in our family in preference to any other cathartic, which makes them invaluable to us in the early treatment of disease."

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

From Dr. Thacher, M.D., of New York City.

"Not only are your Pills superior in their purpose and as a purgent, but I find their peculiar effects upon the Liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proved more efficacious in the cure of bilious complaints than any other cathartic. Indeed, I cheerfully recommend them as the best cathartic we have which is worthy the confidence of the medical and the people."

DYSPEPSIA — INDIGESTION.

From Dr. Brown, of Reno, Ohio.

"The Pills you have sent me have much benefited me. I have been all used in my practice, and have satisfied me that they are truly an extraordinary medicine, to peculiarly are they adapted to the wants of the dyspeptic, who, they enable to work upon their cases. I have tested some case of dyspepsia and costiveness so severe, that I had related the case to no one, for fear of ridicule; but, I find, by experimentally trying them to be the equal of others all the best physicians by which you recommend them."

DYSENTERY — DIARRHŒA — RELAX.

From Dr. J. G. Gross, of Chicago.

"Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in the highest estimation of any cathartic I have ever found. They alternate well upon the liver, make them an excellent remedy when given in small doses, for chronic dysentery, and in the form of compound cathartic, I find them very acceptable and serviceable for the use of women and children."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTIONS — WORMS — SUPPRESSION.

From Mrs. E. Smith, wife of Hon. Gideon S. Higginson, of Natchez.

"I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are excellent promoters of the natural secretions when they are obstructed, and I have every reliance in them for a cathartic and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients."

CONSTIPATION — COSTIVENESS.

From Dr. J. P. Fowler, Montreal, Canada.

"My family make a point of your Pills for the cure of costiveness, which depends of our diseases more than all others. I consider it of the utmost importance that a cathartic that is to be taken by the thousands at the provocation who suffer from that complaint, should be such that it may be taken without disgust, which, although both enough in itself, is the property of your Pills to a degree I have not found in any other cathartic in the market, and which, I believe, is owing to the fact that your Pills effect this organ and none the disagreeable effects of other cathartics."

DISTURBANCES OF THE BLOOD — SCROFULA — ERYSIPELAS — SALT RHEUM — ULCERS — TUMORS — BILIOUS COMPLAINTS — NEURALGIA.

From Dr. Rudolf Holt, Philadelphia.

"You were right, Doctor, in saying that your Pills purify the blood. They do that. I managed them of late years in my family, and they have proved to be a family medicine. They eliminate the vitiated humors, and cure many of the important ills that arise in the blood, and rankle therein. They effectually the organs of digestion, and cause healthy and vigorous action of the system."

"Such testimony as this proves our assertions beyond a reasonable doubt, and you cannot find a cathartic like them."

FOR HEADACHE — SICK HEADACHE — FOUL STOMACH — BILIOUSNESS — DYSPEPSIA — PARALYSIS — PAIN — ETC.

From Dr. Edward Bull, Baltimore.

"Your Pills AYER I prescribed constantly for my patients, and they give me satisfaction. I have found them an excellent cathartic for those cases of bilious complaint, which require a cathartic to be administered with the utmost caution, such as those in which I am called to attend in a public pill from the beneficial consequences that follow quickly, after its exhibition, are. These cases are many, if not almost innumerable, whenever."

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has long been manufactured by a practical chemist, and every dose of it carries with it the invaluable assurance of purity and care. It is prepared by the most skillful chemist, and is a product of the highest character as a genuine, without adulteration. It supplies the cure of a disease which would be ever known for the cure of all pulmonary complaints, as Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, Consumption, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease. At this period there is hardly a town but what knows the wonderful effects of this medicine, and there is hardly a town in the land which has not been benefited by its use. Its power to cure is acknowledged throughout the entire country, in every state and city, and indeed almost every house in America. Cannot this be known as the best and most efficacious remedy for diseases of the throat and lungs. In many towns, numbers of it are used by the most eminent physicians. If there is any doubt, ask your druggist, or any other druggist of your town, or write to any one of your neighbors, and they will tell you that it is the best medicine they know for the cure of all pulmonary complaints. Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER, Practical Chemist, Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists everywhere.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE RICHEST DIADEM

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What? Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself gave to adorn the human face. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head be bereft of its covering, or the hair be snarled and shriveled, harsh and dry, or worse still, if sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and believe. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pastor, Stanley.

NEW YORK, April 19, 1868.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir.—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the effectiveness of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your Hair Restorative, it soon regained its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

S. TALMADGE.

"Dirch a'r Gwyliedydd."

Welsh Newspaper Off., 15 Nassau st., Apr. 12, '68.

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir.—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who concluded to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but there as well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend Wood's Hair Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CHARLES CARDEW.

NEW YORK, July 25, 1867.

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—With pleasure do I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white, have grained their dark color, and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and other scurf itching, so common among persons who perspire freely. J. G. KEBY.

CHICAGO, ILL., May 1, 1867.

PROF. WOOD:—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications restored my hair firmly. It begins to fill up, grow out and turned back to its original color, (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, beautiful in appearance, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all. J. D. HOGE.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large medium, and small; the small holds a pint, the medium holds a pint and a half, holds at least 20 per cent more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

The Liver Invigorator!

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD,

Compounded Entirely from GUMS.

IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE AND LIVER MEDICINES now before the public.

These Gums remove a morbid or bad matter from the system, supplying in their place a healthy flow of bile. Invigorating the liver, causing bowels to act, purifying the blood, giving tone and vigor to the whole machinery, removing the cause of the disease, effecting a radical cure.

Bilious Attacks are cured, and, what is better, prevented by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.

Up-country dyspeptics are sufficient to relieve the stomach and prevent the food from rising and souring.

Only one dose taken before retiring, prevents nausea and sickness.

Only one dose taken at night, lessens the bowels, gives a healthy action, and cures constipation.

One dose taken after each meal will cure dyspepsia.

One dose of the tea spoonfuls will always relieve Sick Headache.

Only one dose immediately relieves Colic.

One dose often repeated is a sure cure for Cholera Morbus and a preventive of Cholera.

Only one bottle is needed to throw out of the system the effects of medicine after a long sickness.

One bottle taken for Jaundice removes all traces of unnatural color from the skin.

One dose taken a short time before eating gives vigor to the appetite and makes the food digest well.

Was first, after repeated cures Chronic Diarrhœa in its worst form, in the Summer.

Bowel Complaints yield almost to the first dose.

A few doses will cure Dropsy by exciting the absorbents.

Ladies find it a pleasant and recommending this medicine as a preventive for Fever and Ague, Chills and Fever, and all Fevers of a Bilious type. It operates with wonderful virtues, and thousands are willing to testify to its mystifying virtues.

Mix water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.

Sold by all respectable druggists everywhere.

DR. SANFORD, Proprietor, 593 Broadway, N. Y.

Sold by THACHER, PRESTON, BUTCHINGS, and all Druggists everywhere. au21 ly

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands in this and the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious wounds of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the disturbance of the mind, the effects of complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to those who order them, provided the full description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number have been cured with his medicines.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in sending Dr. Dix. Do not be misled from the right path, or be persuaded to try any thing with which you are not familiar, and thus add the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

Medicines for sale, or to be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RESOVATING PILLS.

These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by adventuring empirics, who introduce some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they can be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where they can be obtained.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. 1y2 4ly

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is conducted in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries have been drawn in Augusta, and are now in the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all schemes being filled and the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. Orders for tickets or money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and the whole is drawn out in a strictly honorable manner. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $20,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing will be published in Augusta.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer and New York Weekly Herald. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m151y

A PROCLAMATION TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honor, and integrity are fast fading away, and WHEREAS, the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily taking advantage of the credulous and learned. BE IT KNOWN THEREFORE, to all, whether MAIDS, WIVES, or WIDOWS, that DR. CHESNEY'S FEMALE PILLS are unsurpassed by any quacker for the the troubles incident to female disorganization; they alone correcting all painful menstruation, suppressions, prolapsus, or fall of the womb, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and a broken health and happiness to whole sex; more especially to the married portion, as they are certain to regulate all irregularities, and are perfectly harmless. AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from mineral, therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and well worth a dozen other medicines thrown upon the public, purporting to effect the objects already detailed. THEREFORE, BE IT KNOWN, that persons but the said PILLS are the genuine article, and that the desired object, when PROPERLY BEGUN, has been experienced under the regime of OTHER PILLS; and that the sale of the genuine PILLS continues to spread amongst them, their own overwhelming benefit—always promising that said Proclamation in case cause must be considered SEIZE AND YOUR; that to say the Publisher not be taken when any female is in an interesting situation, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail on enclosing $1 to Dr. CORNELIUS L. CHESNEY, Box 4442, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.

Given under my hand and seal,

DR. L. CHESNEY, M. D.

APPLEDORE HOUSE,

ISLES OF SHOALS.

THIS well known Ocean Retreat is again open for visitors. The house has been refurnished, and every preparation made to secure the health, comfort and happiness of its patrons.

Discomed as this locality is in the Atlantic ocean; ever surrounded by an atmosphere of perfect purity; its delicious coolness in the hottest days of summer; its entire exemption from all epidemics, and its freedom from dust and odious exhalations render it a superior summer residence for invalids and all those who wish to restore their wasted energies. To amateur fishermen it offers a centre of the most glorious sport that can be conceived.

AN OLD PARADOXICAL RIDDLE.

A friend and enemy. A blessing and a curse. A beauty and deformity. It saves life and it takes it away. Is long and short. Round and square. Straight and crooked. Smooth and uneven. Hard and soft. Hot and cold. Most wanted where it is in greatest plenty, and where most useful least regarded. It accommodates itself to all tastes. Is savoury and insiped. Sweet and of bad smell. Strong and weak. Some times able to carry the greatest burthens, and at other times will not bear the weight of a pin. For this men make long journeys, thought they have it at home.—So capricious it is, that at times it will drive away all company, and be full of reflection; at other time have a large assembly and do its utmost to contribute to their mirth and entertainment. It has the art to dissolve matrimony. Pleases and displeases, inasmuch that it's presence and absence are both implored. Cooks and housewives admire it. Husbandmen curse it. Merchants use it. It causes famine and plenty. It is a bane and an antidote. Man and beast, fish and fowl, earth and air, experience its influences.—It has the privilege of kissing the first ladies' lips, assists them in dressing, and is often the ornament of their persons. A sovereign remedy for despairing lovers, and will bring them together, though they are one hundred miles distant. Subservient, over-bearing, useful and destructive. Death and a medicine. It is a fluid and solid. A mountain and a valley. It has a numerous offspring, and yet an enemy to children. It is a subject of miracles, and a plague to philosophers, a theme for poets: An improvement for music. Of great use in the art of fortification, and has occasioned the finest architecture in the world.

A solution is requested.

AN ITEM FOR DRINKERS.—At Cincinnati the other night, a man named John Butts, while going home intoxicated, fell in the street, and rolling over into the mouth of a sewer came near being eaten by rats.—Officer Lewis, going his rounds, discovered a pair of legs sticking out from the well-hole of the sewer. He forthwith repaired to the spot, and failing to arouse the owner of the legs, caught him by the heels and drew him out, when it appeared that one of his ears was eaten off by the rats. The vermin had just commenced their repast, and would doubtless have finished him by morning.

☞ Captain Ames, who was postmaster at Greenfield from 1807 to 1841, and voted for Jefferson and thence down to Buchanan, and was grandfather to the Mayor of Springfield, died on Sunday at the rare old age of 95½ years.

PERSONAL ITEMS.—The Hon. Francis P. Blair, Jr., has given notice that he will contest the right of Richard Barrett to a seat in the 36th Congress, from the first district of Missouri.

Two wills have just been recorded in Philadelphia. The first one: "I will and bequeath all money or effects owned by me to —— or his heirs." The other is still more brief, and reads thus: "I will everything to my wife absolutely." These wills, though brief, are just as effective as if whole quires of paper had been written over.

☞ On Tuesday last the wife of Mr. George Stoddard, of Brookline, Mass., died from the effects of an overdose of morphine taken to relieve headache.

The grasshoppers about Waterville, N. Y., have taken to chewing tobacco. Some of the tobacco fields in that vicinity have been nearly destroyed by their ravages.

PATENTS secured in the United States, and in all other patent-granting countries. Specifications and drawings prepared. Caveats filed.—Reconsiderations procured, of applications that have been rejected upon imperfectly prepared papers. Interference prosecuted. Re-issues and extension procured, and in general, all business connected with the Patent Office transacted with care and promptness.
British and other foreign patents procured through prompt and confidential agents in London and Paris.
Persons residing at a distance may obtain all necessary information, and have their business transacted, by writing to the subscriber, without the trouble and expense of a visit to Washington.
He begs leave to refer those unacquainted with him to the following testimonials:—
From Hon. Chas. Mason, Commissioner of Patents.
U. S. PATENT OFFICE, Feb 23, 1855.
I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged as Solicitor, and has been in that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with the office; he has evinced a thorough acquaintance with the Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office, a close attention to the interests of his clients, and a marked candor and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him as one of the very best agents for the transaction of business with this office with whom I am acquainted.
CHARLES MASON, Commissioner.
From the Examiners of the Patent Office.
The undersigned, Principal and Assistant Examiners in the United States Patent Office, have for several years been well acquainted with Mr. Samuel Cooper, late a principal Examiner in this office, and take pleasure in stating that he is a gentleman of the highest moral character, of unquestioned knowledge in the business and practice of this office, and that his scientific attainments are such as eminently fit him for the business in which he is about to engage.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1858.

WHAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN.

The Dover Gazette has a long article, headed "Kansas—the English bill a finality"— which contains the following remarkable paragraph:

Mr. Buchanan might have been right on the law—Mr. Douglas might have been right on the true theory of popular sovereignty. The whole matter we believe might and should have been reconciled. Some are of opinion that Mr. Buchanan might have turned the whole matter over to Congress without recommendation or interference in any way; and when it was found that Congress could not agree on the admission of Kansas under the Lecompton Constitution, Mr. Douglas and his friends might have agreed to the conference measure known as the English bill, and that would have ended the whole matter at once, and preserved the harmony of the party, which is of infinite and incalculable moment, at the present juncture of affairs.

Well: — Messrs. Douglas, Atchison, Pierce and others might have let the old Missouri compromise alone, and thus have avoided a great trouble and fuss. And so all the other things might have happened—but they did not; and so here we are.

GIDDINGS REPUDIATED.—The black republican convention in old Giddings's district, in Ohio, on the 25th, nominated John Hutchins for Congress over Giddings. Hutchins was nominated on the third ballot. Giddings had but 37 votes out of 96. He has been in Congress 22 years, and his rejection is a good sign; it shows that even his own fanatical followers have become disgusted with his rampant Garrisonism.

The above delectable scrap has been sailing round in certain papers for several days. It is due to Mr. Giddings, however, to contradict a few of its falsehoods. Correction 1st,—Giddings never was a Garrisonite. 2, his fanatical followers have not become disgusted with him. 3, he has not been rejected. 4, he positively declined, months ago. But 5, some of the convention would run him even to a third ballot, when he received more than one-third of the votes. And lastly, they have nominated, and mean to elect, another of the same sort.

☞ Mr. Burke prophesies as follows of the Democratic party, in his Democratic Standard, which says:

We look upon the result of the pending election in Illinois, as the crisis in the political fate of Mr. Buchanan. * * * Now, if Mr. Douglas is successful in Illinois, and shall be re-elected to the U. S. Senate, it will be a substantial and fatal triumph over Mr. Buchanan. It will reduce his administration to a nullity, and render him, to say the least, powerless for the future. In that event, he can hardly expect more than to be carried out safely to the end of his administration by the Democratic party. Mr. Douglas will treat with him as a conquered enemy.

And if Mr. Douglas does not succeed, the results of this contest, we fear, will be unfavorable. The Democratic party will be divided in Illinois. The division will extend to other States. And if it be healed before the great battle of 1860, the Democratic party will be fortunate indeed.

We are one of those who believe that the administration should have stood, or fallen, upon the Lecompton Constitution. By accepting the English bill, it presented a false issue to the country. It made a discrimination between pro-slavery and anti-slavery constitutions, which the South has never made nor advocated.

☞ Tom Corwin, in a recent political speech in Ohio, referring to his nomination as a candidate for the House of Representatives, is reported to have said:

As to the performance of my duties, if I receive your suffrages, in those stormy times which it is anticipated may exist, I wish to say over what I have always said heretofore — that the dissolution of the bonds that unite this country, North and South, is not to be expected in this generation.

I have seen about three dissolutions of the Union. [Laughter.] When I was in the Senate, an honorable gentleman solemnly assured us that if a certain bill was not passed the Union would be dissolved on the next Thursday, at about 6 o'clock in the evening. [Renewed laughter.] Well, Thursday and 6 o'clock came and went, and the bill was not passed, and the Union was dissolved, I suppose, but it came together again the next minute, and was more firmly cemented than ever before.

DEPORTMENT IN A RAILROAD CAR.—A trial took place a month ago at Rouen, in France, that affords a good precedent for judicial action the world over. Two fellows, pretending to be gentlemen, were pleased to talk indecently in a railroad car, even after an angry remonstrance of a worthy farmer, who happened to be with his daughter in an opposite seat. He denounced them to the public prosecutor; they were tried by the Correctional Court; the sentence passed on each was imprisonment for two months and a fine of 200 francs.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 3. — The deaths from yellow fever yesterday were 85.

☞ John C. Bishop, said to be an able lawyer, committed land frauds in Chicago to the amount of $100,000, and successfully eluded capture since April last. A large reward was offered for his arrest, and he was taken on the 15th ult., while crossing an Iowa prairie on foot, leading a horse upon which was strapped a large bundle containing his papers. His beard and hair were very long, and he had probably been endeavoring to escape detection by wandering upon the frontier. And he is likely to wander again; for near Osage, while his captors stopped at a tavern, to light their segars of course, he sprang from the wagon and escaped.

☞ A correspondent of the New York Evening Post thus explains a story which has been widely circulated:

Your correspondent was not in error when he said that Rev. Matthew Hale Smith, whom Rev. Mr. Beecher publicly denounced for telling what was not true, some time since, had been invited to fill Mr. Beecher's pulpit. The facts are these. One of Mr. Beecher's deacons met Mr. Smith at Saratoga, and making his acquaintance asked him to preach. Smith accepted and the Board of Deacons was notified of the fact. They, remembering the scoring which Mr. Smith had received from their pastor, resolved that no such gratuitous insult should be put upon Mr. Beecher, and notified Mr. Smith that the pulpit would be filled by another.

☞ An Irishman was accidentally shot in Ashburnham last Sabbath; he had been on a gunning excursion, and on his way home was overtaken by two men in a carriage, who gave him an invitation to ride; he deposited his gun under the carriage seat, and on reaching home attempted to take it from the carriage with the muzzle toward him, when the lock came in contact with some obstruction which discharged the piece, and the whole contents of the discharge passed through his vitals, killing him instantly.

AN OLD VETERAN.—The Royal Morgan, well known as the Steele or Cream horse, is 37 years old. He is owned by John Gregory of Northfield, Vt., who has declared his intention, in the Stock Journal, to exhibit the old veteran in harness at the State Fair, to be held in Burlington next month. He eats no hay, but subsists chiefly on meal, oats, shorts, potatoes, &c., and appears in a thriving condition. His step is still quick and nervous, and he trots as square as ever. He will be quite a curiosity, as he is the oldest horse known to be living.

☞ A letter from Salt Lake says—"In my strolls about the city, I have been astonished at the number of deformed persons who are visible in the streets. I have never walked half a mile without meeting a hunchback or a cripple. I am informed by Mormons that the cause of the assemblage of such people in this Territory is the claim of the first presidency of the church to possession of the power of healing all diseases and curing all deformities by the laying on of hands."

☞ At a fire in Cincinnati, Policeman George Carr, a noble fellow, and brave officer, ventured up a ladder and into a room, at the risk of his life. Water was freely played on, and he soon appeared bearing Mrs. Ducan. As she was safely brought down, the feelings of the crowd burst into loud cheers and clapping of hands. George ventured in again and brought out a child, which was passing down. A third time he entered and brought out the remaining child. Each time he appeared with his precious human freight, the large crowd gave him hearty cheers. Mrs. Ducan and children were taken into the building on the corner of Hammond and Fourth streets, where their wants were cared for. George Carr was taken to Scanlan's drug store in a dreadful condition. He had inhaled great quantities of smoke, and was in intense pain.—His loud breathings, as he endeavored to get the smoke from his lungs, could be heard through the closed doors out in the middle of the street. The next morning he could not speak, and his condition was very critical.

☞ A great sensation has been created in Sardinia, by the assassination in Switzerland of one Cassimir Parodi, a man who was implicated in the insurrection last summer at Genoa, but who subsequently turned King's evidence.

He is believed to have been killed by an agent of the Mazzini faction, who had tracked him to his retreat at Lo Carno.—Parodi was about to emigrate to America.

Mazzini has issued another characteristic proclamation to his followers.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Charles Ripley was instantly killed Thursday evening at the South Boston Rolling Mill, by falling into a pit filled with scalding water.

THE OCEAN.—The following beautiful allusion to the great deep occurs in a sermon delivered by the Rev. Thomas B. Thayer, in the Warren Street Universalist Church, Boston, last Sunday morning:

Science, Art, Philosophy, Religion, are all enlarging their borders, taking breadth to themselves, and speaking a nobler and richer dialect. The heavens and the earth are all aglow with the revelations of Infinite Goodness. The depths of the sea, even, are throbbing with messages of peace and good will to man; while daily the brotherhood of the nations is becoming more actual.

And as in the sea, far down below the sweep of the tempest, and the shifting currents and waves that agitate the surface, there is an infinite and unbroken calm, along which lies the electric cable that binds the continents in one—so below the conflicting interests and strifes of our nationalities and creeds, in the great deep of our common nature, lies the golden cord of Love which binds all human hearts in one, as children of the same God and Father, of whom, through whom, and to whom are all things—to whom be the glory for ever!

SAVED FROM DEATH.—Mr. Smith, the careful and efficient depot master at the Milk Row station of the Lowell Railroad in Somerville, on Tuesday evening discovered an intoxicated man and woman on the track, and succeeded in forcibly removing them just as the cars passed, or they probably would have been killed. They expressed their gratitude by making an assault upon Mr. Smith. The parties were James Douglas of West Medford, and his wife Catherine, and they were subsequently fined for drunkenness.

DIARRHŒA.—As this is the season when the diarrhœa prevails to the greatest extent, we publish the following from Hall's Journal of Health, which we believe, is considered good authority among medical men:

"Diarrhœa is a common disease in summer time. Cholera is nothing more than exaggerated diarrhœa. When a man dies of diarrhœa, he has died of cholera, in reality. It may be well for travellers to know that the first, the most important, and the most indispensable item in the arrest and cure of looseness of the bowels, is absolute quietude, on a bed. Nature herself always prompts this, by indisposing us to locomotion. The next thing is, to eat nothing but common rice parched like coffee, and then boiled, and taken with a little salt and butter. Drink little or no liquid of any kind. Bits of ice may be eaten and swallowed at will. Every step in diarrhœa, every spoonful of liquid, only aggravates the disease. If locomotion is compulsory, the misfortune of the necessity may be lessened by having a stout piece of woolen flannel bound around the abdomen, so as to be doubled in front, and kept well in its place. In the practice of many years, we have never failed to notice a gratifying result to follow these observances."

THE MAN WITH THE SHAWL NEED NOT APPLY.—We find in the Gospel Banner, published in Maine, the following quaint advertisement:

I am desirous of securing the services of two male teachers to teach school the coming winter. I take this method, therefore, of making known the fact. If this notice meet the eye of any man (I mean physical as well as mental) who is willing to teach as well as keep school, I should be happy to see him.

N. B. No person who wears a shawl, spectacles, or walks with a cane, need apply, as sufficient instruction from that class has already been had.

H. B. MAYNARD, Agent.
Kendall's Mills, July 10, 1858.

TEMPERANCE AT FAIRHAVEN.—We are informed by Sheriff Pease that the work of reform has recently taken a fresh start in our neighbor town. He says every place where liquors were sold have been closed—and that it is believed that not a drop can now be obtained, not even beer. The citizens were urged to take this step on account of the indiscriminating sale of "hop beer" by several parties to small boys, who were often found in a condition bordering on intoxication.—New Bedford Mercury.

LIQUOR SEIZED.—The authorities of Malden, Mass., seized about forty gallons of liquor, Wednesday, which was being distributed by a man in the employ of a firm in Boston. It was in bottles and demijohns. The authorities have had their eyes opened to the fact for several weeks, that agents were distributing liquors at Irish dwellings, and that day Constable Butler was fortunate enough to secure the violator of the law.

☞ The fourteen locomotives which blew their whistles at Syracuse, in honor of the cable, so astonished a horse, three or four miles off, that he fell on his knees and there remained till the whistle stopped, notwithstanding every effort to get him up.

☞ Butter is now beginning to arrive in large quantities in New York. About 2000 packages came in one day last week, of which 1600 came by the Erie Railroad.

☞ According to a computation recently made, there are about 6000 Israelites in Cincinnati. They are principally engaged in trade.

CLEANLINESS--HEALTH.

"Cleanliness," we are told, "is next to holiness." It is a virtue to which all should aspire, and can most certainly be easily obtained. All who would possess that happy virtue should use the "Persian Balm" for Bathing and the Toilet. No gentleman should shave without this, as it prevents all chapping or irritation of the face, while for the mysteries of the ladies' toilet nothing can be more delightful. It is not saying too much to call this beautiful preparation "The Great Home Luxury."

DETECTION OF COUNTERFEIT
—AND—
Altered Bank Bills.
THE undersigned begs leave to inform the citizens of this place, that he proposes to instruct all who may favor him with their patronage, in a sure and scientific method of detecting
Counterfeit and Altered Bills upon any Bank in the United States.
This he proposes to do in a manner and according to tests perfectly satisfactory to the learner, or no charge will be made. Having learned, thoroughly, the method taught by G. H. Knapp, he feels confident you would be pleased with this important information. Lessons given in about one hour's time complete.
You are respectfully invited to give us a trial, and when through with the investigation, if you are not convinced you are posted, we do not wish you to feel under any obligations to us.
Persons receiving this information are not permitted to impart to others. You can suit your convenience, either by calling upon me at my ROOM, NO. 21 CITY HOTEL, or elsewhere. Yours Respectfully,

THIS house was established in 1823, by JONAS CHICKERING, and up to the present time has furnished 20,000 Pianos. For the exhibition of these pianos in the United States they have been awarded—
11 GOLD MEDALS,
17 SILVER MEDALS,
3 BRONZE MEDALS.
Having received the agency for the sale of these instruments, for Portsmouth and vicinity, an assortment may be found at all times, which will be sold at the same prices as can be purchased at their Ware Rooms.
All of Chickering's Piano Fortes, whether purchased at this Agency or at their Ware Rooms, will be delivered at the residence of the purchaser, and be tuned one year, as often as required, without additional expense.

ST. VITUS'S DANCE.

This distressing and mortifying nervous affection is left generally either to take its natural course, or is treated on general principles with very little success. The nervous symptoms are not the disease itself, and proceed from functional or organic derangement in the nervous centres. No medicine has been found equal to the PERUVIAN SYRUP, in checking the involuntary nervous tremblings known as St. Vitus's Dance.

☞ Reader, do you want THE picture of the day? If so, have one of Gregory's Photographs in Oil Colors, which he is selling at about half the Boston and New York prices.

☞ The only place in this city where an Ambrotype can be obtained, is at Davis' Ambrotype Gallery, No. 8 Daniel Street, as they have the Patent, and all infringements will be prosecuted. sept9

LADIES OF PORTSMOUTH.
IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.
Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer.
The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.
THE DESTROYER is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the ne plus ultra of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimples also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.
There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.
The Parisian ladies have used it for years; consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.
THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.
THIS GIN, Distilled in London, rom sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it the most pure and most esteemed men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.
It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectable.
Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.
Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "just only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever tested."
It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to the changes of water and air.
For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty-eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country storekeepers throughout the Newness of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.
May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. K. Pecker, 20 Elm st.; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st.; M. Davis & Co., 57 Blackstone st.; R. A CARD TO THE LADIES.
DR. DUPONCO'S
French Periodical Golden Pills,
FOR FEMALES;
Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity o the Menses.
THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them, to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.
Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H THACHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.
N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

THE FREE NEGRO WHO DIED TO ESCAPE SLAVERY.—From the Illinoisian we get the particulars in the following statement:

"On Sunday, the 15th inst., a likely negro boy, some eighteen or twenty years of age, was arrested as a fugitive slave a few miles back of Shawnestown, by two or three Kentuckians, and brought into town. The boy stated that he was free, and that he was born and raised in Vigo county, Indiana. He named several gentlemen, citizens of Terre Haute, with whom many of our citizens were well acquainted. He also showed by his statements that he was well acquainted in the town of Greencastle, and the cities of Indianapolis and New Albany, Indiana.—He stated that he was a barber by trade, had been running on the river, and left the steamer J. W. McClay at a coal yard a short distance below town on the same day that he was arrested, in consequence of a difficulty that he had with the porter of the boat, a colored man.

From the apparent truth of his statements there seemed to no doubt upon the minds of the large mass of citizens of Shawnestown that the boy was free, and his captors were admonished to loosen his shackles and let him go. As they had no legal process to hold the boy, they were also advised that before they could proceed further they must take him before a magistrate, or the Commissioner under the Fugitive Slave law at this place, and investigate the fact of his being a fugitive.

The people of Shawnestown, however, had not the spirit to back their advice by anything but talk, to which, of course, the nigger-catchers turned a deaf ear, and with the assistance of a few others, forced him across the river into the State of Kentucky, in the face of the assembled crowd.

On the next day the parties returned and reported that the boy had escaped from them, and they pursued him into the river and lost sight of him. The unfortunate negro was found dead the next day, and is now, at the writing of this, lying on the Kentucky beach opposite this town, where he was drifted by the waves. As he is out of the jurisdiction of this State, no means have yet been taken to ascertain the mode of his death."

MARRIED,

CRINOLINE IN RHYME.—A lady with a crinoline was walking down a street—her feathers fluttered in the air, her hoops stuck out some feet. She walked the earth as if she felt of it she was no part, and proudly did she step along, for pride was in her heart. She did not see a curly dog which walked close by her side, all save the curly tail of which her crinoline did hide. His tail the dog with pleasure shook—it fluttered in the wind, and from the lady's crinoline stuck out a foot behind. A crowd the tail did soon espy, as it waved to and fro, and like a rudder seemed to point the way the maid must go. The curly dog, right pleased was he, with th' quarters he had got, & walked beside the lady in a kind of doggish trot. Each step the lady now did take served to increase the train, while those who followed in her wake roared out with might and main.—Some held their sides, they laughed so hard, and others fairly cried, while many even still confess that they had "like to died." But still the lady sailed along in crinoline and pride, unmindful of the crowd behind or dog close by her side. But soon another dog espied the tail which fluttered free, it so provoked his doggish ire he could not let it be. But with a deep ferocious growl, for battle straight he went, and 'neath the lady's crinoline both dogs were quickly pent. They fought 'tis said one hour or more—the lady nothing knew—but with her head erect sailed on, and did her way pursue. Some say she never would have known at all about the fight, had not one dog mistook and gave her "limb" an awful bite. But since that day I've heard it said, that lady ne'er was seen upon the street with so much pride and such a crinoline.

EXPOSURE OF THE DISUNIONISTS.—The Washington correspondent of the Herald states that Hon. Wm. L. Yancey of Ala. has written for publication a letter, in which he charges Mr. Pryor, editor of the Richmond South, with having betrayed the Southern disunion party, and violated several conditions with regard to the proposed disunion. It appears a Disunion League was formed, of which Mr. Pryor was a member. The understanding was that the League should appoint a commission to negotiate certain arrangements with England in the way of a protectorate, free trade, etc., and after the perfecting of these arrangements, disunion was immediately to follow. The part assigned in the programme to Mr. Pryor, was to make at first a hypocritical show of preference for the North, and, after a little dodging, to carry Virginia in favor of the disunion project.

SERVED HIM RIGHT.—Simonds of St. Louis who made and sold a Counterfeit of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, has been placed within the narrow limits that should catch all scoundrels. Imprisonment though it be for years, can scarcely punish enough the heartless villain, who could execute such an imposition upon the sick. The wicked rascal who for paltry gain could thus trifle with the health and life of his fellow man—take from his lips the cup of hope while sinking, and substitute an utter delusion and cheat, would falter at no crime, and should be spared no punishment. Some of his trash is still extant in the West, and purchasers should be wary of whom they buy.—Utica (N. Y.) Gaz.

COMPLIMENTARY REPORT.—"I knew Mr. Lincoln in early life; he commenced his life as a grocer."—Senator Douglas.

"The only difference between Judge Douglas and myself on the grocery question is, that while I have stood on one side of the counter, he has been equally attentive to the other."—Lincoln.

Ayer's Pills

Are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive apparatus, and disorders arising from impurity of the blood. A large part of the population of this and adjacent latitudes is, one or three times annually, more or less prostrated by the influence of the Autumnal Fever and Ague, or Liver Complaint, in its mildest form, or in some one of its many modifications. Now, these Pills are found to cure many varieties of these complaints.

Sufferers see the testimonials from some eminent physicians of their cities in their papers.

AGUE FAMILY PHYSIC.

From Dr. E. E. Cornwallis, of New Orleans.

"YOUR PILLS are the center of patronage. Their excellent qualities are universally recognized by the medical profession, and confirmed by experience in the families, at every recess and crevice of this extensive country on the globe, which makes them indispensable to us in the daily treatment of disease."

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

From Dr. President Bell, of New York City.

"Not only are your Pills admirably adapted to their purpose as a cathartic, but I find their medicinal effects upon the Liver very material indeed. Some of my patients have taken them for a long time, and have derived great benefit from them, when other remedies had failed for the cause of their complaint, and when no one suspected the real source of their sufferings. I sincerely believe them to be a most valuable compound which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the public."

DYSPEPSIA—INDIGESTION.

From Dr. Harris J. Rose, of St. Louis.

"The Pills you sent me I have found to be all we have been all used to say in their praise, and have added to my reputation for skill in my profession. I do not think they are truly and wonderfully beneficial in the hands of any thing adapted to the cure of the human system, that they seem to work with a certainty which I have rarely seen in any other medicine. I have cured some cases of dyspepsia with them, which had resisted the skill of my brethren, and which I had long given up as incurable. Indeed I have experimentally found them to be effective in almost all the complaints for which they are recommended."

DYSENTERY — DIARRHŒA — RELAX.

From Dr. J. G. Cross, of Chicago.

"YOUR PILLS have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in high esteem as one of the best aperients I introduce formed. They have proved to me, in the hands of my patients, an excellent remedy when given in small doses, for bilious dysentery and diarrhœa. Their corrective action makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION.

From Rev. E. Bauer, also practice as a Physician and Editor's in Alabama.

"I find one or two large doses of your PILLS, taken at the proper time, are excellent promoters of the natural action, when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very effectual in clearing the stomach and bowels of worms, for which purpose I have found them invaluable to my patients."

CONSTIPATION — COSTIVENESS.

From Dr. A. P. Fabian, of Louisville, Ky.

"I do not hesitate to say that I find your Pills to be the best cathartic I ever used for the cure of costiveness. I have long suffered from costiveness, and have tried them in succession all the cathartic pills in use, and find none so agreeable in their effect as your Pills. I have also given them to my patients, and all who have used them have been delighted with them, and have expressed themselves in the strongest terms in regard to the great superiority of your Pills over all others they have used. I believe them to be the best, and very important for the use of women and children."

INFLUENCE OF THE BLOOD — SCROFULA — EXTERNALS — SALT RHEUM — TUMORS — TUMORS — RHEUMATISM — GOUT — NEURALGIA.

From Dr. Bethel Bell, Philadelphia.

"You will recollect, Doctor, in saying that your Pills purify the blood, I mean that they purify it from those diseases of which I have spoken, and from those of which I have not spoken, but which are well known to be the result of impurities in the blood, such as those of the skin, and others usually and very well treated by purgatives."

FOR HEADACHE—SICK HEADACHE—FOUL STOMACH—FULNESS—DIZZINESS—DYSPEPSIA—PARALYSIS—GOUT—ETC.

From Dr. Bernard Brooks, Indian school superintendent, Choctaw Nation, Arkansas.

"I think Dr. Ayer's pills are the best cathartic I have used in my practice, and I have used almost all that are used by the profession. I have given them to my patients, and they have all spoken of them in the highest terms of commendation. I have also used them in my own family, and they have proved to be the best family cathartic we have used. I have also given them to my children, and they have all spoken of them highly."

For Sale of the Pills in Portsmouth by Druggists, which, although a remedy strictly in accordance with the Homœopathic law, is yet so much better than the ordinary Homœopathic medicines, that it deserves a place in every family. Dose, one pill to an adult, or two to a child, for the ordinary cases of derangement of the stomach and bowels.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has long been manufactured by a practical chemist, and every purchaser of it, under its own name, will, from long experience, find it to be a safe and reliable medicine, and conveniently can be given to an infant, without inconvenience. It supplies the most speedy relief for all the lung diseases, and, if taken early, will, in the majority of cases, cure them. Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, Diarrhœa, Croup, Consumption, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease. As a mild laxative, it is best adapted to children, this medicine has grown to be the best cough medicine of the age, from the high skill of the American physician who prepares it, and the extensive use of it by the public of Europe and America. Throughout this entire country, it is every where known, that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is known as the best remedy for all diseases of the throat and lungs. In many towns it is so generally used by their physicians, that it is their prescribed remedy in every case of what name or nature soever, it has done for them; if we can trust our own eyes, or the testimony of our friends, we know it to be the best medicine we can give our children for the cure of all the diseases for which it is known to cure. If there is any reliance upon any thing, then is it certainly known that that medicine does cure the class of diseases for which it is recommended, beyond any and all other medicines now known to mankind. Nothing but its intrinsic virtues, and the most unmistakable benefits conferred on thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. While other medicines have come forward upon the community, rise, flourish, and then decended, this has gained friends by every trial, confirmed benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too notorious and too well known to be forgotten.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE RICHEST DIADEM

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What! Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself prepared for all our race. Reader, although the cheek may be bright with the blushing glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be spayed and shrivelled, dried and dry, or worse still, if sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore the harmonious beauty nature to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg.

NEW YORK, April 19, 1858.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color, about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your "Hair Restorative," it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

S. THALBERG.

"Drech a'r Gwylledydd."

Welsh Newspaper Off., 13 Norsu st., Apr. 12, '58.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: Some three or four months or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who concluded to try it on her bald little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning it to a dark brown, and at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair

CERRIG CARDEW.

NEW YORK, July 28, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most efficacious article I ever used. I found your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that I shall restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant itching, so common among persons who perspire freely.

CHARLES CARDEW.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 1, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning grey. I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Restoratives in vain. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications restored my hair firmly. It began to fill up over one and turned back to its original color, (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent. more in proportion than the small, and retails for 75 cents; the large quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $2.

The Liver Invigorator!

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD,

Compounded Entirely from GUMS.

IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE AND LIVER MEDICINES now before the public.

The Liver is the great source of all morbid or bad matter from the system, supplying the place of a DESICCATIVE OR ALTERATIVE. Invigorating the stomach, and giving food to digest, which is the great source of all good blood, giving tone and health to the whole machinery, removing the disease—effecting a radical cure.

Bilious Attacks are cured, and, what is better, prevented by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach, and prevent the food from rising, and burning.

Only one dose taken before retiring, prevents nightmare.

Only one dose taken at night, loosens the bowels gently, and cures costiveness.

One dose taken before meals cures Dyspepsia.

One dose of two teaspoonfuls will relieve Sick Headache.

Only one dose immediately relieves Colic.

One dose often repeated is a sure cure for Cholera Morbus, and a preventive of Cholera.

Only one bottle is needed to throw out of the system Mercurial medicine after a long sickness.

One bottle taken for Jaundice removes all yellowness or unnatural color from the skin.

One dose taken a short time before eating gives vigor to the system and makes the food digest well.

One dose, often repeated, Checks Chronic Diarrhœa in its worst form, while Summer and Bowel Complaints yield almost to the first dose.

A few bottles will cure Dropsy by exciting the kidneys to action.

We take pleasure in recommending this invaluable family medicine for Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a bilious type. It operates with certainty, and thousands are willing to testify to its wonderful virtues.

All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.

Mix water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow from one to two teaspoonfuls.

PRICE, ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious treads of certain disastrous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and commit a physician, he would say that any one of his patients who may be at a distance, or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directions as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most invigorable recovery preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empirics, have been cured, and in many cases than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. DIX, Post Office, Boston, from all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is sure, safe and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely unknown here, and are put up in a manner quite different from the genuine. Ladies who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, should better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

E. P. RUSSELL'S
Patent Mastic Roofing.
Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE Inventor of this Roofing labored many year sto combine articles which would answer the above purpose, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully sensible of its practical value both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN!

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every deso iption, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or 1 n, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

PORTSMOUTH,
AGENT for Portsmouth, New Castle, Rye Greenland and Newington.

ECONOMY. ECONOMY.

THE subscriber has been appointed Exclusive Agent for this city in furnishing and putting on
BRADSTREET'S
Patent Japan Weather Strip.

This Strip for outside doors is the most useful, and the very best improvement ever offered now in use, and the latest, (like the Atlantic Cable,) to keep out Snow, Rain, Wind and Cold from your houses.

This Strip is applied to the bottom of the door by screws, with an ELLIPTICAL SPRING—(which cannot get out of order,) that causes the leaf to rise and fall, on opening or shutting the door.

THIS PATENT STRIP is the most simple and durable of anything of the kind ever invented.—It may be regarded as the "ne plus ultra" in this line, obviating all difficulties in management—It will save the cost of the article in one winter, in keeping the house warm and dry.

The Prices for putting on Doors: Japan Finish, $1 50 each. Brass Finish, $2 50 each.

Every one put on by the subscriber will be warranted, and if not successful, no pay required.

Those who wish for the same may leave orders at the store of JOSEPH H. CLARK, corner of Market Square and Daniel street, where a sample may be seen, or at the residence of the subscriber, No. 15 Dennett street, North Portsmouth,—which will be promptly attended to.

PATENTS secured in the United States, and in all other patent-granting countries. Specifications and drawings prepared. Caveats filed.—Reconsiderations procured, of applications that have been rejected upon imperfectly prepared papers. Interferences prosecuted. Re-issues and extension procured, and in general, all business connected with the Patent Office transacted with care and promptness.

British and other foreign patents procured through prompt and confidential agents in London and Paris.

Persons residing at a distance may obtain all necessary information, and have their business transacted, by writing to the subscriber, without the trouble and expense of a visit to Washington.

He begs leave to refer those unacquainted with him to the following testimonials:—

From Hon. Chas. Mason, Commissioner of Patents.
U. S. PATENT OFFICE, Feb 23, 1855.

I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged as Solicitor, and has been in that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with the office; he has evinced a thorough acquaintance with the Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office, a close attention to the interests of his clients, and a marked candor and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him as one of the very best agents for the transaction of business with this office with whom I am acquainted.
CHARLES MASON, Commissioner.

From the Examiners of the Patent Office.

The undersigned, Principal and Assistant Examiners in the United States Patent Office, have for several years been well acquainted with Mr. Samuel Cooper, late a principal Examiner in this office, and take pleasure in stating that he is a gentleman of the highest moral character, of unquestioned knowledge in the business and practice of the office, and that his scientific attainments are such as eminently fit him for the business in which he is about to engage.

HENRY B. REDWICK, L. D. GALE,	Principal Examiners.
S. H. LANE, T. E. PARLS
THOS. T. EVERETT, F. SOUTHGATE SMITH, WM. C. LAYSON.	Assistant Examiners.

From long acquaintance and intimate official relations with Mr. Cooper, I fully and heartily concur in the foregoing recommendation made by my late colleagues. W. P. N. FITZGERALD,
Late Principal Examiner of Patents.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1858.

ILLINOIS.

A letter from Illinois to the Boston Journal says:

The impression is general in the northwest among the office-holders that, if Mr. Buchanan is not renominated, Mr. Breckinridge will be. They also believe that Judge Douglas will be nominated himself; and that, if not nominated, he and his friends will set up for themselves, and take with them the entire Catholic vote and its dependencies.

There can be no reconciliation in Illinois. Douglas cares only for himself. He will yield the track to no one. The nationals required the unconditional withdrawal of Judge Douglas.

The "several gentlemen" who went to Washington and told a great story about Douglas's three shirts a day and his great prospects, were a self-constituted committee of Douglas men, who went to Washington to negotiate peace between the Douglasites and the National Democrats. Of course, these men would speak highly of the prospects of Judge Douglas.

But perhaps your readers would like to know what luck this Illinois committee had, who went to Washington to tell President Buchanan how often Judge Douglas [illegible] clothes in the cause of "Border Ruffianism," and "Irish Catholicity." He told the committee that the Democrats were contending for "principles, not men," and that if the names of Breese and Douglas were dividing the party, they should both withdraw, and a new man be taken.

This writer expresses the hope that the united Fillmore and Fremont men, will carry every Congressman in the State, but one.

He closes thus:—

Whatever you may hear to the contrary, set it down as a fixed fact that Illinois will show greater gains for the cause of Protestant Republicanism than any other State in the Union. I do not like the name of American Republicanism because it seemingly proscribes those gallant Germans, Norwegians, Scotchmen, Englishmen, &c. &c., who ask no office for themselves, but are battling manfully for the arrest of slavery and Irish Catholicism. We are battling for free labor and free religion against an oligarchy of slave-drivers and Catholic Priests. The man who opposes this oligarchy, come from what country he will, is our brother; hence, if we must have a prefix, I prefer the word Protestant to American, believing that an anti-slavery Protestant born on foreign soil, is a better man than a pro-slavery Catholic born in the United States.

THE HORRORS OF THE SLAVE TRADE.—The Key West Key of the Gulf in its account of the capture of the slave brig Putnam, by the U. S. ship Dolphin, relates the following:

"The prize had on board, when taken, about three hundred and thirty Africans, mostly young—none of whom were over thirty-five years of age; and there were evidently several births on the voyage. More than seven-eighths of the slaves, male and female, were in a nude state. They were confined to the deck in a sitting posture—'spoon fashion'—and as we learn from Dr. J. M. Browne of the Dolphin, presented a most disgusting, sickening and revolting appearance. Many had the leprosy, others with their eyes protruding from the sockets, others with horrible sores and almost all conceivable ailments consequent to their position in confinement and treatment on board. Originally there were four hundred and seventy taken on board, of which number one hundred and forty had died.

"Among the incidents of the capture, we learn that the night before that event, the vessel being within about eighty miles of the port of destination, a grand champagne 'blow out' was had on board, in anticipation of soon successfully completing the voyage and fingering the proceeds—of which we are informed that each of the crew was to receive nine hundred dollars, and the owners expected to clear one hundred and thirty thousand dollars—but before they had time to sleep off the effects of their potation, the Dolphin hove in sight at daylight, much to their surprise and chagrin. Also during the chase, when it was thought by the slavers that their vessel was distancing the Dolphin, they again indulged in champagne, drinking confusion to the pursuers, leaning over the rail and bowing and tossing off a bumper in the most improved and 'dont-you-wish-you-could-catch-us' style. But when the last shot was fired, going between her masts, their sell assurance and hope of escape turned to fear and excitement; and after the capture they expressed great astonishment at the accuracy of the shot, and asked 'what kind of a gun sent a ball that distance?'"

TO BE CARRIED BACK TO AFRICA.—New York, Sept. 5.—The Herald's Washington correspondent says the frigate Niagara has been ordered to proceed immediately to Charleston and carry back the Africans taken in the slaver Echo. Commodore Chauncey goes out as a commander of the Niagara.

THE U. S. BRIG DOLPHIN AT NEW YORK. New York, Sept. 6.—The U. S. brig Dolphin, from Key West for Boston, put in here to-day to send Capt. Townsend, of the slave brig Echo, to Charleston, S. C. She sails again this afternoon for Boston.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.

On Wednesday last, came off the [Celebration of the Laying of the Atlantic Telegraph Cable, which drew together a vast number of people—more, it is said, than were ever collected together at any one time before in the city of New York. So many strangers were present that it was impossible to obtain rooms or lodgings at the hotels, and visitors were obliged to sleep in chairs, or in any place into which they could manage to creep.

Vast banners and transparencies expressive of union between the United States and England, and laudatory of Cyrus W. Field and others engaged in the enterprise, were affixed to the outer walls of the stores and suspended across the streets and public places in great profusion. English and American flags were unfurled to the breeze together.

So great was the crowd that Broadway was filled along the route of the procession, both sidewalks and the middle of the street, at an early hour in the day, by the great crowd of spectators. They could only be cleared away, to make room for the procession, by squads of policemen rushing forward at a furious pace, and by the horses of the marshals and military officers. It was noticeable by strangers that the greatest good humor prevailed among the populace, notwithstanding that they were pressed by the police. There is apt to be in our New England cities and towns much resistance to the necessary regulations of the police, and the crowd is scarcely ever kept back on days of public celebrations, without great complaints on the part of the by-standers.

The famous 7th Regiment was received by the people with tremendous cheers, and the foreign companies were easily recognisable by the exclamations of the foreign citizens. Cyrus W. Field made himself conspicuous by riding with uncovered head and bowing to the right and to the left.—Some mistook him for the Mayor, and some for the Governor.

New Yorkers must always have some hobby. On this evening of the celebration, and the succeeding evening, came off gratuitous exhibitions of fireworks, at the park, by two rival pyrotechnists. And succeeding the day's celebration, there was a grand torchlight procession of the Firemen. Among the transparencies suspended on the stores, to show their character, I would observe that one gave a representation of President Buchanan dancing a jig with Queen Victoria. Upon the whole, for various reasons, I cannot think that the New York celebrations are so pleasing as those of the cities and towns of New England.

Large numbers of Southerners are now in the city, being frightened from home by that scourge of the Southern seaboard cities, the yellow fever.

Considerable feeling is manifested here in consequence of the destruction by the mob of the Quarantine buildings at Staten Island. The sick were taken from their beds and laid upon the ground in the open air, and of course the speedy death of many of the patients was thus caused. Great indignation is expressed in certain quarters against the rioters, and the belief obtains with some that the pestilence will reach the city. ROAMER.

THE SHOE BUSINESS IN HAVERHILL.—The Haverhill Gazette says;

"In this place one of four alternatives must be brought about. Either the price of stock must be reduced, the price of shoes increased, the price of labor reduced, or the manufactures cease their operation.—We regret that such is the state of the case, but we are informed by those posted up in the business that it is true. Manufactures have sold a fair quantity of shoes, but have realized but small profits, and will hardly feel encouraged to press on very fast. The prospects for business for the ensuing winter are far from flattering.

INCENDIARIES COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.—At Rochester N. H., 26 ult, Joseph Leathers and John Willey were arraigned before Justice Whitehouse, charged with setting fire to the Spinney Mills, which were burnt in Barrington the week previous. They were bound over to the October term of the Court, and in default of bail were committed. Willey owns to being hired for twenty-five cents to go with Leathers while he set the fire.

THE INDIAN VERSION OF COL. STEPTOE'S FIGHT.—Utah letters mention the reception of news that the Oregon Indians had had a fight with Col. Steptoe, in which three officers and thirty soldiers were slain, and the remainder routed, if not actually killed in their flight. These accounts state that a treacherous Indian led Col. Steptoe and his command seventy-five miles out of the way, into the camp of about one thousand Indians.

☞ The Jewish New Year begins on Thursday, Sept. 9.

☞ The way of the Transgressor is hard, says the good Book,—and so it is.

In Boston, a day or two since, John Foley was arraigned on a complaint for murder, as the accomplice of Murtis Quinn in causing the death of Patrick Hannegan in a cell of the 1st police station. Foley was fully committed to await the action of the Grand Jury.

All three were drunk; hence the murder.

In Roxbury, Mass., Wm. H. Brownell, a dealer in dry goods, has been committed on the charge of arson, for setting fire to his own store under the Norfolk House.—We do not believe him guilty of a felony, but the evidence shows him as being half drunk, just crazy enough not to know what he was about.

P. Drew, proprietor of the Norfolk House testifies,—

Mr. Brownell has boarded with me about four months; when he came out from supper that night, should think he was a little elated with wine; he has always to my knowledge held a good reputation; there was nothing in his appearance that led me to suppose that he had attempted to fire my property.

Richard Miller, a fellow boarder, testifies,—I think his excitement was partly owing to drink.

Dr. Edward Jacobs.—Boards at the Norfolk House, says,—Think he was smoking a cigar when he first went out; when I first saw him that night he appeared very much intoxicated.

Benjamin Thompson—Am a commission merchant reside in Roxbury, Mass.: met him on Monday evening as Mr. Brownell and others were going with me to Marshfield; upon his invitation I took supper with him; after supper I left him and I knew nothing of the fire until the next morning; we played a match game of billiards; the game was very exciting, and considerable wine, &c., was drank; I have always considered Mr. Brownell an estimable man.

David Y. Dudley is now on trial in Maine, for the murder of Eliphalet Berry, at Brunswick. Both were in liquor.

Dunham Whitney testified as follows:—

Wilson stopped and pulled his coat off, and witness tride to pursuade him not to go where Berry and Dudley were. So dark could not see, but heard Dudley say, (with an awful oath,) you can't take this jug away." * * * Witness asked Dudley where Berry was, and he replied—(another oath)—I have taken the jug away from him and knocked him down." The three—witness, Wilson and Dudley—went around the shed and found Berry lying on his face, on the ground.—Witness said he was drunk and proposed to carry him home. Witness had been to Bath that day to get a chance to go to sea. When in Bath went to shipping office and into a stable; had no dinner. Capt. Isaac Adams came to Bath with him; came in the forenoon, and returned before sunset. Went into the Tontine, and took something to drink. Went to the saloon because Berry wanted him to do so. Did nothing while there except to stand around. Dudley had a jug in his hand when he came out of the Brunswick House. The company drank from the jug at the Big 5,—standing outside the shop. Saw Dudley drink at Big 6, but did not think he was intoxicated.

Other witnesses show that Berry had stolen Dudley's rum, and D. threatened Berry's life. The whole company were a mess of drinking rowdies, such as can be found in most cities and villages.

SECRETARY OF THE NAVY.—The following occurs in the New York Tribune's account of Secretary Toucey's visit to the Brooklyn Navy yard:—

"Mr. Toucey was very much interested in the oakum factory. Seeing a large number of bales around, he inquired what they did with so much of it. He was told that they made oakum there for all the Navy Yards in the United States. Mr. Toucey then desired to see the rope manufactory, when he was informed that the rope and cable for the Navy were manufactured in Boston. The Secretary of the Navy thought it would be more economical to make the rope where the oakum was made. A perceptible smile stole over the faces of some of the bystanders at this remark; but the Naval Constructor tried to let the Secretary down easy by saying that they cut the oakum too short for ropes. The Secretary, however, did not take the hint, but went on to enquire what they used oakum for. After some little explanation he learned that the principal use of oakum was to caulk the seams of ships, and that rope instead of being made from oakum, was, when old and otherwise useless, cut and made into oakum."

RAILROAD FOR SALE.—The "White Mountain Railroad," by a decree of the Supreme Court, will be sold for the benefit of the bondholders, at Bath, N. H., on November 3d, to the highest bidder. The depots and fixtures of every kind are included in the sale. The road extends from Wells River to Littleton—twenty miles.

SALISBURY BEACH.—The travel to Salisbury Beach was never greater than at the present time. Last Thursday upwards of four hundred carriages were counted on the beach, and good judges estimated that nearly a thousand persons were on the sea shore. There were one hundred carriages from Haverhill and East Haverhill.—Villager.

DETECTION OF COUNTERFEIT
—AND—
Altered Bank Bills.

THE undersigned begs leave to inform the citizens of this place, that he proposes to instruct all who may favor him with their patronage, in a sure and scientific method of detecting

Counterfeit and Altered Bills upon any Bank in the United States.

This he proposes to do in a manner, and according to tests perfectly satisfactory to the learner, or no charge will be made. Having learned, thoroughly, the method taught by G. H. Knapp, he feels confident you would be pleased with this important information. Lessons given in about one hour's time complete.

You are respectfully invited to give us a trial, and when through with the investigation, if you are not convinced you are posted, we do not wish you to feel under any obligations to us.

Persons receiving this information are not permitted to impart to others. You can suit your convenience, either by calling upon me at my

ST. VITUS'S DANCE.

This distressing and mortifying nervous affection is left generally either to take its natural course, or is treated on general principles with very little success. The nervous symptoms are not the disease itself, and proceed from functional or organic derangement in the nervous centres. No medicine has been found equal to the PERUVIAN SYRUP, in checking the involuntary nervous tremblings known as St. Vitus's Dance.

☞ Reader, do you want THE picture of the day? If so, have one of Gregory's Photographs in Oil Colors, which he is selling at about half the Boston and New York prices.

☞ The only place in this city where an Ambrotype can be obtained, is at Davis' Ambrotype Gallery, No. 8 Daniel Street, as they have the Patent, and all infringements will be prosecuted. sept9

LADIES OF PORTSMOUTH.
IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.

Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer.

The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

THE Dancoria is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the no plus ultra of cosmetics; it penetrates the pimples, also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Parisian ladies have used it for years: consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, rom sound Barley, under the supervisions of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable properties of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, NEPHRITIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES OF THE URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DERILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st.; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. E. Pecker, 20 Elm st.; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st.; R. Davis & Co., 57 Blackstone st.; R. Smith & Co., 20 Exchange st.; Gilbert, Abbott & Co., 78 Broad st.; Deland & Snow, 34 Elm st. and others. In Portland, Me., of H. H. Hay & Co., C. W. Atwood & Co., Milliken & Son.

The Great English Remedy.

Celebrated Female Pills.

Prepared from a prescription of Sir JAS. Clarke M.D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

THIS invaluable Medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous disorders to which the female constitution is subject. It moderates all excess, removes all obstructions, and a speedy cure may be relied on.

TO MARRIED LADIES

It is peculiarly suited. It will, in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

Each bottle, Price One Dollar, bears the Government Stamp of Great Britain, to prevent counterfeits. CAUTION.

These Pills should not be taken by females that are pregnant, during the FIRST THREE MONTHS, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at every other time and in every other case they are perfectly safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed, and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or any thing hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions accompany each package.

Sole Agent for the United States and Canada JOB MORSE,
(late I. C. BALWDIN & CO.,) Rochester, N. Y.

N B.—$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized Agent, will insure a bottle of the Pills by return mail.

For sale, wholesale and retail, by W. E PRESTON, Portsmouth, and by Druggists in every town in the United States.

LOCAL.

WHAT DOES HE DO FOR A LIVING?—One of our correspondents has looked thro' the Directory, to ascertain the number of men engaged in each business or trade. As the Directory was published a few years ago, of course it is impossible to be accurate now—but the table will be read with interest, and it will no doubt surprise many, as it did us. There is one large class not put down in the Directory, nor enumerated in H.'s list; and which is yet probably larger—perhaps double, that of the followers of any employment named—we mean loafers, doers of nothing, unless it be worse than nothing. Uncle Toby has sometimes set them down, on a rough guess, as two hundred, which is doubtless inside the mark. And there are plenty of young ones growing up, learning the trade. Who supports this class—and who pays for the "mischief Satan finds" for them to do?

☞ To-night we may look for a full house at the Temple, on the occasion of the first exhibition of the magnificent Mirror of Italy, which has been so highly recommended by the press and people of other New England cities where it has been exhibited. We have no doubt but that it will be liberally patronized by our intelligent citizens.

To-morrow afternoon an exhibition is to be given for the scholars and children, and every child in our city should visit this beautiful, artistic and historical exhibition.

Messrs. Editors;—After the police shall have broken up the nest of loafers on Christian Shore, as one of your correspondents recommends,—I would have them look at a knot of nice young men who infest the walk at the corner of Vaughan and Congress streets, insult passers, &c. To be sure our jail is rather too full now, for comfort or improvement, (12 men in four rooms,)—but two or three more might be crowded in; and then "birds of a feather, &c."

But the loafers are a great nuisance,—in a dozen places in town—and ought to be abated. WEST END.

☞ A column of choice political extracts from the last N. H. Gazette, and other democratic papers of like standing, may be found on the 4th page of this morning's paper. The captain of the first piece, should be on the last.

FOR THE OLD DOMINION.—Our Marine Chronicle this morning mentions the sailing of a vessel from this port, for Gwyn's Island, situated in Chesapeake Bay, near the Virginia shore. Capt. James Hill, and John B. Hill, of Greenland; and George O. Hilton and Wm. L. Walker, of South New Market — with their families—are about emigrating thither. They have bought eight hundred acres of excellent land on this Island, including privileges for farming or oystering—and are removing all their live stock, household goods, &c., to their future home. They send out the material prepared for erecting a dwelling-house, and will live the life of pioneer settlers until that is ready for occupying.

While we regret to lose such families from New England, in exchange for the low foreigners yearly crowding in upon us—and who it seems may ultimately drive all the Yankees out—we can but commend the wisdom of the choice of settling in Virginia, in preference to going West. They carry with them all the appliances necessary to convenience and comfort—a singularly-varied schooner-load, including some of their live stock (the rest having gone by railroad) and two splendid piano-fortes.—With these instruments, and the eminent musical talent in their circle, they will make the Southern woods re-echo with some of New England's sweetest melody. While they will be much missed and regretted by a large circle of friends and acquaintance, they will have a myriad of good wishes for their success in their new enterprise. May 'Old Virginny never tire' them.

DEATHS IN PORTSMOUTH.—Mr. Bell's bill of mortality for August exhibits seventeen instances, as follows:—

Males, ten—aged 8 months, 1 year, 0, 27, 34, 38, 71, 75, 75, 101.

Females, seven—aged 1 month, 3, 4, 0; 6 years, 6, 24.

☞ An extra train will leave the Concord and Portsmouth depot, in this city, on Wednesday morning, at half-past 7 o'cl'k, to accommodate persons wishing to attend the meeting of the Boston and Maine Railroad Company. Stockholders in the Boston and Maine Railroad pass free over both roads.

☞ The body of Mr. D. I. S. Hart, who was drowned on Sunday week, was picked up on Monday, 6th inst., at Trefethen's Island.

☞ The Methodist Meeting House in Newington, is to be re-opened for public worship, on the first Sunday in October.

4 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Sept. 5.—Steamship Fulton, from Havre via Cowes 25th ult., about 3 P. M., arrived off Cape Race on Friday afternoon, where she was intercepted by the news yacht of the Associated Press, and her news despatch brought to this port. She brings 214 passengers, but no specie.

Queen Victoria's progress in Germany called forth great demonstrations of respect and good will. Her Majesty was making préparations for a royal visit to Leeds.

The American ship Mayflower, from New Orleans for Nantes, was capsized and became a total wreck—no date. Fifteen lives were lost. The captain and seven survivors were picked up by the American ship Cairo.

A dreadful collision took place on the Oxford, Worcester, and Wolverhampton Railroad, between two excursion trains, by which several passengers were killed and a great many frightfully wounded.

A telegraphic despatch from St. Petersburg says that the Chinese empire is to be opened to foreigners, and the left bank of the Amoor river is henceforth to be the boundary between Russia and China.

The Emperor of Russia was expected to arrive at Warsaw on the 14th of September. 35,000 troops were concentrated in the city, and would be reviewed by the Czar in person. The Grand Dukes Nicholas and Michael go to the Caucasus to take part in the military operations against Schamyl.

M. Thorrena, the French Ambassador at Constantinople, has sent a note to the Porte, supporting the application of Prince Daniello, who demands of the Turkish government to give up to him the harbor of Spitzen on the Adriatic, which he claims.

LIVERPOOL COTTON MARKET, 24th.—The firmer qualities have advanced 1-16 of a penny per lb., and the market has an upward tendency.

LIVERPOOL BREADSTUFFS MARKET, 24th. The breadstuffs market is generally quiet. The late favorable weather has had the effect of checking the advancing tendency of the market. Flour is quiet and steady.—Wheat is also quiet, but firm for choice red. Corn dull. The quotations of all kinds of breadstuffs remain unchanged.

SALT HAY.—The crop of salt hay this year has been of good quality and of heavy burthen, and for the past two weeks farmers have been busy in the meadows stacking up and carting off their hay before the fall tides come on. The amount of salt hay cut on the meadows in Salisbury this season is estimated at two thousand tons, valued at $16,000.—Villager.

POLITICAL EXTRACTS.

From the N. H. Gazette's Concord Correspondent.

☞ What the NEW ORLEANS DELTA (Aug. 19th,) says:—

A few witless, bigoted, or recklessly malicious Democratic organs are doing their best, or worst—which is fortunately little—to clear the Black Republican Lincoln over Douglas to the United States Senate, and render Douglas an object of obloquy both in the North and South. So much malignity, and so much stupidity, are rarely exampled in the annals of politics. But such malignity is rendered harmless by such stupidity; that is no little consolation.

It is unquestionable that the position of Douglas on the issue we have outlined, has largely conduced to the recent Democratic victories, and increased majorities which have been witnessed in Kennedy, Missouri, Arkansas, and North Carolina. The prompt indorsement of the Dred Scott decision by the leading Democrats, North and South, and partisans generally, and the quick and able vindication of that decision by Mr. Buchanan in his letter to the New England clergymen, had already produced a general tendency in the South to an active support, or a friendly acquiescence in the continued ascendency of the Democratic party. But never was this tendency so pronounced, or so productive of results, as it has been since Douglas so manfully commenced the fight with the Black Republicans on the issue declared by themselves, and took so advanced a position in defense of Southern Rights and institutions.

But it must be remembered that universal Democratic ascendency in the South—that the closest union and co-operation of the Southern States will not alone secure the success in federal politics of those principles deemed essential to the safety of South and the preservation of the Union. The only guarantee of that, is an impregnable foothold sustained by reliable allies in the North. What lunar folly, then, what inexplicable madness, to labor furiously to destroy that foothold, and alienate those allies, as the Washington Union does daily, and as one or two forlorn imitators, not so far from this, are daily assisting it in doing. The public are sick of their nonsensical ravings. Let them quit, before they are consigned to some political Sandford Hall.

WHAT THE NEW ORLEANS BEE SAYS.—The more the Bee reflects upon the attacks of the Washington Union and its allies upon Douglas, the more its special wonder is excited. It can not but look upon these attacks as the "result of political scheming, and from the lights before us we are justified in concluding that it proceeds from the plots and machinations of ambitious aspirants for the succession, who behold in Douglas that step on which they must fall down, or else o'erleap."

Says the Bee, in conclusion:

"If the course of Douglas has been offensive, surely it is the South which has the best right to arraign him for his shortcomings, yet in the South the Illinois Senator is treated with levity. Even the opposition journals discriminate wisely between him and his Black Republican opponent, and would a thousand-fold rather witness his re-election than the success of anti-slavery. Most of the Democratic papers in the South are of the same opinion. It is reserved for presses on the border line of slavery, or in the non-slaveholding States, to evince an unrelenting hatred of Douglas; to affect to be more Southern than the South herself; to condemn where the injured parties themselves are inclined to forgive. It is clear that this does not flow from and irresistible effusion of love for the South, since on other occasions, the prints in question have been chary enough of Southern sympathies."

STILL ANOTHER.—On the 29th of July (20 days after the Chicago speech) Hon. Reverdy Johnson, of Baltimore, a gentleman presumed to be of some account in the Democratic party, addressed a letter to Stephen A. Douglas congratulating him upon "the general approbation which you (Douglas) seem to be receiving at the hands of the Democracy of Illinois." He says: "This is the character of the hostility which some of the Democratic presses are now so ruthlessly waging against you. Professing to be, to the very heart's core, opposed to Republicanism, as undoubtedly they are at this time, and to all its adherents, they are certainly doing, whether knowingly or not, all that they can to elect to the Senate of the United States from your State, a leader of that party who, judging from his reported speeches, is deeply and incurably dyed in every one of its political and fatal heresies. A leader, whose success on your defeat will be hailed everywhere by his followers as the death knell of the Democratic party, and carry well-called alarm to those who look to the preservation of the peace, true interests and duty of every State in the Union, and be considered the triumph of a deep-settled, bitter malignity, or blind unreasoning prejudice to the Southern States. The madness of such a course naturally excites special wonder amongst all the friends of the present Administration, who look only to its true honor and success, uninfluenced by petty motives of personal spite to one who, like yourself, has for so many years, with signal ability and good faith, contributed so much to further the general measures of policy which have of late years established, and with truth, for the party, the title of national."

At the latest accounts, the Washington Union had not read Reverdy Johnson out of the party.

Now a word of politics. I have taken pains to talk with very many of our leading Democrats in regard to your course respecting Mr. Douglas. It is on all hands approved. The general sentiment is, that if he should prove false to the Democratic creed, throw him overboard, but if he remains where his speeches and course in Illinois show him to stand, true to the party, condemn the petty tricksters and public plunderers, that, for purely selfish ends, are seeking to crush out a man who is the honor and pride of the party, one who possesses the power to do more for us in the future than the entire pack of truckling hounds that are baying on his track. Between such a man as "the Little Giant" and a "leveller"—an "absorptionist," whatever one's personal preferences, as among Democrats, may be, no true man can for a moment hesitate.—These hucksters know that such are the views of the statesman Buchanan, but, coward-like, they skulk from his odium of their own acts, and attempt to stain his name by representing that he approves of that kind of Democracy which votes for Niggers, or throws away votes in support of a bolting ticket, in preference to supporting an able and tried Democrat. They know their charge to be false; so do the people. The very course of the "Union" and kindred prints, is exciting a sympathy for Douglas among the Democratic masses, that otherwise he could not have obtained. If the conductors of the "Union" were determined that Douglas should be President, they could not have taken a better course to secure that result, than they are now pursuing toward that distinguished individual.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE RICHEST DIADEM

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What? Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself prepared for all our race. Reader, although the shade may be ever so dark, bright as the jet in the raven cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be ever so pearly, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be marled and shrivelled, hard and dry, or worse still, be speckled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg.

NEW YORK, April 19, 1858.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir:—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time I my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your "Hair Restorative," it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a most valuable article, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

S. THALBERG.

"Drych a'r Gwyliedydd."

Welsh Newspaper Off., 13 Nassau st., Apr. 12, '58.

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Some months ago, six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who concluded to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray locks to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful office by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair.

CHARLES DAVIS.

NEW YORK, July 28, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most valuable article I have ever used. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore the hair to its original color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant itching, so common among persons who perspire freely.

J. D. HOPE.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 1, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications fastened my hair firmly. It began to fill up from out and travel back to its original color (black). At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend it to all.

J. D. HOPE.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes; large size, medium and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 2½ per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

The Liver Invigorator!

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD.

Compounded Entirely from GUMS.

IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE AND LIVER MEDICINES now before the public.

The Gums remove the One dose will generally cure Costiveness, all morbid matter from the system, supplying in their place a healthy action, invigorating the stomach, causing food to digest well, regulating the Bowels, giving tone and health to the whole machinery. Bilious Attacks are cured, and what is better, prevented by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator. One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the most distressed dyspeptic; it prevents the food from rising and souring. Only one dose taken before retiring prevents nightmare. Only one dose taken at night will prevent a bad breath in the morning. It cures costiveness. One dose taken after hearty eating will cure Dyspepsia. One dose of two tea-spoonfuls will cure Sick Headache. Only one dose immediately relieves Colic.

Cholera Morbus, and a preventative of Cholera. Only one bottle is needed to throw out of the system the effects of medicine after a long sickness. One bottle taken for Jaundice removes all sallowness or unnatural color from the skin. One dose taken a short time before eating gives vigor to the appetite and makes the food digest well. One dose often repeated cures Chronic Diarrhœa in its worst form, while Summer and Bowel Complaints yield almost to the first dose. A few bottles will cure Dropsy by exciting the kidneys to action. We take pleasure in recommending this medicine as preventive for Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a malignant type, it operates with certainty, and thousands are living to testify to its direct relief in the worst of fevers.

All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.

Mix water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow it with a glass of water.

PRICE, ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

Dr. SANFORD Proprietor. 285 Broadway, N. Y.

Sold by THACHER, PRESTON, HUTCHINGS, and all Druggists everywhere. au31 ly

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious practice of empirics, and thousands more who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would inform the sick and afflicted, that by addressing the press or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent in a letter and directed as above.

Pill and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three hundred of this number are described upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, stating their symptoms, from any part of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in dating Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been put up by those who profess to be quite as certainly ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, have only to call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions, by remitting the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. 1y2 div

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interest varies at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have the same right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State, a lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. Accompany the order with the money, and you must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number to each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the operation. Prizes vary from $50 to $30,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Mercury, Louisville Courier, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to SWAN & CO., Augusta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

E. P. RUSSELL'S
Patent Mastic Roofing.
Imperious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE inventor of this Roofing labored many years to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and Tar other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most firmly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN!

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every desc iption, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or 1 in. at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is far superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

EDWARD J. MOULTON,
—OVER—
GREENLEAF'S BLACKSMITH SHOP,
PORTSMOUTH,
AGENT for Portsmouth, New Castle, Rye Greenland and Newington.

ECONOMY. ECONOMY.

THE subscriber has been appointed Exclusive Agent for this city in furnishing and putting on
BRADSTREET'S
Patent Japan Weather Strip.

This Strip for outside doors is the most useful, and the very best improvement ever offered now in use, and the latest, (like the Atlantic Cable;) to keep out Snow, Rain, Wind and Cold from your houses.

This Strip is applied to the bottom of the door by screws, with an ELLIPTICAL SPRING (which cannot get out of order,) that causes the door to rise and fall, on opening or shutting the door.

THIS PATENT STRIP is the most simple and durable of anything of the kind ever invented.—It may be regarded as the "ne plus ultra" in this line, obviating all difficulties in management.—It will save the cost of the article in one winter, in keeping the house warm and dry.

The Prices for putting on Doors: Japan Finish, $1 50 each. Brass Finish, $2 50 each.

Every one put on by the subscriber will be warranted, and if not successful, no pay required.

Those who wish for the same may leave orders at the store of JOSEPH H. CLARK, corner of Market Square and Daniel street, where a sample may be seen, or at the residence of the subscriber, No. 15 Dennett street, North Portsmouth,—which will be promptly attended to.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, opp. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on the most reasonable terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Boston, February 8, 1858.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him, to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made, on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Morning Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1858.

LETTER FROM VERITAS.

KENSINGTON, September 6th.

Messrs. Editors:—Never in the month of September did the country "stand dressed in such living green," and never promise a more abundant harvest of everything but fruit. What fruit there is, bids fair to be large and good however, which will make it worth more in the market, and the farmer will have no cause to complain. Why flour should have risen a dollar on a barrel, is a mystery known only to the initiated. Next to rum-selling, speculating in breadstuffs is a mean way of getting rich. Why do not some of your wealthy men purchase a supply when it is at the lowest wholesale price, and let the poor have it at cost? If this was done in all large towns and cities, it would go far to stop speculation, as they would find it "would not pay."

I hope all your rich men are not fat.—Mirabeau said of such, "that they were of no use except to show how far the skin would stretch without bursting." But he was a Frenchman, and very likely lean, as all or the most of his countrymen are,—and then there might have been a spice of envy about him. A young friend while a Sophomore at Harvard, always thanked God for rich men, and prayed for them especially; so much so, that it was remarked. On being spoken to about it, he gave as a reason that "they were in possession of such a power to do good."

Recent disputes about wills should set them about the good they purpose, before they are called away, for there seems to be but little certainty that their intentions will be carried out, unless done by themselves.

I wish they would establish in your town a home for infants. Such a place is needed, and under a right management would be a blessing. How many mothers who are tied to drunken, cruel husbands, would be glad to place their children there. And men who have lost wives would be glad of a place for their little ones. What more pitiful sight than a little child tossed about from place to place. Just as it gets acquainted, perhaps, moved to a strange place, among strange faces. My heart has ached for such many times. Then it might be a school where young mothers could take their babes for a limited time to learn to take care of them. Many with the best intentions, shamefully injure the innocents; and many more by a slavish following of fashion. One came under my observation where a child's nervous system was so outraged that it had fits and was foolish in consequence of being taken up from its cradle to show to visitors. It would hardly get to sleep before it was waked to be shown to some one. It lived a number of years to suffer, and then went home to the angels, thank God.

Very few infants are dressed warm enough. I can hardly keep my patience to see a woman whose skin has been hardened by the exposure of twenty or thirty years, dressed with long sleeves and three or four thicknesses of material of some kind over her chest and shoulders, and a babe or child with its delicate skin dressed in muslin, with its neck, chest and arms bare. It seems as if the instinct of a mother, saying nothing of reason, would teach her better. The greatest medical writer and practitioner that ever lived, probably, says, in summing up the care of young children, "Plenty of milk, plenty of flannel, and plenty of sleep." If such advice was necessary in England, how much more important in our ever varying climate.

I do not think Uncle Toby read the proof sheet of my last letter—if he had, he would not have made me say years for Jesus, nor genius for Junius, the unknown writer who lived some time ago, and whose letters he has probably read. But it is no great matter. The readers of the Chronicle are intelligent, well-informed, and wide-awake. They know what should be, if it is not. I hope their numbers and their virtues will increase, every rising sun. A man must feel a double pleasure in printing a paper for an intelligent and appreciative set of subscribers, who pay without being dunned, and who feel an interest in his paper and try to increase its circulation.

It is hoped and expected that the heirs of the late President of (———) Bank will make up in part the deficiency occasioned by its former mismanagement. The Directors voted at their last meeting not to prosecute, so the News Letter says; and perhaps that gave rise to the expectation. They are, most of them, young, have property, more or less, and profess to be governed by the principles of that religion which teaches that "whatever we would that men should do to us, even so should we do them." There are many whose all of worldly good is there, and who have received no dividends for several years. Others are obliged to work to make up the deficiency caused by the non-payment of interest on what they have there. I heard of one lady who is doing her own work, though not brought up to labor, who has fifteen thousand dollars' worth of stock.

VERITAS.

☞ A fishing sloop at Gloucester, is doing a big business in catching Cunners.—She has brought several large fares, and on Tuesday arrived from a week's cruise to Cape Porpoise, with seventeen thousand Cunners, all alive and splashing in the well hold. Some of the fish were noble specimens. They were taken, of course, in nets.

Poggy catching is becoming quite a business. The Gloucester and Beverly fishermen catch immense numbers of them in the various inlets of Beverly harbor. It has not been unusual during the season to see a fleet of a dozen Poggy schooners from Gloucester or elsewhere moored inside the bar, each with an infant fleet of dories about it prepared to seine the Menhaden. The fishermen seine the Poggies in all the coves and inlets, and sometimes take twenty or thirty barrels at a haul. The layers of flesh on the backs of the bony fishes are then sliced off and salted for use at the Banks, and elsewhere.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT AT A POLITICAL MEETING. A correspondent of the Chicago Press says "that a serious, if not a fatal accident occurred at Lewiston, Fulton county, Illinois, on the 16th. Mr. Douglas spoke to the crowd, and in the evening a barrel of fireworks which had been procured for a 'demonstration,' became ignited accidentally, and exploded in the midst of the crowd. Five persons were knocked down instantly, stunned and badly burnt. A Miss Paine, a young lady residing between Lewiston and Havana, was struck in the neck with a rocket, which almost immediately burst in her face. She was taken up senseless; her face was horribly burnt, her bonnet and part of her hair torn off, and a gastly wound inflicted under her right ear. She is still living, but her physicians are doubtful of her recovery."

THE U. S. BRIG DOLPHIN AT NEW YORK. New York, Sept. 6.—The U. S. brig Dolphin, from Key West for Boston, put in here to-day to send Capt. Townsend, of the slave brig Echo, to Charleston, S. C. She sails again this afternoon for Boston.

The Boston Journal says,—"This proceeding is not a little singular. Why was not the captain sent to Charleston in the first place, and having taken him to Key West and started for Boston with him, why does the commander of the Dolphin stop at New York and send his prisoner back to Charleston? It looks as though Lieut. Maffit had repented having taken so bold a step as the arrest of an outlaw and in hopes to curry favor at headquarters, and to appease the South, he refuses to bring his captive where he would have received strict justice, and returns him to the South, where he will be welcomed as a hero, and where he will escape the punishment which he so richly deserves. We shall look for a solution of this affair with some interest Has the administration had a finger in this matter?"

☞ The Lyons newspapers record the death of an old miser in that city, of the name of Crepin, who has left 3,000,000 of francs and five houses at Lyons. So great was his avarice that, they say, for a long time before his death he only disbursed 35c. a day for his food. He has bequeathed the whole of what he possessed to a poor widow lady, who by contract, long supplied him with two meals a day for 35 cents.

☞ A man named Myers was to be hung at Columbus, Ohio, on Saturday. On Thursday, several gentlemen visited his cell and found him drunk. Where he obtained his liquor is a mystery to the officers.

MURDER TRIAL.—The trial of E. G. Dudley for the murder of Eliphalet Berry at Bath, Me., has resulted in a verdict of manslaughter, on which the Court sentenced him to five years in the State Prison. Rum was at the bottom of the matter.

☞ Gov. Stewart of Missouri has had another bar-room fight, and came off second best, as before. This time it was Dr. Eadman, a German, who punished him. The Governor was drunk and insolent.

They love you better who strive to make you good, than they who strive to please you.

THE CAPTURED SLAVER—A PRECEDENT. The press have generally given currency to the statement that the brig Echo, or Putnam, is the first captured slaver that has been brought to our ports. This is believed to be an error—a belief which is confirmed by the subjoined letter which we find in the Charleston Courier:

The present case is not without precedent, and the action of the government then may indicate what will probably be its course in the present instance.

Thirty years ago a vessel with a cargo of Africans was wrecked on the Caryslort Reef. The Africans were landed and transferred to St. Augustine, and placed in the custody or safe keeping of the U. S. Marshal, who received instructions from the authorities at Washington to hire them out, and make them defray their own expenses, until a vessel could be sent for them. They remained for a time in Florida, perhaps a year. In the fall of 1829 a vessel arrived at the port of St. Augustine, and as soon as the Africans ascertained the object of her coming, most of them, unwilling to leave the flesh-pots of Florida, took to the woods, and it was with some difficulty the Marshal could muster them for embarkation. They were finally gotten together and shipped for Liberia.—What became of them afterwards we have no means of knowing.

NEW YORK QUARANTINE.—New York, Sept. 7.—Affairs at Staten Island are getting very exciting. The Castleton Board of Health have passed resolutions to station a force of fifty men at the quarantine gates, to prevent any one passing in or out. Five more arrests were made yesterday.

It is reported that Gov. King has gone to Albany to proclaim the county of Richmond in a state of insurrection; to call out the military for the defense of the quarantine establishment; to direct the authorities to rebuild the hospitals, and order the Attorney General to prosecute the rioters, and sue the county of Richmond for damages.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 6.—The deaths by yellow fever on Saturday were 89.

Steamship Gen. Rusk has arrived, with Brownsville dates to the 1st inst.

The liberals captured Tampico on the 25th ult. Gen. Miramon and the reactionists were hotly pressed. Gen. Vidaurri was concentrating 10,000 men at San Luis, with the intention of marching on the Capital. Funds were plenty.

A fearful gale and inundation occurred at Brazos on the 26th.

☞ The Charleston Courier informs us that "Joe, a blacksmith, about twenty years old, was sold on Wednesday under an execution, by Deputy Sheriff Hendricks, and brought the sum of $1295."

☞ At the Republican Convention, at Worcester, Mass., on Tuesday, Governor Banks was re-nominated by acclamation. The Convention was very large.

☞ A correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune pronounces the Frazer River gold diggings one of the greatest humbugs ever got up.

A Card from Dr. James M. Jarrett, OF THE NEW YORK LUNG INFIRMARY.—My connection for the past eight years with the above Institution, as Chief Physician, and a twelve years' course of steady devotion to the Cure of Pulmonary Consumption and its kindred diseases, together with my unrivalled opportunities and advantage of pathological research—aided not a little by a perfect system of Medical Inhalation—has enabled me to arrive at a decisive, direct, and successful course of treatment for the positive and radical cure of all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, and Air-Passages. By Inhalation, the vapor and curative properties of medicine are directly addressed to the diseased organs and the integument. I do not advise the use of Medical Inhalation of any disease, yet I advise it of general treatment; and although I consider it a useful adjuvant in the proper management of those fearful and often fatal diseases, yet I deem it very necessary that each patient should have the benefit of both general and local treatment.—The success of my treatment in the above diseases, and the high character of the Institution over which I have so long had the honor to preside, are too well known to need any eulogy or comment from me. At the solicitation of many private and professional friends, through whose philanthropic aid the above charity has been long and liberally supported, and after due consideration, I have concluded to make such arrangements as will bring the benefits of my experience and treatment within the reach of all, and not confine myself, as heretofore, to those only who entered the Infirmary, or who were able to visit me at my office. Hoping therefore that the arrangement will give entire satisfaction, both to my professional brethren and the public, I would respectfully announce in conclusion, that I can now be consulted personally or by letter, on all diseases as above, and that the medicines, the same as used in the Institution, prepared to suit each individual case, Inhaling Vapors, Medical Inhalers, &c., will be forwarded by express to any part of the United States, or the Canadas. Terms—My terms of treatment by letter are as follows, viz: $12 per month for each patient, which will include medicine sufficient for one month's use; also, Inhaling Vapor, and an Inhaling Apparatus. Payment as follows: $6 to be paid to Express Agent on receipt of the first of Medicine, and the balance, $6, at the expiration of the month, if the patient be cured or is entirely satisfied with the treatment. Patients, by giving a full history of their case, and their symptoms in full, can be treated as well by letter as by personal examination. Patients availing themselves of Dr. Jarrett's treatment may rely upon immediate and permanent relief, as he seldom has to treat a case over thirty days. Letters for advice promptly answered. For further particulars address
JAMES M. JARRETT, M. D.,
No. 820 Broadway, cor. Twelfth St., N. Y.
P. S.—Physicians and others visiting the city are respectfully invited to call at the Infirmary, where many interesting cases can be witnessed, and where our improved apparatus for the inhalation of medicated vapor can be seen and inspected.—s6 6m

ST. VITUS'S DANCE.
This distressing and mortifying nervous affection is left generally either to take its natural course, or is treated on general principles with very little success. The nervous symptoms are not the disease itself, and proceed from functional or organic derangement in the nervous centres. No medicine has been found equal to the PERUVIAN SYRUP, in checking the involuntary nervous tremblings known as St. Vitus's Dance.

LADIES OF PORTSMOUTH.
IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.
Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer,
The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.
THE DESTROYER is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the no plus ultra of beauty. It immediately takes the pimples also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.
There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.
The Parisian ladies have used it for years: consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.
THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.
THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable medicinal herbs and aromatics which fretting, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.
It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the ordinary kinds as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.
Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by the physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES OF THE URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DERILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing disorders which frequently attend their delicate organization.
Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."
It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.
For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE ORIGINAL IMPORTED.
May be bought in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st.; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. K. Pecker, 20 Elm st.; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st.; M. Davis & Co., 61 Blackstone st.; R. DR. DUPONCO'S
French Periodical Golden Pills,
FOR FEMALES;
Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity o the Menses.
THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for thirty years, both in France and America, with unparalleled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them, to make the Pills public. In the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.
Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H THACHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.
N.B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

LAW AND ORDER.

PORTSMOUTH, Sept. 7, 1858.

Messrs. Editors,—I cannot conceive why your correspondents should direct the attention of our police to squads of loafers who frequent certain places, unless it be that they desire to quiz the first mentioned worthies, for so far from disturbing nuisances of a quiet a nature, it is taken for granted by many of our fast men that no interference is to be apprehended from that source in case a set-to becomes necessary.

To show that I do not speak ignorantly, I would cite some instances of recent occurrence. First, the disturbance in Vaughan street on Sunday last. There the cries of murder brought people from a considerable distance and assembled a large crowd, yet no officer appeared. Per contra, in Boston, a short time since, I saw two men about to quarrel: there was no loud talking or noise, but ere the second blow could be struck both parties were on their way to the Station House.

Second, on Monday evening, at about 7 o'clock, a fight took place between two men, near the new Custom House, and, "so to speak," under the very nose of our police. A crowd collected, one man was knocked down several times and cried 'enough' about as often, and hostilities were discontinued; but no police! To offset this—a friend was walking in New York, a man was knocked down, and instantly the aggressor was seized by a detective, notwithstanding his brandished pistol.

And this is not a new order of things; many persons are cognizant of a general row which took place in Congress street about a year ago, late at night, and of which some of our watchmen were spectators, and even menaced one of our business men for presuming to, then and there, venture a remark on the inefficiency of our police.

However, "honor to whom honor is due," and to show that our police do make some arrests, I would mention that one evening, a week or two since, a poor drunken fellow was thrust from one of our bar-rooms, that as he did not immediately go away the bar-tender came out, kicked him, and, on his clinging to an awning post to support himself, dealt him a severe blow in the face which rather damaged than improved his personal appearance. Having become convinced that his presence was no longer needed, the intoxicated man was quietly leaving the spot, but just as he was turning the corner he was seized by a policeman and put into the lock-up.—Bravo! "charlie."

I am glad that Mr. Libbey has erased that sink-hole from High street and is otherwise improving some of our thoroughfares. I was beginning to think the praise bestowed upon him at the commencement of his official career, entirely unmerited.—He has yet time to retrieve his character. There is one place which our former Street Commissioners have failed to rectify; that portion of Fleet street lying between Congress and Hanover streets.

The best lighted street in the city, it is a crying shame to our municipal authorities that they have not power enough to prevent the accumulation of filth in that precinct, though just at present it is in its best condition. The commissioner might not find it an Augean stable to cleanse, but he would find it a sewer for Mr. Somerby's stable, and most of the time would find a quantity of manure belonging to John Hare, (a gentleman of Celtic origin,) stacked against the fence on the east side of the street. This street bears a great deal of travel, and I hope the Mayor and Aldermen will see that it is kept at least decent. OBSERVER.

CHARITY—BOATING.

Messrs. Editors:—We were not a little surprised and grieved to see in the Journal of Sept. 4th, at the close of a just and feeling tribute to the memory of a gentleman and a scholar, Mr. D. I. S. Hart, who was drowned in our river on Sunday, the 20th of August, the following gratuitous remark by the editor:

"So says a correspondent—personally we never had a very exalted opinion of the man."

Now we wish to inquire if the editor of the Journal is especially called upon to express his personal opinion in reference to every man who dies? And if not elected as the judge of other men, why does he sit in judgment on this case? Why could he not let the unfortunate man rest in peace in his watery grave? Why should he wish to awaken unnecessary suspicions of his character? Does the editor suppose that because Mr. H. was a stranger in a strange land, he is justifiable in venting his prejudice or spleen against him after he is dead? Will he be so kind as to consider whether he would be willing, if a child or friend of his should be suddenly taken away, to have every individual parade their personal opinion of that child or friend before the public. It is considered one of the strongest evidences of goodness in the heart, to bury a man's faults and his body in the same grave. Alas! grace has not yet had its perfect work; a little more of that "charity which thinketh no evil" might be profitably cultivated.

Mr. H. was a comparative stranger in our city. But he had friends far away in the childhood home that nourished him so tenderly, and provided so liberally for the development of his intellectual powers, whose hearts may bleed afresh as they read those two cold, careless lines; nay, he had friends in this city, who needed no such thrust at his honor to make them feel that they were deeply afflicted by his untimely death; and we cannot conceive that the editor of the Journal is especially called upon to administer gratuitously this additional cup of sorrow. If he had discovered falsehood in the article to which his remark was designed as an offset, he might have been justifiable in exposing it, particularly if it could result in injury to anybody. But it is believed that the notice of Mr. H. is truthful in every particular, that it is not overwrought or unjustly commendatory; and even if it were, it could do no harm.

While on this subject, we wish to say that the men who have boats to let on this river are not a little blamable for many of the accidents which occur at that dangerous bridge. Strangers generally suppose that pleasure boats are so constructed as to pass safely under the bridge. They reason that sailing parties will desire to go up the river as frequently as down, and that therefore the boats will not be built so high as to prevent them from doing so. If they find themselves drifting towards the bridge they are not alarmed, because they believe they can pass safely under it, and never suspect danger until it is too late to extricate themselves.

If those who let boats would say to all who go sailing on the river, that they must not sail or allow themselves to drift near the bridge, as boats will not pass under it, and if they come in contact with it they are almost sure to be upset and their passengers drowned, these startling accidents would be less frequent. Then if persons found themselves drifting in that direction, they would become alarmed in season to extricate themselves. I do not charge the men who let boats with willful wrong.—They are—many of them—good citizens. They would not purposely endanger life. But being themselves fully acquainted with all the dangers of the river, they forget that strangers must be ignorant of these dangers unless they are pointed out to them. Will you not, boatmen, remember and profit by these suggestions? A.

DROWNED.—Kittery, Sept. 7th.—The body of a man purporting to be John Tarr or Tarbox, was picked up afloat on Monday forenoon, the 6th inst., near the shore of Capt. William Trefethen in this harbor.

The deceased was a man apparently 60 years of age, and belonged to a small fishing schooner named the Boxer, hailing from Rockport, which laid in the stream on Sunday the 5th inst. On that night the crew sent ashore and informed some persons near by that a man had been missed from his berth between the hours of 8 and 12 o'clock at night, and inquired if it was of use to sweep for the body. They were informed in the negative, and on the morning of the 6th sailed from the harbor. An inquest was held on the body, and a verdict given that the deceased came to his death from accidental drowning on the night of the 5th inst.

This man probably went on deck for some purpose during the night, and from some accident fell into the river. It may be a source of comfort to his family, if he has any, to know that his body has been recovered and buried in Kittery.

MOSES A. SAFFORD,
One of the Coroner's Jury.

☞ The body of a man found at Trefethern's Island on Monday morning, which was reported to be that of Mr. D. I. S. Hart, proved to be that of another man of 50 or 60 years, belonging to a vessel in the harbor, who had been drowned the night before, and whose name is given in another article.

The body of Mr. Hart was found, however, on Tuesday morning floating in Little Harbor, by three young men who were bound out on a fishing excursion. They returned with it to the toll gate of New Castle Bridge, where is was easily identified by clothing, portemonnaie and watch. The remains were deposited in a tomb on Tuesday P. M. Funeral services by Rev. Dr. Peabody.

☞ We are informed that two loafers were arrested on Monday, for stealing two coats from one of the railroad depots in this city, and held to bail for trial.

☞ We understand that the dwelling, in Eliot, of Mr. Spinney, a milkman who supplies some families in this city, was entered a day or two since, in his absence, by two Portsmouth loafers, and $100 stolen. The thieves are not yet arrested.

APPROPRIATE.—In our marine list, we to-day chronicle the arrival of schooner Forest, captain Wood.

Ayer's Pills

Are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive organs, such as result from impurity of the blood. A large part of all the complaints that afflict mankind originate in disorders of the stomach and consequently these Pills are found in every many variety of diseases.

Subjoined are the statements from some eminent physicians of their efficacy in their practice.

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC.

From Dr. E. W. Cavenaugh, of New Orleans.

"Your Pills are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities commend them to the profession. They are mild, certain, searching and unfailing in their action on the bowels, while they are thoroughly purgative to rid the body entirely of disease."

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

From Dr. Theodore Bell, of New Orleans.

"Not only are your Pills admirably adapted in their purpose to the purpose, but I find their beneficial effects upon the Liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice almost supplanted Calomel, which I now prescribe rarely, preferring my own remedy, I can mention. I sincerely believe that we have in them a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the public and the profession."

DYSPEPSIA—INDIGESTION.

From Dr. Henry J. Rose, of St. Louis.

"The Pills you were good enough to send me have been all used up. I prescribed and habitually use and that they are admirably adapted to the purpose for which they are intended. They are adapted to the disease of the human system, that they seem to work upon them alone. I have cured some cases of dyspepsia and indigestion with them, which had resisted the skill of the most approved practitioners. I shall use them constantly hand them to to relieve and in almost all the complaints for which you recommend them."

DYSENTERY — DIARRHŒA — RELAX.

From Dr. J. C. Green, of Cincinnati.

"Your Pills have been a boon to me in my practice, and I hold them in the same rank of the best specimen I have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them invaluable in cases of dysentery, diarrhœa, bilious fever, dyspepsia and dyspepsia. They are wonderfully suited to these very complaints, and constitutent for the use of women and children."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION.

From Rev. E. Sweet, who practices as a Physician and Midwife in Indiana.

"I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are sufficient to remove the difficulty, even when they are partially suppressed, and also very effectual in cases of worms in the stomach and urinary organs. They are the most efficient pills we find, and we have tried them and other to any patients."

CONSTIPATION — COSTIVENESS.

From Dr. J. P. Fowler, Montreal, Canada.

"I can speak in praise of your Pills for the cure of costiveness. I have tried them in my own case, and also in many of my patients, who, rather than take other pills that gripe and sicken, prefer to take your Pills, and they always find that they are not disappointed."

INDIGESTION OR THE BLOOD — SCROFULA — ERYSIPELAS — SALT RHEUM — TETTER — TUMORS — RHEUMATISM — GOUT — NEURALGIA.

From Dr. Daniel Ball, Philadelphia.

"You were right, Doctor, in saying that your Pills purify the blood. They have cured many of them of years in my practice, and gave relief in all the other complaints that I have mentioned, and many of the inappropriate diseases they are recommended for. They regulate the action of digestion, and by their healthy and thorough influence.

"Such testimony as you perhaps have seen national benefit, and your agent can show you a dozen of the same kind."

FOR HEADACHE — SICK HEADACHE — FOUL STOMACH — PILES — DROPSY — PLETHORA — PARALYSIS — FITS — ETC.

From Dr. Edward Ball, Baltimore.

"Dear Dr. Ayer: I cannot speak too highly of your Pills. I have used them in my family and have found them to be all you claim for them. I place great dependence in them in my practice, and I can safely contrast with the best of my medicines. I have found them very efficacious in the cure of Dyspepsia, and I consider them a valuable family medicine."

All of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable medicine in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the liability of improper and frequently fatal injury in improper hands. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

PREPARED BY

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

This long tried remedy stands as a practical chemist, and every dose of it makes its own way, with invariable accuracy and cure. It is neatly and perfectly by law from contaminating ingredients, and is therefore safe to take without inconvenience. It supplies the great remedy the world has ever known for the cure of all pulmonary complaints: for Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Whooping Cough, Incipient Consumption, Pleurisy, Congestion, and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease. As long labor of years has proved, we believe and better known, this medicine is adapted to the cure of the most of the afflicted, from the low ranks of the American peasant to the palaces of European kings. Throughout this entire country, in every state and city, and indeed almost every town, it is recognized as a household word, as the best of all remedies for diseases of the throat and lungs. Public and private testimony is in exhaustible, and their most intelligent physicians. If there is any doubt cases on what seem of every medical county in law done to them; if we can trust our own senses when we see the decisive effects of the boxes yield to it, if we can depend on the testimony of intelligent physicians, if we can trust to be honest in fact, if there is any reliance upon any thing, then it is irrefutably proven that this medicine does cure the class of diseases it is designed for, beyond any and all other remedies known to mankind. Nothing but its intrinsic virtues, and the unquestionable benefit conferred on thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior remedies have been thrust upon the public, and have failed, and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and remarkable to be forgotten.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE

RICHEST DIADEM

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What? Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament. God himself provided for all our rate. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be never so sparkling, the teeth be more than those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be scarled, and shriveled, harsh and dry, or worse still, if spotted and with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg:

NEW YORK, April 19, 1858.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your "Hair Restorative," it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

S. THALBERG.

PROF. O. J. WOOD:—Dear Sir—Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who concluded to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown at the roots, thereby giving and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair.

CHARLES CARROW.

NEW YORK, July 24, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative, as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and uneasiness and itching, so common among persons who perspire freely.

J. G. KNIGHT.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 1, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies to no avail. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications fastened my hair firmly. It began to fill up, grow out and turned back to its original color (black). At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health, and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend it to all.

J. D. HOSS.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

The Liver Invigorator!

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD,

Compounded Entirely from GUMS.

IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE AND LIVER MEDICINES now before the public.

These Gums remove almost every impurity from the system, supplying their place with a healthy flow of bile, invigorating the whole animal economy, and giving tone to all the vital powers, purifying the blood, and imparting health and vigor to the whole machinery, removing the cause of the disease—effecting a radical cure.

Bilious Attacks are cured, and when taken at the commencement of the attack, by a better prevented by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.

One dose often relieves Cholera Morbus, and a preventive of Cholera.

One bottle is needed to throw out of the system the effects of Jaundice after a long sickness.

One bottle taken for several years Chronic Diarrhœa has been known to cure Dysentery, Cholic Summer and Bowel Complaints yield almost to the first dose.

One dose taken at night, lessens the bowels and makes a sure costiveness.

One dose taken after each meal will cure Dyspepsia.

One dose of two teaspoonfuls will always relieve Sick Headache.

Only one dose immediately relieves Colic.

One dose taken at night will cure Dropsy by exciting the absorbents.

A few doses will cure Worms by recommending this medicine as a preventive for Fever and Ague. Chill Fever and all Fevers of a Bilious type. It operates with the greatest ease, and thousands are willing to testify to its wonderful virtues.

One dose often relieves Costiveness, and by giving tone to the appetite and makes the food digest well.

One dose taken at night will cure Worms.

One dose taken at night, lessens the bowels and makes a sure costiveness.

One dose taken after each meal will cure Dyspepsia.

One dose of two teaspoonfuls will always relieve Sick Headache.

Only one dose immediately relieves Colic.

All who can doubt it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.

Mix water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the ignorance of the unknown their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express anywhere to all, who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be well by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last twenty years he has practiced in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empirics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are himself cured with his books in perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in dating Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with those who, by boldness and at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 31 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE REMOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impostors, and are being practised by advertising a spurious article under similar spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the effects of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they can be sure of getting the genuine article, and only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—31 Endicott street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. hy2 dly

LOTTERIES.

THE Lottery firm of Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the order they need to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten drawing will be a prize. Tickets are limited to quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and the prizes are paid in full in accordance with them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000. Immediately following drawings, and results of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

A list of the numbers that are drawn from 1 to 9 with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Daily Sun. Write your address plainly, and direct to SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as heretofore practised.

Patent Mastic Roofing.
Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE Inventor of this Roofing labored many years to combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the severest trial, we would invite the careful attention of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value, both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do most strongly assert that ITS EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN.

This Roofing can be readily applied to roofs of every description, either Steep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Tin, at much less expense than the first, and at about half the cost of the latter.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that the most of them have proved complete failures; but we do most candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is superior to anything of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of many years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

BRADSTREET'S
Patent Japan Weather Strip.

This Strip for outside doors is the most useful, and the very best improvement ever thrown open to the use, and the latest, (like the Atlantic Cable,) to keep out Snow, Rain, Wind and Cold from your houses.

This Strip is applied to the bottom of the door by screws, with an ELLIPTICAL SPRING—(which cannot get out of order,) that causes the door to rise and fall, on opening or shutting the door.

THE PATENT Strap is the most simple and durable of anything of the kind ever invented.—It may be regarded as the "ne plus ultra" in this line, obviating all difficulties in management.—It will save the cost of the article in one winter, in keeping the house warm and dry.

The Prices for putting on Doors: Japan Finish, $1.50 each. Brass Finish, $2.50 each.

Every one put on by the subscriber will be warranted, and if not successful, no pay required.

Those who wish for the same may leave orders at the store of JOSEPH H. CLARK, corner of Market Square and Daniel street, where a sample may be seen, or at the residence of the subscriber, No. 15 Dennett street, North Portsmouth,—which will be promptly attended to.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1857.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by committing One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, in ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that since is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Boston, February 8, 1858.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made, on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Morning Chronicle.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1858.

☞ Gov. King of New York State has issued a proclamation, stating that the Sheriff of Richmond County has refused to suppress the riots and fires at the Quarantine,—and calling out a military force.—In consequence, five hundred of the 7th Regiment, National Guards, have been ordered to quarantine. No new acts of violence have been attempted there. The work of erecting temporary hospitals is progressing rapidly.

Colonization.—The American Colonization Society have proposed to the Government to take care of the captured Africans on their arrival at Liberia, and subsist them one year for $50,000, and in the meantime send them to school, and teach them how, by industrial pursuits, to support themselves after the expiration of that period. There is every indication that the proposition will be accepted. The Secretary of the Interior will forthwith authorise the purchase of the necessary clothing and blankets to insure for them a comfortable voyage.

The Plague in Tripoli.—An English engineer, writing of the report of the appearance of the plague at Bengazi, in Tripoli, says—those who have seen an Eastern city, do not hear of an outbreak of plague; the only wonder is that it is ever absent. The streets are narrow; there is either no pavement or a most defective one, all animal and vegetable refuse finds its way on and over the surface and into the subsoil until the earth is one mass of corrupting material (in some instances several feet deep), and the air over it is foul with the gases of decomposition.

☞ Messrs. John P. Jewett & Co. of Boston have in press and will publish in October, The New Testament, translated by Rev. L. S. Sawyer. Mr. Sawyer is an orthodox congregational minister, and is reputed a man of sound learning. This work is commended by distinguished ministers, orthodox, unitarian, universalists, &c.—Price of the New Testament, $1,00. The rest of the Bible is to appear in 1859.

Irish Zeal.—The Boston Ledger informs us that on Sunday evening, the Harbor Police arrested a man named Patrick Callahan, for biting off the nose of Edward Gallagher in Commercial street, a short time previous. Callahan, with three or four others, had some words with Gallagher about religion, when Callahan's party set on him and knocked him down, and while he was in that position Callahan bit off his nose.

We do not know what was the religion of either party, but presume this nose-biting settles some great question.

Railroad Accidents.—Tuesday morning, at Fishkill, N. Y., there was a collision on the Hudson River Railroad, between two cattle trains. An engineer named George Hayward, and one drover, were killed, and another man is under the rains. Some others were injured, and a great many cattle killed.

On the same morning, at Dayton, Ohio, two young men, sons of Dr. Ritner, in attempting to drive over the track of the Dayton & Western Railroad, were run into by a train. Louis Ritner was thrown forty feet, and instantly killed, the other escaped slightly injured.

On the same morning, near Cincinnati, Ohio, a train passing over the Hamilton & Dayton Railroad, while crossing a turnpike at Cummingville, ran into a carriage containing D. P. Fessenden, wife and two nieces. The carriage was smashed, and Mrs. Fessenden caught by the cow-catcher, carried 100 yards, and picked up dead.—The others were severely injured.

☞ The Boston Traveller says that "a German importing house at New York lately received an invoice of real Havana cigars, which were appraised at the custom house at three dollars per thousand.—The importers thought this too high, and under their oath the cigars were admitted at one dollar and a half. Their evidence was that not a particle of tobacco entered into the composition of said cigars, but that they were wholly composed of oak and other leaves, soaked in a strong tobacco ley. This may not be pleasant information to smokers, but we suspect that the oak leaves smoke just as well as the weed."

☞ The St. Louis Republican learns that Gov. Richardson of Nebraska has resigned, with the intention of returning to Illinois, and canvassing the State for Douglas.

How to Ride Comfortably.—The Boston Atlas tells us that on Monday afternoon, as one of the cars of the Metropolitan railroad rolled along its rails, a lady, extensively bellounced and expansively crinolined, beckoned to the polite conductor as it was passing West street, in order to take passage to the South End. Her robe was in a state of delicious newness; its tissue folds were hardly cold from the modiste's last artistic touch, and her attire was gotten up evidently with a reckless regardlessness of expense. The car was only partly filled—one side free from encumbrance. Upon its cushions she sat herself at ease with thought for her robe's intactness uppermost, and spread its voluminous flounces carefully to their natural amplitude. She cast her eyes at the conductor with an air of composure, sang froid and self-collectedness.

"Conductor," she asked, in the blandest of manners and most mellifluous of tones, "how many seats do I occupy?"

Taken by surprise, he glanced from one side to the other of her extended dress, and then at her. The lady's face was serenely interrogative.

"About four, I should think, madam," he said, wondering what would come next.

"Here are twenty cents," she said, dropping the dimes from her lavender-kidded fingers into his extended palm: "I do not wish to be disturbed!"

One would have thought the possibility of disturbing such a supreme embodiment of composure rather impossible; but having secured herself from the chance, in spite of stares and whispers, the quadrupled fare pursued her way happily and unceasedly to her destination. It was a spectacle to admire. We commend her example to all ladies of similar balloonish dimensions.

An English Breach of Promise of Marriage.—In England lately, a suit for breach of promise of marriage was brought by a fisherman's beautiful daughter against a captain in the English army, fixing damages at $50,000. The love letters of the gallant captain were so numerous, that they were printed for the accomodation of counsel, making in all a volume of one hundred and ninety-eight pages. The matter was finally compromised by the payment to the injured lady of the sum of ten thousand dollars, with the promise that the volume of letters should be burnt.

☞ A great Agricultural and Mechanical Fair began at St. Louis, Mo., on Monday 6th inst. Several pairs of remarkable fine draught stallions, and a large number of splendid matched carriage and buggy horses and mares, were displayed. The States of Kentucky, Illinois, and Missouri carried off about an equal number of premiums.

The different departments are very full, the mechanical especially being much crowded; and altogether the Fair is vastly superior to either of the preceding ones. The weather was pleasant, and upwards of 25,000 people were on the ground.

A Fatal Wake.—The body of a man was found in Boston Harbor on Sunday morning; from the coroner's inquest it appears that the deceased was a resident of South Boston, 60 years of age, named Anthony O'Donnell, and that he had been to a wake in North street, on Saturday night, where he got drunk. On his way home he fell from Sargent's wharf into the water.

☞ Home—the American medium—is actually married to Mlle. Kroll or Kroff, who brings him the sum of $150,000 in cash. Since his marriage, it is said that the spirits have left him, for in one of his attempts to invoke the shadow of a deceased aunt of one of his new relatives, the spirits refused to obey. But he has played his cards out, and has secured a fortune and a wife at 29 years of age. He had better retire on his laurels, says the N. Y. Times.

☞ A correspondent of the Traveller, signing himself Illinois, expects the Congressional delegation from Illinois to be nearly the same as it is now, and expects success for Douglas, representing Buchanan's interest there as rather weak.

Personal. Mr. James Bogert, who died in Brooklyn a few weeks since, at the age of ninety, has left by will $1000 to the American Bible Society, and $1000 to the American Tract Society. The rest of his property, which is valued at $500,000, goes to his relatives. The deceased was an Irishman of miserly habits, and was called "Jimmy Bogert, the miser."

An Irishman was about to marry a Southern girl for her property. "Will you take this woman to be your wedded wife?" asked the minister. "Yes, yur riverence, and the sugars too," said Pat.

An Independent Catholic Organization.—We find the following announcement in a Canadian paper:

The Rev. M. Chiniquy, so well known in Canada as the Apostle of Temperance and a most eloquent preacher, and whose resistance of Episcopal authority in Illinois has latterly excited so much painful feeling among his orthodox compatriots, has at length been induced to take a rash and probably an irretraceable step. Bishop Duggan, of Chicago, who had succeeded Bishop O'Regan, solemnly ratified the canonical censures and interdict pronounced by the latter against Mr. Chiniquy.—Whereupon the reverend gentleman, about the 22d ult., in the Court House of Kankakee; and in the presence of a great crowd, made a public declaration that he separated from the Catholic Church, and was going to found a sect under the denomination of "Eglise Chretienne Catholique," independent of Rome and the Bishops. This conduct is said to have offended many who had hitherto adhered to his ministration, and it is supposed that not more than a hundred or so are likely to continue attached to his fortunes.

Money.—The desire to be rich is not evil of itself. It is nonsense for a man to stand up and disclaim the desire for wealth, and urge upon the world the idea that it should be poor. Money is neither an evil or a good of itself; it has not a moral character. It is simply an agent, and whether it be good or evil depends upon the manner in which it is used. It is like a sword. Whether a sword be in the hands of a Benedict Arnold, bathed in his country's blood, or in the hands of a Washington, wielded for justice and liberty, it is a sword only, and has not a character;—whether it be an instrument for good or evil depends upon the character of him who holds the hilt, and not the sword itself. So it is with money. It is an agent; it is a gigantic motive power, that thunders around the world. If the devil stands engineer, it thunders on, freighted with untold mischief, scattering oppression, cruelty and wrong. But if it is guided by the spirit of love and truth, it is like the sun, shedding light and summer, upon the world. It is an angel of mercy and love, when directed by the spirit of Christ.—Beecher.

Strolling leisurely about Uncle Sam's big shipyard in Washington the other day, a man observed a regular hard weather sailor chap from a man o' war, who, in turn, was watching two men dragging a seven feet cross-cut saw through a huge live oak log. The saw was dull, the log terribly hard, and there they went—see-saw, see-saw—pull push, push pull. Jack studied the matter over a while, until he came to the conclusion they were pulling to see who would get the saw, and as one was a mostrous big chap, while the other was a little fellow, Jack decided to see fair play; so taking the big one a clip under the ear that capsized him end over end, he jerked the saw out of the log, and giving it to the small one, sung out—

"Now run, you beggar!"

A. B. C. F. M.—Detroit, Sept. 7.—The 49th annual meeting of the American Board of Commissioners opened at 4 o'clock this afternoon, in the First Presbyterian Church, in this city. Rev. Mark Hopkins, D. D., in the chair. The house was filled. The Treasurer reports the receipts from all sources during the year at $33,480; expenditures $37,241, leaving, with the debt of the previous year, a deficiency of $40,870. Two corporate members and five Missionaries have died during the year. Nineteen new Missionaries have gone out. Rev. George Shepard preached the annual sermon at 7 1-2 P. M.

☞ Mrs. Martha Ramsbottom, of Utica, while sitting on her steps and reaching forward to restrain her little girl from going out on the sidewalk, lost her balance and fell over sidewise, broke her neck, and died instantly.

By the "act abolishing arrest in civil actions," &c., passed during the last session of Parliament, imprisonment for debt is virtually abolished in Canada. The effect will be to empty the jails of Upper Canada of debtors. Now almost every jail contains debtors, many of them large numbers.

☞ The Hartford Times, in speaking of the Connecticut State Prison, says that Tuckerman, the fancy mail robber, is employed in wrapping joiners' planes, which are made in the prison.

The slavery agitation will continue until the institution is established or abolished in all the States and Territories of the Union. The whole truth may as well be told. Slavery must be eternized or abolished in this country.—St. Louis Democrat.

☞ Mr. Knapp, Register of the county of Chatham, Canada, has been detected in frauds involving property to the amount of $50,000, carried on through the means of false mortgages made by himself.

A showman giving dramatic entertainments in Lafayette, Indiana, was waited on by Terrell, of the Journal, who tendered a bushel of corn for admission. The manager declined accepting it, telling Terrell that all the members of his company had been corned for the past six weeks.

☞ The Mayor of Providence has refused to license any more circuses in that city, the last one exhibiting there having resulted in a murder.

☞ An incendiary was arrested at East Brandywine, Pa., a few days since, by the wife of Dr. Gaston, armed with a revolver, and assisted by her hired girl.

☞ The potato crop in the vicinity of Northampton, Mass., promises an unusually large yield, without rot.

"Gently the dues are o'er me stealing," as the man said when he had five bills presented to him at one time.

Wanted,

IMMEDIATELY, a young man with a small family, from the country, who can be well recommended, to carry on a valuable FARM, with myself, a mile North Westerly of Portsmouth village, well divided into pasture, wood, and tillage land, with a boiling spring of water near the dwelling house. He may have liberal wages, or half the farm at a low valuation and long credit for part, to be undivided until otherwise agreed, and he may have the other half. Such advantageous terms seldom occur.

Wanted also immediately from the country, for a few months or until each spring, a steady young man, used to the axe, to cut and cord wood and do some farm work.

A Card from Dr. James M. Jarrett, OF THE NEW YORK LUNG INFIRMARY.—My connection for the past eight years with the above Institution, as Chief Physician, and a twelve years' course of steady devotion to the Cure of Pulmonary Consumption and its kindred diseases, together with my unrivalled opportunities and advantage of pathological research—aided not a little by a perfect system of Medical Emulation—has enabled me to arrive at a decisive, direct, and successful course of treatment for the positive and radical cure of all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, and Air-Passages. By Inhalation, the vapor and curative properties of medicines are directly addressed to the diseased organs and the integuments. I do not advise the use of Medical Inhalation of any kind, to the exclusion of general treatment; and although I consider it a useful adjuvant in the proper management of those fearful and often fatal diseases, yet I deem it very necessary that each patient should have the benefit of both general and local treatment.—The success of my treatment in the above diseases, and the high character of the Institution over which I have so long had the honor to preside, are too well known to need any further comment from me. At the solicitation of many private and professional friends, through whose philanthropic aid the above charity has been long and liberally supported, and after due consideration, I have concluded to make such arrangements as will bring the benefits of my experience and treatment within the reach of all, and not confine myself, as heretofore, to those only who entered the Infirmary, or who were able to visit me at my office. Hoping therefore that the arrangement will give entire satisfaction, both to my professional brethren and the public, I would respectfully announce in conclusion, that I can now be consulted personally or by letter, on all diseases as above, and that the medicines, the same as used in the Institution, prepared to suit each individual case. Inhaling Vapors, Medical Inhalers, &c., will be forwarded by express to any part of the United States or the Canadas. Terms—My terms of treatment by letter are as follows, viz: $12 per month for each patient, which will include medicine sufficient for one month's use: also, Inhaling Vapor, and an Inhaling Apparatus. Payment as follows: $6 to be paid to Express Agent on receipt of the box of Medicine, and the balance, $6, at the expiration of the month, if the patient be cured or is entirely satisfied with the treatment. Patients by giving a full history of their case, and their symptoms in full, can be treated as well by letter as by personal examination. Patients wishing consultations of Dr. Jarrett's treatment may rely upon immediate and permanent relief, as he seldom has to treat a case over thirty days. Letters for advice promptly answered. For further particulars address

JAMES M. JARRETT, M. D.
No. 820 Broadway, cor. Twelfth St., N. Y.

P. S.—Physicians and others visiting the city are respectfully invited to call at the Infirmary, where many interesting cases can be witnessed, and where our improved apparatus for the inhalation of medicated vapor can be seen and inspected.—s6 6m

Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer,

The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

THE Destroyer is an old French Compound, but having recently been purchased from the former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the one plus ultra of cosmetics—it penetrates the pimples also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the parts in a healthy state, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Parisian ladies have used it for years; consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world It is also one of the fixtures of the toilet tables. Who ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

The Original and Only London Gin Imported.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, rom sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, and Imported in Bond, is a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSEY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the great medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever tasted."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of immitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—None Genuine is Imported.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 21 Marshall st; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. E. Foster, 20 Cornhill; Jas. Vose, 191 Blackstone st.; M. Davis & Co., 57 Blackstone st.; R. DR. DUPONCO'S
French Periodical Golden Pills,
FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them, to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H THRASHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts; in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

THE OLD CELLAR.

A Tale of Olden Time.

BY B. P. SHILLABER.

Such is the title of a new story to be contained in the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette, for Saturday, Sept. 11. The scene of the tale is laid in Portsmouth, N. H., and whether the incidents described are historically correct or not, we will leave others to determine; but of one thing we are certain,—the OLD CELLAR was there, which will be undoubtedly remembered by all Portsmouth boys, until ten years ago, when it became a victim to the spirit of improvement, which entirely eradicated this remainder of a remote period. A mystery, impenetrable to the young habitues of the spot, hung over it.

The Old Cellar had no story or legend revealing the reason or the use of its existence, although it was a frequent cause for wonder. There was a vague and indefinite hint that the cellar was dug by a man who went to sea and never came back, but no one gave it heed, and the matter has remained in obscurity until now, when the present story, through a mystical channel, comes to the enlightenment of all interested.

The interest of the tale is not merely local. It is of the early day, and reveals a plot of treachery, reasonable love, necessary misapprehension, an interesting abduction, prompt restoration, the discomfiture of guilt, and the triumph of virtue! It is no thrilling or blood-curdling tale, but flows as evenly as the waters of the placid creek, on whose borders its scenes were enacted. The grave character of its author is a sufficient guaranty for the absence of frivolity in its scope.

POLICE COURT.

Before Justice Rollins, Sept. 6 —Benj. Haines was sentenced to 40 days' imprisonment, for stealing two coats from a railroad depot.

MAGNIFICENT.—The beautiful Mirror of Italy opened Tuesday evening to a crowded house, in fact every part of the Temple from which a view could be had, was completely filled. The audience embraced many of our most intellectual and distinguished citizens, who were highly entertained. Of the panorama, described by good judges as a perfect master-piece of art and beauty, we can say it is magnificent, beyond our description; and should be visited by every man, woman and child in our city. The good order and respectability of the whole entertainment places it far above most others of the kind ever exhibited here. On Wednesday afternoon a large body of children and ladies were present and highly entertained and instructed. It is to be on exhibition every evening this week.

☞ Those of our citizens who wish to have clothes cleaned and dressed by Mr. Goodell, would do well to look at his advertisement in another column, and give him a call before he leaves town, as he expects to do in a few days.

☞ We learn that some thieves, probably the same who stole the $100 from Mr. Spinney, the milkman, in Eliot, two or three days ago, stole $30 in money and a gold watch, from the house of Wm. Hammond, Esq., in Eliot, on the same day.

AGRICULTURAL FAIRS.

ICE.—The Vicksburg Southron complains of ice being sold in that city at two cents per pound, and says that it is sold at one cent in New Orleans and Memphis. We are glad to get it here at twenty-five cents.—Lexington Advertiser.

We have a daily railroad communication with New Orleans, and yet we pay twelve and a half cents per pound for ice.—Canton (Miss.) Citizen.

Who can explain why a Sunday rain is so much more hazardous to the health of the people than rain upon any other day of the week? or why the clergyman can face the storm and sunshine alike with impunity, while ruggedl beef-eating men and robust corn-fed women would catch their death by such reckless temerity? Who can explain it?—Bath Times.

There is an important movement among the Jews of this country. A synagogue of the reformed order has just been completed at Baltimore, Md., called Obed Shalom.—The men and women sit together, contrary to the old rule, and the members are permitted to eat whatever food they please, all the Mosaic regulations of that matter having been abolished.

"It is a poor rule that won't work both ways," exclaimed the boy, throwing the rule back at the schoolmaster.

All difference of opinion among mankind is nothing more than a difference in their knowledge.

VERMONT STATE ELECTION.—Montpelier, Vt., Sept. 7.—The returns of the election, held to-day, of Representatives, in 60 towns give the following results:

Republicans	50.
Democrats	11.
No choice	1.

Compared with last year, the Replicans have gained four and lost five. These changes are almost exclusively due to local questions and the liquor question, rather than to political predilections.

The returns of the the vote for Governor, in 17 towns, foot up—

Hiland Hall (Republican)	3883
Henry Keys (Democrat)	2118.
Scattering	15.

Last year the vote in the same towns stood—Republican 3471, Democrat 1834, scattering 107. Nett Republican gain 220.

These returns indicate the election of the Republican State ticket by an increase of about 3000 over the majority of last year.

The vote for members of Congress runs nearly with the State ticket, and each of the Republican candidates is elected by a very large majority.

3 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

HALIFAX, Sept. 8.—The steamship Asia, Capt. Lott, which sailed from Livrepool on Saturday the 28th ult., arrived at this port at half past 5 o'clock this morning.

A prospectus had been issued in England for a telegraph to Australia and China.

Lord Palmerston had paid a visit to the Emperor Napoleon.

It was rumored that the French government had demanded explanations from the British Cabinet relative to the bombardment of Jeddah.

It was stated that the amount of indemnity to be paid by China to England and France is 30,000,000 frs.

LIVERPOOL COTTON MARKET.—An advance on all descriptions of American cotton of 1-8d per lb. Sales footed up 66,000 bales.

Liverpool Breadstuffs Market firm.

Provision Market steady, with exception of beef, in which a slight decline was reported, and prices heavy.

MUNICIPAL ELECTION.—Wilmington Del., Sep. 7.—The Democrats to-day elected Thomas Young their candidate for Mayor, by 11 majority. The People's party have elected their candidates for Treasurer, Assessors and Aldermen, and each party has elected three members of the Council, giving an anti-administration majority of three.

POLITICAL.—St. Louis, Sept. 6.—The Belleville (Ill.) Democrat is authorized to say that Judge Breese is not and will not be a candidate for the U. S. Senate in opposition to Douglas.

YELLOW FEVER AT NEW ORLEANS.—New Orleans, Sept. 7.—The deaths in this city to-day by yellow fever were 100. The deaths for the week have been 450.

Real Estate for Sale.

Ayer's Pills

Are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive organs, and diseases arising from a disorder of the blood. A large part of all the complaints that afflict mankind originate in the stomach, and purgatives that act powerfully on this organ are found to cure many varieties of disease.

Subjoined are the statements from some eminent physicians, of their efficacy in their practice:

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC.

From Dr. E. W. Taylor, New Orleans.

"Your Pills are the prince of purgatives. Their excellent qualities render them invaluable as a family medicine. They are mild, but very certain and thorough in their action on the bowels, and do not gripe. I prefer them to all others for use in my family and practice of medicine."

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

From Dr. Thomas Dyer, of New York City.

"I do not know any Pills whatever adapted to their purpose so well as your Pills. They have cured me when all else failed to give the Liver any needed impetus. They have in my practice proved more effectual for the purpose of dislodging torpidity of the Liver than any other medicine. I cheerfully believe that we have at length a cathartic which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people."

DYSPEPSIA — INDIGESTION.

From Dr. Henry J. Bond, of St. Louis.

"The Pills you give us are the best we have found for all and any of the purposes for which they are used, so that they are truly an invaluable medicine. In purgatives are they peculiarly adapted to the wants of the dyspeptic, who they have to work upon them alone. I have cured some cases of dyspepsia and liver complaint by them, which had resisted the other remedies so commonly used. The 12 I have expended in your Pills, I feel to be the best 12 dollars I ever laid out. The complaints for which you recommend them."

DYSENTERY — DIARRHŒA — RELAX.

From Dr. J. M. Gunn, of Augusta, Ga.

"Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in the estimation of the public generally I have found them invaluable in my family practice. They have proved to me an excellent remedy, when given in small doses, for relaxed bowels, and cured me of a long standing dysentery, after all other means had failed. I consider them a valuable family medicine, and recommend them for the use of women and children."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION — WORMS — SUPPRESSION.

From Mr. E. Sweet, the celebrated Medical Medium.

"I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are sufficient to remove all the natural causes of disease which arise from obstruction of the bowels, and to cleanse the stomach and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other in my practice."

CONSTIPATION — COSTIVENESS.

From Dr. J. P. Fowler, Montreal, Canada.

"So much cannot be said of your Pills for the cure of costiveness, that I cannot but have found them invaluable. I often tell my patients that they may as well throw away their money on other cathartics as to take them, for the habit of the intestines is so reliable from their employ, which, when once established, it is hard to the patient, regardless of others that are known to be inferior, to change. Your Pills effect that organ and cure the disease."

INFLAMMATION OF THE BLOOD — SCROFULA — ERYSIPELAS — SALT RHEUM — ULCERS — TUMORS — RHEUMATISM — GOUT — NEURALGIA.

From Dr. Enoch Ball, Newburyport, Mass.

"I am seen 20 to 30 times a day, in regard to what your Pills are to do in regard to purgatives, and I do not hesitate to say they are the best purgative medicine we have. They do that. I have used them of late years in my own family, and have found them to be a safe and sure cathartic. They effectually cleanse the system of all impurities, and relieve many of the ailments for which they are recommended. I have no doubt that eligible to the blood, inflammation, disease. They effectually the system of all impurities, and relieve visibly and rapidly the diseases for which they are recommended."

"We have also a preparation of these celebrated Pills, which we call Ayer's Cathartic Pills, which we find very beneficial in cases where a mild cathartic is required, and yet a powerful one when occasion requires it. We find it very useful in our practice, and we can confidently recommend it to our friends as a valuable family medicine."

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE RICHEST DIADEM.

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What? — Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament! God himself prided for all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so captivating, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be snarled and shriveled, knot and dry, or worse still, if sprinkled with gray, matters will less than a bald pate lose charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and before. The writer of the first is the celebrated Poeter, Thalberg:

NEW YORK, April 19, 1858.

DR. WOOD — Dear Sir — Permit me to express to you the delight I feel in being able to offer testimony in favor of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your Hair Restorative, it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

"Drech a'n Gwrlichydd."

Welsh Newspaper Off., 13 Nassau st., Apr. 12, '58.

PROF. O. J. WOOD — Dear Sir — Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative, and prevailed on my wife, who consented to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color. I was then, to my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I therefore recommend your Hair Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair. CHARLES CARDIN.

NEW YORK, July 28, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have resumed their original color, and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and uneasiness of feeling, so common among persons of my temperament. J. G. KNIPP.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 1, 1857.

PROF. WOOD — About two years ago my hair commenced falling and turning gray, I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative (a friend recommending it) and before I had used my bottle fully. It began to fill up over out and turned back to its original color (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, length and appearance, and I cheerfully and gratefully recommend it to all. J. D. HOOD.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails at $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retailing $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

The Liver Invigorator!

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD.

Compounded Entirely from GUMS.

IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE AND LIVER MEDICINES now before the public.

These Gums remove all morbid or bad matter from the system, supplying in their place a healthy flow of bile, invigorating the stomach, giving a healthy appetite, and purifying the blood, giving tone and life to the whole machinery, removing the cause of the disease—effecting a perfect cure.

One dose offen relieves Costiveness.

Billious Attacks are cured, and, what is better, prevented by occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach and prevent the food from rising and souring.

Only one dose taken before retiring, prevents nightmare.

One bottle taken at night, loosens the bowels gently, and removes costiveness.

One dose taken after each meal will cure Dyspepsia.

One dose of two teaspoonfuls will always relieve Sick Headache.

Only one dose immediately relieves Colic.

One dose offen relieves Cholera Morbus.

One dose taken a short time before eating, will prevent sickness at sea and make the food digest well.

One dose, often repeated, cures Chronic Diarrhœa in worst form, while Sugar-coated Pills and other complaints yield almost to the first dose.

A few bottles will cure the worst case of piles, by cooling the absorbents.

We take pleasure in recommending this medicine as a preventive for Fever and Ague, Chill Fever and Billious type. It operates with certainty, without griping or nauseating, to testify to its wonderful virtues.

All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.

Mix one teaspoonful in one month with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.

PREP. ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

Dr. SANFORD'S INVIGORATOR, Prepared by Dr. Sanford, N. Y.

DR. DIX

KNOWING that there are at this moment hundreds of persons in Boston, surrounding towns, scattered over the United States and in other countries, who are suffering from the effects of certain dangerous maladies, who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, we hereby state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the nature of the disease be described by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. DIX can with safety say that, during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases which have been improperly treated by empirics have been under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients at a distance can by addressing Dr. Dix, post paid, and medicines sent to all parts of the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Dix. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of your health, which is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. DIX, 21 Endicott street, Boston.

DR. L. DIX'S UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills unrivaled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. They arrive in specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. There are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicine.

All who are in search of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place where it can be, when the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—21 Endicott street, Boston.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the Legislature of Georgia, and sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a safe, profitable investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The operations are conducted half after tion to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lottery is authorized by a law passed by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the receipt of the order. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No fractional parts of tickets accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. Prizes are paid in full on presentation of the ticket. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to ticket holders.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers—New York Herald, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Dispatch. Write your own name plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m18ly

A CHURCH IN THE AIR.

Messrs Editors:—I found the enclosed "Dream" in a work published in 1856.—It seems to me an excellent comment on a text I never heard preached from, (The rich and the poor meet together, the Lord is the Maker of them all,) but which I have often thought would give a minister an excellent opportunity to enforce respect for man as the workmanship of the Almighty, independent of titles and extraneous circumstances. If it please you, you can accept it instead of a long letter.

VERITAS.

Once wandering thro' the land of dreams,
In search of something new,
A church—'t was on a Sabbath morn—
My curious notice drew;
And thinking I should see the mode
Of Christian worship there,
I enter'd just in time to hear
The closing hymn and prayer.

The church was rich, without display;
From gorgeous colors free;
Thro' unstain'd glass the light of heaven
Was shining cheerfully.
And rich and poor sat side by side;
I saw no cushion'd pews,
Whose doors the meanest of the flock
An entrance might refuse.

And when the hymn was given out,
With what astonish'd face
I watch'd a lady clad in silk
Bend forward from her place,
To share her book with one whose robes
So scanty were and mean,
No maiden form'd of earthly mould
To greet her would be seen.

And yet I saw not that the deed
Lessen'd a single grace,
But rather that a sweeter look
Beam'd on the maiden's face.
And while I ponder'd in my mind
How such a thing could be,
The whole assembly join'd to sing
Some time-worn melody.

Vainly I strove with modern air
To catch the organ's tone;
These simple Christians swell the praise
Of God by voice alone.
And here no fashionable airs,
The tedium to beguile,
Are set to solemn hymns of praise,
And sung in opera style.

And yet the music of that choir
Right pleasant was to hear,
Though nothing in the strain I found
To please the critic's ear;
But childhood join'd its ringing tones
With those of fall'ring age,
And rich and poor, and old and young,
In the blest work engage.

I listen'd, and my thoughts recurr'd
To many a boasted choir
In city church, who weekly meet
To praise the Lord for hire;
And well, thought I, the Church of God
This mockery might spare:
I ceased—for every head was bow'd
In reverential prayer.

And all in spirit seemed to join,
Nor could I well forbear;
For Christ, and not the minister,
Was most apparent there.
Its words of charity and love
Did the whole world embrace,
Untetter'd by the love of sect,
That modern Christian grace.

And little did I care to know
If Old the School or New
From whence the soul of such a man
Its rich instruction drew.
His Teacher none could well mistake;
One only can impart
Lessons of wisdom that can guide
A sinful human heart.

Too soon that fervent prayer was o'er,
The benediction ask'd,
And slowly down the spacious aisles
The congregation pass'd—
Slowly, as one might turn his back
Upon the gates of heaven,
After a taste of angel's food
Unto his soul was given.

And now kind greetings were exchang'd
With many a friendly word,
And Christians met as Christians should,
Who serve one common Lord.
One heart, one mind, one earnest will,
Seem'd to inspire the whole,
As friend to friend with freedom told
The welfare of his soul.

Strange though it seem, no single word
These curious folks did say
Of "politics," of rise in stocks,
Or gossip of the day:
Nor only did they "shut up shop,"
And lock the office door,—
They turn'd the key on worldly thoughts
'Til holy time was o'er.

The sermon, while a group discuss'd
I listen'd in amaze,
And marvel'd at the words they used
When speaking in its praise:
They did not call it "great" or "deep,"
"Ingenious," "witty," "smart;"
Or "thank their stars they had a man
After the people's heart."

But whisper'd low, with moisten'd eye,
"How precious was the word!
How full of hope the promises
Their strengthen'd souls had heard!"
And murmur'd blessings on his head,
Who, laboring by their side,
In all simplicity of truth
Preach'd Christ the crucified.

I heard, and could not silence keep;
"Thrice happy souls!" I cried,
"Am I in heaven?" With sudden start
My eyes I open'd wide—
Look'd round a moment in amaze—
Saw my mistake with pain,
And never since have dared to take
A nap in church again.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents of Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a very full collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Boston, February 8, 1858.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.
R. H. EDDY.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1858.

LETTER FROM VERITAS.

KENSINGTON, Sept. 9.

I hear also that a family in Newington are likely to come into possession of some thirty thousand dollars in a very singular way. The story here goes that some member of the family was examining an old side-board, and found a secret box or partition covered with flannel, which contained a will and papers giving them the above mentioned sum. The estate had been settled, and the family were considered to be poor. The father was a ship-master, and probably was lost at sea. I am glad of the finding of the papers, for it may make people cautious in settling the estates of minors particularly, at least while the memory of it is fresh. I hope all the particulars of the finding (if it be true) will be published, and if the estate was righteously settled, according to the means of knowledge which the person settling it possessed, for the encouragement of such as are often troubled at what seems the great lack of justice in the world.

I was sorry to see that article in regard to the affair in the church at Exeter, in the Chronicle. It did not concern any one out of Exeter, and could not interest any person unless he would be pleased with the worst side of human nature. I cannot understand why so many were ready to spread the affair. What is a disgrace to one member of a family or community is to another member, and should be so considered, and should not be made public except to prevent a repetition of the offence, or to answer the purposes of justice. I do not write in a spirit of dictation of course, only of regret that a paper so generally acceptable should ever needlessly offend any.

I hope no one will think that anything in my last letter applied to the young man who preaches in this place. He is, or has been, pursuing his studies at Andover, and of course is not expected to be a pastor. He is more popular than even his predecessors, and I believe deservedly so. I love to study human nature, and to watch the effect of principle and practice wherever I am, and in this way draw out people of all classes.

What a good work the Autocrat of all the Russias is doing! Will he not rise up in the judgment with the men of this generation in our own country, who have been trying to force slavery on a free people, and who have not done yet? President Buchanan had better take lessons of him.

What was the reason for taking the captured slaver into Charleston? Why not take her to a free State? Do you think the South are really in earnest in their talk about the re-opening of the slave trade? Or is it to outrage and defy public sentiment at the North more and more? Can they be so blind as not to see that it will be their own destruction? A few of those untamed Africans who have nothing to lose and much to gain, might be just what the match is to gun-powder. Slavery can die but in two ways,—either a peaceful one to both parties, by emancipation, or an annihilating one to blacks or whites. Nothing else is possible. Which it shall be, depends very much on the Southern people of this generation.

Where is the third party in the case of Miss Webster? It will be a very easy matter to get a conviction of Brown, as he has been in the State prison, but the third party probably induced her to go to B., and was to pay expenses. Just think of such a death in Boston; where probably more money is raised to give the gospel to the heathen, than in any other place on the globe of the same size! There are a band of noble, self-denying women there, engaged in works of benevolence to this class of persons to which Miss Webster belonged. Why in the name of humanity, does not the church give them carte blanche as to means, and all her influence, until such things cease from among us? If we go on as we have done, we shall be worse off than old Spain, with her place of deposit for foundlings alongside the confessional.

An instance similar to Mrs. Boyd's came to my knowledge some years since, only more melancholy. A young woman had been prevailed upon by her husband to submit to an operation with her first pregnancy; but whether it was fear of suffering, or that she felt the wrong and disgrace of it, I do not know—with the second she refused. He was or appeared to be so offended at the birth of a living child, that he told her he should leave her, and actually went off. The consequence was that a brain fever set in and she died. Nothing was done about it by the relatives.—An aunt took the motherless and worse than fatherless child, and the brute escaped. It made a stir and talk for a while, and then was forgotten. Some remembered he had said a man had no need to be poor in consequence of having a family of children to support. Ten dollars would settle that. Now man want money for tobacco and drinks, and women want their money for dress and their leisure to display it in, more than they want to bring up beings for earthly or heavenly happiness. True, there is much to sadden a thoughtful mind in looking upon their children. It is expected of them so soon to make their way in the world, it costs so much to be respectable, as it is termed, and furniture, and the expense for the actual necessaries of life, are so great in our own climate. Besides there is no denying the fact that as a people we are getting to be deficient in muscular power, that element that makes labor a pleasure and not a task.—Then, again, in the professed christian church, where once was brotherly love and christian fellowship, and a watchful care exercised over the flock, caste has entered, and our hope is in a great measure destroyed. The minister does not stay long enough to get acquainted with the children, to feel any interest in them or they in him; or if he does stay, he must spend most of his time in preparing two intellectual barbecues a week, for the polished members of his parish; so there is but little time to devote to the sick, the sorrowful, the poor, or the juvenile portion of his flock. The crisis which has thrown so many the vanity of depending on riches for respectability, may with the blessing of Our Father help to work a change for the better. Sincerely hoping that it will, I subscribe myself,

Yours,

VERITAS.

☞ Among the attractions of a Methodist camp meeting at Redding, Ct., was a fat girl, yet in her teens, weighing 600 pounds, and dressed in bloomers, with low neck dress and bare arms. A good many people saw a great deal of her, and report her fair to behold.

☞ A republican convention was held in Mariposa county, Cal., on the 24th ult.—the first ever held in the county—to send delegates to the approaching state convention. The Mariposa Gazette—which is accustomed only to democratic conventions—records with evident surprise that all the thirty delegates present were unanimous. Col. Fremont was unanimously suggested for President in 1860.

☞ An Illinois farmer, Mr. Capron, largely concerned in the milk business, has for two years been making experiments to test the comparative value of timothy and clover hay. All the food was weighed, and timothy and clover alternated with each other once a month. The average result was, that clover hay yielded 10 per cent the most milk.

☞ Mr. Arvida Hayford, an old and well-known citizen of Belfast, Me., died very suddenly on Tuesday. He was eating his dinner as usual, when he was observed to put his hands to his throat as though he was choking, and immediately laid back in his chair and died. Mr. H. was a native of Hartford, Me., aged 88 years.

☞ The United States is now borrowing money for the fourth time in its history.—The first was to pay for the war of the Revolution; the second was to pay for the second war with England; the third was on account of the Mexican War; and the fourth is in the time of peace, to carry on the ordinary expenses of the government.

WHO PAYS?—It is said that one firm in Philadelphia expends annually upwards of one hundred thousand dollars in advertising patent medicines, and the total sales of articles of this kind manufactured in Philadelphia amount to a million dollars.

DEATH OF HON. SAMUEL MORRILL.—Hon. Samuel Morrill died at his residence in Concord on Tuesday evening, aged 79 years. He was present at the Religious Anniversaries at Hampton, two weeks since, and read his Annual Report, as Treasurer of the N. H. Missionary Society. He was formerly State Treasurer; and was a trustworthy, upright man, highly respected.

Excellent wine is now manufactured from the tomato. It is made with no other ingredients than the pure juice of the tomato and sugar, and very much resembles champagne—a light transparent color, with a pleasant, palatable flavor. It can be made equal to the best champagne.—Traveller.

"What folks think" is to some ministers the judgment day.—Beecher.

THE SLAVE BRIG.—Capt. Townsend, as the New York Tribune informs us, says that the people on board his vessel supposed the Dolphin to be a Spanish brig, which had hoisted British colors for a ruse, not supposing that there was any American vessel of war cruising among the West Indies, or if there was, that any American vessel would take sufficient interest in the matter to interfere.

The slaves were the captives of warlike tribes, brought to the coast and placed in barracoons. While awaiting the arrival of the slave ship they were fed on roots and esculents, and scantily fed at that, and their close confinement was terrible. On the Echo, Capt. Townsend states, they were fed on rice, beans, slivers of pork, and a quart of water, and a small quantity of whiskey each day. Tobacco was also given them, and they were exceedingly fond of it.

Capt. Townsend is at no loss to find excuse for his act. He states that the slave trade is humanity to the prisoners taken by the warlike tribes in Africa; that when they were not sold to the traders they were put to death in cold blood, and that the captives in the Echo would prefer life on a plantation to the sufferings they endured at the hands of their enimies in the barracoons.

Capt. Townsend is connected with an honorable family in Rhode Island. He is somewhat dejected and melancholy, but is confident of escaping the extreme penalty of his crime by the verdict of a South Carolina jury.

No doubt he will be cleared. It is a great farce to send him there—quite worthy of the slave power which rules the land, and which may probably demand of the next Congress the repeal of the law declaring the slave trade to be piracy;—though there is no great need of repeal, if the slave power can keep uppermost at Washington. But as it may not, this repeal will probably be moved, and may be forced and bribed through, like the Nebraska bill, the Lecompton swindle, and the English finality.

FROM INDIA, via the Red Sea and England.—Alexandria, 24th.—The steamer Hindostan arrived at Suez from Alexandria 23d. She left Calcutta July 19 and was detained by an accident to her machinery while in the Red Sea.

The steamer Cadix arrived at Suez yesterday, from Bombay with dates to the 4th inst.

The British troops are chiefly engaged in harrassing the rebles in Oude, whenever they can find them, and in reducing their mud fortifications.

Many of the chiefs who have not irredeemably compromised themselves in the revolt, are surrendering themselves to the authorities. Others who have been faithful to the British flag, are being honored and rewarded. Rebels proved to have been deeply implicated, are being executed.

The Punjaub is tranquil.

A Card from Dr. James M. Jarrett, OF THE NEW YORK LUNG INFIRMARY.—My connection for the past eight years with the above Institution, as Chief Physician, and a twelve years' course of steady devotion to the Cure of Pulmonary Consumption and its kindred diseases, together with my unrivalled opportunities and advantage of pathological research—sided not a little by a perfect system of Medical Inhalation—has enabled me to arrive at a decisive, direct, and successful course of treatment for the positive and radical cure of all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, and Air Passages. By Inhalation, the vapor and curative properties of medicines are directly addressed to the diseased organs and the integument. I do not advise the use of Medical Inhalation of any kind, to the exclusion of general treatment; and although I consider it a useful adjuvant in the proper management of those fearful and often fatal diseases, yet I deem it very necessary that each patient should have the benefit of both general and local treatment.—The success of my treatment in the above diseases, and the high character of the Institution over which I have so long had the honor to preside, are too well known to need any eulogy or comment from me. At the solicitation of many private and professional friends, through whose philanthropic aid the above charity has been long and liberally supported, and after due consideration, I have concluded to make such arrangements as will bring the benefits of my experience and treatment within the reach of all, and not confine myself, as heretofore, to those who have entered the Infirmary, or who were able to visit me at my office. Hoping therefore that the arrangement will give entire satisfaction, both to my professional brethren and the public, I would respectfully announce in conclusion, that I can now be consulted personally or by letter, on all diseases as above, and that the medicines, the same as used in the Institution, prepared to suit each individual case, Inhaling Vapors, Medical Inhalers, &c., will be forwarded by express to any part of the United States or the Canadas. TERMS—My terms of treatment by letters are as follows, viz: $12 per month for each patient, which will include medicine sufficient for one month's use; also, Inhaling Vapor, and an Inhaling Apparatus. Payment as follows: $6 to be paid to Express Agent on receipt of the box of Medicine, and the balance, $6, at the expiration of the month, if the patient be cured or is entirely satisfied with the treatment. Patients, by giving a full history of their case, and their symptoms in full, can be treated as well by letter as by personal examination. Patients availing themselves of Dr. Jarrett's treatment may rely upon immediate and permanent relief, as he seldom has to treat a case over thirty days. Letters for advice promptly answered. For further particulars address

DR. JAMES M. JARRETT, M. D.,
No. 620 Broadway, cor. Twelfth St., N. Y.

P. S.—Physicians and others visiting the city are respectfully invited to call at the Infirmary, where many interesting cases can be witnessed, and where our improved apparatus for the inhalation of medicated vapor can be seen and inspected.—s6 6m

Real Estate for Sale.

THE property on Elm street belonging to the heirs of the late James Newell, consisting of a DWELLING HOUSE AND BARN, with land measuring 140 feet on Jackson street and the west side of Elm street, and 100 feet on the south side of Elm street.

This estate is too well known to need extended description. It is finely situated, in the immediate vicinity of the railway station; the house is large and convenient, lighted with gas, and supplied with aqueduct in three places. The grounds are in good order, well stocked with fruit and ornamental trees. Persons wishing to view can do so at any time. The place will be offered at a bargain, immediate possession given, and terms of payment made easy. Apply on the premises.

Wanted,

IMMEDIATELY, a young man with a small family, from the country, who can be well recommended, to carry on a valuable FARM, with myself, a mile North Westerly of Portsmouth village, well divided into pasture, wood, and tillage land, with a boiling spring of water near the dwelling house. He may have liberal wages, or half the farm at a low valuation and long credit for part, to be undivided until otherwise agreed, and then he may have the other half. Such advantageous terms seldom occur.

Wanted also immediately from the country, for a few months or until next spring, a steady young man, used to the axe, to cut and cord wood and do some farm work.

ST. VITUS'S DANCE.

This distressing and mortifying nervous affection is left generally either to take its natural course, or is treated on general principles with very little success. The nervous symptoms are not the disease itself, and proceed from functional or organic derangement in the nervous centres. No medicine has been found equal to the PERUVIAN SYRUP, in checking the involuntary nervous tremblings known as St. Vitus's Dance.

☞ Reader, do you want THE picture of the day? If so, have one of Gregory's Photographs in Oil Colors, which he is selling at about half the Boston and New York prices.

☞ The only place in this city where an Ambrotype can be obtained, is at Davis' Ambrotype Gallery, No. 8 Daniel Street, as they have the Patent, and all infringements will be prosecuted. sept9

IMPROVE YOUR BEAUTY.

Gardner's Parisian Pimple Destroyer,

The only article in America that in 24 hours Removes Pimples, Ring Worms, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings from Insects, and all eruptions of the Skin.

THE DESTROYER is an old French Compound, having recently been purchased from its former Paris proprietors at great expense. It is the no plus ultra of cosmetics—It penetrates the pimples also all eruptions, and dries them up, and places the pores in a healthy condition, and renders the skin as soft as an infant's and as pure as marble.

There are about 3,000 perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin. Each tube is attached to a gland that lies below the skin, which becomes diseased, and prevents them from pouring out their contents, that causes the various pimples and eruptions.

The Parisian ladies have used it for years; consequently they have the reputation of being the most beautiful ladies in the world. It is also one of the favorite articles of the toilet table. You ever knew a lady in Paris attending an opera or party without using it? For Sale Everywhere.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article so known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by its distinguished virtues in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, DISEASES OF THE URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE ORIGINAL IMPORTED.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 13 Marshall st.; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. K. Pecker, 20 Elm st.; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st.; M. Davis & Co., 8 Dalton st.; R. The Great English Remedy.
SIR JAMES CLARKE'S

Celebrated Female Pills.

Prepared from a prescription of Sir James Clarke M.D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

THIS invaluable Medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous disorders to which the female constitution is subject. It moderates all excess, removes all obstructions, and a speedy cure may be relied on.

TO MARRIED LADIES

It is peculiarly suited. It will, in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

Each bottle, Price One Dollar, bears the Government Stamp of Great Britain, to prevent counterfeits.

CAUTION.

These Pills should not be taken by females that are pregnant, during the FIRST THREE MONTHS, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at every other time and in every other case they are perfectly safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed, and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or any thing hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions accompany each package.

Sole Agent for the United States and Canada JOB MOSES, (late I. C. BALWDIN & CO.,) Rochester, N. Y.

N. B.—$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized Agent, will insure a bottle of the Pills by return mail.

LOCAL.

TRUANT BOYS.—Cases of truancy have of late been very common among the scholars in several of the schools of this city. The Committee on Truancy, it is understood, are determined to arrest all the young vagrants, who should be at school, instead of being on the streets.

Several arrests have been made by the committee, some of the parties released by promising better ways, and one of them committed to the House of Reformation. Look out ye truants!

Breaking up truancy, may probably prevent many boys from becoming thieves, loafers, drunkards and paupers.

LOOK OUT FOR THIEVES.—In Tuesday's Chronicle Uncle Toby estimates that we have among us at least two hundred loafers, and wisely asks, "who pays for the mischief Satan finds for them to do?"

One or more of this class broke into the dwelling house of Rev. N. Medbery, State street, on Wednesday of last week between the hours of 4 and 9 P. M., during the temporary absence of the family. The entrance was effected by placing a high stool under a parlor window which happened to be left unfastened, though the window, blind, and curtain were all left closed.

Between three and four dollars in money was taken, beside many valuable articles of clothing. The house seems to have been thoroughly searched, both above and below stairs, as the articles already missed were taken from seven different apartments. It is a curious fact, too, that all these were articles pertaining to a lady's wardrobe, while the same bureaus, boxes, &c., contained many things which any man or boy would naturally prefer. Is it possible that the thief was a female? Y.

☞ The Mirror of Italy, now being exhibited at the Temple, is one of the best paintings of the kind ever produced in the country—interesting alike to the artist and the student of history—in fact, attractive to everybody who cares at all for the beautiful. It is put upon the stage in the most pleasing, advantageous manner, by Major Felch—who is one of the most enterprising and successful of all public exhibitors. Give us Barnum for Museums, Strakosch for Concerts, and Felch to show up Panoramas—and to get out houses to see them too. The Major is bound to have a good show in the first place; and then he is not afraid to let the people know it.

DANGEROUS PLAYTHING.—On Thursday afternoon three boys were amusing themselves with a spring gun in the yard of Mr. Wentworth on High St., a buckshot from the gun was discharged with so much force as to cross Fleet St. The shot struck a window and passing through with considerable smoothness, struck Mrs. Roach in the temple, raising a contusion about the size of a hen's egg.

THE OLD CELLAR.

A Tale of Olden Time.

BY B. P. SHILLABER.

Such is the title of a new story to be contained in the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette, for Saturday, Sept. 11. The scene of the tale is laid in Portsmouth, N. H., and whether the incidents described are historically correct or not, we will leave others to determine; but of one thing we are certain,—the OLD CELLAR was there, which will be undoubtedly remembered by all Portsmouth boys, until ten years ago, when it became a victim to the spirit of improvement, which entirely eradicated this remainder of a remote period. A mystery, impenetrable to the young habitues of the spot, hung over it.

The Old Cellar had no story or legend revealing the reason or the use of its existence, although it was a frequent cause for wonder. There was a vague and indefinite hint that the cellar was dug by a man who went to sea and never came back, but no one gave it heed, and the matter has remained in obscurity until now, when the present story, through a mystical channel, comes to the enlightenment of all interested.

The interest of the tale is not merely local. It is of the early day, and reveals a plot of treachery, reasonable love, necessary misapprehension, an interesting abduction, prompt restoration, the discomfiture of guilt, and the triumph of virtue! It is no thrilling or blood-curdling tale, but flows as evenly as the waters of the placid creek, on whose borders its scenes were enacted. The grave character of its author is a sufficient guaranty for the absence of frivolity in its scope.

☞ On Wednesday evening, in Boston, at about 7 o'clock, a young woman named Mary A. Donley, daughter of John Donley, went into Station 1 and gave herself up to justice, as she had just shot a man in North street, named Patrick Canny, who keeps a grocery and liquor store, corner of Cross and North streets. Her story was that she had been deeply and fearfully wronged by Canny, and in a fit of desperation had committed the act of shooting.—She put two bullets into him from a double-barrelled pistol. In firing, the pistol fell from her hand. The father of the young woman has already instituted civil proceedings against Canny, who is under $4000 bail to appear for trial. It is his intention to procure whatever redress law will allow for breach of promise and seduction. The prima facie public opinion favors the girl, tho' the man denies her allegations, and would blacken her character.

ENGLISH ITEMS, by the Asia.—A prospectus has been issued for an Indian and Australian Telegraph Company, with a capital of £500,000. The proposal is to continue the Red Sea line from Ceylon to Singapore, and eventually to carry further sections to Hong Kong and Australia. Application is to be made to Government for a guarantee.

The British Board of Trade returns from July shows a decrease in the exports of over £1,300,000, as compared with the same month last year. In the imports an increase has taken place, particularly in Breadstuffs, the arrivals of which were very large.

The entire stud of Lord Derby's racers are to be sold at auction, he being about to retire from the turf.

An important law case has been tried at Liverpool. An action was brought against a Director in the suspended Borough Bank, to recover damages for loss sustained in purchasing shares upon the strength of the fallacious report issued by the Bank. A verdict was given for plaintiff, but a stay of execution was granted.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—A communication from Mr. Field says he has received from New Foundland a dispatch informing him that although the insulation of the cable is perfect, no message has come over it for several days. The last message he received from England was dated London, Sept. 1st. He is unable to state the cause of the cessation of messages, but conjectures that it is the change of the shore end at Valentia, which he was informed was about to be done.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The Government concluded a treaty today with the American Colonization Society, by which the latter agrees to subsist and instruct the captured Africans for one year after their arrival at Liberia, having a due regard for their health and comfort; for this service somewhat less than $50,000, which was originally proposed by the society, is to be paid.

QUARANTINE TROUBLES.—New York, Sept. 8.—The 8th Regiment go to Quarantine to-morrow with 250 men and 6 field pieces. They remain one week, and will be relieved by the 7th. A struggle is said to be imminent to-night, as the Islanders declare that they will burn the infected district in spite of the police.

Mr. Locke, the boarding revenue officer, and Capt. Rich, of the Marines, have been arrested for smuggling Ray Tompkins inside of Quarantine.

☞ Capt. De Riviere was arrested in New York on Wednesday night, for an assault on a person named Grant, who had published a letter derogatory to him. The charge is with intent to kill.

REVIVAL OF THE SLAVE TRADE.—The Charleston Courier of the 4th inst. has a manly and outspoken article against reviving the slave trade.

THE BEECHERS.—The Newburyport Herald says that Henry Ward Beecher "has a younger brother, Charles, settled at Georgetown, that follows in his footsteps. The orthodox papers in Boston, for two or three weeks, have, by different writers, been considering his position on the doctrines and practices of the church, and some have found fault with the council that installed him. His views upon a future state, and the ordinances of religion especially baptism, have been severely criticised.

We do not propose to give any opinion on the controversy; but we have no doubt if anybody seeks to interfere with him, that they will find the clergyman at Georgetown a Beecher; and it would therefore be as well to let him alone. He is a man of ability, and is popular with his society. The people of to-day are much less confined to technicalities in religion, or abstract doctrines, than formerly; and the man who makes his preaching practical, and evinces a love for humanity in his ministrations, will be likely to carry the multitudes.

We are curious to know how many feet female arithmetic go to a mile, because we never met with a lady whose shoes were not, to say the very least, a mile too big for her.

"Do unto others as ye would that they should do unto you."

E. P. RUSSELL'S

Patent Mastic Roofing.

Impervious to Water, and a Sure Protection against Destruction by Fire.

THE inventor of this Roofing labored many year sto combine articles which would answer the above purposes, and obviate the difficulties of Rust and Decay attendant upon Tin and Shingles, and the destruction by Sun and Frost of the Pitch and other Cements now in use; this he succeeded in doing, and now after Five Years of the utmost care and attention to the wants and interest of all interested in such matters, believing that they will be fully convinced of its practical value, both for durability and cheapness, in which respects we do not hesitate to say it stands EQUAL IS NOT KNOWN.

This Roofing can be reliably applied to roofs of every description, either Sheep or Flat, and can be put on over Shingles or Boards at much less expense than the first, and at that half the cost of the Metals.

We are aware that the public have had many kinds of roofing brought to their notice within the last few years, and that most of them have proved complete failures; we do not candidly and unhesitatingly assert that the article which we would bring to your notice is for superior to any of the kind yet discovered, and after a severe test of nearly Five Years, it stands as reliable and as good as when first put on, without change or decay.

BRADSTREET'S

Patent Japan Weather Strip.

This Strip for outside doors is the most useful, and the most beautiful article of the kind now in use, and the latest, like the Atlantic Cable, to Keep out Snow, Rain, Wind and Cold from your houses.

The strip is applied to the bottom of the door by screws, with an ELLIPTICAL SPRING—which cannot get out of order, that causes the leaf to rise and fall, on opening or shutting the door.

THE PATENT STRIP is the most simple and durable of anything of the kind ever invented.—It may be regarded as the best article for the time, obviating all difficulties in management—It will save the cost of the article in one winter, in keeping the house warm and dry.

The Prices for putting on Doors: Japan Finish, $1.62 each. Brass Finish, $2.25 each.

Every one put on by the subscriber will be warranted, and if not approved of, may be returned.

Those who wish for the same may leave orders at the store of JOSEPH H. CLARK, corner of Market Square and Congress Street, where a sample may be seen, or at the residence of the subscriber, No. 15 Dennett street, North Portsmouth,—which will be promptly attended to.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE

RICHEST DIADEM

Ever worn by Kings or Emperors.

What! Why a Beautiful Head of Hair.

BECAUSE it is the ornament God himself prepared for all our race. Nothing without it, however rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be snarled and shrivled, harsh and dry, or worse still, if sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Poacter, Thalberg.

NEW YORK, April 19, 1858.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir,—Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but on the application of your "Hair Restorative," it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly,

S. THALBERG.
